CANADIAN DEPARTMENT STORES

NEW BOOKS AT THE PUBLIC LIBRARY

Up The Stream — Time — Viscount Byng

Lady Byng modestly describes her delightful volume of reminiscences as "Thumbnail Sketches of Episodes in my Long Life" — a quite inadequate description of this informal and altogether charming auto-biography. From it emerges striking portraits of her self and her famous husband at every stage of their long and interesting lives.

East Is West — Stark.

A book by Freya Stark is a literary event. This new one deals with her war experiences in Arabia, Egypt, Palestine, Syria, Iraq and Persia.

Officially Dead — Reynolds

The story of Commander C. D. Smith, skipper of Yangtze River steamer, Shanghai Harbor, pilot, Captain of the U.S.S. Wake, and the prisoner the Japs couldn't hold. It contains material that was regarded as 'secret' by Washington authorities throughout the war, and was added to the text when Commander Smith made a fortunate visit to New York.

Put Off Thy Shoes—Voynich

A most unusual historical novel by a woman who became famous for a best-seller "The Gadfly" published in 1897. The new novel is really a study of conflicting values and ideals, of incompatibilities, class barriers, and family ties, set in the rural Warwickshire and Cornwall of George III.

A Portrait of Marriage — Buck

Always in Pearl Buck's novels the people quickly become far more important than the setting or the period. It is interesting that the scene of this novel is Pennsylvania countryside in which she has lived for the past ten years.

Brideshead Revisited — Waugh

In Brideshead Revisited, Evelyn Waugh's first new novel in three years, the qualities prized by so many show at their finest. Here is wit, feeling, audacity, intellect, imagination and a deceptive blandness; here is a novel that will entertain, stir the emotions, recharge the brain cells, and induce laughter.

The King's General—DuMaurier

A story of three hundred years ago told by Miss duMaurier as if it happened yesterday. Only Miss duMaurier could do justice to the hair-breadth scrapes and exciting events which punctuate this tale.

The River Road — Keyes

Rich, extravagant, fascinating—an enchanting story ... rich in history, drama and romance. It paints a full picture of the proud aristocrats whose estates edges the River Road. Its scope is tremendous.

David The King — Schmitt

David The King in the considered judgment of John Beecroft, Editor of the Literary Guild "is destined to be considered one of the most original, one of the best written, one of the most interesting and fascinating books in many years."

Miss Bunting — Thirkell

A novel of English life in wartime.

Build a Boat — Pop Mech. Press

It's easy to build your own boat. Includes row boat, canoe, power, and sail craft, ply-wood cuthboard, inboard runabout, cabin cruiser, and many other interesting projects for the boatman.

The Small General — Standish

Equal parts of violence, laughter and conspiracy, make up a novel of contemporary China, which provides a vivid "looksee" into Chinese life, and problems, and throws light on the characteristic traits and foibles that make the Chinese personality so different from that of the Occidental.

SOME DETECTIVES

Out of Control — Kendrick
A top-notch mystery novel.
The D.A. Breaks A Seal—Gardner.

BOY SCOUTS NEWS

BY AKELA

FIRST NAPANEE WOLF CUB PACK

A record turn-out of Cubs was on hand for the weekly meeting held on Saturday evening.

With only two meetings left, competition ran high among the Sixes for the Honour Six Pennant at the end of the month. During inspection many points were lost due to dirty hands and fingernails.

Rousing games of "Storm", Jump the Ropes" and "Compass Pointer" were played during the meeting.

During Red Plower the first part of the story of Rikki-Tikki-Tavi was told to the pack. Next week a new story will be told.

With many Cubs on hand Akela took up the subject of attendance and dues. Cubs are forgetting the 3 weeks' ruling and place themselves in a precarious spot. Cubs not only let their Six down but they deprive some other lad of being a member of the pack. Not only is the attendance in the pack lax but dues are in a similar state. The whole matter was left up to a member of the pack.

The forthcoming meeting will be one for review and list passing tests. All members are requested to be on hand.

Badge presentation night will be on Saturday, March 30th. New members will be invested and all badges will be presented.

The meeting closed with Cub Silence, Cub Prayer and Flag Down.

Later the happy young couple left amid showers of confetti and good wishes for a trip to Toronto, Niagara Falls and Buffalo. The bride travelled in a turquoise blue suit, brown accessories and muskrat coat. Upon their return they will reside for a time at Belleville.

Those present were the immediate relatives of the two families, from Napanee and Oerbyville.

New Device Makes Easier Landings For Flying Boats

London.—British flying-boat manufacturers have constructed a new device which should prove of vital importance to flying-boat traffic. Hitherto flying-boat landings were coupled with certain difficulties. When flying-boats could not reach the anchor-buoy under their own power because of heavy seas, they had to be towed to the buoy and even then mooring was often a dangerous business. These difficulties and dangers will now be completely eliminated by the new invention.

In future, flying-boats will simply alight near the intended landing place. The pilot then taxis his machine over a cable supported by floats, which engages an automatic pick-up point fixed in the nose of the aircraft. The pilot then merely has to swing the flying-boat round so as to engage another pick-up point in the tail and the landing takes place without risk. It is then only a matter of towing the flying-boat to its pre-destined mooring by means of a winch.

Shirt Charles I Wore

London. — Buried under London in an underground railway tunnel is a treasure hoard over which thousands, unsuspecting, walk every day.

The underground railways of London have provided safe hideouts for many of Britain's most valuable treasures during the war.

Scattered in disused corridors are a variety of treasures, including the shirt that Charles I wore at the Whitehall scaffold, stained glass windows from St. Margaret's and priceless antique jewellery which survived the Great Fire of London in 1666.

Not one item has suffered damage. Many are back on show in the museums but War Office officials state it will be some time before the treasures from the British Museum can be restored.

BORDER SECURITY, SAYS STALIN

BY LOUIS F. KEEMLE
B.U.P. Correspondent

Part of the answer to the question, "what is Russia up to now?" has been given by Generalissimo Josef Stalin.

Russia is "up to" what she has been up to for most of the past quarter century — security for the borders of the Soviet Union.

Stalin's forthright declaration in Pravda, Russian organ of the world, shows clearly that he is not satisfied with the security offered by the United Nations organization, under existing conditions.

Stalin's pronouncement—it might be called a manifesto — may be coupled with other recent Soviet utterances and actions to make Moscow's position reasonably clear. It seems to be based on the following:

1 Russia retains her long - standing fear of "encirclement" by unfriendly nations on her vast frontiers.

2 She dreads a combination against her by other powers, notably Great Britain and the United States.

3 This combination either could be military to strike through the smaller powers bordering Russia, or political within the United Nations.

Shortly before the Stalin interview appeared in Pravda, the newspaper carried an editorial in which is proclaimed world peace to be basic Soviet policy. It said:

"The Soviet people well know that Russia does not want war. What the people are being told is that Russia may be subject to attack and must be strong and ready.

The truth probably is that Soviet leaders know the United States has no intention of going to war with Russia and that Britain is not strong enough to do so, even if she wanted to. Winston Churchill's Missouri speech afforded an opportunity to raise the spectre of the United States-Britain-Empire alliance as an anti-Soviet war by British machinations. The opportunity was seized.

Under these circumstances, Russia is in a position to get a large measure of what she wants without risking the danger of war. What she wants includes friendly nations all around her, particularly Atlantic outposts, and a strong military and economic position which would make Russia a world power rivalling the powers a remote possibility.

When this has been achieved, or is well on the way to achievement, Russia may be expected to submit with good grace to the authority of the U.N.O. Russia could present a new "status quo" which she would be willing to see preserved or at least postpone its full development for many years.

Moscow sees no possible taint of aggression in her present course in Eastern Europe, the Middle East and Manchuria. Stalin put it quite simply from the Russian viewpoint. It was the keynote of his statement. He said:

"The Germans carried out an invasion in the U.S.S.R. through Poland, Roumania, Bulgaria and Hungary. The Germans were able to carry out invasion through these countries by reason of the fact that these countries had governments inimical to the Soviet Union.

"What can be surprising, therefore, in the fact that the Soviet Union, in a desire to ensure its security for the future, tries to achieve that these countries should have governments with loyal relations to the Soviet Union are loyal? How can one, without having lost one's reason, qualify these peaceful aspirations of the Soviet Union as 'expansionist tendencies of our government?'"

PRINCESS ALICE THANKS WOMEN OF CANADA

YOUTH TRAINING FUND WILL PERPETUATE NAME

Ottawa, (C.P.) — The women of Canada, presented Princess Alice with a gift in honor of her five-year stay in Canada and in doing so established a series of scholarships in youth training which will perpetuate the Princess' name throughout the country.

The Princess Alice Foundation Fund, to which Canadian women have contributed instead of to the usual personal gift to the wife of a retiring governor-general, totals $47,850 and an amount was handed to Her Royal Highness at a brief ceremony in Government House ballroom.

Idea for the fund came from Princess Alice herself who said in thanking the committee that: it has thus made it possible for me to show, in some measure, how much I care for the people of Canada and how much I value their friendship."

Her Royal Highness gave the cheque to Chief Justice Thibaudeau Rinfret, who, with Watson Sellar, auditor general of Canada, is trustee of the fund. Then all signed the fund's indenture.

Referring to the gift as "most generous and most imaginative," she said, "I cannot begin to put into words my gratitude. I can only say thank you again and again from my heart.

"You have given me the greatest pleasure imaginable in the sympathetic response to my request that your loving gift should be dedicated to the youth of Canada, in my name.

"It is my earnest wish that the bursaries from this fund may be given to young men and young women throughout Canada, and from all classes of schools and universities, and that they should be open to young people of all denominations."

Princess Alice stressed the need for good leadership for young people between the ages of 14 and 18, when the young unfolding minds are so easily perverted and when their leisure so easily leads to wasted lives."

She added she hoped the bursaries would make possible attendance at youth training leadership courses in Britain and other Dominions as well as in Canada.

FASCINATING FACTS ABOUT THE MIRACLE OF HIBERNATION

One of the strangest things about some animals and fish is their habit of hibernating through long periods of time. In the extremely cold weather of some climates, and the extremely hot weather of others, nature has provided animals with the instinct to hibernate until normal weather conditions return. This cold weather sleep is called hibernation. When they do it in hot weather it is called aestivation. Most of us know that bears hibernate during the long winter months.

The bear isn't the only animal that goes into this seasonal sleep. Squirrels, snakes, insects, frogs, rats, gophers, lizards, crocodiles, and others also hibernate. Each of these has its own peculiar way of going into this long sleep. The bear gets ready for its long hibernation by getting as fat as possible and living off this fat during the winter months. But all bears do not hibernate. Those that do live in very vicious when they awaken because they're hungry. The brown bear just goes to sleep, but will awaken at the slightest disturbance.

Habits of other animals that hibernate are very odd. A small reptires for the winter by burying itself in the ground, head upward. It then closes the mouth of its shell with a wall of shell-like material. Snails also fatten themselves before they hibernate and French people consider fat snails a very rare dish! It is said that snails can live in hibernation for as long as four years and then come to life suddenly and act as if nothing had happened! Frogs are much more probably exists.

known to live in hibernation for years. Many strange stories are told of frogs being found in rocks, in lumps of coal and in the centre of solid granite, praying that they have been hibernating for thousands of years. Fish hibernate by burying themselves in mud, that is, fish do this, but not all of them. There are cases of fish being covered under the dry bed of a pond or the waters of which have been dried up for years. But the dried up pond was refilled with water from a long rain. It was to have fish in it, the fish came to life after the mud has softened and dissolved, enabling to swim in the water above. Oddles will also bury themselves in mud during a very dry season. Water snakes go into winter hibernation they gather together in large numbers in a rocky cave or hole, dry, and coil themselves around another into a huge ball. It is considered that the bite of a venemous snake is not poisonous when it is awakened from a winter sleep. This has been proved fully yet.

Even plants and trees hibernate. All of us know that flowers and weeds disappear in winter but grow up out of the original seeds again. The seed will stay for some Winter is the time for plants and sleeping by many animals, plants, and spring is the time awakening and growing and

BRITAIN'S SPEED RECORDS

With the Meteor's six hundred six miles per hour flight Britain now holds world speed records water, land and in the air.

On the water Sir Malcolm Campbell established the world motor record when he made his 141.74 miles per hour run over Coniston Water in August, 1939. On the Atlantic the fastest passage in both directions was made by the "Queen Mary" in three days, 21 hours, forty-five minutes from Bishop Rock to Ambrose Light, and three days, twenty-two forty-two minutes from Ambrose to Bishop 1938.

On land the world record was set by John Cobb at Bonneville Flat Utah, in August 1938, when achieved a speed of 368.85 miles per hour in a British car powered by Rolls Royce engine.

The record held by the London North Eastern Railway—Mallard'' — which in July, 1939, achieved 125 miles per hour.

THE LIGHTEST METAL

Aluminum is light; magnesium is light; but lithium is lighter than oil or water and only one-eighth the weight of aluminum. It is a silver - white metal which tarnishes beautifully than either lead or tin, and while little used until recently, it is finding uses in aluminum welding, magnesium melting and casting, and in the heat treating of metals. And now the biggest use is on the hunt for this lightest of all metals. Some has already been found in Canada, and

BIRD HOUSE CONTEST, FRIDAY, MARCH 29TH

The Bird House Building Contest, which is to be held on Friday of this week in the Napanee Town Hall, is one of the most important enterprises undertaken by the Lennox and Addington Fish and Game Protection Association which sponsors and promotes the contest.

Last year, over 200 bird houses, built by boys and girls in the County of Lennox and Addington, were on display and it is expected there will be more entries in the contest this year.

The judging of the houses will be carried on in the afternoon Friday and in the evening they will be on display. Presentation of the prizes will be made during the evening and sound pictures will also form part of the entertainment.

The public is cordially invited to attend and see the results of the boys' and girls' work.

Firemen Answer Six Fire Calls

Since Thursday of last week, the Napanee Fire Department answered six fire calls. On Thursday, at 4:30 p.m., the department was called to Vine's Corners where a grass fire had gotten out of control. The same day at about 3:00 p.m., another grass fire near Liberty Avenue required attention.

On Friday evening, at 8:30 a chimney fire at Archie Denison's home on East Street, was reported.

On Saturday at 2:15 p.m. there was a stove pipe fire at the home of Garnet Barnes.

Two calls were put in on Sunday afternoon, within an hour. At 1:15 p.m., there was a chimney fire at the home of Roy Hoey on Mill street, and at 2:00 p.m., a grass fire at Sharp's field in South Napanee, was reported out of control.

None of the fires did any property damage.

An Unusual Geranium

Lee Yut, who operates a laundry on John Street, without a doubt is the champion geranium grower in Napanee. He has in his window a plant which is almost eight feet tall and on its very top is a good sized pink bloom.

The plant looks healthy, despite its height and also in spite of the fact that it gets its nourishment from earth in a pot which is about the eight-inch variety.

BD. OF EDUCATION CONSIDERS SITES FOR NEW SCHOOL

Committee to Continue Investigations About School

At a special meeting of the Napanee Board of Education on Monday evening, which was attended by the Citizens' Advisory Committee, a motion by W. J. Laidley and George Howitt, was passed that, the matter of proceeding with the building of East Ward School be left in abeyance until the possibilities of building one new or two schools to serve the Public School pupils of the town, be fully considered; the information to be obtained as speedily as possible, the report to be heard at a special meeting, and that the expense in obtaining the information be borne by the Property Committee.

A report was read from the Property Committee of the Board and the Citizens' Committee, in which it stated that a meeting was held last Friday evening, attended by C. N. Loucks, Wallace Roy, J. D. Mayhew, W. S. Wilson, E. L. Bedore, and H. L. VanLuven. The meeting was called to discuss the possibilities of a site for one school.

Having examined four sites, the Committee concluded that the property owned by Miss Lemay and adjacent property, would be suitable for the town, if the Department of Education agrees that a suitable school can be built on the property.

Secondly, that it will be necessary to have fifteen rooms, including one room each for Home Economics, Manual Training, Kindergarten, and provision for an Assembly Room or Gymnasium.

A motion was passed that the above report be referred to the Finance Committee, to investigate regarding cost of the mentioned and if necessary, to obtain options on property involved.

An open discussion took place on the matter, in which the members expressed their views. W. S. Wilson suggested that new modern schools should be visiter, so that further information could be obtained. Regarding East Ward, he thought, that a kindergarten and First Grade should be conducted.

Mrs. T. J. Hunt and P. Asselstine also expressed the same views regarding East Ward.

J. M. Simpson stated that there should be some time limit placed on securing the necessary information for a new school, or "we are going to be in the same place as we were last year." he said.

Other members also expressed their views that the information on the cost of a new school should be obtained as quickly as possible.

The Finance Committee was empowered to add to their number, the viewing of new schools, for information.

C. N. Loucks and W. Roy were chosen as delegates to attend an Educational meeting in Toronto.

A request from Mrs. Sneath, for the use of the auditorium of the Collegiate, for a meeting, was left in the hands of the Management Committee, and the Principal.

J. M. Simpson, chairman, presided with all the members present: C. N. Loucks, Wallace Roy, Geo. Howitt, G. Leary, H. L. Vanluven, J. D. Mayhew, P. L. Laidley, and J. Marshall.

MISSIONARY SPEAKERS AT GRACE CHURCH

The services in Grace United Church on Sunday were largely attended and were in charge of the minister, Rev. C. D. McLellan. The guest speakers were Dr. A. A. Scott, M.A., B.D., who spoke in the morning and Rev. Aussa Moorehouse, Toronto, who gave an interesting message at the evening service.

Rev. Scott, at the morning service told of the work of the mission schools in India and said that the Christians of India compare favorably with the Christians of Canada and that through missionary work in India there are many true Christians in India.

He gave examples of great native Christian students and leaders and how religion is taught among the regular courses of his university.

"The Church in India today is more and more becoming a power in the councils of the land," said Dr. Scott.

At the evening service, Dr. Moorehouse, who is associated with the committee on the Missionary Education of the United Church of Canada, presented natural color transparencies from the moving picture which he directed, "Western Hands Are Sure." These pictures were most interesting and the address and pictures were greatly enjoyed by a large congregation. The large choir under the direction of Mrs. W. V. Drury, choir leader, rendered suitable music and at the morning service, sang an anthem, "A Prayer of Wisdom," by D. F. Dortninski. Mrs. B. M. Black, organist, presided at the organ and in the evening played a number of selections preceding the service. Miss Shirley E. Jeffs sang the contralto solo, "I Heard the Voice of Jesus Say" at the evening service.

Rev. Mr. Moorehouse, who read for the scripture lesson, is secretary of visual education of the Missionary Education Department of The United Church of Canada.

YOUTH ORGANIZATION FOR NAPANEE

The following is the first in a series of four articles on the subject of Youth Organization:—

Attention All Citizens!

"John Jones for Mayor." In twenty years the Johnny Jones who is now attending high school will be among the leaders in Canadian Civil Affairs. If he is to successfully execute his duties, his education for these responsibilities should start now. This type of instruction is not found on the current high school curriculum.

The Town Council, in conjunction with all other organized groups, intend to start a Youth Organization in the Town of Napanee, composed of a "Youth Advisory Committee," a "Youth Council" and "Youth Club."

The Advisory Committee will consist of one elected member from each of these adult groups. The duties of the Advisory Committee will be to "Criticize and Suggest," in order that the Youth Council may have the experienced guidance of the fathers and mothers of those vitally concerned.

The Youth Council will be composed of a Mayor or Mayoress and ten Councillors. A boy and girl from each ward will be elected to represent their constituency. Those eligible to stand for office will be candidates nominated from Grades 11, 12 and 13. Those eligible to vote will be all those enrolled in the Napanee Collegiate. A nomination meeting will be held in the Town Hall on April 12th. All who are privileged to vote will be asked to attend and an election will be held on the following Thursday.

The Youth Council will be responsible for all duties which it undertakes for the benefit of the club. The Town Council and the Advisory Committee in their capacity as a counselling body will tender suggestions to the Youth Council who may adopt or reject them.

The primary purpose of the Youth Council will be to provide recreational and educational opportunities for the Youth of Napanee. It is a well known fact that reforms of this nature would be welcome to many and objectionable to few.

The proposed activities would include an Inter-Mural sports program, as well as courses in dramatics, vocational subjects, such as, drafting, conversational French and many other subjects which will be instituted by popular request. The supervised dances in the Town Hall will very definitely be one of the main items on the program. The first of these will be held on the evening of Election Day. Our younger brothers and sisters may welcome them to these benefits in the form of supervised playgrounds and weekly story-telling periods.

If an undertaking of this magnitude is to flourish, it must have your wholehearted co-operation and support. What we ask of you is your co-operation in our new endeavors. We the Youth will judge only a measure of success without your aid.

To you we present our challenge,

"OUR DESTINY	Shirley Luby,
YOUR DUTY"	Don. Elliott,
	Gary Smith.

The BBC already broadcasts at present in Russian service in many languages.

"The Soviet authorities have lifted the wartime restrictions on listening," he said. The Russian broadcasts will begin this month.

THE TREND IN EUROPE

The trend of things to come in Europe is now quite discernible. On Saturday last a dispatch from Prague capital of Czecho-Slovakia, tells that Seventy Per Cent. of the industry in Czecho-Slovikia will be nationalized. Her Foreign Minister, Jan Masaryk announced that the foreign policy would be based on "a lasting and sincere alliance with Russia. Indeed, all four political parties in the nation have in their platform, nationalization of mines, heavy industry, electric power, banks and insurance companies. Evidently then, the trend is definitely to the Left.

In England, the British Labor Government has nationalized the Bank of England. This is only part of the programme on which they were elected, which included nationalization of coal, iron and steel, electricity, gas, railroads, aviation, and all inland transportation. They are going ahead with this platform. The most recent Bill before the Parliament, is one which will insure medical attention to all, from the cradle to the grave. In England the trend is quite definitely to public ownership.

In France, the same trend is seen. The three parties which won three quarters of the seats in the recently elected House, campaigned on a policy of nationalization of banking, insurance, public utilities, merchant marine and metallurgical industries. Part of this has been done and the rest is to be tackled. In France, too, the trend is to the Left.

Well, there we have it! Apparently, the people of Europe are being influenced by the Russian experiment. And yet they are unwilling to go the whole way. Within the present economy they are content are seeking to give the public a larger control over essential industries and enterprises.

As we read of this, we are apt to, become a bit nervous as to the future of these trends, and yet, perhaps we have less cause than some others, to become jittery. For we in Canada have gone a long way towards doing just what the European nations are now doing. We have our National railways, our government controlled air lines, radio commission, electric Hydro system and municipally owned transportation systems. Then, too, we have our Bank of Canada, which largely controls the credit operations of the nation. So that the European countries have quite a long way to go yet before they catch up to us.

KEEPING WELL

It is well known that one of the most expensive experiences in the life of the average man and woman is illness. Many people have their future for years, mortgaged, because of hospital and medical fees. It costs a lot to be sick. It is well known that many people who need health attention refrain from seeking it because of the cost. Under our present set-up there seems only one way out and that is through some insurance or hospitalization plan. Fortunately, during the past few years, these plans have passed the experimental stage, and people, for a moderate fee paid annually, can be insured against all illness. Nobody in his right senses should be without such protection.

In Great Britain, however, the trend is away from such private plans to state insurance. The Bill recently introduced into the British Parliament, by the Labor Government, is more far-reaching than any yet considered. And as it is a Government Bill, it will probably pass and become the law of the land.

A Worldover Press dispatch gives the following digest of the Bill:

"The new Social Security Program worked out by Health Minister James Griffiths, goes far beyond the Beveridge Plan, which was drastically toned down by the Churchill Government. The Bill, now before Parliament and apparently almost certain to pass without serious amendments, covers unemployment, sickness, old age, maternity, death, widows, and orphans. Briefly summarized, the program allows 26 shillings ($5.23) a week for adults who are ill, aged, retired, or unemployed. For each dependent, including the first child an additional benefit is provided, amounting to seven shillings, sixpence. Mothers will receive 23 shillings a week for thirteen weeks after childbirth, with a special grant of four pounds ($15.14), plus an attendance allowance of a pound per week for four weeks.

"Weekly contributions to finance the scheme will be paid by employers at rates varying from one shilling ninepence, upwards. Workers will also pay variable rates, the average per week for an adult male being four shillings, sevenpence. Chief friendly criticism is based on a belief that the workers' contributions are too high, though admittedly the benefits are substantial and will bring British people in general a confidence and an economic assurance they have not dreamed of previously."

ME, TOO!

Now that the Dominion Government has passed a law which makes the sessional indemnity of the members, free from income tax, the Ontario members are seeking the same privilege. Whether they will get away with it remains to be seen. However, it is a rather poor example which our legislators are setting the rest of the country. If our leaders are so lacking in a sense of loyalty to the laws of the country that they will, in the one case, make new ones to get out of paying taxes, and in the other declare their salaries and allowances, what can be expected of Mr. and Mrs. John Doe, who have an income tax form to fill out, as well as the Members of Parliament?

The action of the Dominion Parliament, and now the Ontario Government, will do more to break down respect for law than anything that has happened in a generation.

ANOTHER TRY

In New York, the Security Council of the U. N. O. is holding its first regular meeting. In a brief address from President Truman, read by Secretary of State James F. Byrnes, the President said: "There can be no home anywhere for the United Nations, unless The United Nations remain united and continue to work together, as they have fought together, for peace and for freedom." And Mr. Byrnes, in his own remarks, added: "Nations, like individuals, should do their best to adjust their disputes without resort to litigation. But no nation has the right to take the law into its own hands. If disputes cannot be settled by friendly negotiations, they must be brought before the Security Council."

These are brave words. They put the matter exactly where it belongs. There is no doubt but that in an expanding, growing world, there will be differences of opinion between nations. They must be settled. They must be settled by open discussion and before the world tribunal. Something like that was the hope the late President Wilson entertained for The League of Nations. The League failed, largely because the nation members did not take their difficulties there to be ironed out. Now, we are to have another chance. The success or failure of the U.N.O. will depend on the confidence the members have in the honesty and impartiality of the Council as a whole.

Fortunately, the problem which at first, seemed as though it might wreck the Council, has been removed. Russia has agreed, before the meeting, to withdraw her troops from Iran. She had agreed to do this, but failed until the eve of the meeting of the Security Council, to meet her obligations. She has now announced her intention to remove the troops. This, of course, does not solve Russia's problem. The problem will have to be tackled, some time or other, by the Council. The real problem of Iran is the problem of oil. At the present time, British and American interests have control of the oil output in Iran. Russia is in need of oil. She sees oil on her borders in the hands of nations far removed from the wells, and naturally does not relish the situation. If Russia has a case, then she should present it to the U.N.O. There it will be dealt with on its merits. Certainly it would be a foolish and unwarranted assumption that the world's natural resources will remain for ever in the hands of those who now control them. There must be changes and if the U.N.O. is to prevent wars, it will have to consider very carefully, every request for a change, and make judgments in accord with the needs of the situation. All this is provided for in the charter and as Mr. Byrnes said in his opening remarks: "We must live by the charter. That is the road to peace. And the road to peace is the road the peoples of the world want to travel."

Annual Report Of The Unemployment Insur. Advisory Committee

The Unemployment Insurance Advisory Committee in its annual report to the Minister of Labour for 1945 on the financial condition of the Unemployment Insurance Fund, states that it considers the Fund "adequate to meet any liabilities likely to arise," it was recently announced by Hon. Humphrey Mitchell.

The Committee is not prepared to say, however, that the Fund is in any degree excessive or that over-provision for the future has been made. It anticipates that benefit payments for the first few months of 1946 will be about $4,500,000 per month, and in January payments actually totalled $4,493,789.30. At this level, the Committee points out, the total revenue of the Fund is sufficient to meet all payments but increases much beyond this will draw down the Fund.

During 1945, the gross amount of benefits paid, rose each month from "V-E" Day on, showing an increase, especially during the last three months of the year. Total benefits paid in 1945 amounted to $14,561,476.71, as compared to $3,235,797.67 in 1944. Payments in December alone amounted to $3,970,877.44. Total revenue for 1945 was $30,478,728.48 as compared with $82,773,893.97 in 1944.

The balance of the credit of the Fund by the end of 1945 has increased to $315,937,272.27 from the 1944 figure of $250,020,319.60. The book value of bonds held in the Fund is $306,894,982.17, while accrued interest totals $1,919,473.11. Average weighted yield on investments is 2.23 per cent. per annum.

The Committee reported it had received representations on February 25th from the Trades and Labour Congress and the Canadian Congress of Labour, who contended that the benefit payments provided by the Act were inadequate and should be increased. The labour bodies argued that there had been "a substantial increase in the cost of living since the Act was passed in 1940; standards of earnings and living had also increased substantially; and that in higher earnings classes the benefits paid represented a relatively low percentage of the average earnings."

The Committee stated it was not prepared to say that the Fund was inadequate to provide for a substantial increase in benefit rates, nor that a general increase in benefits would be sound. However, the Committee decided to undertake an immediate study of the needs and possibilities of the revision of the schedule of benefits with a view to recommending any changes in benefits and contributions considered desirable and practicable.

Members of the Committee are: W. A. Mackintosh, Department of Reconstruction and Supply, Chairman; Eric Stangroom, Special Assistant to the Deputy Minister of Labour, Secretary; J. F. McMillan, president of Chisolm Saw Mills, Ltd.; Percy R. Bengough, president of the Trades and Labour Congress; Esther Heward, secretary of Border Branch, Canadian Red Cross Society; W. A. MacDonald, secretary-treasurer, National Association, Marine Engineers of Canada; and George Burt, director, United Automobile Aircraft, Agricultural Implement Workers of America (U.

You and your fellow servicemen have fought for the peace, freedom and happiness we now enjoy.

We, in common with all true Canadians, believe that you should receive your fair share — a goodly share — of the prosperity that could not be ours without the victory you have achieved. We, at the Bank of Montreal, are anxious to do all in our power to help every veteran find his particular niche in the new peace-time Canada, either in a job to his liking or in a business of his own that will afford him a full and prosperous life.

Reproduced in this advertisement are some thoughts from a booklet we have prepared to help veterans find their feet in civilian life. It is our hope that when you are struggling with the problem of starting afresh on "every street" the booklet may be very helpful to you.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

EXPLAINING RATE CHARGE FOR FOREIGN PARCELS

To The Editor:

Dear Sir:—

From letters appearing in the Press and others reaching this Department it is evident that there is a misunderstanding on the part of the Canadian public in regard to parcel post rates to other countries and restrictions on articles which can be shipped to the United Kingdom and continental countries.

A brief criticism is that Customs and postage rates are levied on parcels of food and comforts to Europe. As you undoubtedly realize, the problem of relief to countries in distress is not primarily one coming under the jurisdiction of the Post Office Department. Assurance can readily be given however, that this Department is both willing and anxious to do all in its power to help.

It might be explained that parcel post rates from Canada to other countries are determined by the cost of land and sea conveyance, as well as charges which must be paid for transit services provided by other Postal Administrations.

For example, parcel post to the continent of Europe is routed via the United Kingdom. In the circumstances, the British Postal Administration, as well as the country of destination, must be paid for their services in handling the parcels. In the case of parcels addressed to the United Kingdom, postage is shared to meet the delivery expenses of the United Kingdom Postal Service. Then our postal charges are designed to cover out-of-pocket expenses.

If authorities in other countries are able to make reductions in their charges for handling our mail the Canadian Post Office will gladly take along such reductions for the benefit of the Canadian mailer.

The restriction placed on the contents of parcel post, i.e., the 7-lb limit for food, and of not more than 2m. of any variety to the United Kingdom did not originate with the Canadian Post Office but was imposed by British authorities in the light of their own domestic conditions. One reason being to protect their rationing system, also it is claimed that morale would be adversely affected if there were no restrictions on foodstuffs from overseas and the privileged few with friends in Canada were able to receive unlimited quantities while their neighbours were strictly rationed.

The feelings of Canadians with friends overseas can readily be understood but they can rest assured that the Post Office is seeking to afford the best possible service and at the lowest possible cost under current conditions.

Yours sincerely,
W. J. TURNBULL,
Deputy Postmaster General.

The following is a clipping from a recent issue of the Toronto Globe & Mail, which we have been asked by a subscriber to reprint:

THEY WILL NOT GROW OLD

My Dear Homemaker: Soon I must write a letter to a man who has just lost a young son on the battlefield.

I think I am going to say something like this: "You had high hopes for him for you knew that he was all that he ought to be. His youth, his loveableness, his integrity, were a joy to you. You felt that some day, given the chance, he would prove his worth, but never did you claim for him the glory that is now his.

"No greater worth could he have proved than that of his own volition and, thank God, our country gave our boys this chance to prove their worth), he offered and gave his life for an ideal that he believed.

"Let us not call it death, but a going into eternity with hope and faith untrammelled.

"Not all will be honored by sharing Gethsemane. For those who are we must try to understand the significance.

"They will not grow old. They will not come back to find that their courage and sacrifice have not yet brought men to their knees; that greed and envy and vilifying are still rampant."

"May we soon catch the torch that these lads are throwing to us, and search our hearts. Hopefully, Vincit Veritas.

Thank you, V.V., for a beautiful message.

Now, more than ever before— you need GOODYEAR'S All-Weather diamond tread!

● These days you'll want to be doubly sure of the traction qualities in any tire you buy.

That's why you'll choose the new Goodyear DeLuxe All-Weather . . . the tire with the world-famous diamond tread . . . a tread basically unchanged for 38 years, because no one, not even Goodyear, has been able to develop a better, safer design.

Through slippery slush and rain this All-Weather diamond tread checks spinning and skidding . . . gives you an EXTRA MARGIN OF SAFETY for quick, sure stops.

Of course, the secret of this "sure-footedness" lies in the sturdy, diamond blocks . . . for only the patented Goodyear diamond presents TWO gripping edges in each of FOUR directions . . . forward, backward, right and left.

Specify the safest . . . Goodyears . . . when you need new tires, or order your new car.

The new Goodyear DeLuxe All-Weather rib tread tire made.

IMPORTANT! In all present-day tires, regardless of make, correct inflation is essential. Over-inflation leads to hard riding, poor traction, reduces tread life. Under-inflation creates abnormal flexing, causes ply separation, shortens tire life.

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON, MARCH 31ST, 1946

"A PEOPLE'S RESPONSIBILITY FOR ITS GOVERNMENT"

Lesson Text: I Samuel 8: 10-22

Israel wanted a King. The Tribe looked around, saw other peoples with a king, thought they were strong because of the fact that they possessed a ruling monarch. Samuel was approached. He was not very happy over the suggestion. In the first place he felt slighted. He felt the people were not satisfied with his rule. In the next place he was unhappy over the suggestion of a king, for he knew better than the people what an oriental despot could be like.

He told the people what to expect if they appointed a king. They would pay for the privilege. He will conscript your children; he will organize personal bodyguards. He will organize an army and put your children in it. He will organize the nation and put cash perils in his or her own job. He will make some serve as cooks, some as beauty parlor operators. He will take the men and make some into farmers and force others to look after the vineyards. He will take ten per cent. of all you produce for taxes with which to keep his organization going, and to maintain him in power.

Well! that was the description of the oriental king as Samuel saw it. But the people would not be warned. They wanted a king. They said: "Nay but we will have a king to rule over us. So Samuel acceded to their request. The people's will prevailed. They got their king. He was chosen because he was a good physical specimen, tall, good-looking and attractive. But it all went well and then the inevitable happened. The people got what was coming to them. It is certainly a tragedy when a people make a mistake in choosing a leader. Once entrenched, there is little that can be done about it. A Mussolini or a Hitler, with their specious promises, looked good. But the sorrow and suffering they caused as they plunged the world into war is incalculable. The people must choose and choose well. In our form of government the choice of leaders is in our own hands. We may change leaders whenever there is a new election. We can demand that they give an account of their stewardship. The weakness of our democracy lies in the indifference of the people, their unwillingness to take part in ward politics. And when election time comes, they have to vote for candidates neither of whom they have had any part in nominating. To get good men in parliament, good people must be active ward politicos. They should go down into the ward meetings, and stop leaving the choice of candidates to the few who are picked from a select group in the community.

Naturally, we would expect that religion would lead people to take an active part in government and in the choice of candidates. Not always so. The writer once called on a voter, a good Christian, to get her to cast a ballot on a moral issue, but was greeted with the reply that "my kingdom is not of this world." Besides that comparatively small group who can principle, will have no part in politics. There is a much larger group who are indifferent to the political movements of the day, while still another group, and this perhaps a newer one, believe that God will take care of all these matters. We leave it to Him.

However, the world must go on. And unless people, church people, are the ones on whom responsibility for the choice of leadership, rests heavily. If the church people choose leaders, the leaders will be good men. Otherwise there is always the danger that they will be chosen by self-seeking groups for selfish purposes.

The Church has a responsibility, and only to pray for the Government, but to see that good, unselfish men are elected to it.

Why VICKS VAPORUB Is So Good For Relieving Miseries of Childrens Colds

More than two generations ago—in grandmother's day—mothers first discovered Vicks VapoRub. Today it is the most widely used home-remedy for relieving miseries of children's colds. And here is the reason . . .

The moment you rub VapoRub on the throat, chest and back at bedtime it starts to work two ways at once—and keeps on working for hours—to ease coughing spasms, help clear congestion in cold-clogged upper breathing passages, relieve muscular soreness or tightness. It promotes restful sleep. Often most of the misery of the cold is gone by morning! That's why VapoRub is so good to use when colds strike. Try it!

John Frisken Died Suddenly on Friday

Mr. John Frisken's many friends in Napanee and the County, were shocked to hear that he had died suddenly at his home on Centre Street, Napanee, on Friday morning, March 22nd. He had shown signs of declining health recently, but his condition was not considered at all serious. On Friday morning, while down town he complained of not feeling well and returned to his home, where he passed away a few moments later, shortly after the doctor arrived.

Mr. Frisken had been a lifelong resident of the County of Lennox and Addington. He was born near Napanee just over 74 years ago and until 1919, when he and his family moved to Napanee, farmed for a number of years in Richmond Township, near Selby. Since coming to Napanee, he had been employed at D. B. Wilson's Hardware Store. He was well known by a great many people, who looked upon him as a truly Christian gentleman of irreproachable character. He was one of the most valued members of Grace United Church, of which he was a trustee, a member of the Official Board and one of its most regular attendants.

He is survived by his wife, formerly Annie Hudgin, and by three children, Miss Carmelita Frisken, a member of the West Ward School staff, Evelyn, Mrs. R. M. Winter, of Toronto, and Orval J. Frisken, of Peterborough. He also leaves two grandsons, John and William Frisken, Peterborough; two sisters, Mrs. W. R. Pringle, and Mrs. G. H. Rankin, and one brother, Adam Frisken. He was predeceased by three brothers, David, George and James.

His funeral was conducted at his home on Monday afternoon, March 25th, by Rev. C. D. McLellan, minister of Grace Church, and interment followed at Riverview Cemetery. The pall-bearers were Messrs. Percy Asselstine, Percy Vine, G. B. Clark, J. Ray Smith, G. F. Smith, and E. B. Weiss.

OBITUARIES

He was a very successful farmer and took a keen interest in life. Mr. Robinson had been in failing health for the past three years, but was confined to bed for only a few weeks prior to his passing. He was an Anglican and also one of the oldest members of Maple Leaf Masonic Lodge, Bath.

He was twice married. His first wife the former Elizabeth Preas, predeceased him in 1902. He is survived by his second wife, the former Mabel Warren; also two daughter by the first marriage, Mrs. A. Sills (Laura), and Mrs. W. Ackerman (Ethel), five grandchildren, Mrs. J. Henderson, Mrs. W. Smith and Harold Ackerman, as well as two great-grandchildren, Douglas and Shirley Ann Smith, also survive. Mr. Robinson's brothers and sisters have all predeceased him, his older brother, Ceylon, having passed away just two months ago.

The funeral service was held on Monday, March 25th, at 10:30 a.m. from St. Pauls Anglican Church, at Sandhurst, with Rev. H. C. Sedgwin officiating, followed by a Masonic burial under the auspices of Maple Leaf Lodge No. 119, Bath.

MRS. EMMA MENOR

New York Approves Veterans' Bonus Plan

Albany, N.Y., (A.P.) — The State Legislature has unanimously approved a proposed constitutional amendment to pay New York's 1,700,000 Second Great War Veterans, bonuses totalling $400,000,000 two years hence.

The bonus, requiring approval of another legislature and by the electorate in a referendum in the fall of 1947, would be the biggest ever granted by any state.

Payments would range from $50 to $250, depending upon the place and type of service.

"PERFECTION NIGHT"

"Perfection Night" was held at the last meeting of the Pack, for a two-fold purpose. It was primarily for brushing up on ceremonies and secondly for instructing new recruits.

The meeting also saw instruction held in the method of inspection also the Cub salute and handshake. Cubs were reminded that the Cub salute was a method of greeting as is the handshake.

During the evening such games as Exchange, Relay, Round The Circle, Good Morning, Mr. Jones, and Circle Handshake were engaged in.

Three new recruits received their "Coats of White Paint." They must wear these "Coats" until they can pass their Tenderpad tests and be subsequently invested by Akela.

At Red Flower, the story of "Sea Catch" was started and will be continued at the next meeting.

The next meeting will be "Badge Night" and will take place Saturday, March 30th. The evening's announcements centered on the Mothers' Auxiliary meeting and Badge Night.

Closing ceremonies consisted of Cub Silence, Flag Down, and Dismissal.

STARS TEAMED IN 'ALONG CAME JONES'

WEDNESDAY - THURSDAY
APRIL 3RD AND 4TH

"Along Came Jones," co-starring Gary Cooper and Loretta Young in a rousing romantic action drama of the border country in the 'Nineties, marks the debut of Cooper as a screen producer with this offering. As Melody Jones, a wandering frontiersman with a strange gift, he become important, Cooper reaches a little border town where it seems as though he has achieved his ambition, for he finds himself treated with amazing deference on all sides.

His bubble of esteem is pricked, however, when he learns he has been mistaken for a trigger-expert outlaw. His spirits rise again when he gets the idea of capturing the bandit, a move certain to win him plenty of admiration. There are only two obstacles in his way: one is Cherry DeLongpre, a pretty frontier girl who is obviously protecting the outlaw; and the other is the fact that Jones is unable to hit the side of a barn with a gun! However, romance goes into high gear at this point, with drama and comedy deftly blending into the hectic love story.

The steady strong demand for eggs and poultry makes it plain that this is going to be a profitable year to start good chicks as many as you can raise right.

In choosing your chicks, remember what so many poultry raisers have found to be a fact — "The Bray Chick Does the Trick." Mrs. M. V. Kidd, Nipissing, Ont., for example, writes this: "I have raised Bray Chicks for more than 15 years, and have always had great success with them." Mrs. Blanche Seymour, Lennoxville, Que., reports: "The chicks were lovely and strong, and we had excellent luck with them." Mrs. Amos Wilson, Turtle Creek, N.B., writes: "Excellent results — I know of no better chicks anywhere."

Poultry meat markets are just about swept bare. If you started your "main crop" chicks earlier, put your brooding equipment to work again with a bunch of Bray Cockerel chicks. Write for our "Daily Special" or ask your Bray agent or hatchery manager.

Jobs Follow Organization

But Employers and Workers Must Assist

During the war organization of manpower was made possible through co-operation of employers and workers.

This co-operation is no less necessary to assist in organizing the employment market during the present critical period.

Some manpower controls still remain. These are still law. They are aimed at assisting in organizing the employment market.

Remaining controls are designed to help employers and workers and actually require only minor assistance from the public.

YOU ARE URGED TO COMPLY WITH THE FOUR CONTROLS WHICH REMAIN:

1—Employers MUST notify the National Employment Office of any need for workers, as soon as that need is known.

2—Where employers engage workers outside the National Employment Service they MUST notify the nearest NES Office within three days, that an employee has been engaged. (Form NSS 312 is provided for this purpose.)

3—Unemployed workers seeking employment MUST register with the National Employment Office if unemployed for seven consecutive days.

4—Generally speaking, any employer or employee MUST give seven days' notice to the other party of any intention to terminate employment. (Form NSS 120 is still required.) Exceptions may be learned from the nearest NES Office.

The partners to industry—employers and employees—should help the National Employment Service to promote a high level of employment by complying with these simple rules.

Only with public support can an employment service give full assistance to the community.

Make full use of the Local Office of the National Employment Service. It is there to serve your needs, and those of the entire Community.

WEDDING BELLS

LENNOX - BOTTING

Tabernacle United Church parsonage, Belleville, was the scene of a quiet but pretty wedding when Rev. J. W. Houston united in marriage Phyllis Irene Botting of Belleville, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Botting, to Everett Lennox, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Lennox, of Brickville.

The brides gift to the bridesmaid was a gold compact and the groom's gift to the best man was a leather wallet.

In Loving Memory

MILLER — In fond and loving memory of a dear husband and father, Charles E. Miller, who passed away March 21st, 1939.

He has taken his last long journey
In God's beautiful ship called Rest;
Away from the world of sorrow
To a home of eternal rest.
Words cannot say how we loved him
Deep in our hearts there's a pain;
God alone knows how we miss him
As we wander along life's way.
But a voice seems gently calling:
Dear ones, be good and true
At the end of life's battles
He'll be watching and waiting you.
Sadly missed but lovingly remembered by
WIFE and FAMILY.

SWEET — In loving memory of our dearly beloved parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Sweet. Mother passed away on February 7th, 1945 and Dad, on March 29th, 1945.

The beautiful memory of ours so dear,
We loved so much, we cannot forget.
The days that come with sad regrets.
The ones we never will forget.
We miss their love, their cheering ways.
With them we spent our happiest days.
We miss them when we need a friend
On them we always could depend.
Sadly missed by Son,
HAROLD and WIFE, and GRANDCHILDREN

UNCLE JOHN DIED AND WILLED ME —a Headache!

When he named me his Executor he knew I'd do everything possible for Aunt May and the children.

And I will!

But what do I know about succession duties? To turn every last possible penny to the family's advantage I should be a banker, insurance adjuster, real estate expert and business manager combined.

But I'm not.

One thing I have learned. If you want security for your family—and who doesn't?—go to those whose business it is to administer and manage estates—whatever size.

My estate is a small one, like Uncle John's; but I will leave no headaches for a friend or risks for my family.

I've appointed National Trust my Executor.

WRITE FOR THIS FREE BOOKLET—It explains the duties and requirements of an Executor and how the fees of an Executor are fixed. It contains interesting and highly valuable information for men who will leave estates, small or large.

Give to conquer CANCER

Next to heart disease, cancer is the greatest single cause of death on this continent. It kills 1,000 Canadians every month. One out of every eight persons now living must expect to die of cancer, unless far-reaching preventive measures are taken.

Cancer is a deadly killer unless the patient seeks early medical advice. But when caught in its early stages, cancer is generally curable.

The cause of cancer is still unknown, and there is yet no specific cure. But if diagnosed in time and treated by surgery, x-ray or radium, a cure can be effected in a majority of all cancer cases.

It is now proposed to organize an energetic campaign in Ontario against cancer in all its forms. This campaign will have the following objectives:

1—To organize and operate fully equipped cancer clinics at suitable centres, where people may be examined, and, if necessary, treated according to the most scientific methods.

2—To pay a portion of the cost of treatment of cancer for those needing financial help.

3—To pay travelling expenses to and from clinics if needed.

4—To conduct an energetic program of cancer research.

To carry out this program, the first need is money. Your donation will definitely help to reduce the number of deaths from cancer in this province. It will help hundreds of people to be medically examined in time and to escape from the deadly clutches of cancer. It may well help research scientists to discover a cure for cancer and so free mankind forever from the dread scourge of cancer.

This appeal is for an objective of $2,000,000 to provide for a three-year program of cancer research, treatment and province-wide service.

ONTARIO CANCER FOUNDATION

This organized drive against cancer is a joint effort of The Ontario Cancer Treatment and Research Foundation and The Canadian Cancer Society.

Long distance lines are still HUMMING

WITH MORE TELEPHONES in use than ever before, and people using them more, the number of Long Distance calls keeps going up and up.

We are training hundreds of new operators, adding many miles of new circuits and installing new switchboards to handle them. Everything possible is being done—but it does take time.

Until the job is done we will continue to need your co-operation. It is helpful when you observe the proper sequence in placing your calls with the operator and when you keep your talks as brief as possible.

WHEN YOU CALL:

FIRST; give Long Distance the name of the city you are calling.

THEN the number of the distant telephone. (If you do not know the number make a note of it for future use when you hear the operator repeat it.)

THEN when the operator asks for it, give her the number of the telephone from which you are calling.

Please avoid unnecessary details.

PURCHASING POWER OF FARMERS ALL-IMPORTANT

The Deputy Minister of Labor told an agricultural conference recently that farmers must be prepared to meet current labor conditions, which simply means that farmers must be prepared to pay wages to farm workers, which would attract workers to agriculture in competition with other forms of production.

This is such a simple truth that it scarcely seems necessary to say it.

On the other hand, it is a fact that Canadian farmers, as a whole, do not make enough money to justify their paying wages, such as are being obtained in Canadian industry. The average farmer is not like the average business man, eagerly seeking opportunities to employ more labor, since the more labor that is employed, the greater the opportunities of profit for the employer.

The plain fact is that if agriculture is to have opportunities for labor such as are to be found in manufacture and other callings, then there has got to be a different relation between the price of what the farmer sells and buys than there has been in recent years.

Perhaps the Deputy Minister of Labor was tackling this from the wrong end. In view of the importance of agriculture, it is quite possible that what he should have said is that the rest of us had better remember that, if we want to get food, we must be prepared to pay the farmer enough so that he can hire labor in competition with other industries.

Perhaps the Deputy Minister of Labor might have suggested that the responsibility for seeing that the farmer gets labor is not one which is going to worry the farmer. He can get on without labor if he has to, but he can live.

Meanwhile, if the rest of the country refuses to let the farmer have labor at rates which he can afford to pay, it is the rest of the country which is going to suffer.

It is just as well to get this very clear, for there is little doubt that the depression which preceded the war started out of exactly this sort of breakdown in the purchasing power of agriculture. Another depression could easily be created in the same way.

PRICE CONTROL AND RATIONING INFORMATION

Readers may address their questions giving their name and address and mentioning the name of this paper — to Information Branch, WPTB, Sussex Street, Ottawa, Ontario.

Q. I have a house on a farm which is at present unoccupied. Later on, I will need this house for hired help. If I allow a family to move into this house temporarily, would I be able to regain possession when I need it? I would like to help these people out for a few months, but simply cannot do so if I would run the risk of their obtaining permanent possession.

A. WPTB rental regulations and tenant freezing rules do not apply to agricultural properties. In your case, notice would be given under the ordinary laws of the Province, i.e. a month's notice if they pay by the month. If your tenants refused to take such a notice, there is no WPTB rental regulation to support them and you could take the regular Provincial eviction measures. However, to make doubly sure you are covered, we would suggest that you have this prospective tenant sign a short term lease of not longer than five months. If at the expiry of that date, you wish to let him remain, you could then sign him up with a new short term lease of not more than five months.

Q. If I have a 72 meal request for transient labour, how many sugar or preserves coupons should I receive, also how many butter ?

A. You are entitled to one coupon for each nine meals served . . . either one sugar, one butter or one meat coupon . . . so for 72 meals, you could apply for eight coupons.

Q. Is maple syrup still rationed? If so, what coupon do I use to buy it?

A. Maple syrup is still on the ration list . . . you use a sugar coupon (the new combined coupon is for the purchase of either sugar or rationed sweets). You will receive eighty fluid ounces or two quarts of maple syrup for each coupon.

Q. Is it according to regulations that a tenant may take any amount of money which he has spent on repairs from the amount of the rent? Would six months' notice to vacate be necessary?

A. In reply to your first question this is a matter which would have to be settled between the tenant and the landlord. There is no regulation which states that the tenant may deduct the amount of repairs from the rent money. You have not given sufficient information in your second question as notice to vacate depends on the type of accommodation occupied, etc. Write again giving more detail.

Q. I own a house at North Bay and would like to go back up there to live. Can I give my tenants six months' notice?

A. No. The rentals regulations apply in North Bay as well as in any other part of Canada. At the present time you cannot give your tenants any notice whatever as long as they are paying their rent regularly and are good tenants.

Study Tour For Australian Farmers

A specially chartered ship will take 1,000 Australian farmers on a world tour to study at first hand industrial and agricultural conditions overseas, if proposals now being considered in Sydney, Australia, mature.

A general committee has appointed an executive committee to inquire into ways and means.

Leading agricultural organizations of New South Wales, including the Department of Agriculture, are represented.

The executive committe has been instructed to seek the co-operation of other states; ascertain approximate cost per individual of the proposed tour; find out whether state and federal governments would assist financially; contact pastoral, agricultural and other bodies to assess how many farmers would nominate for the tour, and what financial assistance the organizations could give.

Said the secretary: "This should not develop into a pleasure trip. Only practical men, who would impart knowledge gained on the tour to interested parties on their return, deserve selection."

ONTARIO LEGISLATURE CONSIDERS CHANGES LIQUOR LAWS

Cocktail Lounges to be Allowed in Larger Cities

Liquor sale by the drink in Ontario cocktail lounges in cities of over 50,000 population, and eating establishments including restaurants, is to be permitted by the Liquor License Act introduced in the Ontario Legislature, last Monday. The following is an explanation of the objects of the Bill, made at the first reading of the Bill in the Legislature by the Hon. L. E. Blackwell, Attorney- General.

Mr. Blackwell said:

'On Second Reading I will be discussing this Bill in detail but with the First Reading, I think I should give a brief outline and mention some details of the problem before us and the considerations we have borne in mind in presenting this Bill to the Legislature.

We inherited the present beverage room system, which came into effect in 1934, and I may say that from the time we took office, in August, 1943, it has given this Government the utmost concern. An intensive study has been made of the situation and the legislation in other jurisdictions has been carefully examined. We recognized that, under the unsatisfactory system which existed, it was impossible to avoid many abuses which have disturbed us as much as they have disturbed the people of this province. One of the primary difficulties arose from the provision that outlets for beer and wine were called upon to qualify as hotels and for that purpose to have at least six bedrooms. This resulted in the erection and expansion of many small establishments where the addition of the bedrooms was for no other purpose than to permit the sale of beer and wine. In no sense of the word were these really hotels. This in itself has contributed greatly to the justifiable distrust and criticism of the existing system.

It is our belief that if respect for law and order is to be maintained, laws must be in line with public opinion and of such a nature that they will be accepted by those who constantly respect the law. The example of this Province has demonstrated in sufficiently large numbers that there is the right to consume alcoholic beverages and our problem is simply one of assuring honest administration and decent conditions of distribution which will in themselves contribute to moderation in the consumption of alcoholic beverages.

These conditions vary greatly throughout the province and a solution, which would be satisfactory in one locality, may be wholly unsatisfactory in another. For that reason we have greatly extended the local option provisions and have assured complete control by local popular vote of the type of distribution in their own localities.

The Bill proposes:

1 To continue the system of licensing under the Board, headed by Judge Robb, which has now gained the confidence of all sections of public opinion for its judicial fairmindedness and the independence of its judgments whereby applications for licenses will be publicly advertised before being heard and all transfers, renewals, suspensions and cancellations of licenses will be dealt with at public hearings.

2 The first task of the Board under the new Act will be to reclassify all existing authorities into hotels, restaurants and public houses. All of these establishments are carefully defined by the Act and the special accommodation, facilities and equipment will be carefully prescribed by the Regulations.

3 The Act and Regulations deal separately with public houses for men only and ladies and with men and women or women alone may go. Two new types of licenses are created, a lounge license and a lounge dining room license which are carefully defined in the Act and in respect of which the special accommodation, facilities, equipment and services will be carefully prescribed by the Regulations.

4 Upon reclassification in cities of over 50,000 (Toronto, Hamilton, Ottawa, Windsor and London), lounge and lounge dining room licenses will be available for hotels and in the remainder of Ontario the only licenses that will be available for issuance will be hotels in the strict sense of the word and then only for beer and wine with meals and for bedroom accommodation unless additional licenses are voted in by affirmative vote under the local option provisions of the Bill.

5 Under the local option provisions of the Bill, the three-fifths local option provision is retained and the government stores for the sale of spirits and beer and every type of license may be voted upon separately, including the opportunity of voting on public houses where women may enter separately.

6 Reference to government stores for [illegible] indicates that the Government has determined upon a poli-

CLOTHING NEEDED GREEK RELATIVES OF NAPANEE MAN

Mr. George Kaye, a native of Greece, who has lived in Napanee for several years and operates a fruit booth on East Street, near McFarland's Garage, has recently received letters from his relatives in Greece, telling him of the extreme hardship they are being subjected to because of the war. The letters state that Greece itself has contributed greatly to the justifiable distrust and criticism of the existing system.

The letters tell that the people have scarcely any clothes, very little food, no tools or other equipment, no farm machinery or stock. Their plight is quite beyond the imagination of the people of this country, who have suffered nothing in physical hardship as a result of the war.

Mr. Kaye's relatives have begged him to send them clothing if possible but unfortunately he is not in a position to do so and he would appreciate any donations which interested citizens in Napanee care to make. Used clothing in good condition, for men, women and children will be most acceptable. He was particularly asked to send three suits of clothing for a man and there is no difference as they can be made to fit the recipients.

The cost of mailing parcels is very heavy and only a limited weight can be sent in each parcel.

Anyone who wishes to make donations, either of clothing or money, may leave them with Mr. Kaye and he will send the parcels.

J. L. MURRAY SPEAKS TO MEN AND BOYS AT GRACE CHURCH

Address Given After Father and Son Annual Banquet

The annual Father and Son banquet of Grace United Church was held on Friday evening and was attended by about 125. The guest speaker for the occasion was J. L. Murray, Principal of Kingston Collegiate and a former member of the teaching staff of the Napanee Collegiate and Vocational Institute.

A most delicious dinner was served by members of the Woman's Association. The toastmaster for the evening was Harry Moore, president of the Men's Club. Immediately following the dinner a sing-song was enjoyed led by G. F. Smith with Mrs. E. M. Black as accompanist.

There were three toasts. The toast to the Church" was ably given by LaVerne O'Connor and responded to by Rev. C. D. McLellan. Alex. Macgregor proposed the toast to the Sons, which was responded to by his son, Gordon MacGregor. The toast to the Ladies was proposed by Ward Wartman and replied to by Mrs. Wilfred G. Smith.

The musical programme consisted of a vocal duet by Jack Hunter and his son, James; a solo by Mervyn Clark, with Mrs. W. V. Drury as accompanist, and a male quartette composed of Walter Blakely, Ward Meredith, Bert Seymour and Sept. Booth. The accompanist for the quartette was Mrs. Bert. Seymour.

Mr. Murray was introduced to the gathering by Gerald F. Smith.

At the outset, the speaker expressed his appreciation at being present. His theme throughout was the fine relationship between a father and a son. Sons, he said, are the inheritors of a father's reputation. Fathers hope to hand down to their sons a name, unsullied and unstained. He referred to the older days, at the time of knighthood, when the son was handed down his father's title and the family coat-of-arms. "At all costs we are going to keep up the family name." Mr. Murray said. Many fathers say that they want their boys to have a better chance than they did. He stated that a father can train his boy by giving him experience as much as he can give. Too many times, fathers have a tendency to make it easier for their boys.

In closing Mr. Murray spoke of Christianity and said that it is the only religion that has lasted for any period of time.

The speaker was thanked by O. S. Reddick.

NAPANEE COUNCIL CONSIDERS BUILDING SEVERAL NEW SEWERS

Town to Continue in Wood Business

At the regular monthly meeting of the Napanee Town Council, held on Monday evening, April 1st, considerable time was spent in consideration of sewer extensions, as a post-war project. The report of the Town Planning Committee was presented by Councillor Ramsay and in the report attention in particular was called to the need for additional sewers in the northwest section of the town. Earlier in the meeting requests were made for sewer service on Ann Street, by Stewart Shelter and by Arthur Lovell for an extension of the sewer on the Newburgh Road from Dairy Avenue to the street leading to Riverside Cemetery.

Four projects for sewer extensions were outlined by Councillor Ramsay, including sewers on the Belleville Road, from Bridge Street to Graham Street; on Thomas Street, from Robert Street to the Park; 400 feet on Robinson Street, 1200 feet on Graham Street; 800 feet on Isabella St., which made a total of 6400 feet at an estimated cost of $51,200.

After a full consideration of the various projects, a motion, moved by Messrs. Ramsay and Webster, was passed, that engineers be engaged to survey for extension to sewers on the Belleville Road, from Bridge Street to the Collegiate; on Thomas Street from Robert Street to the Driving Park; on the block of Robinson Street, one block on Graham Street, and on Newburgh Road, from Dairy Avenue to the road leading to the cemetery, an estimated total distance of 4300 feet, to cost a possible $42,400. After the survey is made it is proposed also to call for tenders for the work.

The Council also consented to supply tile for a sewer extension on Ann Street, requested by Stewart Shetler.

WOOD REPORT

Deputy Reeve Holmes presented a report prepared by the Treasurer, M. P. Graham, and by Councillor Reid, Special Wood Committee during 1945. The report stated that during the year, 3,555 sales of wood were made and the revenue from the sales was $29,257. The cost of cutting and the quarter cord lots, which involved a great deal of handling and some loss due to the quarter cord measurement, plus the cost of delivery to the municipality of about $1,700, or over $31,000 in all.

After some discussion, a motion moved by Councillors Rogers and Vine, was passed that the Town continue in the wood business for 1946-47, and that Deputy-Reeve Holmes from the Federal Department of Supply, pointing out that the supply available wood for next season is very much depleted, and urging that municipalities make every effort as soon as possible to secure wood during the spring and summer season.

ZONING REQUESTED

As a result of a petition presented by residents of John Street asking the Council to pass a by-law prohibiting the establishment of businesses on the street north of Bridge Street, there was a general discussion on the question of granting permits for new buildings in the town, and the matter of zoning the town.

On motion of Messrs. Holmes and Ramsay, the petition of the John Street residents was referred and that the Town Clerk was instructed to prepare a by-law amending the existing building by-law so that the whole Council be responsible for the granting of building permits in lieu of the Police Committee, which is at present responsible.

A motion moved by Messrs. Webster and Kimmerly was also passed that the Town Planning Committee bring in a report in relation to the zoning of Council, regarding zoning of the town.

REPORTS PRESENTED

The Finance Committee report of receipts and expenditures for the month of March was presented by Deputy-Reeve Holmes.

Reeve Robson, chairman of the Fire and Water Committee, recommended that the Clerk draw up an agreement between the Town and residents of the Township of Richmond, whereby fire protection be given the Richmond residents who pay $5.00 per year to the town. But on the advice of the Clerk action on this matter was deferred pending provincial legislation, under consideration during the present session of Parliament, as been provided.

Councillor Moore, chairman of the Parks Committee, reported that Mr. George Thompson, was granted, at a previous meeting of Council, the right to rent a space in Springdale Park for a refreshment booth had requested that no further action be taken until the liquor legislation proposed by the Ontario Legislature had been settled.

Councillor Rogers, chairman of Town Property, reported that over $200 had been spent in redecorating the Public Library and that some work on the outside of the building was also planned.

Councillor Vine, chairman of the Police Committee, presented the report for March, of the Chief of Police which stated there had been 12 complaints received and investigated, 2 accidents, 6 arrests, and that the convictions had been secured for the town under the Criminal Code, six under the Liquor Control Act and three under the Highway Traffic Act.

Councillor Webster brought up the matter of police activities on Sundays which he considered was not adequate and Councillor Rogers voiced the opinion that the committee should revise the working hours of the Police Force to make it possible for one man to be on duty at all times.

Councillor Ramsay, chairman of the Social Welfare Committee reported that the cost of relief in the month of March, to the town, was $124.

Councillor Webster, chairman of the Industrial Committee, stated that every effort was being made to advertise the town of Napanee as a site for new industries.

The Health and Sanitation Committee report given by Councillor Webster, stated that the committee was seeking another tender before considering any work on the sewage disposal plant.

Councillor Webster, chairman of the Banquet Committee, reported that the committee had decided to purchase rings to be presented to service men, from the People's Credit Jewellers, at a cost of $6.65 each.

The Youth Committee report, given by Councillor Webster, indicated that considerable progress in organization had been made. A nomination meeting for members of the Youth Council is to be held on the evening of April 12th, and the election is to be held on Thursday, April 18th. Young people eligible for office include all the youth of the town between the ages of sixteen and twenty-one or all pupils in Grade XI to Grade XIII. Letters From Greece EXPRESS THANKS FOR RELIEF SENT

During the past few months, Mr. and Mrs. John Diamant and Mrs. Peter Canas have been receiving regularly parcels of food and clothing to Mr. Diamant's relatives and relatives of Mrs. Canas' late husband, in Greece, where living conditions are beyond description. All food, animals and machinery which could be moved were taken away by the invading Germans, leaving the inhabitants without means of subsistence or enough clothing to protect them from the weather.

Just recently word has been received by Mr. Diamant and Mrs. Canas, that the parcels they sent are reaching their destination. Some extracts from letters received from Mr. Diamant's relatives follow:

Paliopanagia, Sparta, Greece,
March 10, 1946

Dear John and Sophia:-

We have just received the first parcel. You can not imagine how glad we were to receive it. You have no idea with what anxiety the children waited for me to return with the parcel from the village of Xerokampian (2 miles away). When I arrived at the house the children opened the parcel immediately and shouted with joy saying 'May God preserve the life of our Uncle and Aunt who have sent this parcel to us — clothes to us when we were all but naked!'

I, your brother, thank you for the clothing you have sent in the first parcel. Will you please tell some of your kind friends who have helped us with the clothing.

Truly, I am so happy that I do not know what more to write.

Your Brother,
Christos (Diamtakos)

Paliopanagia, Sparta Gr.
March 10, 1946

Dear Brother:-

We thank you for the clothing which has come to relieve our nakedness. In one of the clothes in the parcel we found two small pieces of paper which has something written on them in English. Those who can translate cannot tell us what they are except that they have the name of Mrs. Canas. Surely you will know who she is — please give her our thanks. In order that we may thank her directly please read our many thanks in this small enclosed note:

Dear Mrs. Canas, Sparta, N. R. No. 3, Napanee, Ontario:

We want to thank you for the presents you have sent us through our brother in Canada. You have no idea how glad we were to get them. May our dear Lord bless you and repay you as it is proper for one like you. Send our children to the name and speak of you as "the unknown" aunt who has sent us clothing.

Spiros Diamakis.

Xerokambin, Sparta, Greece
March 10, 1946

Dear Uncle:-

In a previous letter I wrote you an account of the death of my cousin George as I wrote you before his death was due to undernourishment, the fear of the Germans and Italians and no rapid growth. His condition was aggravated by a frightening forest fire near the summer home in the village. To top it all he had no medical care because there were neither Doctors or medicines nearby. We succeeded however to get him to the Hospital in Sparta it was too late.

Up-to-date we have received two parcels and we thank you very much indeed. If you only could have planned to see us — we were in tatters!

The news from here is rotten politics and feuds. The occupation troops are taking into warring factions. Martial law but there is firing around and about us every night. Life for those who want to live in peace and quiet is unbearable. You will understand what I mean if you read the papers with news from Greece. Write and tell us what news of Greece is printed in the Canadian papers. We would like to read some American Greek Newspapers.

Dear Aunt and Uncle, you ask us in every letter to tell you what we need and what help the UNRRA is giving us. As we have written before we have no anima's or tools to work our land, and we have no wheat or flour.

Each one of us receive from UNRRA 1900 calories of food per day. They tell us that they will have to reduce that amount soon and we will suffer hunger for months.

We would appreciate a comb, some stockings, handkerchiefs, Quinine, Iodine, any pharmacy supplies and any household bedding.

I write so compactly and small because we wish to reduce the weight of the letters. We all enclose the photo in one envelope for the same reason. If the weight of the letter is more than 3 grams it costs more than 1,200 drachmas to mail.

Your Nephew,
George Malrakos.

The visitors spoke very highly of the work of the officers and the splendid hospitality of Napanee Chapter No. 151.

The drawing for the quilt took place after the serving of the refreshments and the holder of the winning ticket was Mr. Harry Gross, of Sydenham.

Half Canning Sugar Due Thursday May 2

Ottawa, (C.P.) — The first half of the 10-pound allotment of home canning sugar will be made available on Thursday, May 2, when sugar preserving coupons 88 to 612 become valid, the Prices Board announced last night. Second half of the allotment will be released beginning July 4th, when coupons 617 to 821 become valid.

These ten coupons are provided in addition to the two regular 'S' coupons valid monthly during May, June and July.

Quota users who house permanent residents also may apply for sugar for canning in addition to their regular sugar-preserves quota, provided they obtain 'S' coupons from their residents. However, no coupons may be detached from the residents' ration books for this purpose without written consent of the book holder. Forms for application for such authority, obtainable at any branch of the board, must be accompanied by the authorizing letters.

NATIONAL DRIVE FOR CLOTHING TO START JUNE 17

Canada's second National Clothing Drive to provide much-needed garments for the millions of destitute people in the war-devastated countries of Europe will be launched on June 17 and will be continued until the end of that month.

Hon. J. J. McCann, Minister of National Revenue and War Services, made this announcement today and stated that the appeal would be sponsored by the Dominion Government and be carried out under the auspices of the Canadian Allied Relief.

Last October, when the first appeal was made to the generosity of the Canadian people to donate serviceable used clothing for the suffering, 12,000,000 pounds of exception ally good quality clothing was collected by hard and zapped across the ocean and distributed by U.N.R.R.A where the need was greatest.

Reports received from many countries in Europe indicate that the Canadian contribution was most gratefully received, and assisted thousands of families to get through the present winter.

Dr. McCann points out, however, there are still millions of people in Europe who are homeless and without the means or opportunity to obtain clothing of any kind, and that many deaths are taking place from exposure as well as from lack of sufficient food.

"Canada is doing her part in providing food for the needy, but the great need for clothing can only be met by individual Canadians opening their clothes closets and ward robes and giving what they can spare in this campaign," said Dr. McCann. "The campaign is being held in June so that the clothing collected can be sent to Europe in plenty of time for distribution before another winter sets in."

Hon. Mr. McCann, of Montreal has again been asked by Dr. McCann to direct the campaign as chairman of the National Committee to be held named Redverse F. Pratt, of Ottawa who has been named by the Department of Labour, as executive director.

The hope is expressed by Mr. Birk that all those who participated in the drive last P.U.S will again volunteer their services to organizing their groups as well as possessing the ability to approach the people as they can so as to ensure the success of the campaign.

Canadian Red Cross To Spend $5,000,000 For War-Torn Europe

Canadian Red Cross, in conjunction with the Canadian United Allies Relief Fund, announced today that in 1946 some $5,000,000 of its remaining war funds on relief supplies for war-stricken populations in Europe and China and in addition will allocate large amounts of supplies on hand from its Overseas and Canadian warehouses for the same purpose Commitments against this 1946 allocation are already underway.

Officials at the National Headquarters of the Society making this announcement referred especially to reports from its overseas representatives stating that suffering in Europe and China, due to the war has reached acute proportions and called for every possible assistance.

Considerable expenditures from available funds and the distribution of large amounts of supplies on hand are also planned for relief in Britain in 1946, it was stated.

Purchases of relief goods, principally clothing and medical supplies, totalling some $9,000,000 covering commitments on behalf of the Canadian United Allied Relief Fund for the year 1945 have now been completed and the bulk of the goods shipped. In addition to these, approximately $2,000,000 worth of Red Cross made-up supplies, not yet estimated, had also been despatched to European countries and for use in Britain.

Relief goods consigned to Belgium, Czechoslovakia, France, Greece, Holland, Norway, Yugoslavia, Denmark, China, Luxembourg, Poland and Russia, from 1945, were packed in over 70,500 cases and carried on 89 steamers.

Committees of each of the above countries collaborated with the Red Cross in the selection and purchase of goods most needed in the individual countries concerned and involved many hundreds of different items.

Amongst these items were 41,453,000 units of penicillin, 24,275,000 of sulfa tablets, 719 long tons of cod liver oil, 1,147,350 garments purchased from the War Assets Corporation, 33 complete Hospital Operating-Room Units costing $13,500 each, 124 ambulances, and 297,000 pairs of shoes purchased from the War Assets Corporation and the Department of National Defence.

GREASING THE SKIDS

The late G. Howard Ferguson built the skids; Hon. Mitchell Hepburn elevated them, and now Hon. George Drew, greases them, so that men and women, boys and girls may more easily than ever slip down the ways into the slough of despair and habit. Ontario is now to have sale, by the glass, of beer and wine in restaurants, and sale of hard liquor in cocktail lounges. All the moral and social reform of the past twenty-nine years is to be swept away at one fell swoop; all the struggles and the moneys that have been expended by those whose only interest is in the welfare of Ontario's Citizens is to be ignored, and a new order that will flood this Province with liquor, is to be established.

Premier Drew has sold out to the intoxicationists. They have plenty of money. E. P. Taylor has built up a veritable engine within this Province, based on liquor money. He has got control of great restaurants in Ontario in anticipation of this new piece of legislation. It is not for nothing that he has courted Premier Drew, and that they have travelled together on holiday bent. Money talks, and now it is talking so loud that the party in power in Ontario, think they are listening to the voice of the people when all they hear is the noise of the liquor barons.

The manner in which the legislation has been introduced into the Legislature, is a travesty on the intelligence of Canadian legislative procedure. Why did not the Premier seek advice from others than the intoxicationists? Why did he not consult with those most deeply concerned with the welfare of our citizens? No! This legislation was announced; it was to be rushed through. At first, the Attorney-General and the Premier, both refused to meet a delegation from the churches, temperance, and welfare agencies. Pressure of public opinion forced the Premier to change his opinion. These men will probably live to see the day when they will recognize the principle — that public opinion cannot be flouted, as they are now flouting it.

Premier Drew has greased the skids down which thousands of our boys and girls will glide into our insane asylums, our detention homes, our prisons, gaols and penitentiaries. — Not a very enviable occupation for the Premier of a great Province!

WANTED! TOURISTS

Ontario, like all other provinces, is out after tourists. A definite organized effort will be made to sell the idea of Ontario as a playground and hunters' paradise to residents of the United States—whom all Canadians believe to be rolling in wealth. Well, we have the scenery here, right enough; we have our lakes galore; we have unsurpassed fishing and hunting. Indeed, we have all the assets necessary to provide the Americans with that relaxation their high-pressure life demands. That is, we have all the facilities except proper homes. Of course, there are hotels and tourist homes, but it is difficult to see how we could possibly take care of any great influx of tourists while such a nation-wide shortage of houses, exists.

The situation is a national disgrace. A few homes are being built where hunderds of thousands are needed. Young people, married during the war, are now trying to set up homes and find themselves under the necessity of living in one room or going back to mother and father. A situation which is, at the best, not a very congenial one.

During the war, houses for war time were needed and were built with lightning like speed. At Ajax it seemed only a matter of weeks until about 500 acres of land was transformed into a town with factories, and homes provided with all modern conveniences.

Th Dominion Government might well get into contact with the builders and present them with a housing programme commensurate with the present need. The builders should be given specific dates, and told to get going. There is, of course, a shortage of materials. But, materials can be released in war time. And certainly there are more men, now, ready to hire out as carpenters, plumbers and what not than there were during the manpower shortage. If there is a bottleneck somewhere then the Government should have the best available trouble shooter, on the job.

The need of homes is now Canada's Number One need. Nobody seems to be doing anything about it.

GOOD ADVICE

The Evening Telegram, Toronto, on Monday, made a suggestion to the Ontario Government which it would do well to heed. The advice carries all the more weight because The Telegram is such a strong supporter of the new government. The Telegram suggests that the Government should not try to force the new liquor legislation through at the present session of Parliament. The Telegram recognizes that the Government can, by its majority, force the Bill through. It says:

"Progressive Conservative members particularly will have realized the importance of not getting ahead of public opinion on this subject. Their votes in the Legislature on a straight party basis can make the measure law, but it would be well for them, before placing it in the statutes, to decide whether they are ready to fight the next election on this issue in their own ridings."

And then, the editorial continues with this sane bit of advice:

"If in their ridings the members have found in some quarters strong resentment over the proposed changes, and in others a considerable measure of doubt as to the necessity for innovations for which there has been no public demand, they will do well to discount heavily any hypothetical gains they might secure by supporting the new bill. They will, in that case, see the wisdom of convincing the government that Mr. Blackwell's measure should have more extensive consideration than it can have at the present session of the Legislature. As a matter of political prudence it should be withdrawn at the present time so that it may be thoroughly discussed through the province before being placed on the statutes to become law on proclamation.

"If the measure is to be pressed to a vote at this session of the Legislature, objection could properly be taken to regarding a negative decision as a vote of non-confidence. Government members should not be tied to party lines on an issue of this kind but should be free to exercise their independent judgment."

Our Representative in Toronto should press upon the Government the necessity of following this advice. There will be a lot of us out here in ridings watching to see how our representatives will vote on this issue.

A COMMENDABLE PROJECT

The announcement that a new Youth Organization is to be started in Napanee, comes as a breath of fresh air to the rather placid and stuffy atmosphere in which we have plugged along during the past few years. Perhaps the war started all this; certainly there is being given good leadership to many of the town enterprises by those who have recently returned from the Forces.

Whatever is responsible, the movement is a commendable one. Under the proffered plan, a Youth Council is to be set up, with a mayor or mayoress and ten Councillors, all duly elected from Grades 11, 12, 13, or ages from sixteen to twenty. These will, apparently constitute a sort of unofficial Youth Town Council. In this will be trained future leaders. Not only do they will deal with youth problems of the day and so exert an influence on public opinion. An Advisory Committee will sit in on the meetings, to criticise and offer advice, and make suggestions. A Youth Club will also be an integral part of the new organization.

We are living in a world which was won for us largely through the sacrifices of youth. It was young men, in their eighteens and twenties, who manned aeroplanes that won the Battle of Britain. It was youth who sailed the seas, drove the tanks, and handled the guns. We are alive to-day, largely because some youth died, and others served and suffered. Too long, we have ignored youth, except when we wanted them to fight our battles and carry the brunt of our wars.

Now, youth itself is going to take a hand in affairs. They will take their job seriously; they will carry it through victoriously. To be sure they will need advice and encouragement, and help. But Napanee Citizens will give it!

There are two indirect benefits which are bound to accrue from this venture. Older people will be shamed into assuming a more generous spirit towards the town. In spite of the fact that a great deal of wealth has been made by citizens of the community, it is difficult to recall any citizen in recent years who has remembered Napanee in his will, by endowing a community enterprise.

Then, too, the reflection on the official governing bodies, will be a healthy one. The Town Council will have to look to its laurels. It will be watched by the community a bit more closely than ever, and comparisons made. It should buck-up things no end.

The greatest good, however, will come as young people work together for a common end, dominated by a common purpose. No doubt, a recreation centre and other projects, in time, will be achieved. But as great as they will be, the really important thing we see in this movement is the effect it will have on the boys and girls themselves, building in them a sense of community responsibility and public service.

This is one of the most constructive ventures in the town in recent years and deserves all the encouragement and support we, who are older, can give to it.

If private enterprise is not sufficiently capable of tackling the situation, then the Government should not hesitate to do what it had to do during the war — undertake the job as a government project.

Germany Yet to Face Real Catastrophe Says Neimoeller

Bern (Reuters) — One of Germany's few voices for freedom during the last fifteen years—Pastor Martin Niemoeller — said last week that "the real catastrophe" in Germany is yet to come.

Pastor Niemoeller, famed 54-year-old Protestant leader who spent seven years in Nazi concentration camps has been attending the world conference of Protestant leaders during in Switzerland. He declared in an interview:

"I am convinced that the real misery in the German situation is only just beginning to loom up, that the real catastrophe of the German position has not yet revealed itself.

"Only a very few people have grasped the foreboding that one day our nation of 80,000,000 people will find itself in utter darkness, in a complete void.

"The lowest ebb of the German situation and its most critical point have not yet been reached. And that is true from the political, economic and moral aspect.

"The food situation will deteriorate, the depleted industry has as yet to face its crisis when the sum of up raw materials run out, and then there are still millions of refugees to come from the eastern regions."

Asked whether he though the food cuts in the British zone would produce fertile ground for Russian and Communist propaganda among the German population, the Lutheran Pastor, who commanded a German submarine in the First Great War said:

"The Germans no longer reason logically with their common sense, but all their thoughts and reactions are purely emotion. . . .

"The German to-day is fertile ground for any propaganda which offers him better conditions of living. In fact such propaganda is the last life-buoy within reach and the German grips it with all it might. The utterly emotional reaction to everything how current in Germany naturally carries immense dangers with it."

On the question of Germany's political future, he said: I believe the political parties as they are known in Germany today will eventually disappear. These parties, formed too early after the collapse last summer, immediately stuck to their old political dogmas without sufficient adaptation to the completely unprecedented position of Germany.

I think that at least centralization of administration and political decentralization is quite essential, and with this I mean that the individual should not be represented in the councils of the nation by national parties but rather by another individual. I visualize future representation based rather on local professional groups than on national parties.

STATEMENT MADE BY HON. LES. FROST LIQUOR LEGISLATION

The following article is a statement prepared for the Press, in Sunday, by Hon. Leslie M. Frost, Provincial Secretary, on the new liquor legislation under consideration at the present time in the Ontario Legislature.

We have been given the privilege of reproducing the statement, which we do without comment, other than that it sets out in a brief, understandable manner the intent of the Government in introducing the legislation:—

"The new Liquor Licensing Act is designed to meet very widely varying conditions in Ontario. A solution which is satisfactory in one part of the Province is totally unsatisfactory in another. Accordingly, one of the basic principles involved is the enlargement of local option provisions which have been found to be satisfactory in the past. Where municipalities of under 50,000 population desire to make changes in the distribution and sale of liquor the matter must be passed upon by the electors of the municipalities and a three-fifths majority is required.

"The actual effect of the Act in such counties as Victoria and Haliburton is restrictive in that the type of establishment in which beverage rooms can be operated is more limited.

"In many cases in the province the present so-called hotels are in no sense hotels. These premises therefore will be reclassified into hotels or inns, taverns, restaurants and public houses. Greater license fees will be charged in accordance with the lesser services rendered to the public.

"In the future in Victoria and Haliburton licenses may only be granted to the highest classification, namely, hotels and inns. Before any new licenses may be issued to the classifications: taverns, restaurants or public houses, the municipality must, by a three-fifths vote, approve the issuing of such licenses. The matter therefore, is entirely in the people's hands.

"There must be no misunderstanding about the classification 'restaurant.' This, in no sense, refers to cafes and restaurants presently operating in, say, Lindsay. The statutary definition is a dining room which will strict limitations. It is quite safe to say that there is no such dining room in Victora-Haliburton, which would meet the standards required and, again, if there were such a room, no license could issue until the municipality voiced its approval by a three-fifths vote of the electors.

"As stated, conditions vary widely throughout Ontario. Therefore, a number of options are given to municipalities in connection with the sale of liquor. None of these, however, becomes operative in any municipality of less than 20,000 population, which of course includes all of the municipalities of Victoria and Haliburton, without an affirmative vote of the people and a three-fifths vote.

"Municipalities which have already passed local option by-laws will be fully respected and no licenses of any kind will be issued in the same.

"The Brewery Warehouses throughout the Province which are now operated by a private concern, will be taken over by the Government and operated by The Liquor Control Board.

"Concerning summer resorts, it is not intended to issue beverage room licenses to summer hotels such as we have in Victoria-Haliburton. Their only right is, as now, that a dining room license for beer and wine with meals only may be granted but not in local option areas.

"The powers of the people to pass upon licenses in their own communities is very greatly extended. One of the difficulties in the past was that the question was: "Are you in favour of the sale of beer and wine? Some electors favoured the sale of packaged beer from Brewery Warehouses but did not favour beverage rooms. Under the new provisions it will be possible to vote upon any class of sale, for instance: beverage rooms for men only, beverage rooms for men and women, the retail sale of packaged beer by government authority, etc. This will entitle the people to have the absolute direction of the sale of liquor in their own municipalities. On the other hand, if the people desire to extend the sale they may do so in like manner but with a three-fifths majority vote.

"The Liquor Authority Control Board is largely continued with added powers. The work of this Board has convinced those of all views of the integrity of its opinions and the independence of its judgments. This authority will not be weakened but will be widened and strengthened. Therefore, in addition to the power of the people by their vote to control conditions the Board will also have authority.

"The enforcement will be very much more rigid. More inspectors will be appointed. If the municipalities will do the policing themselves they will be given a greater share of the license fees. If, however, they are not prepared to do the policing properly, then the Province will step in and will do the same, in which case no share of the license fees will be paid to the municipality.

"The Act itself has real teeth. All of the penalties of the previous Act are continued in force but, additionally, among other things, it will be unlawful to have young children unattended while the parent is in a beverage room. Breweries and Distilleries and Wineries must give no inducement to further the sale of particular brands. A further drastic provision to prevent drunkenness is introduced in that there will be a liability for the proprietor of a beverage room who allows a person to become intoxicated. If such a person loses his life then the proprietor may be liable under the Fatal Accidents Act. If the person causes injury to himself or others, then there may be an action in damages. The particulars of this provision are clearly set out in the Act.

"As stated, we have a very large Province in area with varying conditions throughout the same. In some municipalities there is an overwhelming demand for freer sale with the result that law enforcement is impossible. In others there is a demand for restriction. The matter therefore is left up to the people. The enforcement, however, in all cases, will be on a high level."

The King Presents V.C. to Padre Foote

London, (C.P.) — Major John Weir Foote, of the Royal Hamilton Light Infantry of Hamilton, Ont., received the Victoria Cross he won at Dieppe from the King, last Thursday at a private investiture in Buckingham Palace. He later spent twenty minutes with His Majesty in a private apartment on the second floor of the Palace.

Major Foote, only chaplain to win the Victoria Cross in the Second Great War, said the King asked him about his military service and enquired particularly about the R.H.L.I. and the Queen's Own Cameron Highlanders of Winnipeg, another Dieppe regiment.

The King was much interested in the fact that the "Rileys" were affiliated with the Somerset Light Infantry, of which he is honorary Colonel-in-Chief. Inside the palace, the 41-year-old Ontario padre also saw only the King but just before the left Princess Elizabeth drove out through the gates.

After the ceremony, Major Foote dined in summer-like sunshine outside of the Palace, chatting with Lieut.-Col. W. J. Gilling of Toronto, Protestant chaplain with the Canadian Army Overseas and other Canadians from Canadian Military Headquarters. Londoners gathered round to admire the new V.C. which he displayed for photographers.

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON, APRIL 7TH, 1946

"FRIENDS OF JESUS"

Text: Mark 10: 13, 14. Luke 6: 13-16; 8: 1-3; 15: 1, 2. John 3: 1, 2a

In the ancient world women and children had little or no consideration. It was not unusual therefore that the disciples should have been rather brusque with the parents who were bringing their children to Jesus for his blessing. Jesus was tired. He had had a busy day, children really did not matter, so they brushed them to one side. However Jesus took the side of the children, and told the disciples that they had to take the children into account. He said that the Kingdom of God belonged to little children. In another place Jesus said that unless people became as little children they would not inherit the Kingdom. Child-like faith is one of the qualities which God expects of His followers. There is so much in the modern world that would tend to destroy faith in the power and love of God the Father. We have come through one of the most destructive, devastating wars of all times. We are now in its aftermath, with all the residue of hate, bitterness and selfishness which war breeds, and accumulates around us. While during the war we had our days of prayer, yet these seemed incidental. The main stress was on power and still more destructive power until the climax was reached in the atomic bomb and yet this experience has but underlined the necessity of faith in God. Even men, the leaders in many walks of life, not necessarily religious leaders are pleading for a return to religion. That means a return to the child-like, absolute faith of little one in their parents. After all God is our Father and we are His children. Faith in Him is the quality of life which alone will make men and women capable of being entrusted with all the power which modern scientific knowledge has put in his hands.

The next section of the lesson tells us of the men whom Jesus chose as His apostles. A good deal could be written of the different types whom Jesus chose. Perhaps too much has been made of the fact that they were fishermen. Certainly Jesus did not choose them because they were fishermen. Not all the fishermen Jesus met would have made good disciples. He chose them not because of their employment but because of their character and their possibilities. He knew what was in them and what they could become. Of course it is interesting and significant that Jesus chose them from what we would call the working class. The rich and the men of wealth to prevent men from taking their place in the Kingdom is thus reconciled. Wealth is not in itself an evil but certainly its power is a great temptation. Jesus knew that and worked with those unhampered by the power of wealth.

In the lesson emphasis is laid on the way in which the laymen accompanied Jesus on His mission of healing and preaching. The little group recruited from the common people went through the countryside, bringing hope, and encouraging the hopeless and discouraged. Everywhere they went they were met by crowds of simple, poor folk eagerly anxiously seeking help and healing. What a contrast that is to the stately and ornate services now carried on in the Name of the Carpenter of Nazareth. He who proclaimed against the evils of organized religion and sacerdotalism must wonder at the change that has become about in the hearts of His followers.

Naturally the scribes and the Pharisees protested when Jesus helped the poor and used unorthodox ways in doing so. That is always the way. The champions of things as they are look with suspicion on the innovator, at the one who is cutting red tape to get to the basic human needs. Jesus was not interested in mere form nor He used the proper formula, or the mystic words. He saw human need and met it.

To be sure we cannot do the things Jesus did so long as we think of Him as merely our example in good works. He is the Son of God, and we may by union with Him become partakers of His saving grace. "Greater works than these shall ye do because I go to My Father."

SHIRT SHORTAGE TO BE EASED

Ottawa, (C.P.) — Directives designed to increase production of men's and boys' shirts were announced last week by the Prices Board.

However, the board said that it would be several weeks before more shirts can be expected in retail stores to relieve the current shortage.

Under the directives issued, "No shirt manufacturer will be permitted to use shirting made for the manufacture of any products other than men's and boys' shirts unless his production of these shirts is up to the level directed by the board."

The announcement said increased supplies of fabrics were being made available to shirt manufacturers from the Canadian quota from the United States.

To ensure that no manufacturer is withholding supplies of finished shirts from the market, the board said manufacturers may not hold in inventory more than one month's production.

Public Enemy No. 1

CANCER

Cancer is exceeded only by heart disease as a cause of death. Because it frequently means long and cruel suffering, and is the disease we dread most, it most decidedly ranks as Public Enemy No. 1.

Yet cancer in its early stages usually causes no pain. That is why relatively few cancers get any treatment in their early stages when most of them can be cured by radium, x-ray or surgery.

Cancer of the lip may be mistaken for a cold sore that does not heal. The first sign of cancer of the throat may be hoarseness. Cancer of the stomach, in its early stages may be mistaken for indigestion.

To cut down the death rate from cancer in Ontario (5193 Ontario people died from this disease in 1945) funds are now being raised and a drive is being organized in this province to conquer cancer. Here are the objectives of this campaign:

1—To organize and operate fully equipped cancer clinics at suitable centres where people may be examined, and, if necessary, treated according to the newest scientific methods.

2—To pay a portion of the cost of treatment of cancer for those needing financial assistance.

3—To pay travelling expenses to and from clinics if needed.

4—To conduct an energetic program of cancer research in Ontario.

As a citizen of Ontario you are asked to contribute to this very worthy cause. Your donation may help put such measures into effect as will save the lives of some of your loved ones—even your own life. It may help to free the world forever from the dread scourge of cancer.

This appeal is for an objective of $2,000,000 to provide for a three-year program of cancer research, treatment and province-wide service.

DODDS KIDNEY PILLS

JOHN FISHER AT THE ARMOURIES ON APRIL 29TH

John Fisher, who is to be the guest speaker at the Napanee Rotary Club annual Ladies' Night on Monday, April 29th, is a well known Canadian radio commentator.

In a programme which bears his own name, "John Fisher Reports," he is heard Sundays at 6:30-6:45 p.m. EST. On this programme he does a "wandering reporter" job — a parade of people, places and things. This programme is recorded each Sunday and transmitted over the CBC's new International Service to our servicemen in Europe.

John Fisher was the CBC's commentator at the two historic Quebec Conferences, as well as the UNRRA Conference.

He is a favourite after - dinner speaker in Canada, and during the 1944-45 year has addressed more than fifty service clubs and meetings in Canada.

Mr. Fisher makes a trip across Canada once a year gathering material for his broadcasts. During the last year he has gathered his own research, written and delivered nearly one hundred and seventy-five broadcasts.

He is also heard three times a week on "This Is Canada" sponsored by Purity Flour Mills.

He is a graduate lawyer and member of the bar of Nova Scotia. He graduated from Dalhousie University in Halifax, in 1938.

He is also a former newspaperman, having worked for three years in reporting and editorial work.

John Fisher has been in radio for the last three years. Fortified with a wide knowledge of Canada and Canadians, his talks and discussions have been a lively reflection of the Canadian way of living. In his "Canadian Yarns" series, he took his listeners from Coast to Coast visiting large cities, small towns, and out-of-the-way places, regaling them with facts and Canadian folklore. Requests from listeners for copies of these talks set a record in Canada—some 27,100 scripts were requested for this series of thirteen broadcasts.

In acknowledgment of the many requests to hear Mr. J. Fisher, when he addresses the local Lions Club on Monday, April 29th, the Committee responsible has decided to have the speaker deliver his address in the Napanee Armouries, where the general public will have the opportunity to hear this outstanding commentator.

In addition to this and prior to the address, the Trenton Lions Club Boys Band will provide a musical programme. This band is one of the Trenton Club's fine achievements and their coming to Napanee on this occasion will offer to the citizens of the town and county an outstanding event and a gala performance.

ity of taking over the brewers retail outlets.

9 From the reclassification of present establishments holding licenses as hotels, those not retaining licenses as hotels will not be permitted to rent rooms by the day but will be restricted to renting their rooms by the week or month.

It is proposed, by regulation under this Bill, to control licensing fees so that establishments rendering the least services will pay the greater fees.

The present percentage of license fees payable to municipalities where licenses exist is under review and in future these amounts will be paid under definite agreement with municipalities or provincial police for the purpose of enforcing the offences under the Liquor Control Act and the Licensing Act.

10 All the offences under the present statutes have been retained and in addition other offences are added :—

Parents or guardians will be prohibited from leaving small children unattended to frequent licensed premises.

Distillers, brewers, wineries will be prohibited from offering financial or material inducements to increase the sale of their brands.

In addition to a penal provision to that effect, a civil liability is created for knowingly allowing drunkenness which leads to the death or injury of an intoxicated person or a third party suffering death or injury as a result.

As well, the Act contains a provision for special audits and full power of investigation.

Magistrate's Court

Manson Stevens appeared before Magistrate Garvin, in Napanee Police Court last Thursday and pleaded guilty to having liquor in a place other than his residence and to having liquor not acquired by his individual permit. He was sentenced to serve three months in gaol on each charge, sentences to run concurrently, and liquor found in his possession was ordered confiscated.

Provincial Officer W. E. Smith, in his evidence stated that he had found a quart of wine from Mr. Stevens' person while on the street in Napanee and when he searched his car found eight quart bottles of rye, two pint bottles of rye, 72 pints of beer and 12 quarts of beer.

The said term was given Mr. Stevens because the conviction was the second registered against him for the same offence.

Leo Mowers, Kingston, who a week ago last Thursday, pleaded guilty to the theft of two revolvers from his uncle in Montreal, was given a suspended sentence of one year, under the supervision of his stepfather, Alex. Leroux. Mowers stated that the revolvers had been given away after he stole them and all efforts, so far, had failed to lead to their recovery.

Rotarians Hear Address By Chairman Of Parole Board

Capt. the Rev. G. M. Dix, Chairman of the Parole Board, Toronto, was the speaker at the luncheon meeting of the Napanee Rotary Club on Tuesday. Capt. Dix, who was introduced by Rev. F. D. Cameron, Toronto, formerly supply at Trinity Church, Napanee, outlined the work of the Board, stressing the sympathetic attitude of its members toward the men who come up for consideration. Every effort, he said, is made to determine the cause of the waywardness of the men. In many cases the offenders, it is learned, started on the wrong path through truancy during their school years, and many others attribute their difficulties to unhappy home conditions.

Captain Dix stressed the important part Service Clubs can play in helping to re-establish parolees and in preventing juvenile delinquency.

Following the address, a motion was passed that the Board of Directors of the Club consider the establishment, with a view of forming a committee to co-operate with other organizations in helping to combat juvenile delinquency.

The nominating committe presented the list of officers for 1946 - 47, who are as follows:

President— Chas. A. Walters.
Vice-President— E. Earl Correll.
Secretary— Ewart Booth.
Board of Directors— A. E. Holmes, Mel. Card, Alex. MacGregor and A. V. Wallace.

VERY REVEREND PETER BRYCE, D.D., LL.D.

A former Moderator of The United Church of Canada, and now the minister of one of our most famous Canadian churches, Dr. Bryce is to be the special preacher at Trinity United Church, this Sunday, which is the Congregation's 108th Anniversary. For seven years, under his energetic leadership, the Metropolitan United Church has maintained its place as a foremost preaching centre. In addition it has also extended its ministry in a difficult day to a vast downtown area of the city of Toronto. This phase of its work was recently presented in almost full-page articles in the two Toronto papers. Moreover, Dr. Bryce has succeeded in extending the influence of the pulpit through his periodic radio addresses.

Dr. Bryce's ministry has been outstanding throughout his career. A native of Blantyre Scotland, he came to Canada in 1907, after three years as a student preacher in Newfoundland. At that time he became minister of the Earlscourt district. His church was about 700 tar-paper covered shacks, occupied by families who had just come out from the Old Land. His first task was to build a church. Along with it was the matter of organizing Sunday schools. Beside a strong central church, Dr. Bryce set up about a dozen Sunday schools to serve the various parts of the rapidly-extending community. During the fourteen years of his ministry in Earlscourt, he literally helped hundreds of these people to build their homes and to find employment.

Because of his interest in his fellowman and his ability as a organizer, and as one of the pioneers in social security, he was invited by the Ontario Government to be the first chairman of the Mothers' Allowance Board. During the years he acted in this capacity, Dr. Bryce devoted his spare time to the organizing of a new church in the north-eastern part of Toronto. This church is now known as Woodbine Heights Church.

His next call was at the time of the Church Union of The United Church of Canada. He was appointed General Secretary of the Missionary and Ministerial Department in the new church. In this capacity he was responsible for the general financing of the whole church. For thirteen years he travelled to every part of Canada and was at home in cottages and manses from one end of Canada to the other. Because of his interest in men and the work of the church these years produced one of the foremost statesmen of the United Church. Thus he was well-equipped to be the Moderator in the year of the Coronation and to represent his church at the Assembly.

It is indeed a great privilege that has come to the people of Trinity United Church to have the Very Reverend Peter Bryce, D.D., LL.D., occupy their pulpit this coming Sunday, to mark their anniversary.

In addition to Dr. Bryce, the minister will have associated with him in the morning, a staunch friend of the congregation, Dr. A. J. Wilson, and at the evening service, Rev. C. D. McLellan, of Grace United Church.

The March meeting of the Woman's Association of the United Church was held at the home of Mrs. S. E. Baker, with an attendance of fourteen members and visitors. Mrs. D. M. Sandford conducted the devotional exercises which were opened by singing a hymn. The scripture chosen was Psalm 15 and prayer was offered by Mrs. S. E. Baker. A vocal duet was rendered by Mrs. Fred McFarlane and Mrs. Lewis Fox. The business session was in charge of the president, Mrs. F. McFarlane. The reports were read and approved. A quilt which had been donated is to be finished at a later date. It was decided to present a gift to Mrs. George Pralick, who is leaving the community. One dollar and a quarter was realized from the donation for the month. Mrs. Ivan McFarlane was social convener and presented a program in keeping with St. Patrick's Day. It consisted of readings by Mrs. Ronald Baker, Mrs. McFarlane and Mrs. A. C. Davison; a vocal solo by Mrs. D. M. Sandford; an Irish comedy, which was won by Mrs. A. C. Davison. Dainty refreshments were served by Mrs. S. E. Baker and Mrs. Ronald Baker. A vote of appreciation was tendered the hostess by Mrs. John Benn.

SERVANTS GALORE . . . BY WIRE

● The time to solve the servant problem once and for all is when you are building or "modernizing" your home. The greatest modern domestic servant is electricity. How well and to what extent electricity can serve you, now and in the future, depends on how well your "servant's entrance" is designed . . . how wisely your home is wired.

Inadequate wiring limits the use of electricity. It leads only to inefficient operation of lights and appliances. But adequate wiring . . . three wire service to the house, with proper size circuits in the home and plenty of outlets in every room . . . overcomes these difficulties, and gives you full use of these modern servants.

Electrical home appliances increased rapidly in number and variety before the war. They are now reappearing and will continue to multiply. Homes that were wired only for the needs of 20 years ago should now be rewired to suit the wonderful new "electrical servants" to come.

Hydro's low-cost dependable service enables you to use these modern servants to the full if you have provided for them. In planning your new home, put adequate wiring at the top of your list.

If you are improving or building a home, ask your Hydro for the booklet "Adequate Wiring for the Postwar Electric Homes of Canada."

THE HYDRO ELECTRIC POWER COMMISSION OF ONTARIO

WOULD LEGALIZE SALE OF OLEOMARGARINE

Ottawa, (B.U.P.) — With no relief of the current butter famine believed to be in sight before summer at the earliest, Senator W.D. Euler, Ontario Liberal, last week revealed that he intended to place a bill before Parliament to legalize the sale of oleomargarine.

Banned from sale in Canada since the close of World War One, oleomargarine is sold extensively in place of butter in the United States and in the United Kingdom.

Its palatability is said by its protagonists in Federal circles, whose cause Senator Euler is espousing, to be fully equal to butter. In addition, modern methods of manufacture, they declared, make it possible to fortify it with vitamins to the point where its nutritional value also compares favorably with butter.

Senator Euler said that he hoped to have the bill ready for introduction to the Senate Wednesday, March 27th.

That the Euler Bill will arouse the vigorous opposition of agricultural interests in both the Senate and House of Commons, was taken for granted in Federal circles. The bitter fight of the dairy lobby to have its sale outlawed at the close of the last war was still remembered as one of the classic battles of the House of Commons.

The hero of that battle from the standpoint of the Canadian dairymen was the then Minister of Agriculture, Hon. R. W. Motherwell. He supported the ban strongly on the ground that oleomargarine, a vegetable oil product was incomparably less nutritious than butter.

Methods of oleomargarine manufacture have made great strides since those days, however, it was argued.

THE SOYBEAN — A MODERN MIRACLE CROP

Farmers who are finding it difficult to buy oil cake, would be well advised to consider planting a few acres of Soya Beans this year. Generally speaking, the soybean can be successfully grown wherever corn does well. A clay-loam or sandy-loam, well drained soil is preferable. The seedbed should be clean of weed seeds because the beans grow slowly at first and consequently may be smoth ered. They can be planted just prior to planting the corn at the rate of 54 lbs. per acre.

The following table will show the comparative food value of soybeans and other high protein concentrates:

	Crude Carbo-
	Protein	hydrates	Fat
	P.C.	P.C.	P.C.
Soybean seed	33.2	34.7	16.1
Soybean oil meal ..	39.7	34.7	4.5
Linseed oil meal ..	30.2	32.6	6.7
Barley	9.0	66.8	1.6

From the above table it is clear that even ground soybeans is an excellent substitute for linseed oil cake. Not only is the soybean a good substitute for other high proten concentrates, but it will produce larger quantities of protein per acre, as is shown by the following table :—

	Average Pounds per acre	Percent Protein per acre	Percent digestible
Soybeans ..	20.7	456.55	90.0
Barley ..	32.1	181.81	72.6
Oats	36.7	149.73	78.2

The Mandarin variety is most suitable for this region for seed production.

The following is a comment by the Editor of the "Farmers Advocate" who attended our recent Seed Fair. His remarks are timely and to the point:

The Quinte Seed Fair

"The only thing wrong with the Quinte Seed Fair is the lack of interest locally and the poor attendance of farmers who should come to see this display of high class seed and to hear the good up-to-the-minute information which Government officials and experienced farmers are ready and willing to impart. The Quinte Seed Fair has everything but an audience.

It is an itinerary fair, moving about a circuit which embraces seven counties, therefore must introduce itself to new clientele on every occasion where it is held. It would be worth while for the Crop Improvement Association, the Agricultural Representatives and the large board of directors, representing the nine counties, to get together and arrange to make the 1947 Quinte District Seed Fair a major event and an appealing one to all farmers for miles around.

The Quinte District Seed Fair will come of age next year. It will be the 21st event. The light should not be hid under a bushel.

SEVENTY-FIVE YEARS OF BANKING
Smokeless cities are on the cards for Canada . . . great industries devoid of soot-disseminating chimneys, spotless within and without . . . good neighbors of residential areas, now forced to seek the unpolluted atmosphere of the suburban fringes.
Factories without SMOKE . . .
Factories with gleaming glass-brick walls and great windows flooding their interiors with sunshine . . . ringed by garden plots, playgrounds, parklands . . . close to uncrowded, well-planned residential areas in which their workers live; that is the future of the Canadian industrial community now within view. In such progressive developments as this, The Dominion Bank, for three quarters of a century a forward looking bank, will continue to play its part.

BUTTER RATION RETURN TO SIX OUNCES LIKELY

There was every possibility that given good feeding conditions in the next four weeks, the butter ration now standing at four ounces per person per week will be raised to six ounces on May 1st. Wartime Prices and Trade Board officials said that this would be about the limit that the ration could go to if the six-ounces figure was to be maintained during next winter.

It was pointed out that butter storage stocks are at the moment dangerously low. It will take several months of increased supplies to put them back into reasonable shape. It is hoped that the price increase of four cents a pound on butter which has gone into effect will result in greater butter production.

The authorities also expect that when the ordinary consumer ration goes up, the butter quotas to restaurants, hotels and other bulk buyers will also be increased.

COUPONS EXPIRE

Pink sugar coupons numbered 46 to 70 and meat coupons numbered 34 to M38 will not be good for use by consumers after March 31st.

Retailers and other distributors of sugar, preserves and meat may not accept these coupons from consumers after that date, but they may deposit them in their ration coupon bank account or exchange them for bank transfer vouchers up to April 14th. After that date they are not good for any purpose.

Prices Board officials draw attention to the fact these are the first meat coupons which have been invalidated, and because of this warn retailers that the meat coupons must be handled in the same way as any of the other coupons for butter and sugar. Retailers and other distributors are not allowed to give these coupons to their suppliers but they may use the bank transfer voucher.

PRESENTATION TO MR. AND MRS. A. STEVENS

Mr. and Mr. Arthur Stevens celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary on March 22rd and in the evening, about 100 friends, relatives and neighbours of the Violet District, gathered at their home for a social evening and made a presentation to them of a set of dishes. The following is the address read by Mrs. Ernest Wright:

HOME AND SCHOOL ASSOCIATION MEETING

The regular meeting of the Home and School Association was held in the Napanee Collegiate auditorium, on Wednesday, March 27th.

Before the meeting was formally opened the High School girls gave a physical training demonstration in the "gym" which showed how proficient they are in precision exercise.

Mr. John Diamant showed an educational film on wheat production which was very much enjoyed.

After the regular business was disposed of, Mrs. Robert Smith entertained with her violin. She played "Frasquita" by Fritz Kriesler, accompanied by Mrs. Paul.

Mrs. F. Knox moved a vote of thanks to Mr. Jamieson and Mr. Diamant for their co-operation.

SUNDAY SERVICES AT GRACE CHURCH

Th attendance at Grace United Church Sunday morning was exceptionally large with the auditorium and gallery being filled. The service was in charge of the minister, Rev. C. D. McLellan, who preached an interesting sermon on the subject, "The Kingship of Jesus." The large choir under the leadership of Mrs. W.-V. Drury sang the anthem, "Evening and Morning" and Mrs. Drury sang a solo "Hear Thou My Prayer." Mrs. B. M. Black, organist, presided at the organ, and there were also two baptisms, when the small daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Markle and Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Sexsmith were baptized by Rev. C. D. McLellan.

In the evening Mrs. Black contributed several numbers preceding the service, which were greatly enjoyed. Following the usual custom, the service was in charge of the men and a choir of thirty voices sang the anthem, "Brother James Air." The special soloist was Jack Caldwell, who sang after the prayer of dedication.

Those taking part in the service were G. F. Smith, who made the invocation, Ralph Bell, who read the scripture lesson, Frank Freeman, who made the prayer and Harry B. Moore, president of the Men's Club, who gave the prayer of dedication. The sermon "Christianity an Adventure" was given by Rev. C. D. McLellan. The service closed with the benediction, vesper and organ postlude. The men's choir was trained by the choir leader, Mrs. W. V. Drury and the work of the choir reflected much credit upon her.

The weekly meeting of the Girl Guides was held in the Guide rooms on Wednesday, March 27th, 1946. The meeting proved to be an interesting one and the Guides got a lot of practice on knot-tieing and signaling. After working hard the Guides relaxed with a game and camp-fire songs.

The Guides have been very busy the past month, studying for their second class badges. They hope to have their badges within a month or so.

Roosevelt Memorial Planned For London

London, (Reuters) — The pilgrim of Great Britain Group have approved a proposal by Lord Derby to erect a statue in London in memory of the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt and set up a committee under the Earl of Derby to work with the government on final details of the memorial.

An announcement will be made soon concerning a site for the statue and sculptor commissioned for the work, it was stated by committee treasurer, Sir Campbell Stuart, Canadian-born former managing director of The Times.

Sir Campbell said funds would be raised publicly but only from within the British Commonwealth.

REV. G. T. MACKENZIE TO RETIRE

Rev. G. T. MacKenzie of Plainfield, was granted permission to retire after the Conference which is to be held in Napanee in May and appreciation was expressed for his fine service and particularly of his work as secretary of the Conference Pension Fund Committee, at the meeting of the Belleville Presbytery of the Way of Quinte Conference, held recently in the Tabernacle United Church, Belleville.

Mr. MacKenzie is well known throughout the district having been the minister of the Bath Circuit and other points around Napanee. Some years ago he was united in marriage to Miss Laura Rockwell, and hopes to make his home in Napanee.

An Exception

A notice at an office in a military establishment in Scotland, where civilian callers sometimes cause a drawl, reads:—

"This is a free country.

"You may open or shut your eyes, ears or mouth as you please.

"But keep this door shut."

OF the 2,500 Bell employees who enlisted for war service, over 1,700 are back on the job. They have been given refresher courses to bring them up to date or to help them recapture their old skills.

Ninety per cent of those returning want to continue in telephone work. Eventually, we expect thirty-seven per cent of our entire male staff to be veterans of World War II.

There's lots of work waiting for them. Our big job right now is to clean up delayed orders and we are losing no time. No less than 75,000 telephones have been installed since V-E Day.

Telephone instruments will soon be in better supply. Central office apparatus is the real problem. It takes time to make and instal this highly complicated apparatus. That's why applicants in areas where switchboards are full will still have to wait some time for service.

We promise it won't be a minute longer than necessary.

MOSCOW

Moscow, March 29. — Mrs. W. K. Huffman was hostess for the regular March meeting of the Moscow United Church W.M.S. The first vice-president, Mrs. Edgar Drew, presided and instead of the regular program, the World's Day of Prayer Service was followed. This service was prepared by Miss Mabel Shaw of Central Africa and the theme was "The Things that Make for Our Peace." Those taking part in the service were Mrs. Drew, Mrs. Allan Huffman, Mrs. Roy Lumpkin, Miss Dorothy Kerr, Mrs. Arthur McQuay, Mrs. W. K. Huffman, Mrs. Evgett Evans, Mrs. Fred Bell and Miss Leafa Drew, with responses being read by all. Arrangements were made for the April meeting to be held in the church at eleven o'clock, April 9th, with Mrs. Gerald Hawley, Yarker, as guest speaker. This will be the annual Easter thank-offering meeting and will be a union meeting of the W.M.S. and Mission Band of Moscow United Church. After the National Anthem and Benediction, Mrs. Huffman served refreshments.

The Moscow Young People's Union met at the home of Miss Donalda Huffman, when a St. Patrick's Day programme was carried out. After the opening hymn, Miss Marjorie Huffman gave the scripture reading. Arrangements were completed for a Sunday evening service to be held in the church on Sunday evening with the Selby Young People conducting the programme. A sing-song followed and the story was given by Mr. Fred Leslie. Marjorie Huffman was in charge of the recreation programme. Lunch was served by Mrs. Donald Huffman and daughter, Donalda.

YOUTH ORGANIZATION FOR NAPANEE

The following is the second in a series of four articles on the subject of Youth Organization :

Attention All Citizens !

Last week, in an introductory article on the formation of a Youth Council, we presented this challenge to you. Some may have accepted it, others may not have. To all I say:

The Youth Council will be the strong nucleus to which the youth of Napanee will be drawn. Gradually its upright ideals, hopes and endeavours towards the betterment of society will influence us and those principles become ours. It can and will be the backbone of this generation. Can you, our parents, deny us this privilege . . . we who, with the millions of other boys and girls, will shape the future. If we are to insure the peace you have sacrified so hard for and preserve the ideals for which you fought, can you, as a citizen, truthfully ignore the predominating cry:

"OUR DESTINY YOUR DUTY"

On Saturday, April 20th, the Youth Council, who will by this time have elected its executives and enrolled its members, will ask your support of their Tag Day. Your financial aid in this undertaking should be a personal one, for after all you are not helping some worthy but nevertheless impersonal and distant organization but your own son and daughter, the boy and girl next door or down the street. These are people I know your generosity will not overlook.

With this evidence of your goodwill and cooperation the Youth Council will be able to function and carry out the activities it has proposed. To my mind one of the most interesting phases of the Youth Council is its offer of special Vocational Courses which will give those who wish, the opportunity to learn what they would not otherwise. Previously we suggested a Conversational French Class but need we limit this to French alone. Classes of Conversational French, Russian, Spanish, German and any others which demand makes desirable would dbe the most profitable. There is an expression in the vernacular of the ordinary person which denotes complete understanding and agreement, it is: "Now, you're talking my language." Although it is not strictly in the meaning of the phrase it can accurately be applied to the fact that if we hope to have the understanding and agreement of our foreign friends and neighbours and live in a world where the brotherhood of man is practised, we must actually, as well as literally, speak their language".

Whether we be English, French, Russian or German, we all have one love that is universal—music. There is music in almost every imaginable thing, even a small boy practising his much hated scales. Because music has always been one of man's stimulants, it should become one of our major projects of the Youth Council. A glee club combining the best voices of Napanee youth would be indeed a "note" worthy but even more outstanding would be an operetta staged by the same youths, under the capable direction of one of the town's accomplished musicians. But need we stop at the vocal end of music? Already we have a well organized and extremely harmonious orchestra, which will make its debut to the Napanee public on election evening, in the Town Hall. The success of this musical group would seem to encourage us in the forming of a second orchestra who would concentrate on the more serious side of music. However, we do not intend to neglect those who are dramatically inclined. Perhaps you have often wondered why celebrities always seem to spring from some other town or city? Maybe it is because we haven't appreciated our talent enough to encourage them and they have answered the beckoning promises of greener fields. Productions which are written, acted and directed by Napanee girls and boys will be relaxation and enjoyment for all the population of Napanee.

The Youth Council does not wish to ignore any phase which will be of benefit to its members. At your wish it will organize a debating society, which might act as a junior section of the Weekly Forum, and technical courses which will enable us to find better jobs when the time arrives. As the Council will include a Mayor or Mayoress and ten Councillors, its meetings will be conducted in an official manner which will be invaluable help for the future. It is suggested that when the Youth Council becomes established it might undertake to edit and print monthly a publication which would be a worthy representative of the Youth Council. If such an independent movement was not advisable, then one page of our local newspaper could be devoted to the Youth Council to edit as it saw fit.

The social needs of the Youth Council will be adequately provided for by weekly dances in the Town Hall. Admission will be only the membership card and the music will be supplied by the Youth Council orchestra.

The following rules are suggested for the dances to be held by the Youth Council. The object of these dances is not to show a monetary profit at the end of the year but rather to show the profit and addition to the community, of boys and girls well entertained in an atmosphere entirely youthful. Further recreational outlets will be available when the Youth Council obtains permanent headquarters. This will be an incentive to all our work for, only when the Youth Council is established in its own centre, will it take its place as an institution.

The Youth Council's far - seeing eyes will also spread its influence to younger ones of a young set. The idea has been discussed that kindergarten girls from the Collegiate, perhaps those with an eye to being future managers of the classroom, would organize weekly story-telling periods to be held in the library. The satisfaction derived from this type of work has been expressed by the diminutive, former mayor of New York, who is reported to have remarked after a nation-wide radio broadcast during which she read the comics to American boys and girls: "It makes you feel good all over." The Youth Council will not overlook the advantages of supervised playgrounds where your children will be able to enjoy the delights of a well equipped playground and play in safety with their companions.

The plans of the Youth Council which I have outlined to you are only a few of many you may have. If there is something the youth would like that is what the Youth Council will endeavour to give them. By this I do not mean the Council will become the "Genie of the Lamp," every wish, regardless of circumstance, a command; if your ideas are sound, reasonable and attractive they are likely to be adopted.

Last week we announced those qualified to hold office and acquire a voting status. Since then it has been decided that the following will be privileged to stand for office and exercise their rights as a voter:

All the Youth of the Town between the ages of 16 or in Grade XI at school and the age of 20 or Grade XIII in school will be eligible to hold office. The holding a voting status will be sixteen years of age or Grade IX in school, to twenty years of age or in Grade XIII at school. This will give the youth of Napanee a long reigning school, an opportunity to actively participate in the work of the Youth Council. All county youth attending school in town but returning home each night, will hold voting powers. All County Youth residing in town will be able to vote and also hold office.

Youth Councils and Clubs all over Canada and the United States show signs of a brilliant future for the possibilities of such faculties are vast and limitless. Youth Councils could be the solution and the antidote for the wrecked bodies and minds of the children of war - devastated Europe. In Canada we can only thank God that this overwhelming problem is not ours. Nevertheless, you have a duty, which is the destiny of today's youth and tomorrow's citizens. Accept it and you insure the future of your children and your country.

Sitting in the 'dead,' two old cronies were gossiping about their neighbors.

"I think that Brown's very lucky to be marrying the Jones girl," the first said enthusiastically. "She can swim, dance, drive a car, pilot a plane, is a crack shot and a general all-round sport."

"Yes, it ought to be very successful," replied the second thoughtfully, "Brown's an excellent cook."

BOARD CHAIRMAN EXPRESSES DISAPPROVAL ADVISORY COMMITTEE

Gives Statement of Reasons Before Board of Education

At the regular meeting of the Napanee Board of Education, held on Monday evening, J. M. Simpson, K.C. Chairman of the Board, gave the following as his stand on the Public School question here, and stated in his opinion what the members of the Board should do.

"Through various processes of reasoning, in an effort to show the greatest of indulgence to public opinion, this Board has allowed itself to become a party to the creation of a (so called) advisory committee. One quarter of this year has expired, and nothing to-day has happened. I advise the Board:

"1. That there is no proper authority for an "advisory committee" to be created.

"2. That in recognizing such a committee the Board usurps the functions of electing and appointing trustees.

"3. That if the Board recognizes the fact that it cannot do the will of the people then, as a democratic institution, it should relinquish office.

"4. That the work of the Board is being delayed by attempting to deal with legal and proper business of the Board by unlawfully adding to its members persons who are neither elected or lawfully appointed to carry out such functions."

NO DISCUSSION ON MATTER

There was no discussion on Mr. Simpson's stand.

Regarding the viewing of schools J. D. Mayhew reported that he had visited one in Theresa, N.Y., and read a letter from the principal of that school.

P. U Laidley spoke of a project of modern school in Kingston which would contain 16 rooms, with the architect's estimated cost of $225,000. He also spoke of Ontario's most modern school in Etobicoke Township, north of Toronto. The members of the Board will visit the school this month.

A communication from L. Ayre, asking for assistance to meet expenses arising from an accident to his son, Bruce, was referred to the Finance Committee to consult the Town Solicitor with power to act. During School hours the boy fell off the woodpile at the West Ward School, and suffered a fractured leg.

A communication from Mr. P. S. Rutherford, Deputy-Minister of Education regarding grants was laid on the table until the next meeting and each member is to receive a mimeographed copy of the letter.

C. E. Jamieson, Principal of the N.C.V.I. gave the attendance report for the month of March which shows the total number of pupils at 332, with the percentage of actual to perfect attendance at 94.87. He had several letters which were referred to the Property Committee.

W. L. Bell, Principal of the Public Schools stated the total enrolment for March was 508, with an aggregate attendance at 9559½, and the average attendance 450.2.

Mr. Bell stated that at the present time there were three students teachers from Normal School teaching under the supervision of the permanent teachers. He reported that a deputation from the Home and School Association presented crests to the winners of the boys' and girls' group in hockey. He requested that a back-stop is needed for the ball park. The request was left in the hands of the Property Committee.

Mr. Bell spoke regarding Traffic Control at several of the busy corners at and near the school. He said the work could be done by the senior boys and also that the stop sign at the corner of Bridge and West Streets was down.

On motion the matter of Traffic Control was left in the hands of the Chairman and the Secretary was ordered to write the Town Council requesting that the stop sign at the above corner, be replaced as a matter of School Safety.

C. N. Loucks, Chairman of the Property Committee reported that the Temporary Caretaker of East Ward School had not received any pay for his employment which has been for 5 weeks. The regular caretaker has been ill and is expected back next week. On motion the temporary caretaker was paid $15.00 per week's during from the time of his employment.

The accounts of the Collegiate and Public Schools were read and ordered paid.

W. L. Bell, Principal of the Public Schools was appointed to the Entrance Board.

Members present were: Chairman J. M. Simpson, Ward Wartmhn, Rod. Sharpe, Don. Robb'n, R. L. Vanhuven, J. D. Mayhew, P. U. Laidley, Garnet Leavy, C. N. Loucks and Wallace Bog.

GRANADA THEATRE TO BE RENOVATED AND MODERNIZED

Mr. N. A. Taylor, President of Twinex Century Theatres, of Toronto, was in Napanee last week and informed The Beaver that extensive renovations are to be made at The Granada Theatre, which will completely modernize the theatre. About $20,000 will be spent on the building and equipment and the work, it is expected, will be started in about two months.

One of the most important improvements will be an air conditioning and ventilation system, which will do much for the comfort of the patrons. 462 New seats will be installed on a new sloping concrete floor in the auditorium. The aisles will have new carpets, and there will be a new proscenium and drapes, and the building will be completely redecorated.

It is also proposed to remodel the front of the building, place the box office at the front and change the position of the front doors.

Extensive changes are to be made in the lobby which will be partly carpeted and will have new doors leading to the auditorium. New toilets are also to be added.

Modern exterior lights, and the new front will make the street appearance of the Theatre more attractive and new lights in the lobby give a much brighter effect.

The proposed changes will be welcomed by the citizens of Napanee and the district, who have long felt that the theatre accommodation in Napanee was inadequate.

Twinex Theatres will be well repaid for their expenditure in the increased patronage which will undoubtedly result from the improvements proposed.

In addition, the "Beaverdell," new Canadian Pacific Steamships 10,000-ton freighter, has arrived with a mixed cargo of 8,941 tons of meat, wheat, flour and copper.

YOUTH ORGANIZATION FOR NAPANEE

The following is the third in a series of four articles on the subject of Youth Organization :

Attention All Citizens !

Sports make the man — and the woman! It seems natural for the human race to seek relaxation and recreation by reviewing with each other for top honours in the field of sprit. The ancient Greeks and their Olympic games really had something. From their youth, they trained and practised, developing their bodies both mentally and physically until Greece was the strongest nation on the earth.

Boys, of all ages, want to play games. The Youth Council of Napanee isn't starting something new by providing equipment for the youth of the town. But, a lot of fellows and girls are missing much in the way of track meets, ball teams and tennis tournaments, to mention only a few items. Our Youth Council wants to provide a place for these games to be held. The Youth Advisory Committee, as an initial step in the building of this programme, have decided to hold a track meet on the first day of July, in this town. A list of events covering every age and every ability is being planned and I can only say that the parents will be afforded a grand chance to watch their own children perform.

And that's only the beginning: The Youth Council, upon its election can, with the full support of the Advisory Committee, begin at once to plan other projects. The Youth Council desires above all to provide recreation for the youth. During the summer holidays a few of the more fortunate children are sent to enjoy the summer at private cottages throughout Ontario. And yet the greater part of the town spend their summer right at home.

Napanee is a small town. It is very easy for the youngsters to get out into the country. Strangely enough, however, there is no place close by where the children may swim. Yes, there is the Napanee River itself which during the warmest days of summer runs in no spot, except below the falls. We can see therefore that a swimming pool is the only solution. In three or four years, the Youth Council with the support of the town raise sufficient funds to build both a "swimming pool and a community town gym would be ideal for many sports as yet fairly new to the town. There is a gymnasium at the Collegiate which only students of the school may use at certain times. A gymnasium is another must.

Although the construction of a gym, a swimming pool and the organizing of track teams would provide recreation for the older youth, the younger children would likewise receive less benefit than the 'teen-ageers from these improvements. Why not playgrounds? Other towns as small or smaller than Napanee have suitable playgrounds for their children. Napanee need not be an exception. On the contrary, the Youth Council will attempt to back just such a playground. Here again they will need the co-operation of the parents. I can remind these last few paragraphs I can well imagine the doubts you must feel. But we are not just "kidding" ourselves. The Youth Advisory Committee can and will provide these improvements and more. And yet, as we have previously stated, the Council can achieve only a measure of success without your help. You are the parents. You can help the youth in this endeavour by placing your confidence and trust in the Youth Council. The youth of to-day are the people of to-morrow, and a country can be judged by its people.

Remember the words:

"OUR DESTINY — YOUR DUTY"

—GARY SMITH.

DR. PETER BRYCE GUEST PREACHER AT TRINITY CHURCH

Spoke on Sunday to Large Audience at Anniversary

Two sermons, which will long remain in the memories of those who heard them, were delivered last Sunday by the Very Reverend Peter Bryce, D.D., LL.D., Minister of Metropolitan United Church, Toronto, who was the guest speaker for the 106th Anniversary service of Trinity United Church. A simple, beautiful language, for which the speaker is noted, and the very evident sincerity of his conviction of the truth of his messages, held the large congregations in close attention at both morning and evening services.

Rev. Noble Hafton, the minister of the Church, was in charge of the services. In the morning he was assisted by Dr. A. J. Wilson, Editor of the United Church Observer, and in the evening by Rev. C. D. McLellan, Minister of Bowmanville United.

The choir under the direction of Mrs. J. E. Madden rendered special music at both services. In the morning, two anthems were sung: "Now thank we all our God," by Mueller and "Come unto Me," by Tschaikowsky. The choir's anthem in the evening was "Praise ye the Lord," by Franck. A male quartette composed of Rodney Sexsmith, P. F. Hurry, Chas. McConnell and Wm. McIntosh with Alan Aylsworth singing a solo part, sang Schubert's "Come unto Me." Mr. Aylsworth, who was also making his first appearance with Trinity Church impressed the audience with the beauty of his voice and his great promise as a singer. Mrs. Harold Deacon, whose lovely soprano voice is always a pleasure to hear sang John Prindle Scott's "Rest."

MORNING SERVICE

Dr. Bryce's morning sermon was based on the text taken from John 3-14 "And as Moses lifted up the serpent in the wilderness, even so must the son of man be lifted up." Dr. Bryce said people are not greatly interested in psychology and theology, but they are tremendously interested in their faith in God. The more one preaches Christ, the more one is impressed with his unworthiness to interpret Him by words. He is greater than any description words are possible to give. He is the greatest fact in human history. He is the greatest personality that ever lived He turned the stream of life into a new channel. His influence is the greatest miracle in history. He still stands as an inescapable fact.

We should thank God for the basic truth in life said Dr. Bryce. The truth of God, Jesus Christ died for us and rose again. The highest things in life, he added, have their supreme value in Christ. The effect of His personality is beyond comprehension. All things have been enriched by Him and He has made beautiful the simple things of life. Nature, the music and art of God drew His lessons from the commonplace and offers a stupendous inspiration. Christ is the long desire of the ages, the hope of humanity. He gives a meaning to life that keeps it eager and full of zest. He brings joy in sorrow, balm in pain, and out of the darkness He brings sweetness and strength when we need it most. In the great hours of history there are none to compare for great causes.

Dr. Bryce asked his audience to picture Christ. To picture His tenderness and love, His strength tempered by love, His courage and steadfastness, His purity. If we keep that picture before us, he said, we will become increasingly like Him and attain to do the unworthy, worldly things. Make Him our standard of life and we will have his sweetness, grace and strength.

EVENING ADDRESS

At the evening service Dr. Bryce took as his text a verse from the Psalms — "He shall drink in the brook in the way; therefore shall he lift up his head." In beautiful pictorial language he drew a picture of a weary traveller on a long desert road, who comes upon a brook from which he drinks and is able to go on his way refreshed and strengthened. Life is like the long weary road, he said, and in it there are rough places, we have learned that life has many joys and also many sorrows and disappointments. We have to travel on and we need help. The great God, he said, who gives so much in material things, has provided spiritual things as well and there are brooks in the way, from which we may drink and be refreshed.

Dr. Bryce said he was not sorry for the man who has to work, but sometimes the task seems too great, especially in middle age. He contrasted living conditions 100 years ago with to-day and said many material things enjoyed by us were not enjoyed by our grandparents. But people and people are the same in all ages. The bible was the same then as now; Christ is ever the same; there are new problems, but real happiness; the heart does not change, even though customs change.

In all ages God has provided brooks by the way for refreshment. Among these he said are; prayer, the ability to talk with God, which makes the unbearable possible; the house of God, which is the greatest factor for good in the world to-day. It may be imperfect but no institution does more good than the church with its interest in social service, its ministry of comfort and inspiration; the word of God which preches salvation by faith, promises that men may walk with God and be strengthened and gives the message of immortal life; doing good to others by helping someone else who is in trouble or sorrowing. The memory of a good deed done is the greatest thing in the world to cherish, he said.

Jesus, Dr. Bryce said in his conclusion, is the supreme example of one who drank of the brook by the way.

OYSTER SUPPER AT ARGYLL LODGE

Thursday night was a gala one for the officers and members of Argyll Lodge No. 212, I.O.O.F., as well as visiting brethren, when Edward Calver provided an oyster supper. There was a large attendance, fully sixty being present and to the visiting brethren, Mr. Calver, who is the noble grand of the lodge, extended a hearty welcome.

After the usual business had been transacted the third degree, with James S. Douglas presiding as noble grand, was conferred on a class of four candidates. After the lodge was closed all adjurned to the assembly hall, where the oyster supper and other delicacies were much enjoyed.

A hearty vote of thanks was tendered Mr. Calver by Reginald Douglas and W. R. McGreer, which was endorsed with much applause. To those who were in charge of cooking of the oysters, a vote of appreciation was extended by E. L. Deline and Arnold Rogers, past district deputy grandmasters. There was also some community singing which the members enjoyed.

JOBLESS INSURANCE CLAIMS SHOW DROP

Ottawa. — A reduction in claims for unemployment insurance filed in the Napanee—the first drop since October, 1945— was reported by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. Claims registered numbered 56,098 compared with 71,392 in January and 14,980 in February, 1945.

However, the number of live claims February 28th, increased by 16,015 over the figure for the end of January. Totals of live claims were 161,997 for February, 145,852 for January and 29,682 for February, 1945. It would seem, therefore, that in spite of the reduction in cases of unemployment, those already unemployed are not securing employment any more easily than in the past few months, the bureau said.

Mr. George Towns, Winnipeg, Manitoba, Beaver Oldest Reader

Mr. George Towns, 237 Lansdowne Avenue, Winnipeg, Manitoba, is undoubtedly the oldest subscriber to The Napanee Beaver. He will be 90 years of age on May 16th and has been a continuous subscriber to the paper since it was established.

In a recent letter containing a renewal to The Beaver for another year, Mr. Towns said he was enjoying excellent health and can read and write without the aid of glasses. During the past winter he shovelled all the snow from the walks in front of his home.

Mr. Towns came to Canada in 1868 and went to Manitoba in 1893. Although there are but few many friends left in or around Napanee that he knew, Mr. Towns said he still enjoys reading the paper.

ONTARIO CAMPAIGN TO RAISE FUNDS FOR CANCER RESEARCH

Alarming Increase Dreaded Disease Reason for Appeal

More cases of cancer are being cured than at any previous time in history, but cancer as a cause of death is on the increase in Ontario. There are a number of reasons for this, besides the age-old spectre of fear and ignorance. Doctors say that the fear of cancer is as difficult a problem as the disease itself, because so many people sign their own death warrants by refusing to face the facts and do something about it. This ostrich-like attitude is responsible for a majority of all cancer cases that are curable if diagnosed and treated in time.

The war contributed to the increase of cancer in Ontario. During the war it was essential to direct medical and scientific effort toward defeating the enemy. During the war years Canada lost twice as many citizens through cancer as soldiers killed fighting.

Triumph of medical science over other "killing" diseases has contributed to the increase of cancer. As many of the "younger" death-dealing diseases such as tuberculosis, infantile paralysis, etc., are brought under control, and more people live to a greater age, cancer becomes the great "after thirty-five" menace of this Province.

The last reason for the appalling number of deaths from cancer is lack of funds. Patients cannot afford to pay the cost of their treatment, and in the past there have not been enough hospital beds available for free care. Health authorities estimate that for every case under medical care, there are three cases going untreated, and probably heading toward certain death.

On the medical side, lack of funds contributes to cancer deaths because of the prohibitive cost of radium and other materials. It is hoped that the Chalk River plant established for atomic energy enterprises, may produce cheaper and more powerful radio-active substances.

The Ontario Cancer Treatment and Research Foundation hopes to eliminate these reasons if their present campaign for a minimum of $2,000,000 is successful. Funds will be being raised throughout the Province during the entire month, and will be used to carry out a three-year plan prepared by the Foundation for the control of cancer.

Fully-equipped cancer clinics will be organized and operated at well-regarded centres throughout the Province. A pilot clinic at Kingston, Ontario, is already under way, and should be in operation this summer. This model clinic will provide surgical, X-ray and radium facilities, and will serve as a consultative and educational centre for the practicing physician in the community.

The three-year plan will also provide prevention clinics where necessary, and will make free treatment available to those needing financial help. An energetic program of education and research is also planned.

The month of April is Cancer Control Month throughout the United States and Canada, and is the first concentrated effort for an all-out war against cancer. All funds raised in Ontario will be used for the relief of cancer in this Province. A minimum of $2,000,000 is needed. Donations may be taken to your nearest bank, or sent direct to the Ontario Cancer Treatment and Research Foundation, 22 College Street, Toronto (1).

One Car Driver Seriously Hurt

Several motor accidents were reported to the local police during the past few days in Napanee and the surrounding country. On Thursday April 4th Kenneth Hart, Roblin reported that a hit-and run driver had struck and damaged his car about one and a half miles north of Roblin and had failed to stop and render any assistance. Mr. Hart's car was damaged to the extent of about $50., but he himself escaped injury. Constables Smith and Morden investigated but were unable to locate the driver of the truck.

About 2 p.m. on Friday, Constables Smith and Morden were called to the scene of an accident on the Newburgh Road, about one mile west of Newburgh where they found a car driven by Alfred Burley, of Camden East, had overturned in the road ditch and the occupants had escaped. There were no witnesses to the accident, and as Mr. Burley was unconscious suffering from a fractured skull and was removed to Kingston General Hospital, it was impossible to determine the cause of the accident. However the police, after investigation, believed the driver must have lost control of his car, a Ford Model A Roadster, and it had rolled over on the highway. Mr. Burley recently returned home after serving six and a half years overseas.

Sunday morning about 10 o'clock two cars collided at the intersection of Bridge and Centre Streets in Napanee. Slight damage was done to one of the vehicles but neither of the drivers was hurt. The one car was forced up in the boulevard in front of M. P. Graham's house. The drivers were Stanley Waters R. R. No. 1 Odessa, who was going east on Bridge Street and Clare Thompson, Roblin, who was driving north on Centre Street. Thompson stated he did not see the car approaching.

Also on Sunday, while driving north of Roblin a short distance, Maurice Tierney, Napanee, lost control of his car on a slippery stretch of road and the car went into the ditch. Mr. Tierney suffered some painful bruises but was not seriously injured.

Monday afternoon about 1.30 Mr. Arnold Knapp, South Monaghan, while riding west on Dundas Street, collided with a telephone pole in front of J. W. Thompson's home at the foot of Piety Hill. Mr. Knapp, who came from his cycle and was given attention by Dr. Duffett, who found no bones broken. The motor cycle was slightly damaged and the pole was broken off two-thirds from the top. Mr. Knapp proceeded to his home by bus and left the cycle in town for repairs.

Two other motorists on the way from Tamworth to Napanee were reported to have been in difficulties on the road. One car overturned on the roadway and the other ran into the ditch.

Some of the accidents may have been caused by the fast driving on the County roads, which are in a very rough condition in places, due to being heaved by frost.

HUNGER

If any evidence was needed to impress people with the food situation in the war-torn countries, it was supplied in the letters published in last week's issue of this paper. The letters, written from Greece to Mr. and Mrs. John Diamant, tell of the privation and the utter helplessness to which their relatives have been reduced, by the years of occupation. Little intimate insights of a personal character go a long way towards making the situation in those countries, real to us. Too often, when we hear that people are hungry, that so many thousands will die of starvation, we find it impossible to personalize so much sorrow and suffering. But it must not be forgotten that everyone of the millions of people who, to-day are suffering for lack of food and clothing, are human beings like ourselves. They are men and women whose feelings are like our own. They feel pain as we feel pain. They love their children and their parents, as we love ours.

The letter pictures we saw last week in the letters to Mr., Mrs. Diamant, are typical. There are hundreds of thousands like those whose conditions were described in those epistles. While half the world is hungry and on the verge of starvation, we have plenty and to spare. The Government at Ottawa has placed some restrictions on our food. So far none here has suffered, unless it be from over indulgence. We can go without a great deal more and still not be inconvenienced. We are satisfied that the Government has taken the step which will make supplies available to the needy. In addition to that, however, restrictions on sending parcels have been lifted. This provides an opportunity for all who will to have a definite share in alleviating the world's sorrow. The community has been generous in supporting Mr. and Mrs. Diamant's efforts to help their friends, in Greece. The letters published last week will go to show that their gifts have been appreciated. There will, no doubt, be many more who will want to have a share in that humanitarian enterprise.

THE DREW - BLACKWELL BILL

Within a week from the day on which the Drew - Blackwell Cocktail Bill was announced, it had passed its third reading. The way in which the Bill was hurried through the Ontario House can lead only to one conclusion. Those who sponsored it were determined to prevent the consolidation of public opinion against it. There was no public demand for more liquor outlets: Educationalists did not ask for it; Service Clubs did not ask for it; Labor groups did not ask for it, Chambers of Commerce did not ask for it; Municipal and Town Councils did not ask for it! And yet, the Bill became law with unseemly haste.

Something of public feeling against the Drew - Blackwell Cocktail Bill was seen in the great meeting of two thousand people who gathered in the Metropolitan Church, Toronto, at ten o'clock in the morning, to urge delay and study the Bill. The group was called by Mr. Blackwell as a small pressure group. Who were the leaders in this small pressure group ? There was the Minister of the Church, Dr. Peter Bryce, who preached here with such acceptance on Sunday; a man who works in down-town Toronto and knows first-hand the evil effects of the liquor traffic among the people in his area; a man one time Moderator of The United Church of Canada — a great Christian leader.

Then there was Dr. George Pidgeon, Minister of Bloor Street United Church, the first Moderator of The United Church of Canada; a world figure in church circles. He is a great preacher. For thirty years he has held the attention of the youth of Toronto. His church is crowded with university students, every Sunday morning, and his voice is heard by thousands over the air.

Then there was Dr. D. McLennan, the Minister of Timothy Eaton Memorial Church; a wealthy church whose members are drawn from the wealthy business and professional class; one of the most influential leaders in the religious life of Canada.

Then there was Dr. Willard Brewing, who has been nominated for the Moderatorship of The United Church of Canada; a rare preacher, whose congregation numbers well over a thousand, and whose church is packed to the door every Sunday.

These are the pressure group. Well, what if they are; they have nothing to be ashamed of. They have no axe to grind. They are only concerned with the welfare of the people. They are not interestd in profits.

The delegation chosen to wait on the Premier and to present the resolution, was accompanied by fifteen hundred people. The Prime Minister refused to see them, until the next day. He had that right. But wiser men have listened to similar delegations without loss of prestige, or of dignity. There are great hosts of Christian people who were not happy about the way the church people were ignored at the Parliament buildings. They do not like it !

Politicians go on the assumption that the memory of the public is short. No doubt, it is hoped that this Bill, introduced so early in the life of the new Parliament, will be forgotten by the time the next election comes around. It is to be hoped that this will prove to be an error in judgment, this time. The only thing politicians are afraid of is the vote. So far as this community is concerned, their representative raised no voice of protest against the Bill but voted for it. Those who are opposed to increasing the facilities for drinking, with all the attendant evils, will remember this.

PHYSICAL FITNESS

The demand for peace-time military training was bound to emerge. It is a burning issue in The United States, where strong opinions have been voiced on both sides of the question. Any competent observer will admit that we on the North American Continent, have been an undisciplined people. For most, the ideal of Democracy seemed to be the right of each person to do what he pleased. Respect for law was at a minimum; respect for age was almost an unknown quantity. "Let's go" was the slogan representing a national attitude to things in general.

All that is admitted, but the imposition of military training is not necessarily the answer. It was to be expected that following a great war, militarists and men schooled in army methods would insist that the youth of the nation should receive military training. The benefits of such training have their limitations. They certainly train young men to obey; they train them to move in mass formation; they instill ideals of cleanliness and orderliness. There is no discounting these benefits.

On the other hand, these same benefits can be received without associating physical fitness and discipline with a military machine. Even from the point of view of the military authorities themselves, it is a question whether young men physically fit, trained to obey in a non-military organization, are not better material out of which to make soldiers, than those trained in a military routine.

We are all for a physical fitness program; one that would train our youth in high patriotic ideals, give them a sound physique and a respect for law and order. This can be secured without, however, having the program geared into the military machine. If the Governments, Dominion and Provincial, would put as much money into a physical fitness program as would be necessary to peace-time military service, all the benefits of the military training could be assured and its disadvantages avoided.

NOW — CANADA DAY !

There are strange things done by Parliaments. At the present sitting in Ottawa, nothing more strange or unusual has been done than to change the name of the National Holiday, from Dominion Day to Canada Day. Why the Government should change the time-honored name, we fail to see. That designation of the national holiday as Dominion Day, had lasted since Confederation, and showed no signs of wearing out its welcome. Nobody would deny the necessity or change when conditions demand it. Because a custom or a name has continued for a long time, is no valid reason why it should be perpetuated. We are living in a day of change, when traditions have gone by the board and customs weary with age have been abandoned. We would not argue, therefore that, because a thing has always been such and such, it should remain so.

There is always some reason for a change, however. In this instance, no reason that appeals to the intellect, seems to have been advanced. We are still The Dominion of Canada, and the name Dominion is quite as legal when applied to our nation as Canada.

What a silly precedent we have set. Suppose St. George's Day became England Day— Independence Day, United States Day — St. Patrick's Day, Ireland Day — St. Andrew's Day Scotland Day. There is surely a limit beyond which is is quite unwise to go in this tradition smashing business.

We venture the prediction that, in spite of what the Parliament has done, Canada Day will be used by the few, while for most the national holiday will still be "Dominion Day."

YES! WE HAVE A COCKTAIL LOUNGE

(ANONYMOUS)

I cum in the house the other night and supper was not started and the wife was studying an old dictionary.
"What's going on — polishing up your education?" I said.
"As you are so smart, you know everything," she snapped, "tell me what a cocktail lounge is?" "Well,"
I said, "a cocktail lounge is a — is a
— is a" ..... "Well, go on I'm waiting," she said sweetly.
"Well, my dear, a cocktail is a drink made of a lot of other drinks and things all mixed up with a cherry in it. .... There was a lot of pictures of them in the American magazines that stock salesman left here last summer."
"Well, now what is a lounge? It says in here it is a sofa with no back."
So I looked her over a bit anxious-like and asked her if her head ached any? She stated she was quite well and sane, and for me to read the paper while she got on supper. So I read all about the new Liquor Reform Laws, and how in some cities they were going to have Cocktail
Lounges. . . . As I set down to supper, my wife said: "Those city people make me sick, thinking they are smarter than us farmers. . . . Well,
I'm going to have me a cocktail lounge." You get the hired man after supper, and bring down from the attic that sofa I brought from home. . . . "Why?" I said, "you never brought that sofa — that's mine!
The old imitation walnut wreck you brought from home you gave to Mary when she was married." — After some deep thought she said she guessed I was right and to not bother.
But I got thinking I might as well have a cocktail lounge of my own, so, after supper, I called John over and we lugged the old hair-cloth sofa down. . . . Of course, John wanted to know what I was going to do with it and when I told him I was going to make me a cocktail lounge out of it.* He looked at me kinda funny and asked if I had aspirin and lemons and said it was a bad time to have 'Flu with spring work coming on. — So I went into detail and explained to him the new system of up-to-date drinking. — He said:
"the Government once made me drink standing up . . . then they made me drink setting down . . . but I'll be damned if I'll drink laying down. . . . How could I tell when I've had enough?"
Well, we got the back off the sofa and got her dusted and when I laid down some of those horse hairs ran into my back. — John shook his head sadly and went on home.
Mary came in and said she had phoned Mary long distance, but she would not part with the sofa . . . . that she was going to have a cocktail lounge, and . . . . And then the wife began to figure that we would have to have several lounges, so when company came, each would have a lounge. . . . "It wouldn't be right," she said, "to have only two lounges.
It would look strange," she said, "if others all had to stand round waiting their turn to lie down and drink their cocktails!"
She figured I could saw the sofa in two in the middle, and put on some longer sideboards and a couple of legs and she had some chenille curtains she could cover them over with and paint the walnut a Chinese red. . . . Well, she had it all figured out for two, anyhow. . . . She figured she would need about six more at the least, to spend an hour before going to bed, figuring where to put them and what furniture to take out of the attic to make room for them.
After she went to bed, I went down cellar in my sock feet so as not keep her awake and gets me a dipper of hard cider. . . . I laid down on my cocktail lounge trying to make believe the cider was a cocktail. . . . I guess the dipper was too full, or I was too flat or my feet was too high, but I got a big mouthful and I choked, coughed and sneezed all at the same time. . . . The dipper went up . . . came back empty, and the contents followed all over me. . . . My upper plate sailed over the piano and broke off three fangs, but I managed to grab the lower before it got away . . . and then my wife had to drop in. — She just remarked that a cocktail lounge was not meant for a hog to guzzle cider from a dipper . . . and that I would have to heat water to clean the cider up," and that she thought I could get the plate fixed for about $15.00. After she remarked herself out, she went back to bed — to my great relief. — So, in a couple of hours
I had the mess all slicked up and I slipped down cellar with the dipper and so to bed.
In the morning, we didn't say much . . . looked at each other kinda haughty like. . . . I couldn't work for thinking what a wonderful thing this cocktail lounge . . . employment to thousands making the lounges . . . .
hundreds of delivery vans placing them on all countrysides. . . . Why, every one was going to buy lounges, and then the idea struck me . . .
Cherries. . . . What a market there would be for them. . . . A cherry in every cocktail . . . stone one, put a wire nail and a shingle and started to
and 12,950,000 would consume eight cocktails a day . . . allowing only two cherries each meal and two at bedtime . . . which is a low estimate . . .
At last the Government had done something for the farmer. . . . I figured as hard as I could but as I figured beyond sums with more than 100 I soon had enough and beside I didn't know how many cherries there are in a quart basket!
I made up my mind to write the Fruit Inspector and find out . . . as at last the Government will help they have a multiplying machine there that works in the millions. . . .
And I'll find out what it costs to set out 50 acres of cherries (get in the game first.)
Well, it was noon and I thought
I would sneak in the parlor and see my lounge. . . . There she was and, setting on a table beside, were all

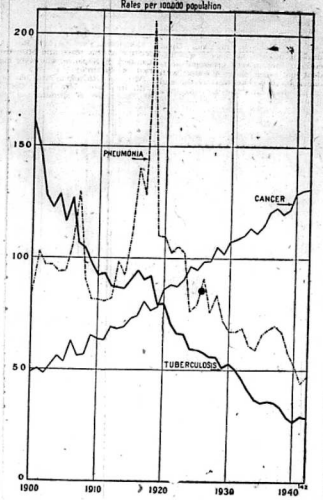
DEATHS FROM TUBERCULOSIS, CANCER AND PNEUMONIA

ONTARIO, 1900 - 42
Rates per 100,000 population



The alarming increase in Ontario deaths from Cancer, over the past 44 years is dramatically illustrated in the above chart, which is being circulated by the Ontario Cancer Foundation in connection with its $2,000,000 appeal for funds. What has been accomplished by control of disease is shown by the steady downward trend in pneumonia and tuberculosis.

the different glasses and cups in the house, filled or partly filled with raspberry vinegar . . . which as you know, is a very soft, sweetish drink with a leaning towards Ladies' Aid in general . . . and scattered around were all those American magazines — My wife had done some experimenting with the horizontal drinking. — So I snuck out and around to the kitchen door and dinner was ready and my wife looked a bit flushed and red eyed from her experiments. . . . And I told her my plans for the cherry orchard . . . and for once . . . she sided in. — We agreed that a cocktail glass must be a different shape from any others, to make horizontal drinking easier. — She stated that a good way to get a jump ahead of our neighbors was to make and name a cocktail of our own design . . . so that when our cocktail lounges and glasses came we would be first with the goods — I heartily agreed. — My wife is bright . . . only I don't let her think so.

So we mulled and thought and the total amount of our efforts is the Tom and Mary Cocktail . . . which is yours when you come to see us. . . . We haven't tried it out on you, but some of the things to put in. — Mary was bound to have some of her raspberry vinegar in . . . and I stuck out for cider. . . . As the canned cherries are all gone, we figured to put canned strawberries in instead. — Maryland according to those magazines, all cocktails had to have a dash of something in . . . mostly Agusta Bitters . . . something to dash in! . . . Well, we didn't have any thing to dash but pepper sauce we use on raw oysters.

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON, APRIL 14TH, 1946

"HOW JESUS' FRIENDS RESPONDED"

Text: Mark 1: 16-20; 5: 18-20; 10-46, 52. Luke 5: 27, 28.

Early in his ministry Jesus selected a few men to whom he could entrust the heart of His message, and in whom he could depend to assist Him in the task of bringing in the Kingdom. They were men who had won, judged by the world's standards ,and yet in the light of subsequent history they are seen to display more than ordinary ability. It is an interesting commentary on the methods which Jesus adopted, that He chose His most intimate associates from among working men; from those who worked with their hands. For the most part His disciples were fishermen. They lived in the outdoors; they co-operated with nature they were the people who did the work of the community.

It must not be assumed, however, that these men were chosen just because they were workers. There were lots of other fishermen about. These men were selected, either, in any haphazard manner. No doubt, Jesus had His eye on them for quite some time. He had seen them at work. He had probably talked with them, and sized up their strength of character. Then, when the time came, He merely asked them to follow Him.

Jesus had very little to offer these men. They were men who had won their place in the community life. They had steady jobs and an assured income. They had economic security for themselves and their families. Jesus had nothing like that to offer them. He could only promise an itinerant ministry, with no hope of financial reward. However, there was a greater reward than the physical. These Jesus promised: the opportunity for service, the power to do good, and the joy which comes from serving others. This, after all, is the greatest reward one can receive. There is no reward comparable to that which comes from doing good and from helping others. One of the great church organizations in The United States is seeking to enlist ten thousand young people, those graduating from the universities, to give a year of their lives to full-time service in the church. They will get them. They will always respond to a challenge if the ideals are high enough, and the cause to which they are called, demanding enough. This Sunday school lesson presents a great challenge to boys and girls, to serve in a great crusade: the bringing in of the Kingdom of God.

These men, whom Jesus approached, responded readily. We do not know how much conversation preceded the call and the response. All we know is that the men, faced with the challenge, responded with alacrity.

The next section tells how one man whom Jesus had healed of his insanity, requested fellowship among the chosen few. Jesus refused. He knew that a man who had only so recently been cured could not be entrusted with too great responsibility—not yet. And so Jesus told him to go and tell what had happened. He told the man to go among his friends and tell what the Lord had done for him. This was one of the earliest methods of spreading the gospel—witnessing for Christ. Indeed, it was this method that marked the great evangelical revival in England. It has been the heart of every great Christian revival. The strength of the great Methodist Church was in testimony meetings. The rapid growth of the Christian Science movement was due in the way in which men and women told of the experiences they had. Of course, this can be overdone. It can be made a means for exhibitionism which is never a healthy condition. But a strong, sincere testimony to the power of Christ in the individual life is one of the great needs of our day, and one of the most assured means of enlisting men and women in the great Christian enterprise.

TAMWORTH

Tamworth, April 8. — On Friday afternoon of last week, some Tamworth citizens were on their way to Napanee and beyond the Newburgh turn they encountered a blockade of cars and trucks in the road. Upon drawing nea rto the place it was discovered that a very grusesome accident had taken place. A coupe, with one man in it, had run off the end of a culvert and the car was in a heap of ruins in the middle of the highway and the driver lay in a pool of blood in a very bad condition along side of the car. The following day the same driver from Tamworth was coming home from Napanee by way of No. 41 Highway and just north of the Village of Roblin something loomed up in the distance which turned out to be a Buick car lying on its side. According to marks in the road the driver had come around a corner and the car had gone into the ditch on the opposite side of the road, turned over several times and lay half-way across the road in a mass of ruin. The driver had been taken into a farm house awaiting medical attention. This sort of scene makes one feel it is unsafe to drive, no matter what the necessity may be. One may drive strictly according to the law, and if every one would obey the Highway laws, there would be no cause for such things to happen. Is there nothing can be done in example, law or teaching, that will eliminate this scrt of thing? The best drivers are constantly in critical danger.

R.I.P.

LEWIS — In loving memory of Private Wm. Harold Lewis, who was killed in Holland on April 10th, 1945. His smiling way and pleasant face are a pleasure to recall.
He had a kind word for each
And died beloved by all.
Some day we hope to meet him,
Some day; we know not when,
To clasp his hand in the better land,
Never to part again.
Sadly missed and ever to be remembered by his FATHER and MOTHER,
Mr. and Mrs. Wm. J. Lewis,
15ap — and FOUR SISTERS.

In Loving Memory

HUFF — In loving memory of our dear son, Thomas Alfred, who departed this life April 1st, 1945.
Cut, oft, our thoughts do wander
To the grave not far away,
Where we laid our dear Tommy,
Just one year ago, to-day./
Lovingly remembered and sadly missed by
DAD, MOTHER, and 15ap BROTHER, GEORGE.

WARTMAN — In loving memory of a dear husband and father, Harry Secord Wartman, who passed away April 9th, 1944.
He is gone but not forgotten,
And as dawns another year,
In our lonely hours of thinking
Thoughts of him are always near.
Days of sadness will come o'er us,
Friends may think the wound is healed,
But they little know the sorrow
That lies within the heart concealed.
Ever remembered by
WIFE, BEATRICE,
and Daughters, MARJORIE,
15ap JOSEPHINE and VIOLET.

HUFF — In loving memory of a dear brother, Thomas Alfred, who departed this life April 1st, 1945.
Another flower has withered
A leaf from the casket set free;
A lamb in the fold of the Shepherd
Who said: 'Let them come unto Me.'
Ever remembered by Sister and Brother-in-law,
15ap NINA and GORDON.

ARNOLD — In loving memory of a dear mother, Mrs. Stratton Arnold, who passed away April 15, 1942.
Dear mother, you are not forgotten,
Though on earth you are no more.
Still in memory you are with us
As you always were before.
You oft times said we'd miss you:
Those words have proved to true—
We less and less, our dearest friend,
Dear mother, when we lost you.
Sadly missed and lovingly remembered by her Loving Daughter, LORNA,
15a and HUSBAND.

Cards of Thanks

Mr. Ray Lasher wishes to express his thanks and appreciation of all his friends and neighbours for their cards, gifts, and kindness, while he was in Kingston General Hospital. 15a

William Sager, Kathryn and Douglas wish to thank the many friends and neighbours for so ably working to quench the terrible fire which swept our barn and drivehouse, some stock, poultry and machinery. Then again we are very grateful to a brother and uncle, Elber Sager, who is sheltering and feeding the stock which were saved, and to all friends far and near, who so kindly contributed to the purse of money which was presented to us, and especially thanking the collectors. 15ap

GRETNA W. A.

An interesting meeting was held at the home of the president, Mrs. Reindel, on Wednesday, April 3rd, when the Bethany W. A. met with that of Gretna. There was a splendid attendance and the programme furnished by both societies was much enjoyed. After a devotional period which had the Easter lesson as its theme, a programme of music and readings followed. A duet by Mrs. S. Joyce and Mrs. W. Miller was much enjoyed also a solo by Miss Sylvia Reindel. After the groups had held separate business sessions, closing exercises were held and a lunch was served by the hostess and her daughter.

DEATHS

SEXSMITH — At Napanee, Friday, April 5th, 1946, E. J. Sexsmith, in his 61st year.

Uncovered Sneezes Capable of Sending Bacteria Ten Feet

A sneezer has a ten-foot range when it comes to passing around colds and several other types of infection, it was pointed out in a lecture by Dr. Hugh E. Burke, medical director of the Royal Edward Laurentian Hospital, who spoke under the auspices of the medical section of the Quebec Federation of Home and School Associations.

Emphasizing the importance of the "Air We Breathe," Dr. Burke pointed out that "recent studies have shown that air is a more important medium for the transmission of certain infections than was at first thought. Uncovered sneezes and possibly dry coughs, have, within the past year, been found to be capable, under certain circumstances of projecting disease-producing bacteria or viruses, ten or more feet.

"Studies just published indicate that the germs which cause the common cold, influenza, certain types of pneumonia and measles, among others, can be projected long distances by persons who sneeze and cough carelessly.

"A striking demonstration of the efficacy of ultra violet light in the prevention of colds took place in a foundling hospital in Chicago some two years ago, at a time when ultra-violet fixtures designed to cast a barrier of radiation across the entrance of each infant's private cubicle were being installed. Before all the fixtures were installed, a baby contracted a cold. The cold immediately spread to all twelve children in an adjoining ward. Not one of the children in any of the protected wards contracted the cold.

"The efficacy of ultra violet light in preventing the spread of measles was demonstrated in two schools in Pennsylvania. Ultra Violet lights were installed in some of the rooms of these schools in 1937. It was found during an epidemic of measles which swept throughout the schools in 1941 that the incidence of measles among pupils in the lighted rooms was only one-quarter of that in the non-lighted rooms.

"Sunlight contains some ultra violet rays similar to those provided by the electric fixtures employed in the hospital and the schools just described, and direct sunlight can destroy air borne disease-producing bacteria and viruses.

"Such evidence as is available at present indicates that more attention should be given to maintaining high standard of air in shops and offices, in factories, in schools and in homes."

SOCIAL EVENING HONORS TWO COUPLES

Great praise is due Pipe Major Jimmie Clark and his band, Belleville, as they entertained at a bridal shower given in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Conger, Jr., of Napanee also a 25th wedding anniversary in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Merton Dafoe also of Napanee on Friday evening March 27th, at Mount Pleasant Hall, near Napanee. Round and square dancing was enjoyed by everyone.

Little Miss Marie Nash, a member of the Pipe Band, played the guitar and sang and also did some fancy dancing, to the tune of the bagpipes.

At midnight the bride and groom marched to the platform, led by Pipe Major Jimmie Clark and Willie Grant to the tune of "Here Comes the Bride" played very sweetly on the bagpipes, where an address was read by Mr. Albert Burns of Trenton. Gifts were then presented.

Next were the bride and groom of twenty-five years ago who married to the platform to the strains of the pipes playing "When You and I were Young, Maggie," and "When Your Hair is Turned to Silver," where an address was read, again by Mr. Farrar, and gifts were presented.

Lunch was then served with the Pipe Band as guests of the two bridal couples. The host and hostess, Mrs. Margaret Duncan and Mr. Jack Dafoe, received many thanks from the guests for a most enjoyable evening.

TOMORROW'S FABRICS

EXPERT OUTLINES PROPER WASHING CARE

Marvellous new synthetic fabrics . . . a glimpse into milady's wardrobe of tomorrow . . . will be on view in an unusual and striking exhibit at The Canadian Department Store, every day this week, in charge of Miss J. Reid, Lux Washability Expert. Included in this unique display are new arnlac blends, fibreglas, nylon, the new rayons, together with beautiful lengths of unbrinkable wool.

"Texture and weave are specifically related to the purpose for which the new fabric is designed, Miss Reid explains when visitors marvel at the sheer loveliness of flimsy nylons, or the rich silken texture of fibreglas, a fibre spotlighted in luxurious modern draperies.

In addition to previewing fabric fashions, Miss Reid is also available as consultant on problems relating to the care of fine washables. Visitors are invited to drop in at her booth on the Main Floor of the Canadian Department Store, where they will receive a brand new copy of "Modern Lux Care", with clear, easy directions for the proper washing care of all types of fabrics and garments.

FULL SUPPORT ASKED FOR NEXT CLOTHING DRIVE

Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie King is giving his fullest support to the forthcoming National Campaign to collect serviceable used clothing for the men, women and children of European countries who lost everything in the World War.

In a telegram to William M. Birks, National Chairman of the Canadian Allied Relief, which is sponsoring the appeal, Premier Mackenzie states:

"Speaking on behalf of the Canadian Government I warmly commend the National Campaign to save used clothing for the Clothing Drive to be held in June. The need for clothing in war-torn lands is very great. Our citizens may be assured that their contributions will help to prevent much suffering."

Plans for the organization of the Campaign are already under way in many communities. Mid-June is not far away, and in order to enable every family in Canada to make their contribution, it is essential that every community groups get together as quickly as possible to map out their programs so as to ensure that no serviceable used clothing that is available is left unsolicited.

"In every community there are leaders who are ready to undertake the organization of these groups," said Mr. Birks today. "Members of the Service Clubs, labor and church groups, educational associations and youth groups will, I am sure, again give their fullest co-operation, and are anxious to start as soon as possible.

"Last October Canada's contribution of used clothing helped over a million families to get through the winter. Fortunately for the peace millions who had nothing to wear but the rags of what they had on them at the time of the invasion of their country, the past winter was not so severe as many had feared. But next winter they may not be so fortunate.

"We are holding this Drive in mid-June so that the Canadian people can make their gifts in time to get their contributions over to the war-devastated areas before the cold weather again sets in. It might seem incongruous to be talking of winter at a time when the temperature over here is steadily mounting, but it should be remembered that the clothing has to be collected, sorted, baled and shipped across the ocean, and with the heavy demands made on shipping in order to carry the food supplies which are also so much needed, cargo space for the bales of clothing has to be utilized when it is available.

"Winter clothes are being discarded now throughout the Dominion. Don't put them away in the wardrobe, but put them on one side in readiness for the Clothing Campaign which will start a few weeks hence," concluded Mr. Birks.

SWITZERVILLE MISSION BAND

The Easter Thankoffering meeting of the Busy Bee Mission Band was held at the school, on Wednesday afternoon, April 3rd, with twenty-one members and several visitors present. The meeting was opened with an Easter hymn, followed by the Lord's Prayer. Barbara Robinson read the minutes which were approved, and the roll call was answered with a verse of scripture containing the word Friend. The call to worship was given by the president, Mary Vanalstyne and the response was given by Beulah Craig then read the meditation, with scripture readings being given by Naydene Clark, Dorothy Walroth and Mary Vanalstyne. Prayer was read by Elaine Benn, and after singing another hymn, the offering was received by Elaine Benn' and George Vanalstyne, and dedicatory song. Mrs. Walroth gave an interesting reading "Easter in Russia," and the children sang a Spring song. An African play "The Workers in our Community" was also put on by the children.

Mrs. Wales then read a story from the Study Book and George Benn distributed copies of World Friends.

The meeting was closed by singing another Easter hymn, and repeating the usual closing prayer. Beulah Craig was accompanist for the hymns throughout the programme.

TRINITY W.M.S.

At the March meeting of Trinity W.M.S. held on Tuesday, March 19, the president, Mrs. Switzer, presided for the business and Mrs. D. B. Wilson took charge for the devotional period which was conducted by Mrs. A. Pallows. Mrs. Truscott was appointed delegate to Belleville Presbyterial, to be held on April 4th at Trenton.

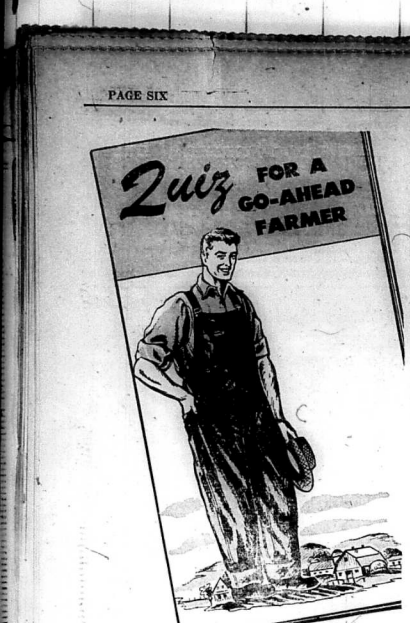
Quiz FOR A GO-AHEAD FARMER



Get ready for Spring!

The trees will soon be taking on their new raiment and spring will be whispering to farmers everywhere "How about a new cultivator?—how about other farm machinery?—how about this and that?" Now is the time to get ready for spring. Ready money for the go-ahead farmer is available at the Bank of Montreal. If a loan will help, see your nearest Bank of Montreal manager.

He knows the farmer's problems and is ready to work with you, and to put money to work for you, to make your farm a better farm. Ask for the folder "Quiz for a Go-Ahead Farmer."

"It's something you girls shouldn't laugh at"

"Mother won't tell me what it cost," said Elaine to Cousin Edna, who was hooking up the exquisite dress. "But it's within the budget, you may be sure. Trust mother for that."

"Budgets sound unromantic, especially on a day like this," Mother admitted. "But we could never have given Elaine such a wedding unless we had budgeted. It's something you girls shouldn't laugh at. Dad and I began budgeting on our wedding trip. We had to . . . and we just got home with a few cents margin."

"Isn't it an awful bother, though?"

"We'd be more bothered and worried without it. No, it's simple. First, we always set aside the money for Dad's life insurance; that means we have no worries about the future. Then we figure on so much a month for living expenses . . . and then! . . . with what's left we can be extravagant. That's the great thing . . . to feel when you're spending that the essentials and the future are taken care of. Then you can spend with an easy-mind."

Budget for essentials first, remembering that one of the greatest essentials is future security . . . protection against adversity . . . and peace of mind in your own old age. There can be no substitute for life insurance in any family budget.

Near you, wherever you are, is a neighbour in the life insurance business. Ask him for advice in planning your future. It is good citizenship to own life insurance.

V. O. N. NEWS

The Victorian Order of Nurses held their monthly meeting in the Armouries, Monday afternoon, April 8th. The president was in the chair, and there was a good attendance. The meeting was opened with the prayer of the Order, the president leading. The minutes were read by Miss Daverne, and the treasurer, Mrs. Medd, gave the financial report, showing that the recent membership drive has been most successful.

The Nurse, Miss Dodd, gave her monthly report as follows: 36 cases carried; 159 visits made; 2 confinements; 23 hours school; 2 Child Welfare Clinics held, with 38 babies in attendance; assisted at Chest Clinic, March 26 and 27; assisted Medical Officer of Health with the annual Toxoid Clinic, March 6th.

Miss Dodd attended a refresher course in Toronto, last month, on mental hygiene. She gave a brief but guest speaker for the afternoon, Mrs. Ralph Bell, formerly Nursing Sister Elizabeth Madden, who served overseas for two years. Mrs. Bell gave a vivid account of some of her experiences and some of the personalities she met in hospitals both in England and France.

Mrs. Diamant moved a vote of thanks to the speaker, which was seconded by Mrs. Duffett, and endorsed by all present.

The meeting was followed by a social half hour, during which the ladies of the Anglican Church, served tea.

MOSCOW UNITED CHURCH MISSION BAND

The March meeting of the Mission Band of the United Church was held at the school with the president, Yvonne Brooks, presiding. The meeting opened by singing "Jesus Bids us Shine." After business, the roll call was answered by some fact learned in the study of mission work in Africa. Bryce Drew received the offering, while all sang the Offering Song. Mary Huffman read the scripture lesson. Darrell Reid read the prayer. A dialogue "Negroes are Important" was given with Mrs. Armstrong as director. These taking part were Mary Huffman, Gerald Huffman, Bryce Drew, Arthur Huffman, Joyce Sagrift, Donna Reid, Darrell Reid, Yvonne Brooks and Jean Herrington. Mrs. Earl McNeil presented the second chapter of the Study Book and the meeting closed with prayer.

Werewolves Only Dormant

A senior military government officer, recently said chiefly that British occupation authorities expect trouble from young, militant Germans in about a year or two—when they are well fed.

This high-placed officer, asking not to be quoted by name, told a reporter this is not a possibility but a decided possibility.

"The werewolves are dead now," he said. "That is because the German is busy trying to find food. But it will not always be that way.

"When Germany is better organized, when enough food is available so that a man doesn't have to spend all his time on that one problem, it will be different."

He said he expected that turn of affairs in maybe a year—two years at the latest.

Some occupation officials feared there would be trouble over reduced rations, which went into effect recently.

"That will only intensify their search for food," the officer said. "And it will only keep them that much busier on the one problem. We have set up, of course, safety measures but I see no organized efforts among Germans to cause trouble.

The view is this:

There are 30,000,000 Germans outside the Russian zone. The area never was able to feed more than 25,000,000. Imports must feed the remainder.

By summer, 1947, it is expected that agricultural production will be at its peak. That means that the great majority of Germans will be living off their own crops and they will know it.

With a job perhaps, and a full stomach, the German will have time to attend political meetings, to discuss current friends the political future of the Reich.

That's when the "hotheads" will speak up and the chances are they'll have a willing audience.

Neighbour sympathetically: And I know how long these years must have been to you.

Deserted Wife: Yes, but I remember when he left just as if it had been yesterday — how she stood at the door holding it open until six flies got into the house.

CANCER CAN BE CURED

1000 Canadians die of cancer every month. Cancer specialists are convinced that the majority of these lives could be saved if proper treatment were given in the early stages of the disease.

That is the aim of the campaign against cancer now being organized in Ontario—to cut down this costly loss of life now being exacted by cancer.

It is proposed to establish cancer clinics at suitable centres throughout the province where all who suspect they may have cancer may be examined, and receive the proper treatment if necessary.

Plans are also under way to pay a portion of the cost of treatment of cancer, as well as travelling expenses, for those needing financial help.

The third objective of the campaign is an energetic program of cancer research in Ontario with the aim of discovering a specific cure for cancer, or for some means of preventing the disease.

Cancer research carried on to date has been entirely inadequate. It is estimated that less than $100,000 is being spent in the whole of Canada on cancer and related subjects.

Cancer can be conquered. If science is able to organize sufficient forces against the scourge of cancer, the solution will sooner or later be found.

Your contribution is needed—to cut down the death rate from cancer now—to carry on the search for a method of ridding the world of this dread disease.

This appeal is for an objective of $2,000,000 to provide for a three-year program of cancer research, treatment and province-wide service.

DR. PETER BRYCE SPEAKS TO MINISTERS

The Napanee and District Ministerial Association met on Monday, April 8th, 1946 in St. Mary Magdalene Ch., at 10:30 a.m., with the following members present, the Rev. H. A. Bunt, chairman, and Capt. Murrell, Lieut. Clarke, and the Rev. F. G. Robinson, A. H. Hoare, J. A. Haw, N. Hatton, W. H. Clarke, Wm. Parker, A. W. Loughead, W. H. Baugh, J. P. Dingman, W. G. Fletcher, W. R. Merrick, C. D. McLellan, H. C. Secker, James Robinson, H. B. Herrington, Archdeacon R. J. Dumbrille, K. J. Crawford, and a former member, the Rev. A. J. Wilson, of Toronto, and the guest speaker, the Rev. Dr. Bryce.

The meeting opened with scripture and prayer by Mr. Hatton.

After a hymn consisting of Mr. Haw, Mr. Hatton, Mr. Bunt and Mr. Merrick, was named to investigate the pension situation in Napanee and the County, and the committee was given the power to call any meeting it felt necessary for reorganizing the county on Temperance Federation lines.

The matter of the next meeting was left in the hands of the president and secretary.

Mr. Bunt then called on Dr. Bryce who was the guest preacher the day before at Trinity Anniversary, to address the ministerial. Dr. Bryce said that he would share his thoughts with the ministers, on reaching the anniversary of forty years in the Christian ministry. He said that he had come from Scotland to Newfoundland, and spent the first three years of his ministry there; (where he met the kindest people in all the world); and he had been in Toronto ever since.

Dr. Bryce drew attention to all the social reforms that had taken place in the last thirty years; and said that the progress of social reform was very slow. But we can look at the past thirty years, and, seeing all these reforms, look at the future with optimism. Now, the point of view of the Church; the view of a universal fellowship of man, is shown, for now, the whole world is a neighbourhood, we can look in each other's backyards. Therefore, let the Church be more militant! Its influence felt in social questions more so than it has done in the past. Preachers should remember that people are eager for messages of help; people are having a difficult time. We should give messages of help, interpret Jesus Christ to the community and to the world; build up characters in the community that are like Christ. Preachers should remember that there are more elderly people in the world today than ever before, and they should think of them and endeavour to help them.

Dr. Bryce closed his message with the prayer, "Whatever Christ means more to me than ever before" he said. Hewould be a minister again if he had his life to live over. Ministers have the supreme task of the world: may we be more worthy in days to come.

The appreciation of the members was expressed to Dr. Bryce, and the meeting closed with the benediction.

FIRE DESTROYS BURLEY'S GARAGE IN ODESSA

About 7:00 a.m. last Thursday, April 11th, fire broke out in Burley's Garage, in the Village of Odessa, and completely destroyed the building. The homes of Mrs. Florence Clyde and Dr. E. O. Huxtable, which are adjacent to the garage, were threatened and were saved from serious damage by the efforts of the local volunteer fire brigade, with the assistance of a pumper from the city of Kingston. The garage buildings and contents were valued at $15,000. Six cars which were in the garage when the fire was discovered were removed from the building.

The fire was discovered on the second floor of the building shortly after it started, by an attendant at the garage, who a few minutes before had lighted a fire in the stove on the main floor. Citizens of the town quickly responded to the alarm and a call was put in for assistance from the Kingston Fire Brigade, which sent a pumper and men, in less than one hour, but not before the fire had gained such headway that nothing could be done to save the building.

The upper part of the wall and roof of Miss Clyde's house were damaged by water and smoke and furniture was removed from the house when it was thought nothing could save it. Furniture was also carried out of the home of Dr. Huxtable, which is across the street, east of the garage. Dr. Huxtable's house was also slightly damaged by smoke and water.

LIONS HEAR ABOUT WORK OF THE BLIND

Preston Timmins, of Kingston, Field Secretary of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind, gave an interesting talk at the Lions Club meeting on Monday evening on the work of the Institute and the needs of the blind in Canada.

Mr. Timmins stated there are 13,000 blind persons in Canada representative of all ages and all classes, and that the average sightless person needs financial assistance. The Institute, which was started after the first great war, seeks to aid the blind with their economic and social problems. It teaches reading by the Braille method and gives training for trades, professions and crafts work. In Ontario, there are at present 4,000 blind persons, of whom 600 are employed.

Forty per cent. of those who can not see are unnecessarily blind, Mr. Timmins stated. As the present time he added, there is a bill before Parliament which, if it passes, will provide for government assistance in a programme for prevention of blindness, until now two-thirds of the cost has been borne by the Canadian people and one-third by the government.

A canvass for the blind will be made in Lennox and Addington, starting April 22nd and a tag-day will be held in Napanee on May 11th.

Two blind musicians, Roland Brureau, pianist and Alex Bell, violin accordonist, were present with Mr. Timmins and performed for the entertainment of the members of the Lions Club and their guests. Mrs. Robert Smith, accompanied by Mrs. Bert Seymour at the piano, played a violin solo.

Six members of the Trenton Club were present. W. F. Asselstine was in charges of the meeting in the absence of the president, W. F. Barrett.

FARM MACHINERY RETAIL PRICES INCREASED

Maximum retail price ceilings for Canadian agricultural machinery and parts will go up by twelve and one-half per cent, starting April 13th, the Wartime Prices and Trade Board has announced.

This action resulted after careful study by the industry moved that with the swing over from war production unavoidable cost increases could no longer be absorbed as an upward adjustment in price to the consumer.

Commenting on the order, Board officials said that companies have done their best to maintain production at the greatest level and variety of farm equipment. The increase should now mean that supplies of farm implements will be available in larger quantities.

The new price established will be competitive with prices for similar products imported from the United States, which have been free of war exchange tax and customs duties since July 1st, 1944.

Following are the general categories of machinery affected by the order; seeding and fertilizing machinery; Plows, Tillage implements and cultivators; Haying machinery; Harvesting machinery; Sundry machines for preparing crops for market or use; Farm power machinery; Farm wagons; Trucks and sleighs; Dairy machines and equipment; Spraying equipment and dusters; Domestic water systems and pumps; Barn and barnyard equipment; Miscellaneous equipment.

SUPPLIES FOR RUSSIA

Moscow, (A.P.) — The American Red Cross will have contributed $27,000,000 worth of wartime and postwar equipment, drugs and supplies to the Soviet Union by the end of this year, Elliott W. Shirk, director of Red Cross activities in the Soviet Union, said recently.

RURAL CITIZENS GUESTS OF ROTARY 'FARMERS' NIGHT'

Representatives of all the farm organizations in the County and several officers of the Lennox District and Addington District Women's Institutes were guests of the Napanee Rotary Club, on Tuesday evening, at the annual "Rural Night" of the Club. The evening's programme was arranged by the rural-urban committee of the Club, of which Mr. C. W. Buchanan, the Provincial Agricultural Representative, is chairman and who acted as chairman for the programme which followed the dinner, served in the banquet hall of the Superior Restaurant.

Mr. A. H. Martin, Assistant Director of the Ontario Department of Agriculture, was the guest speaker and in his address reviewed the history of farming, and the change from the time of the earliest settlers, and spoke of the problems facing farmers to-day. The present shortage, he stated, was the most serious difficulty facing farmers, and laid the cause to the fact that many young men who served in the Army and in industrial plants during the war, are not inclined to return to the farm.

The guests were welcomed by A. E. Holmes, President of the Club. Musical numbers were contributed by Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Cochrane and community singing was led by Gordon W. MacGregor.

Following the programme motion pictures were shown.

Prices Board Sets Honey Price Increase

Ottawa. — An increase of one cent a pound in the wholesale ceiling price of honey, now in effect, has been announced by the Prices Board.

The increase would "help meet higher bee-keeping costs resulting from conversion of sugar requirements for imported package bees," the Board said. A subsidy of 50 cents a pound on honey exported from the United States was cancelled last February.

GRACE CHURCH HONOURS MINISTER ON ANNIVERSARY

Rev. C. D. McLellan Ordained 25 Years Ago

To mark his twenty-five years in the ministry, Rev. C. D. McLellan, minister of Grace United Church, was presented with a silver tray, suitably engraved by Wilfrid Smith, of Toronto, Saturday, April 13th, by members of the congregation, at the morning service, last Sunday. W. F. Parrell, secretary of the Official Board, tendered congratulations to Mr. McLellan.

Mr. McLellan, in accepting the gift, expressed his appreciation of the thoughtfulness of the congregation and thanks for gift of the tray.

Mr. McLellan was born in Toronto, where he received his early education. He attended Knox College, from which he graduated and was ordained at Greenwood Church in Toronto. He has served in four pastorates, Greenwood, Toronto, Beaverton, Almonte and Napanee. He has been chairman of the Presbyteries of Lindsay and Renfrew and is at present chairman of the Bay of Quinte Conference committee on Christian Education.

Since coming to Napanee, nearly five years ago, he and Mrs. McLellan have given splendid leadership in Grace Church and have been very active in community affairs. They have three sons, Robert, who is taking a university course at Ajax, David a student at Queen's University in Kingston, and Gordon, studying for the ministry at Toronto University.

There was a large congregation at the service which was the quarterly communion service. Mr. McLellan was assisted by Rev. J. F. Dingman and Rev. J. A. Haw, and members of the session. The choir under the leadership of Mrs. W. V. Drury, sang the anthem: "Ride on, Ride on In Majesty."

At the evening service, the choir's anthem was "Beyond the Stars" and Mrs. Drury and Earl Morrical sang the duet, "Love Divine."

Canadian Women Protest Milk Prices

Toronto. — Hints that a protest deputation of Canadian women may march on Ottawa if the Federal Government persists in its plan to lift the milk subsidy and increase the price of milk to consumers was voiced at a public meeting as housewives approved two resolutions urging the Government to continue the subsidies on the "basic necessities of life," and to maintain price controls.

Copies of the resolutions will be forwarded to Prime Minister Mackenzie King and Prices Board officials.

Milk is an essential food and we must make a fighting matter out of this, said Mrs. May Birchard, City Councillor, in her address to the gathering, which was held under the auspices of the Housewives Association and the Toronto Trades and Labor Council (C.C.L.)

"We've got to rally to see that price controls are not lifted in this country," said Alderman Dewar Ferguson.

Ministers' Basic Salary Schedule Adopted

Toronto. — The Home Mission Board of The United Church of Canada has adopted a basic salary schedule of $1,800 and manse allowance for a married ordained minister and $1,650 with furnished manse.

Still more ambitious is the goal set by the General Council in 1926 of $1,800 and furnished manse, "the Board felt that even that figure was inadequate today. Charges paying less than that sum will be visited by Presbytery committees and lay associations shortly. They will be asked to assist in raising $100 in the parish to supplement the figure set.

Bonuses of $150 for Newfoundland and $100 for Bermuda were voted because of high living costs.

TOWN TO CONTINUE WOOD BUSINESS FOR ANOTHER YEAR

At a special meeting of the Municipal Council held on Thursday, the question as to whether it would be necessary for the Town to continue in the wood business for another year was considered and it was decided to carry on for another year.

A communication was presented from the Ontario Regional Officer, Wood Fuel Controller, offering to supply the Town with seven hundred cords of first grade hardwood, to be shipped in by rail, and the Council authorized the completion of an agreement to purchase this quantity of wood.

The following clause was included in the letter from the Controller:

"Before leaving this subject, I want to take the occasion to congratulate your town officials on the excellent manner in which they have met their responsibility in connection with the citizens' requests during the limited emergency referred to when supplies have been difficult to obtain, and during which suffering on large part of the residents might otherwise have occurred."

ARMY STRENGTH NOW 150,000

Ottawa. — Strength of the Canadian Army was reduced to 150,000 with 36,000 still overseas, last March 31, the Defence Department announced last Thursday.

In a review of demobilization a statement said more than 300,000 soldiers had been discharged in the last eight months. March was the highest month with 36,512 army personnel discharged.

Of the 114,000 still in the army in Canada, 11,000 were interim force volunteers and 20,000 were on extended service. Those on the latter list draw pay and allowances and their eligibility for discharge had been announced as "limited."

The statement said there was a large group including many long-service men, whose services still are essential to work the machinery of demobilization. As well the department acknowledged its "debt" to them for their high sense of responsibility and duty.

Butter Ration To Be Increased May 15th

Ceiling price for dairy butter and whey butter will be increased four cents a pound, effective April 14, the Wartime Prices and Trade Board announced last week.

This action will give to producers of dairy and whey butter the same increase as was given to creamery butter on April 1st, the board pointed out. At the same time support prices for dairy butter paid through Commercial Prices Stabilization Corporation, which have been in effect for the past two years, will also be advanced four cents a pound.

The Prices Board also announced that, because of the low supply of butter, coupon validity will maintain the present ration of four ounces of butter per week, until May 13th.

From May 15th until June 8th, the ration will be at the rate of five and one-third ounces a week, and on June 6th it will be restored to six ounces a week.

This means that one butter coupon, good for half a pound of butter will be issued valid on each of the following dates, May 2, May 16, May 23, June 6, June 13 and June 20.

BLIND WAR BRIDE FIRST IN CANADA ARRIVES NAPANEE

The arrival at Napanee, last week, of Mrs. George Alkenbrack, from Sussex, England, has created quite a sensation in the district and throughout Canada, due to the fact that Mrs. Alkenbrack is the first blind English war bride to arrive in Canada.

Mrs. Alkenbrack's husband, who is a native of Napanee, a son of Mr. and Mrs. William Alkenbrack, returned home in July of last year, and in the interval has purchased a piece of land on Robin's Hill, near Napanee and has built on it a neat little bungalow, which he has furnished for his blind wife.

Mrs. Alkenbrack's blindness is due to the effects of a bomb which fell near her in 1944, while she was walking in a park near her home. She has undergone three operations which have failed to restore her sight, but she is hopeful that some day her sight will return.

Mr. and Mrs. Alkenbrack became engaged in June, 1945, after Mrs. Alkenbrack had become blind. They were married in July, 1945, shortly before he returned to Canada.

The blind bride is busying herself trying to learn her way about her new home and already is able to perform many of her household duties. She is an accomplished pianist and gets much pleasure out of the piano which her husband has provided for her.

George Alkenbrack was a sergeant in the Hastings, Prince Edward Regiment.

HARD ENOUGH

The task confronting the United Nations Organization is difficult enough, without others making it still more difficult. The problem at the moment centres around Russia. Russia and the Democracies represent two different ways of life, two different conceptions of government, two different ways of doing things. The prime necessity is that each should understand the other. Neither the Democracies nor Russia, want war. That is fundamental. That is the thing on which they are agreed. It is essential, therefore, that the U. N. O. should proceed to build on that basis. That is exactly what the world organization has been trying to do. Naturally, there is much suspicion of the motives which lie behind some of Russia's moves. And, undoubtedly, Russia is suspicious of the motives behind the moves of the Democracies. Mutual understanding and good will are essential if this mutual suspicion is to be broken down and the new order of peace, established.

With the world situation so delicately balanced, and so tense, it is surely the part of wisdom, that men in positions of public trust and leadership should refrain from doing anything or saying anything that would tend to upset that balance and make the task of the Security Council, harder.

It is well known that the Premier of this Province has no love for Russia. After a trip to the U.S.S.R., some years ago, he did not hesitate to let that be known through his articles in a Canadian magazine. The Premier has a right to his own opinions, and he has a right to express them. But for the sake of world peace, it would be much better to refrain from giving voice to them just at the present moment.

It is one thing for a private citizen to speak and write as he feels the urge. But men in public life have a great responsibility. In their own community they are well known, and their remarks are given the consideration they merit. But nobody can ever tell how others may interpret these addresses. They get on the wires and are repeated in other nations, very frequently with a slant not intended by the speaker.

For the sake of harmony, peace and goodwill, the members of the United Nations Organization should be given every possible opportunity to build the new world organization into a competent, reliable council, without being embarrassed by the statements of public men — no matter how well intentioned they may be.

QUITE AN INCREASE

The Dominion Government has permitted an increase in the retail price of farm implements of 12½ per cent. It ought to have been higher, Mr. Ilsley contends. He says that the analysis of costs which the Prices Board made, indicated that an increase of 30 per cent. would be necessary, if the basic profits of 1941 were to be maintained in the industry.

We have no access to the figure of costs, but we can understand that some increase in costs of materials entering into the production of farm implements has taken place. We are not prepared to challenge the statement made by Mr. Ilsley concerning these. Nevertheless, an increase of 12½ per cent. is pretty high, especially as there is no way for the farmer to recover the increase.

At the beginning of the war the prices for farm products were quite out of line with the prices paid for other commodities. We, who live in a farming community, know that all too well. During the war this situation changed somewhat. Farmers received a more equitable share of prices paid by the consumer for his goods. But his machinery became worn out. The pressure under which farmers were forced to labor, made it necessary to push the machines to the limit. Now replacements are needed. And just at a time when the farmers hoped to be able to receive these replacements, the price has been jacked up 12½ per cent.

Mr. Ilsley says that this increase was needed, too, in order to assure full production of the implement industry. Well, the same argument holds true in other areas. There never was a time, not even during the war, when food was more needed than to-day. The farmers are urged to produce to the limit. We are not suggesting that farm prices be raised, but we are pointing out that, if one industry is granted 12½ per cent. increase in order to assure full production, others are justified in seeking similar adjustments of price ceilings.

We have a great deal of sympathy with those in Ottawa, who are trying to maintain some sort of stability in these transitional days. Their task is not an easy one. The turn-over from a wartime to a peacetime economy is fraught with terrible dangers. Only the most careful handling of the situation will prevent inflation. It is to be hoped the Government will resist to the utmost the demand for immediate removal of controls, and will follow a policy of a gradual easing-off of the restrictions, with as few increases as possible in the cost of consumers' products. Nobody in their right senses wants to see a repetition of 1920.

HARD TO UNDERSTAND

It is sometimes hard to understand the way in which justice operates in our country. Sometimes the punishment for a crime seems to be much too severe, at other times, it seems much too light. So long as our present penal system prevails there should be uniformity in the punishment. This is brought to our attention by the sentence imposed on Emma Wolkin, the first of those found guilty in the espionage plot at Ottawa. Mrs. Wolkin was given a sentence of two and one-half years in the penitentiary.

Her's was no act of sudden passion. Deliberately she planned and worked out a scheme whereby she could get top secrets to another nation. It was a deliberate pre-meditated act of sabotage.

"The Evening Telegram" Toronto, on Monday, said:

"The accused in this case was no victim of circumstances; her conduct was thoroughly vicious. Her plea that she had intended no harm to Canada is without meaning in view of what she did. Acting as cipher clerk in the External Affairs Department she came into possession of material which was marked "Secret" and "Top Secret." This she conveyed to the agents of a foreign country from whom she accepted money. What she did was not done carelessly, in ignorance or through failure to grasp the significance of her act; it was done deliberately, knowingly and in full awareness of the significance of what she was doing. It was not in carelessness or ignorance that she carried a secret document to a dentista's office and hid it in a tank whence it was to be retrieved by an agent of the Soviet Union."

Two and a half years which may be reduced considerably, for good conduct, seems rather gentle treatment for so great a crime.

The "Telegram" makes a suggestion which most people would endorse, that "when Emma Wolkin is released, she should be deported to Russia to facilitate her obtaining the Soviet citizenship for which she has already applied."

JAPANESE - CANADIANS

Last week, in the House of Commons, British Columbia representatives spoke in favor of deporting the Japanese-Canadians who had signed the deportation order. The addresses got little support from the House.

An independent observer, W. S. Edgar, reporting on the situation, senses a growing opposition to the plan which the Government adopted. Writing in the "Worldover Press," he says:

"Opposition is growing in many parts of Canada against the deportation to Japan of citizens of Japanese descent. Many of these were born in Canada, and none has been found guilty of any sabotage during the war.

"This deportation plan was put through largely at the instance of Hon. Humphrey Mitchell, a former Labor and Trade Union member who went over to the Liberal Party some fourteen years ago.

"Representatives of all Protestant denominations in Canada and the National Council of Women of Canada have made energetic protest against the plan. A Supreme Court of Canada decision has upheld the Order-in-Council as constitutional, but an appeal is planned to the Judicial Committee of the Imperial Privy Council in London. Even in British Columbia, where the enthusiasm for the deportation is most evident, the Protestant churches have asked that no person legally resident in Canada, should be compelled to go to Japan and that, except where crimes of treason have been proved, rupture of families be avoided.

"A disquieting feature of the Order-in-Council is that it gives the Federal Government authority to deport any person it deems undesirable who is born of alien parents, even though born in Canada. Some of those scheduled for deportation have been born here, know nothing of the Japanese language or culture, are entirely Canadian in training and outlook and, save for certain Oriental traits in external features, are indistinguishable from Occidentals.

"A well-known Church of England clergyman, a native of Montreal, born of Scandinavian parents, has pointed out that the Government of his native land has armed itself with authority to deport him to Sweden, which he has never seen, should it decide that the opportune moment had arrived."

This sets out the situation fairly accurately, and indicates the seriousness of the issue now before the Privy Council.

NATIONAL FLAG COMMITTEE DEALS WITH SUGGESTIONS

Ottawa. — Members of the Joint flag committee of the Senate and Commons gave themselves until Tuesday of this week to pick individually up to five choices among the nearly 2,000 suggested designs for a Canadian flag.

Surrounded by the hundreds of suggestions tahi have flooded in, the committee took this step in an effort to narrow them down to some 200-300 before further action.

Each member will make his decision from the designs as they stand in display in the big railway committee room of the Commons.

April 30th was set as a deadline for submissions of designs although chairman Maj. Walter Harris (Lib.-Grey-Bruce) said he had hoped the committee would finish its work by then.

Maj. Antoine Chasse, secretary, informed the committee 1,812 designs have been submitted and they are still coming in. An additional 150 were submitted through the Defence Department.

More than 6,000 letters had been received supporting the design by the League of the National Flag, most of them from Quebec. Received, too, during the parliamentary recess were numerous resolutions, letters and petitions.

Some sixty favored retention of the Union Jack or Red Ensign or would approve a change if the Union Jack were included. More than fifty were resolutions to exclude the Union Jack and the fleur de lis.

One man sent in as many as eighty designs. The most popular symbol was the maple leaf, followed by the Union Jack and the fleur de lis.

Lt. Cmdr. Alan Beddoe of Ottawa, designer of the First Great War Book of Remembrance in the Peace Tower of the Parliament Buildings, was given the job of breaking the designs down into groups.

They had finally been cut down to 23 classifications, each generally based on its chief symbols, or, in some cases, on visual appearance. Its colors, red, white and blue dominated.

When the committee began to consider requests for personal appearances by various persons and bodies, Tom Reid (Lib.-New Westminster) opposed it because "if we start this we could be here for years listening to pressure groups." Some members opposed his views, other supported them.

On a vote, the committee defeated 13-9 a motion by Mr. Reid to exclude all personal appearance. Another motion to defer consideration of appearances was carried.

80 PER CENT CANCER CASES CAN BE CURED

Many people do not believe that cancer can be cured. The fallacy of this belief is shown by the medical records of thousands of cured cancer cases over the last twenty years. Cancer specialists say that 80 per cent. of certain types of cancer are curable if diagnosed and treated early enough.

Only time can tell if a case is cured for no reputable doctor can give a verdict of cure immediately following treatment. Because of cancer's peculiarity of being a local disease at the start and eventually spreading to other parts of the body a minimum of five years should elapse without a recurrence of malignancy before the cure is a virtual certainty.

If the general public is educated about cancer, the death rate in Ontario, highest per capita in the Dominion, can be definitely reduced. This is one of the major planks in the platform of ways to conquer cancer outlined by the Ontario Cancer Treatment and Research Foundation, now campaigning for a minimum of $2,000,000 throughout the Province.

There are many interesting stories about patients who have been cured. Twenty years ago a nurse was working on a public health project. She discovered a lump in one of her breasts and realized that it required immediate medical attention. It was diagnosed as cancer and an extensive operation was performed. She is living today and in good health, the mother of two fine strong teen-age boys. She recognized it in time, took the initial step and her doctor did the rest.

A doctor and his wife are both active in their professional and social life. The doctor had had his stomach removed thirteen years ago because of a cancerous growth. His wife had a serious internal cancer removed ten years ago.

Two women who lived in the same village and attended the same church, were attacked by cancer. Both women had a little scaly spot on the skin of the bridge of her nose that peeled off, seemed to go away, and then came back again in the same place. One woman ignored it, merely putting a little extra powder on the spot to cover it. The younger woman consulted a doctor who removed this tiny skin cancer by means of radium. Today she is the only lucky stand that she went to him in time. The other woman is dead. The patch grew and grew until she had to use a dressing to cover it. Finally she retired from public contact because of her appearance. Within three years she was dead of a spreading skin cancer that destroyed wide areas of tissue about her face and head. The tragic part of this story is the fact that the woman would be alive today if she had been willing to do something about it.

Doctors chafe at their own helplessness when cancer patients come to them too late. All they can do is to try to relieve their patients' misery for as much of life as remains to them, knowing all the time that the patient could have been cured if treated earlier. Many women refuse to go to their doctor until their cancer of the breast is past curing. Most of them reason that it couldn't be cancer because it didn't hurt.

It is time to come out of the dark ages and lift the veils of fear and ignorance that surround this disease that kills 1,000 Canadians a month.

"Give to Conquer Cancer" is the slogan that is being used throughout the Province this month in the Ontario Cancer Foundation's drive for a minimum of $2,000,000. All banks are receiving centres for donations, or they may be sent direct to the Foundation's office at 22 College Street, Toronto (2).

Coal Mine Regulations To Be More Uniform

The Provisional Ministers of Mines who now confer frequently on matters of common interest, might adjust the coal mining regulations of their respective provinces to make them more uniform, it is recommended in a report made to the institute.

Another recommendation made by a special division of the Institute is that a thorough vocational training is essential to progress in the coal industry. This should be in three categories, the report said, to suit the miners at the face, the foremen, and the engineers or managers respectively; but even the manager must have a thorough experience as a miner at the face, if he is to understand his men and their problems.

The study group feel that if uniformity of mining regulations was achieved, that there could be a constant interchange of miners, foremen and engineers between East and West, which would be a good thing for all concerned.

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON, APRIL 21ST, 1946

TWO FRIENDS TALK WITH CHRIST

It was the day of the resurrection—the First Easter Sunday. Two of the disciples of Jesus were on the road. They had come through a harrowing experience. They had left Jerusalem, where their hopes and ideals seemed buried. They were walking along the road to a small town, Emmaus, about eight miles from the city. They were chatting things over. They naturally were discussing the events of the past few days. It may be that rumors of the resurrection had already come to their ears, and they talked about the rumors. Or what is perhaps more likely, they were merely recalling this and that intimate event in their relationship with Jesus. We can easily imagine one saying: "Remember the time when," and then the other his memory stimulated, would say, "yes, and do you remember the day when."

It was just one of those intimate conversations which two friends would have over a third friend who had been taken from them.

As they talked a third party joined them. We do not know what happened. Certainly in some mysterious way they became aware of the presence of another who entered into their conversation. He asked what they were talking about and they told him that they were talking about Jesus who had been crucified. They had hoped he would have redeemed Israel. But no—He was gone.

Jesus then spoke to them and unfolded to them the scripture showing how necessary it was that Jesus should have to suffer and die, in order that he might fulfil God's purpose.

Then they drew near to the village and the disciples asked the stranger to tarry with them. He did, and when they sat down to eat, He blessed the bread. Then it was that they made the discovery that this stranger was their Lord.

There are things about this which baffle explanation. But there are some hands that may be learned by all. In the first place these disciples of Christ were talking about Him. Thus it as it should be. When Christian people get together there is no better topic of conversation. Indeed, whenever in the history of religion there has been a great revival, it has been due in no small degree, to the fact that people who had experience of Christ, talked about it. Testimony meetings had a very powerful influence in the Wesleyan revival. We are seeing evidences of it to-day in visitation evangelism, all across Canada laymen and women are inviting others to declare their loyalty to Christ, and with the most amazing results. In one great denomination in Canada, many people united with the church during the past few weeks than at any time in the past twenty-five years.

The disciples invited Jesus into their abode. There would be less divorces, broken homes, less juvenile delinquency in our modern civilization, if Jesus was invited into the home. Magistrates, judges and social workers are making their voices heard these days in connection with the breakdown of our moral standards. They declare the root of the matter lies in the home. When the religion of Jesus Christ has supreme place in the home, these ills are reduced to the minimum.

Jesus asked God's blessing on the meal. That is a Christian rite instituted by our Lord. It was a generation ago all but a universal practice. Now, like so many others, this custom is neglected. There is such a shortage of food to-day, and so many ages of food to-day, and so many people are dying of starvation, that it seems incredible that Christian people should neglect to thank God for the gifts of nature which we enjoy in such abundance.

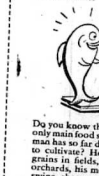
NO ONE tipped him off to new synthetic yarns which would endanger his markets. Now, new ways and new materials are passing him by.

NYLON ::: produced by chemistry from coal, air and water after ten years' patient research ::: is an example. This wonderful new yarn is already flowing into the manufacture of glamorous hosiery and will soon be used in foundation garments, lingerie, and many other textiles, thus creating new Canadian jobs and new standards of beauty and service.

SERVING CANADIANS C-I-L THROUGH CHEMISTRY

Looking Ahead

Fish by the acre . . . seeing through a tree . . . and oil-resistant rubber.



Do you know that fish is the only main food supply which man has so far done nothing to cultivate? He grows his grains in fields, his fruit in orchards, his meat in cattle, swine, sheep.

Now, however, with the aid of the chemist, our supplies of fish are to be increased. Fertilizer spread on the surface of fishing waters, stimulates growth of the basic fish food (plankton), so that fish grow and multiply much faster. Fish yields in farm fish ponds have jumped 400% with this treatment.

Can you see through a tree? Someone might say, "yes, by X-ray"; but that's not the answer. Chemistry, almost by magic, can do it by transforming Canadian wood pulp into liquid cellulose and then into transparent "Cellophane" with which so many of your purchases are protected on their way to you. "Cellophane" cellulose film is made by C-I-L at Shawinigan Falls, Quebec.

Rubber is a grand material —in the right place! But some of the uses to which it has been put were just a bit too much for its constitution. Exposed to sunlight, oil, gasoline or chemicals, natural rubber quickly deteriorates. And that is where neoprene synthetic rubber comes in. It can take most of the abuse that gets natural rubber down.

Further information on any of these products is obtainable by writing "Looking Ahead", C-I-L, P.O. Box 10, Montreal P.Q.

DORLAND

Dorland, April 13th — The dry spring has enabled farmers to sow land that was too wet to work last year and even some that had not been sown for two years. Seeding is well along but owing to continued frosts and chilly winds growth is advancing slowly. The land is working well and if needed moisture and warmth comes there should be a better crop than there has been for some time.

The travelling public was glad to learn that the large ferry boat was back on the route at Genora. The old boat was not sufficient to handle the heavy traffic in some of the recent high winds and a number of motorists had a long drive around by Belleville.

34 New Features in the New Dodge

IT'S BETTER THAN EVER . . . the beautiful, new, Dependable Dodge.

Thirty-four important new features and improvements, added to Dodge time-tested engineering and design make it the finest low-priced car ever built by Dodge.

It's New . . . with new solid, wrap-around bumpers for greater protection . . . new, massive grille of glittering chrome . . . new enamel finish, smooth as silk—yet harder than ever . . . new, streamlined rear fenders with lowered side opening to protect body finish from flying stones . . . luxurious, two-tone, French-pleated upholstery that blends with the colorful plastics and shining metal of the new instrument panel and steering wheel.

It's New in performance . . . finger-touch starting with the new push-button, mounted on the instrument panel . . . quicker warm-up and easier cold weather starting with a new intake manifold, having a greater heating area and better gas distribution . . . new, rotor type oil pump which gives required oil pressure over the range of engine speeds and temperatures . . . new enclosed, universal joints for added protection on rough roads . . . new, sturdier, rear axle ring gear and pinion . . . new gas tank filler which prevents dirt blockages in the gas lines and is self-cleaning by action of the gasoline in the tank . . . and many other improvements in engineering and design, including the great brake improvement described at the right.

See this New Dodge now at our showrooms . . . let us demonstrate these many new features . . . drive it . . . compare it . . . and judge for yourself.

THE GREATEST BRAKE IMPROVEMENT IN 24 YEARS

You will be amazed at the efficiency of these new brakes the first time you drive a new Dodge. A light touch on the pedal immediately gives you sure, smooth brake action, of all car speeds; and gentle foot pressure holds the car smoothly and evenly as you ease down the steepest hills. The new-type 2-cylinder front brakes and the improved rear brakes, greatly increase control and stopping power, and actually reduce the needed foot pressure by twenty-five to thirty percent. Brake linings last longer than ever. The new-type brakes are the most important advance in brakes since 1924, when four-wheel, equal pressure hydraulic brakes were first introduced. Try them today!

The House of 13's

Robert Hird, Newburgh, is hoping that Number 13 is not his unlucky number. If he thought it were he would very quickly move out of the new house he built recently to replace his home which was burned last June.

In looking over his new house, he finds it has 13 sets of double rafters, 13 windows, 13 doors, 13 lights, 13 steps upstairs, and is 13 paces long.

Besides, it is the 13th house he has lived in since he came to Canada, 26 years ago (twice 13. His age is also three times 13; he has been married 13 years and 13 will divide equally into the total ages of his family.

To complete the thirteens, the item was reported to The Beaver on Saturday, April 13th.

Ward Hodgston Purchases Plane

WEDDING BELLS

HOWDEN - DIBB

A very pretty wedding was solemnized on Friday, April 12th, at St. Mary Magdalene's Church, Napanee, Ont., by the rector, the Venerable Archdeacon R. J. Dumbrille, when Margaret Elizabeth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William H. C. Dibb, became the bride of George William Howden, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Howden of Columbus, Ont., and a former member of the Napanee Royal Bank staff.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, and looked very charming in a romance blue Barathea wool, dressmaker suit, with navy accessories, small flower hat, and corsage of pink roses. Her only attendant was her sister, Marjorie, who wore a sunset pink suit, which was an exact replica of the bride's with brown accessories and a nosegay of sweetheart roses and sweet peas. Prof. W. R. Eppes presided at the organ.

The best man was John Howden of Columbus, Ont., a brother of the groom.

The altar and chancel of the beautiful church were decorated with white snapdragons and baskets of spring flowers. The bride's grandfather, the late Rev. Frederick Thomas Dibb, was a former vicar of the parish.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. Among those from out-of-town who attended were Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Howden, and Mr. John Howden, Columbus, Ont., Mr. Robert Howden, of Woodstock, Ont., Mrs. Catherine Howden, of Toronto; Miss Ann Howden and Mrs. John J. Moore of Brooklin, Ont., Mr. and Mrs. R. E. White, of Stratford; Mr. Geo. Johnston of Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. Gordon M. Miller, of Belleville, and Dr. and Mrs. Kenneth McKinnon of Renfrew, Ont.

For travelling the bride donned a matching top coat of Romance Blue with grey Arctic fox trim, and navy hat. Mr. and Mrs. Howden will reside in Leaside.

KIMMETT - WICKLAM

A quiet wedding was solemnized in the parsonage at Selby, April 10, when Stella Carol, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Wicklam, Roblin, became the bride of Robert Keith, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Kimmett, Rev. W. R. Merrick, United Church minister, officiated.

The bride wore a heavenly blue dressmaker suit with matching accessories and a corsage of Talisman roses. Miss Gwen. Kimmett, sister of the groom, was bridesmaid, wearing a black dressmaker suit with white accessories and corsage of Talisman roses.

Mr. Raymond Wicklam, only brother of the bride, was best man.

The groom's gift to the bride was a chest of silver; to the bridesmaid, pearl eartings and to the groomsman a billfold.

A wedding dinner was served at the home of the bride, after which the happy couple left on a motor trip to Toronto, Niagara Falls and points west. Upon their return they will reside on the farm of the groom.

Mr. Cuthill was born at Falkirk, Edinburgh, Scotland, about eighty years ago and came to Canada with his mother when he was a small boy. He had lived at Anderson practically all his life and had farmed one farm for over fifty years. He was a member of the United Church, of which he was one of the Official Board and was active in all community affairs.

Mr. Cuthills wife, formerly Josephine Howell, predeceased him 25 years ago and he is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Roy Robertson, Napanee R.R. 6; one son, Wilfrid, at home, and one sister, Mrs. J. His funeral was conducted at his late home on Saturday afternoon, by Rev. William Parker, and interment was at Riverside Cemetery.

WELL FED GERMANS

London (Reuters) — Michael Cardinal Faulhaber, Archbishop of Munich, in a pastoral letter on his stay in Rome during the February consistory, said that in Italy he had seen 50,000 German prisoners of war whose food was so ample that they wanted to send some to their families in Germany. Vatican radio said recently in a broadcast to Germany.

In Loving Memory

THOMPSON — In loving memory of a dear wife and mother, Mrs. John Thompson, who passed away April 13th, 1945.

In our hearts your memory lingers
Sweetly, tender, fond and true;
There is not a day, dear mother,
That we do not think of you.
Ever remembered by her HUSBAND,
16ap and FAMILY.

ANDERSON — In loving memory of my dear husband, William R. Anderson, who suddenly passed away on April 22nd, 1945.

No morning dawns, no night returns
But that I think of him;
Those left behind are very dear,
But none replaces him.
Since he's gone, it's not the same;
The world is bleak and bare;
I miss him every place I go
For he just isn't there.
I like to think, when life is done—
Wherever heaven may be—
That he'll be waiting at the door
Up there, to welcome me.
Lovingly remembered by his 16ap WIFE, SARAH.

YORK — In loving memory of our dear father, Henry Manson York, who passed away April 18th, 1944.

Two years have passed since that day,
When one we loved was called away.
Loving and kind, in all his ways,
Upright and just to the end of his days.
Sincere and true in heart and mind—
What a beautiful memory he left behind.
But sad to think, you had to go
Without a chance to say good-bye.
Lovingly remembered by daughters, EVELYN, LAURA and son, FRED.

Canadian Friends Send Eight Tons of Cod Liver Oil To Needy of Europe

An order has been placed by the Canadian Friends for eight tons of cod liver oil to go to Europe. The Friends are still anxious to receive funds to help to pay for the remaining 32 tons of the allocation. It is likely that the bulk of this will now be sent early in the Fall in preparation for the long Autumn-Winter feeding programmes. During the Summer it is hoped to send other items more easily dealt with than cod liver oil.

The Canadian Friends War Victims Relief Fund would like to express its thanks to those who have already contributed to the Fund.

The present situation in Europe is extremely grave in spite of all that is being done and competent observers forecast that next Winter will be even worse than the last one. A report just issued has this to say of conditions in Central Europe:

Austria: Some industrial communities have daily calorie rations as low as 600 (North American normal is approximately 3,000)

Germany: Reductions in caloric levels in American and British zones of occupation to less than 1200 per day.

Hungary: Infant mortality rate 42 per cent. In November 1945, 70 per cent. of all babies were still-born. Rationing allows 500-800 calories daily but coupons not always honored.

The old-fashioned farmer was hard to convince. No, declared he, I'll have no such contraption in my house. Planners are bad things. Oh, but father, protested his daughter, this is an upright piano.

NAPANEE W.C.T.U.

The March meeting of the W.C.T.U. was held in Grace Church, Tuesday, March 26th, the president in the chair. After opening exercises, Miss Rook took charge of the devotional period and brought a splendid message. She quoted Sir Richard Grenfell as saying that early in life he swore off the use of alcohol in private life as well as in practice. Miss Rook took for her theme, The Beauty of the Common Place. We should put the spirit of divine service into all our tasks. A short talk on Letitia Yeomans was given by Mrs. Truscott. Rev. Mr. Haw then gave an inspiring address, based on the recent Temperance Federation Convention. He stressed the fact that the purpose of Jesus was to bring life, whereas beer parlors destroy life. The church must strive to remove obstacles to abundant living. Many evils exist because of liquor in the home, also through lack of law enforcement. Mr. Haw stated some facts regarding the worth while work of the church and the W.C.T.U. and challenged them to be more militant.

Some points gained at convention were: A determination to get women's beverage room eliminated, improvement in legislation, an attempt made to keep the liquor trade from securing more outlets. Every effort should be made to secure county local option; stopping subtle advertising, enforcement of C. T. A., treating alcoholics as sick.

A discussion followed and it was decided to send a resolution to the Ministerial Association regarding cooperation between the ministers and the W.C.T.U. in an effort to remedy local conditions.

The meeting closed with the benediction, pronounced by Rev. Mr. Haw.

HOUSE COMMONS PLANS CHANGE IN REGULATIONS

Ottawa. The rules committee of the commons last Thursday made two important proposals to the House designed to accelerate business of Parliament. They are:

1. A change in the rules that would enable the House to cut off a debate forthwith after it had been proceeding for thirty hours.
2. Enable a special committee to consider estimates and thereby shorten the time the whole House in committee of supply must take to study them. The committee, headed by Speaker Gaspard Fauteux, presented the report and the proposals are likely to bring on a full dress debate because, Parliamentarians say, the first proposal provides a form of closure more effective than any now in the rule book.

If the proposal is adopted the Speaker will be able at "such intervals as to him appear advisable," to ask the House if it is ready for the question and if no objection is taken then vote will be taken at once.

Should five or more members rise to object to a vote at that time, then the Speaker will call a division and if the majority favors the immediate vote on the question before the House then "he shall proceed forthwith to put the question."

When the budget comes in and it's moved that the House resolve itself into committee on ways and means, the budget debate begins and may continue for several weeks with the official Opposition moving an amendment and one of the other groups moving a sub-amendment. There is no way of forcing a termination of the debate except by the cumbersome rule of closure which is rarely used.

Under the proposal after 30 hours debate the House, by a majority vote, can end the debate and divide the House on the amendments and the main motion, without further delay.

The proposal would be in addition to the existing closure rule which has to be moved by a Minister and notice has to be given the day before it is brought into effect. After the closure comes in, members can only speak once and then for not more than twenty minutes so it requires several hours before closure actually ends the debate.

Q How much notice must I give a tenant when she is over fifteen days overdue with the rent?

A. A tenant who is fifteen days behind with rent has no protection whatever from the Rental Regulations. This comes under Provincial law and we suggest that you consult a lawyer as to the proper procedure re giving notice, etc.

WHO HAS ALL THE MONEY HE WANTS?
Joe Green is a steady worker with a steady job. He has always met his bills. But now, because of sickness, he suddenly finds he is short of ready cash . . . tomorrow he will go to his bank and arrange a Personal Loan.

You may find yourself in the same position as Joe Green. Anybody may! Personal loans through your bank make it possible for you to anticipate future earnings. This is an essential part of its services.

Such loans may be obtained to meet financial needs of many kinds; to lay in ahead a winter's supply of coal, to pay municipal or other taxes in time to earn the discount, to provide for home repairs, to send a boy or girl to college, to consolidate debts—indeed for any sound reason.

Bank credit runs through all personal life and commercial life. It operates silently and unobtrusively. You take it for granted. That is the way Canadian banking works.

FIRST NAPANEE WOLF CUB PACK

The meeting was well attended with only two Cubs from the whole Pack missing. This gives a 92 per cent. attendance for the evening. Coupled with this record attendance was a turn-out of full uniform on the Cubs present.

Following the routine opening ceremonies, Akela inspected the members of each Six with regards to junk in the pocket.

For games period the Pack played "Hares and Hounds," Baggars relay" and "Light the Candle."

Instruction period was taken by Akela and his subject of discussion was the Artist Badge. Also discussed was the sketch used as an alternative to the second star model.

Announcements for the forthcoming week were two-fold. The first was the cancellation of the next meeting, Saturday, April 20th, due to the Easter holidays. On next Saturday afternoon Akela and the Pack will be on a hike. The Cubs will assemble at the Cub rooms before ten-thirty in the morning. Equipment for the hike will be a light lunch, pocket knife, camera, field glasses and the Sixes are to bring a small notebook and pencil. No uniform is to be worn on this hike.

The meeting closed with Cub Silence, Lord's Prayer, Flag Down and Dismissal.

EVERY time a new telephone is installed the scope of your service is enlarged. You may not need to call many of the new subscribers, but when you do, they are within reach—and it may be urgent.

We have added more than 75,000 telephones since V-E Day. As we bend all our efforts to catch up on delayed orders, the scope of your service will continue to grow—its potential value will increase.

In 1946 our outlay for expansion and improvements will exceed thirty million dollars.

CHURCH SERVICES EASTER SUNDAY WELL ATTENDED

Beautiful Music Easter Messages In All Churches

Church services in Napanee on Easter Sunday, which was a perfect day, were exceptionally well attended. All the church altars were decorated with lovely Spring flowers and Easter Lilies and special music and Easter messages featured all the services.

At St. Mary Magdalene's Anglican Church a Children's service was conducted at 10 a.m. by Archdeacon F. Dumbrille, the rector. Two small boys, Michael Cressury and Malcolm McPhee sang an Easter carol. Teddy Ham, who was also to have sung, was prevented from being present because of illness.

At 11 a.m. over 300 were in attendance for the Easter Communion in St. Mary Magdalene's Church. Archdeacon Dumbrille conducted the service and was assisted by Rev. J. A. M. Bell, Principal of Appleby School at Oakville. Malcom McPhee, aged 6 years sang the solo parts in the Benedictus and the Agnus Dei. The choir's anthem was "They have taken away the Lord," by Stayner, with Mrs. T. D. Sneath singing the solo parts. In the evening there was also splendid attendance, for the service which was conducted by the rector assisted by Rev. J. A. M. Bell.

ST. PATRICK'S CHURCH

The usual Easter services were conducted by Dean E. M. Leary in St. Patrick's Roman Catholic Church. Rev. A. C. Hudson, B.A. Rector of Regiopolis College, Kingston, was the preacher for the day. A large number of graduates and many former members who were visiting in town for the week end, approached the Communion table. The sermon at the Mass was sung by St. Patrick's choir under the direction of Miss Agnes Cavanaugh, the organistress.

TRINITY UNITED CHURCH

Rev. Noble Hatton conducted both morning and evening services in Trinity United Church and delivered eloquent sermons, appropriate to the Easter festival on the subjects, "The Triumph" and "The Life Everlasting."

At the morning service, Mr. Hatton dedicated a Memorial Tablet, placed in the Church in memory of Lieut. William Spencer Webb, by members of his family. The morning anthem was sung by the choir of boys, under the direction of Mrs. J. E. Madden, was Mueller's "Alleluja."

In the evening the anthem was "Vesper Bells" with Mrs. Harold Denison singing the solo part.

Included in the choir were Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Cochrane and nine of their children, who sang following the Offertory the chorale "Light out of Darkness." Mr. Cochrane sang the solo "Jesus of Nazareth, King," and Miss Adelina Cochrane sang the solo "Rabonni." Just previous to the service Mrs. Robert Smith played a violin solo, Bach-Gounod's "Ave Maria."

GRACE UNITED CHURCH

The Easter services in Grace United Church were largely attended and for the morning service the choir were in the auditorium and gallery was filled and extra chairs had to be provided. The service was in charge of the minister, Rev. C. D. McLellan, who delivered an appropriate sermon on the subject, "The Triumph of the King." The exquisite floral decorations were placed on the communion table by the girls of the Christadelphian Girls-in-Training. A rose plant was in the chancel and was donated by Mrs. O. S. Davis in memory of her husband, the late O. S. Davis and an Easter Lily was also placed in the chancel in memory of Pilot Officer Donald Reid, who was killed in Englan. This lovely lily was given by the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Reid Mr. Reid, in a brief address, thanked the donors for the lovely flowers.

Mrs. B. M. Black presided at the organ and led in the singing of lovely Easter hymns. The choral music was in charge of Mrs. W. Tyrrell, choirleader and the anthem was "Christ is Risen, Alleluia." The solo parts were exceptionally well sung by Mrs. Drury and Earl Morrison, Master James Hunter sang the solo, "Easter Joy" with much expression. The concluding number was the vocal solo "The Holy City" which was sung by Earl Morrison.

For the evening service Mrs. Black played several numbers preceding the service and the subject of the sermon by Rev. C. D. McLellan was "The Crucifix of Eastertide." The anthem was "All, in an April Evening," and the special communion was "Hosanna" by Grainier, which was well sung by Mervyn Clark, of the Royal Bank Staff.

In addition to the several hymns, Mrs. W. V. Drury sang a solo, "Awhile in Spirit" and G. F. Emlin sang "Follow the Gleam."

Memorial Hall Building Committee Holds Meeting

A meeting of the Building Information Committee re the County Memorial Hall was held recently under the chairmanship of Mr. Frank Correll. Plans for the erection of a new building were discussed. Consideration was also given to the possibility of the purchase and remodelling of several town properties.

The suggestion that the hall should have accommodations for a youth recreational centre and possibly a swimming pool was given favorable consideration by the committee.

The meeting adjourned to meet again as soon as more specific data regarding plans and costs could be obtained.

UNITED KINGDOM DETAILS AID TO RUSSIA

London — Premier Clement Attlee told the Commons that Britain delivered supplies worth $81,712,000, to Russia between October 1st, 1941, and March 31, 1946.

Of the total, military supplies amounted to $1,252,000,000. Mr. Attlee said, the remainder being in such items as medical goods and food.

Mr. Attlee said Britain sent Russia 5,218 tanks and 7,411 planes. Of the tanks, 1,388 originally came from Montreal, Canada, and 3,129 of the planes had been supplied to Britain by the United States.

The statistics were given during question hour in he Commons. Thomas Steffington — Lodge (Labor) suggested that such information be broadcast to Russia by the BBS "to enable our Russian allies to develop a better perspective in judging the relative merits of those who contributed to our united victory."

Mr. Attlee stid the suggestion seemed to be a good one and he would consider it.

DON'T PIGEONHOLE "THE BLIND"

An only too common mistake among the sighted public is to speak and think of "The Blind" as a closed corporation of people who think alike, act alike and who all follow one of three occupations — music, begging, or making brooms. Loss of sight does not automatically confer musical genius, the beggar's temperament or the broom -maker's skill! Blindness can happen to anyone.

The circle of the blind cuts the circle of every other social and economic group — rich and poor, young and old, professional men, labourers and housewives. The accident of blindness does not change a man into a different person. He still thinks and feels and enjoys the same things. Lack of sight may curtail his activities somewhat, but not nearly as much as many sighted people presume.

Sightless men have entered the Insurance business, the real estate business and many other forms of business and industry. There are blind professors, poets and preachers. There's a blind man in an Ontario town who edits his oth weekly newspaper. And there are the more familiar occupations of piano tuning, stenography, operating tobacco stands and cafeterias, running stores of various kinds. There are several blind farmers. Any one of these blind people does a full days work on the same basis as his sighted' contemporaries. He has his home life, like anyone else. He plays bridge, bowls, skates, dances or goes to the theatre. He may have a hobby, such as carpentry. In his workshp he can produce anything from a neatly turned tool chest to a motor boat . . . yes, it has been done !

Each blind man doesn't do all these things. He has his own tastes and inclinations . . . he had them when he was sighted . . . and with careful training and ingenuity a sightless man may be able to continue his old hobby or occupation in the dark.

Such training is the part of The Canadian national Institute for the Blind. One of the Institute's major undertakings is the rehabilitation and reorientation of the sightless man as an individual. It is a long-term task requiring the teamwork of teacher and pupil, of experience and patience, of understanding and perseverence. It also requires money — your money.

About sixty per cent. of the Institute's funds are contributed by those Canadians who regard it as one of the responsibilities of citizenship to assist those less favoured than themselves. Those who can see owe it to their blind fellows to give them the opportunity offered by the C.N. I.B. to lead independent and interesting lives. The Campaign for funds to maintain this important humanitarian work in Napanee and Lennox and Addington County opens this week. This appeal is being conducted by the Napanee Committee of the C.N.I.B. Your generous response will be appreciated.

High Winds Keep Local Firemen Busy

On Thursday, the local Fire Department were called to extinguish a flue chimney and stovepipe fires.

The first call was put in during the forenoon, when pipes became ignited at the home of Dick Richardson in South Napanee.

The next came from the home of Harry McNeill on Bridge Street, and before the work could be taken care of at that place, two more calls were put in, one from Robert Hanna's home on the Newburgh Road, and one from the home of Fred Tanner on Centre Street.

No damage was sustained at any of the places.

Shirt Makers Told To Cut Output Sport Types

Ottawa. — Shirt manufacturers have been instructed since the beginning of the year to make specific numbers of lower-priced shirts, instead of the fancy, higher-priced sports shirts, Prices Board officials said last week.

They could not predict when the supply of everyday shirts would appear in the stores. Manufacture of women's shirts has also been curtailed in favor of those for men.

The Prices Board directive to shirt makers came as a result of manufacture of unusually large quantities of the sports garments, on which there is a larger profit than on the ordinary variety.

M.P. ASSAILS 'SATURDAY NIGHT'

Ottawa.— J. F. Pouliot (L.-Temiscouata, last week described editors of the weekly publication "Saturday Night" as belonging to "the petrified brain trust of dedicated bachelors and spinsters that form the Civil Liberties League of Toronto".

On the floor of the Commons he took issue with the March 30 edition of the publication, which, he said, complained about him having called some professors "seditious" in connection with Canada's espionage probe.

The paper had also said he was guilty of contempt of court "for recalling souvenirs of 10 or 12 years ago." Mr. Pouliot said he would take up the publication's challenge that he was "afraid" to repeat the statements outside the House.

He would do so when "I speak in Eastern Ontario (Brockville) on April 13th."

Already the demand for tickets has become a major problem for the Committee to cope with. The Committee in charge is asking Churches and Church groups across Canada of the Communions participating to join in the service, which is to be broadcast from 8 to 9 p.m., Eastern Daylight Saving Time (which begins that day) over a C.B.C. national hook-up.

The service is being held under the auspices of the Canadian Council of Churches of which Dr. W. J. Gallagher, Toronto, is General Secretary. and will be presided over by Archbishop Derwyn T. Owen, Anglican Primate of all Canada, who is Chairman of the Council. Three Committees are responsible for the service which is under Bishop A. R. Beverly as chairman; Governing with Archbishop Owen; and Management under Mr. Norman McKibbin all of Toronto. Rev. Bruce Millar, of Toronto, Executive Secretary of the Crusade for Christ and His Kingdom of the United Church of Canada, is secretary of all committees.

Girl Preachers In Mission Fields

Toronto. — Horses, bicycles, buggies and even one or two student motor-cars will be the mode of transport for 23 girls now training in United Church colleges, who will go preaching in mission fields throughout Canada this summer.

"These girls will be at work fields in the Prairie Provinces, British Columbia, Alberta, Ontario and possibly the Maritimes," said Rev. M. C. Macdonald of the Home Mission department. "They will have from two to eight preaching points on their charges. Most of them will preach three times a Sunday."

Although the girl preachers will not conduct communion services, baptize babies or marry people (only ordained ministers may do that) they will organize and conduct Sunday Schools, look after vacation camps and schools, and conduct funerals.

As for salary the girls will receive the same as any student preacher—$16 a week plus board and travel.

United Church officials said that in all they expect to send 204 women and men out to mission fields for the summer.

PLAN TO COLLECT SPARE MEAT COUPONS TO HELP EUROPE

Food Organizations Authorizes Plan

A campaign to face additional meat for export to hungry countries by collecting unused meat ration coupons was announced April 22nd by the Food Information Committee.

The announcement said the campaign was worked out when it became apparent, through a spontaneous movement to turn back meat coupons to the Government, that individual Canadians were "seeking" some tangible way to help the millions abroad who now stand in the shadow of famine."

Under the plan, expected to be in operation within 10 days, organizations registered under the War Charities Act may appoint official custodians to receive surplus coupons. The custodians so authorized must register with the local ration board or ration branch office, where they will receive an official card authorizing them to collect coupons.

The announcement said the system would prevent coupons finding their way into the black market. Strict account of the number of coupons turned in will be kept by the ration boards and the amount of meat thus saved will permit increased shipments overseas.

REFORESTATION GIVEN GOOD START IN N. FREDERICKSBURGH

Large Number Trees Planted Recently

During the past week large shipments of trees have been received at Napanee, consigned to farmers in North Fredericksburgh. These trees have been shipped from the Department of Lands and Forests Tree Nursery, at Orono, Ont., and as soon as received are being planted by workmen, under the supervision of Mr. Edwards, the zone forester, newly appointed at Napanee, and Mr. Asselatine, representing the township.

The first plantings were done on the farm of Major P. K. Ketcheson, who has been active in interesting the township in this vital work, as well as the County Council.

In 1945, the County appropriated the sum of $5,000 to further this work and at the last meeting of the same year went on record to bonus the township at the rate of $2.00 per acre up to 100 acres, annually. North Fredericksburgh Council, at the first meeting in 1946 decided to proceed with the project and appropriated half a mill to further assist in the cost of planting.

During the planting many interested people visited the scene of the undertaking and it was a pleasure to watch the transformation of an area totally unsuited for cultivation into one of future beauty and productivity.

Owing to the shortage of nursery stock many farmers who had planned to reforest quite large areas had to be satisfied with fewer trees than had been requisitioned, so that the acreage will not be as large this first year as hoped for. There will be some 20 acres of the forest completed this month, as well as several windbreaks around fields and roadways.

The trees were received in splendid shape and the rain on Friday night gave those planted a very fine start.

The planting of these areas will in the course of a few years have a most beneficial effect, not only upon the farms where they are planted but upon the areas surrounding them, as it has been found particularly in European countries that if forest cover is reduced below fifteen per cent. there is a decrease in productivity of all the land. This danger point has been passed in many areas in Ontario.

Organized reforestation is the answer to many problems confronting farmers in this County and will provide full utilization of our waste land.

It is to be hoped that the start in this project made by North Fredericksburgh will expand from year to year and the example will be followed by other townships in the County. Great praise is to be given the Council, under the leadership of Reeve Perry, and the chairmanship of Mr. Walter Sills, who have made and are undertaking the success it has proved to be.

PROVINCES HAVE SAY - SO ON HOLIDAYS

BY R. K. CARNEGIE

Ottawa. — Final decision on changing Dominion Day to Canada Day must await the return of the Senate from Easter until after the Easter recess.

A private members' bill proposing the change and introduced in the Commons by A. Philéas Cote, Liberal member for Matapedia-Matane, passed second reading, advanced through committee stage and got third reading all in one day, and went forward to the Senate.

That speedy action to change the name of the mid-summer holiday from Dominion to Canada Day received a decree of attention in the country barely believed on a measure introduced by a private member.

Those who oppose the change have been appealing to the Upper House to reject the bill so that the Commons could have another go at it next year. There is no indication yet what the Senate will do.

JURISDICTION PROVINCIAL

The discussions over the bill have resulted in many queries to the Secretary of State which show a great lack of understanding as to the powers of Parliament to deal with public holidays. Actually Parliament's authority, except in times of emergency is limited and the bill, were the jurisdiction rests with the Provincial Legislatures. The only holiday that has any Federal authority behind it is Sunday.

The Dominion has established a list of statutory holidays, but the only people who have to abide by them are banks and Dominion civil servants. "The Bills of Exchange Act defines what days shall be "non-judicial" meaning that bills of exchange such as notes that normally would fall due, for example tomorrow, will not fall due until Saturday. Tomorrow Good Friday, is a non-judicial' day in effect. It prevents the banks from doing ordinary business so they stay closed.

Under the Civil Service Act days are set aside as holidays and Parliament has authority to decide the holidays of the employees of the Dominion Government, but its authority stops there.

If the bill changing Dominion Day to Canada Day becomes law, then the country, the Bills of Exchange Act and the Civil Servants Act must be amended, substituting Canada Day for Dominion Day.

"Parliament cannot force the Provinces to change their acts," one of the legal advisers of the Government told The Canadian Press. "When Premier George Drew said Dominion Day would be the name retained in Ontario, he was quite within the Ontario Legislature's jurisdiction."

He explained that any laws forcing places of business to be closed on holidays, other than Sundays, are either Provincial laws or municipal laws.

CLOTHING NEED FOR EUROPE VERY GREAT

The misery which has piled up in Europe after the war-hunger, disease and destitution, is sapping millions of men and women of energy the will to achieve, and even of hope for life. A world deprived of the strength and courage of millions in a world that is also shorn of its best Europeans countries that it formerly was of order and lasting peace. Every possible way help must be given to restore to some extent the health and vitality. One of the ways in which every individual Canadian can help is to donate some used clothing for these people, for it will help them to maintain their self-respect, give them courage and hope for the future.

William M. Birks, national chairman of the Canadian United Relief, which is sponsoring the National Clothing Campaign from June 17th to June 29th next, stated today that Canadian clothes closets, chests and cupboards packed to overflowing, shoes and bedding has October, to help meet the requirements of one million men and women and children. But according to UNRRA and other relief agencies who are working in Europe and Asia, this is only a very smal lpercentage of the destitute, homeless and looted millions of those continents. In the face of inflation, scarcity and ruin, there are not the means, and no hope of obtaining the means, to buy what little new clothing there is available. Chairman Mackenzie King says that the conditions are so appalling that this second appeal in the generosity of the Canadian people is imperative, and has the fullest support of the Dominion Government.

TWISTING THE TRUTH

Last week we called attention to the necessity of public men using great self-restraint when speaking of the international situation. There are times when nations, like individuals, become sensitive and jittery. Most nations are like that to-day. They have come through a world war, and now have a bad case of nerves. Under the circumstances, nothing should be done or said by men in public office, that would give cause for resentment.

It has happened, as we surmised it would. Premier Drew's statement about Russia, has been twisted out of recognition by the Russians who are giving their own interpretation to it, and presenting that interpretation to their people. A Reuter's dispatch from London, on Monday, has this to say of the reception of Premier Drew's speech, in Russia:

"Premier George Drew of Ontario, has been accused by the Soviet radio commentator Lozovsky, of demanding war against the Soviet Union.

"In an English-language broadcast from Moscow Sunday, Lozovsky said that Col. Drew had told an audience at Chatham, Ont., to start fighting the Soviet Union' and had demanded economic sanctions and a blockade against Russia.

"The flame of Col. Drew was known to no one in Europe during the war' said Lozovsky, "but now after the war he moves heaven and earth to make himself known through the world. He is convinced that he has been elected to save the world.

"'Like Joan of Arc, he has visions. He has heard mysterious voices. He lifts up his hands and urges war against the Soviet Union unless this detested power submits to Britain and America.

"'If Col. Drew were better informed he would know that economc sanctions, blockade and armed intervention were all tried against the Soviet Republic after the first war.

"'Reactionaries put their hands into the fire as naively as Colonel Drew does to-day — and they burned their fingers'."

It would take a good deal of imagination to make Premier Drew's speech mean all that. But there it is!

STRIKES

Scarcely had the war ended than this North American Continent was thrown into a turmoil by strikes. Workers struggled to take advantage of consumer demand by seeking higher wages. Management seeking to maintain profits, protested an increase in wages without a compensating increase in the price of goods to the ultimate consumer. So the tug-o'-war began. It is not over yet! Compromises have been reached in most cases, some increases granted, both to workers and employers.

The situation, however, has not clarified or stabilized. There are others besides the workers who go on strike. Just now the struggle centres around the meat packing industry. There is still a price ceiling on the price of meat, but the black market is undoubtedly a protest against those ceilings, and an effort to get them removed. Some increase has been permitted, for example, on farm machinery. But in a general way, the ceilings have held. Now it would appear as though a direct attack is being made on the meat ceilings.

We have protested loud, and long, that the price controls should be maintained through the period of readjustment. Should they be removed, the situation which prevailed in the riotous twenties will be repeated. Prices will soar, wages will tag along behind and the vicious spiral will twist irresistibly. Then the inevitable crash will come, when prices will drop and a depression set in. There is no way to avoid this save by government controls. It is hard to see how people can be blinded by their own self-interest. Everybody tries to get on the merry-go-round and then it breaks down.

It is difficult to evade the conviction that the United States are in such an inflationary movement now. Most of the controls have been removed, prices have risen, and wages are high. Both are mounting. Where it will end is as plain as a pikestaff to those who remember 1929. We in Canada are closely linked to the American economy. American firms operate in Canada. American Labor Unions know nothing about the International Boundary. Under that close tie-up it will be difficult to avoid the pressures for removal of price levels here, so that they conform on a more or less general way to those in the United States. Nevertheless we must make the effort. We did a good job in controling prices and wages during the war. We were the envy of others, whose cost of living reached much higher levels than ours. If we did that in wartime, we can repeat it in peacetime — given good will by all parties to production, and courage and determination on the part of the Government and its control boards. Otherwise, we will be in for a bad time, later on!

CROWDED CHURCHES

On Easter Sunday, churches all across this country were filled to capacity. In many of the Toronto churches, men and women had to queue up, so great was the demand for an opportunity to worship. The cynic will have a ready explanation — the women wanted to show off their finery: it is a twice-in-the-year experience, Easter and Christmas. That is not the truth, by any means. No doubt many people are attracted by the special music, or by the special appeal of Easter. That is not to be discounted. Nevertheless, there is something deeper than that. Even a casual observer must know that in spite of certain evidences to the contrary, there is a new interest abroad in the land.

The great evangelical churches are all engaged in seeking to meet this new concern, and to bring to men and women who have been indifferent to her demands, the message of hope and comfort for weary people, and guidance to a bewildered and disillusioned world. Quietly and without blare of trumpets, this work has gone on. Reports of a reliable character indicate that on Palm Sunday, thousands of such unattached people were brought into the fellowship of the Church. In this, all churches seemed to have shared.

This is as it should be. During the war, when the very life of the nation was at stake, national days of prayer were proclaimed. Once the danger is passed, we hear nothing more of these. Yet, the need for Divine guidance is great, and the danger to the national life, though perhaps not so vivid, is none the less real. The Cape Cod Standard Times, published in Hyannis, Mass., sensing this situation, has suggested, on a front page editorial, a brief prayer, every day, by Christians, for the U. N. O. It suggests the following: "Father, Thy will be done, through the United Nations. Amen!" It has been endorsed by many leaders, and Dr. Sockman has twice used it to his seven million listeners to his broadcasts.

There are great and pressing dangers ahead of all the nations. But none so great that they could not be solved, if the spirit of prayer, the spirit of the churches, prevailed. The phenomenal Easter attendance is a hopeful omen for the future!

DESPICABLE

There are millions of people, to-day, starving! The President of The United States says the need of food is greater than it has ever been. Hundreds of millions of people face death by starvation, unless we, who have more than we need, take steps to cut our consumption and share our blessings with others. It is suggested that we, in Canada, stop wasting food. It is estimated we waste fifteen per cent. of all food served. Judging by the amount left on some plates, we would have thought the percentage even higher. This is a way even the poorest of us can help — cut out the waste.

The most despicable suggestion we have heard and it was made seriously, though anonymously, in the daily press, is that the loaf of bread sold to the Ontario customer should be reduced in size, but that the price for the reduced loaf remain the same as that for the loaf now being sold. Can anyone think of a more heartless, brutal suggestion. It simply amounts to this—that there are some people who want to capitalize on the world's suffering and to that end would increase profits on bread. That the hunger of starving people should be used as a medium for making money by people already overfed and rolling in wealth, is a cold, callous and inhuman suggestion.

AN. REPORT C.N.R. SHOWS SURPLUS 24 MILLIONS

Ottawa. — Although traffic volume began to decrease slightly in the last three months of the year, reflecting "the change in pace and direction as the nation moved out of war-time emergency into reconstruction," a surplus of $24,754.10 was turned over to the Federal Treasury by the Canadian National Railways as a result of 1945 operations. This was made known when the system's annual report, signed on behalf of the board of directors by S. C. Vaughan, chairman and president, was tabled in the House of Commons, by Hon. Lionel Chevrier, Minister of Transport. The surplus, available after payment of interest due the public and the Government, was $1,729,206 greater than the surplus of the previous year.

Revenue freight in 1945 amounted to 79,941,296 tons and 30,207,680 passengers were carried, the report indicates.

Seven-Day Tourists Get Ration Cards

Tourists visiting Canada for seven days or longer may apply for special temporary ration cards, the Prices Board announced recently.

The cards issued for periods up to a month, will be available either from special offices to be set up at border points or from the local ration board in the district visited.

Officials said the arrangement was devised to provide for tourists who have their own summer cottages in Canada or planned to visit friends or relatives. Those stopping at hotels or boarding houses do not require ration cards regardless of the length of their stay.

However, Canadian citizens holding ration books are required to surrender coupons to hotels or boarding houses if they remain two weeks or longer.

MOTHER CARE ACT Among Many Bills Passing Legislature

Pre-natal Care For Expectant Mothers — Two New Departments Created — 176 Bills Introduced

Designed to aid and improve conditions throughout Ontario, one of the largest volumes of new and amended legislation was dealt with by the 22nd session of the Ontario Legislature recently concluded. A total of 176 bills was introduced, 132 being public bills and 44 private measures. Of these 152 were passed.

New Health Measure

Included in this large volume of legislation are many measures implementing the Drew Government's progressive policies in the fields of health, education, law enforcement, agriculture, highways, welfare, etc. Particularly in health measures, under the direction of Hon. Russell T. Kelley, a bill was approved providing for free medical examination of all expectant mothers. Under this new departure, expectant mothers receive a free medical examination upon making application to a medical practitioner who forwards a report to the Department of Health. The doctor making the examination is to be paid a $5 fee by the government.

Two New Departments

Two new departments were set up under legislation introduced by Premier George Drew. These are, first, the Department of Travel and Publicity, headed by Hon. G. Arthur Welsh, and the Department of Reform Institutions, headed by Hon. G. M. Dunbar. Departments dealing directly with these two problems are now in provincial administration. The Travel and Publicity Department will direct its work toward aiding the tourist business and publicizing the province. Officials estimate that the forthcoming season will be the largest in years with upwards of 12,000,000visitors expected. The Reform Institutions Department will direct the new five or six institutions to be erected at various points throughout the province under the new policy for handling certain types of inmates.

Continue Grants

Continuation of educational grants to municipalities, counties and townships to relieve the tax burden on the local tax payer is provided for in the budget. A record highway construction and improvement program is to be implemented with expenditures of $40,000,000 to be made.

Complete revision of liquor sales is to be made under the Liquor Control Act, a step designed in the course of temperance. Another measure introduced by Attorney-General Blackwell provides for widening of Provincial Police work by new wardproved frequency modulation radio system. This will institute new methods in crime prevention, the new system knitting together the whole police system by permitting not only station to car two-way communication but car-to-car communication.

Subsidies Continued

A new minimum wage for men is to be brought in by regulation, Minister of Labor Charles Daley announced. Subsidies on cheese, hogs and sugar beets are continued for another year by measures introduced by Minister of Agriculture T. L. Kennedy. Another bill from his department sets up the Ontario Food Terminal to be built in York County for handling fruit and produce. The Conservation authorities Act provides for such authorities in various parts of Ontario, similar to the Grand River Conservation and Thames River control commissions. Three municipalities within a watershed may proceed to create all authority under this measure to control flood conditions.

Historic Mace

The session occupied 25 sitting days. This included nine night sessions, and one morning sitting. At prorogation, the historic mace, symbolizing the King's authority, and used at the first legislature held in Ontario at Newark (Niagara-on-the-Lake) on April 17, 1792, was taken into the Chamber. The first session was at Newark, now Niagara-on-the-Lake. On April 27, 1813, this mace was seized by U.S. troops when capturing York. It was taken to Washington remaining there until 1934 when the late President Roosevelt directed its return here. Premier Drew announced it will be encased in glass and placed on exhibition in Parliament Buildings.

A select committee was appointed on motion of Premier Drew to study and spoil on members' indemnities.

American Eyes Are On The "New North"

Always on the lookout for something new and different, travelling America apparently has its eyes on the wilds of Northern Ontario. In a story in the latest issue of The Saturday Evening Post, Bertram B. Fowler, famous American writer says "the territory of Northern Ontario is so vast and the stock of game and fish is of such proportions that to give an account of the bare facts is to be placed in the position of being accused of gross exaggeration."

In preparing his story, called "Canada's New Paradise for Sportsmen," Mr. Fowler made several trips through Ontario, and went as far north as Moosonee, to find a wilderness vast beyond the comprehension of many thousands of persons living just south of the border. For a size comparison, he names the State of Texas, often called "an empire in itself"; yet which is ronly half the size of Ontario. Another comparison he with Minnesota, which is advertised as The Land of Ten Thousand Lakes. Yet Ontario has more than 2,000,000 lakes, many of them quite untouched by fishermen. He describes Ontario as a land of terrific contrasts, rolling back from the Niagara peninsula, with its watermelons and grapes, to the icy waters of the Arctic, where the hardy soul can shoot his polar bear. Geese and duck shooting, canoe trips, camping, motor trips through the hinterlands, how much money one needs, and what clothes to wear, all enter into the story, and since it is written by an American for Americans, it is good medicine for Canadians who are interested in the tourist trade, to show them what our best tourist customer is looking for when he comes to the wilds of Northern Ontario.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

The Editor of
The Napanee Beaver,
Napanee, Ont.

Dear Mr. Editor:

As a member of the County Council for Lennox and Addington and, not being able to attend the March Session on account of illness, I would appreciate it, Mr. Editor, if you would allow me space in your valuable paper so that I may place my opinion before people of this county as to certain business transaction that took place during the above mentioned session.

First, in the matter of tender for truck from Mr. R. H. McFarland, where Mr. Frank N. Ham, chairman of the County Roads Committee refused to sign the adoption of the Road Committee's report, and where I notice the report, in one of our local papers that Mr. Ham made the statement that he believed R. H. McFarland's tender should not be accepted;

Secondly, I wish to say that as a member of the County Roads and Good Roads Committee, I would have voted in favor of Mr. McFarland's tender, and for very good reasons;

Thirdly, during the two years that I was chairman of roads, Mr. McFarland did take nearly all the old out-of-date machinery in trade-ins that the County had on hand and allowed very good prices for them. There were old steam engines, horse-drawn grader wagon and so on matter of fact there were no bids offered for many of the articles, from other dealers.

Therefore, I wish to congratulate the members of the County Council and Road Committee for their good judgment in supporting the adoption of the Road report, including Mr. McFarland's tender.

I also wish to congratulate Mr. McFarland for the many years of good service he has rendered to this County and sorry to say that I cannot congratulate Mr. Ham for refusing to sign the adoption of the Road report.

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, for all this space, I remain,

E. J. Courneya,
Reeve of Sheffield.

EXPORT CONTROLS HELD NECESSARY

Ottawa. — Necessity of export permit controls, limiting Canadian exports, was stressed last week in an address by W. Frederick Bull, director of the Trade Department's export division.

Speaking to directors of the Canadian Exporters' Association, Mr. Bull said export markets offering higher prices were "no benefit to Canada in our supplies." Canada's prices had remained low because the Dominion had maintained her price ceilings.

He said the controls were imposed originally to ensure supplies for the Canadian forces and the Allies while supplying domestic needs. One reason they were still necessary was to ensure fulfilment to the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration and to the United Kingdom.

CHRISTIAN FAMILY WEEK – MAY 6-12

The annual observance of Christian Family Week has come to play a vital part in the home, church and community life of many sections of Canada. Sociologists, educationists, law enforcement officers, and governmental agencies unite in fixing upon the homes of our nation the responsibility for the attitudes, ideals and behaviour of youth. By the same token must the homes be looked to for the quality of citizenry of the Canada of the future. Rich in natural resources, this great country must become rich in character revived. It is to these ends that organized places of leadership in the family of nations. Christian Family Week can contribute much to the achievement of these high ends.

The Ontario Religious Education Council, representing the major Protestant denominations, and the Y.W.C.A. and Y.M.C.A., supply upon request free literature which provides invaluable aid for Mother's Day Service, May 12th, Family Night at Home, and other activities suggested for the observance of the week in interesting and profitable ways.

All homes and churches are invited to participate in Christian Family Week, 1946. In what more suitable way could our nation celebrate the ending of the war with Germany in May 1945. Our lads fought for the physical security of our homes. We must fight on for their spiritual security. The boys' dearest dream was to return home. We must labour to make home life measure up to their dreams. Observe the first anniversary of V-E Day by observing Christian Family Week, 1946.

What every housewife should know... about SUGAR FOR CANNING

There is a world-wide shortage of sugar. Last year world sugar production was twenty-five percent below 1939. Reasons for the decrease are:

- Destruction of the sugar industries in Java and the Philippines.
- Shortage of labour and fertilizer in many sugar-producing countries.
- Last year's drought in the Caribbean area, especially Cuba.
- Damage to European sugar beet fields.

World sugar supplies are pooled for the benefit of the United Nations. Canada, the United States and Great Britain are allotted an equal share of sugar according to population. Available supplies must also be shared with other countries.

TEN POUNDS OF CANNING SUGAR PER PERSON

This year's canning sugar allowance is ten pounds per person —the same as last year. Instead of special canning sugar coupons, ten additional green "S" coupons are being made available for the purchase of canning sugar.

S8 to S12 inclusive become valid on May 2nd; S17 to S21 inclusive on July 4th. Each coupon is good for the purchase of one pound of sugar.

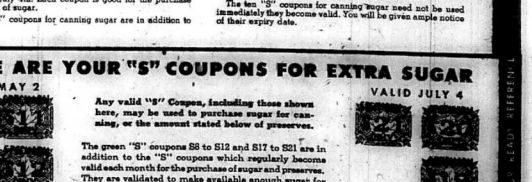
The ten "S" coupons for canning sugar are in addition to the "S" coupons which regularly become valid each month for the purchase of sugar and preserves.

Those who do not wish to do home canning may use the extra coupons to buy commercially packed, jams, jellies, canned fruit, etc., or sugar to supplement the regular ration.

The ten "S" coupons for canning sugar need not be used immediately they become valid. You will be given ample notice of their expiry date.

THESE ARE YOUR "S" COUPONS FOR EXTRA SUGAR

VALID MAY 2 — VALID JULY 4



Any valid "S" Coupon, including those shown here, may be used to purchase sugar for canning, or the amount stated below of preserves.

The green "S" coupons S8 to S12 and S17 to S21 are in addition to the "S" coupons which regularly become valid each month for the purchase of sugar and preserves.

They are validated to make available enough sugar for home canning or for other household uses.

AMOUNT OF SUGAR USED IN CANNING

Each housewife may use her canning sugar to fit the needs of her particular household. A common method is to allow ½ lb. sugar for each quart sealer of canned fruit, and 1½ lbs. sugar for each quart of jam or jelly.

SUGARLESS METHOD OF CANNING FRUIT

Many home economists recommend the sugarless method of canning fruit. Sugar can be added during the winter when the fruit is used. If you have not a copy already, write the Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, for "Wartime Canning" leaflet.

SANDHURST W. A.

The April meeting of Sandhurst W. A. was held at the rectory with seventeen members present. The meeting opened with a hymn. Prayers were said and the scripture was read by Rev. Mr. H. C. Secker. Roll call was answered by members. The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. The treasurer then gave her report which showed a balance on hand of $29.62. Thankofferring which exceeded former years, amounted to $35.62. The report of the annual was ably given by our president, Mrs. William Ham, after which Mrs. Clarinabod seconded by Mrs. A. P. Young, extended a hearty vote of thanks to Mrs. Ham. The collection was taken which amounted to $7.11. The educational secretary, Mrs. F. Ham, read an interesting article from the Living Message, after which Rev. Mr. H. C. Secker closed the business part of the meeting with the benediction. The Dorcas committee took over and sewing and knitting were done. The hostess, Mrs. Secker, served a dainty lunch which was enjoyed by all.

TRINITY W. M. S.

The Easter meeting of Trinity W. M. S. was held on Tuesday, April 16. The president, Mrs. Switzer, voiced a welcome to the large attendance of members and visitors. Mrs. Lashley, in charge of the devotional period, was assisted in reading by Mrs. Davis, Mrs. Chailles and Mrs. Beattie. Miss Barbara Caldwell sang, "The Head That Once Was Crowned With Thorns." Mrs. Leslie Bell was guest speaker. Her subject was John Wesley. She told of his work as a preacher of great power and also as a social reformer. He laid down the principles which largely govern modern humanitarian social service. He wrote pamphlets on taxation and denounced the slave traffic as contrary to the laws of God. He also raised his voice against the iniquities of the liquor traffic. We are all indebted to John Wesley and his teachings.

An interesting report of the annual meeting of the Belleville Presbyterial of the Women's Missionary Society held in Trenton, was given by Mrs. Truscott.

The meeting closed with the benediction by Rev. N Hatten. A social half-hour followed and tea was served by the committee in charge.

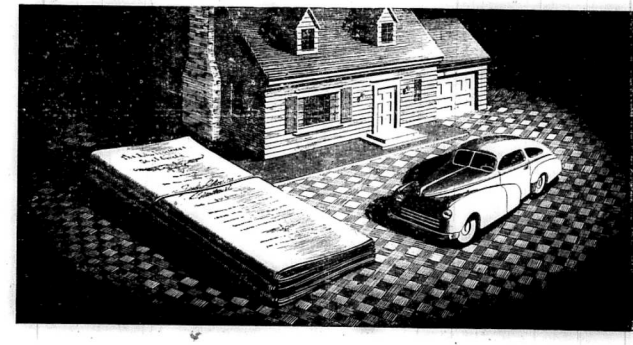
Yes ☐ No ☐



Yes In thousands of cases, $18,000 represents a man's life savings.

No In an estate, as the total amount left to care for dependents, $18,000 is not a lot of money.

To make it stretch over the years, to turn every last penny to good account, requires the most careful administration.

Actually, more than one-half the estates in our charge are less than $25,000.

That we are meeting with approved success in their administration is evidenced by the steadily increasing numbers coming to us.

We welcome inquiries on any estate problems, of whatever size.

ELEVEN MEMBERS
COCHRANE FAMILY
AT EASTER SERVICES

Mr. and Mrs. Will C. Cochrane had for Easter visitors their two daughters, Adelina and Isabella, from Queen's University, and son, Irving Dundonald from Toronto University. The family of eleven sang in the choir of Trinity Church, directed by Mrs. Madden and enjoyed Mr. Hatton's beautiful messages, morning and evening. Irving returned to Toronto Monday a.m. for lectures in the forenoon. The remainder of the family finished the holiday appropriately by attending the wonderful organ recital given in St. George Cathedral, Kingston, by Prof. Flor. Peeters, of Malines Cathedral, Belgium.

Mr. Cochrane was particularly interested as he had sung "Les Rameaux" and Belgian National Anthem" in a church in Bougui, near Mons, the first Sunday after Armistice Day, 1918, and later in Brussels, and was present for the triumphal entry of King Albert, in Mons. Professor Peeters played all of the very magnificent recital from memory, on a strange organ and came from New York, to do so. It was indeed a rare treat.

The Late Frank Hart

Following a short illness, Mr. Frank Hart, a well-known farmer of North Fredericksburgh, near Napanee, died early Wednesday, April 17th, 1946, at his home. Mr. Hart had been in ill-health for the past few years.

Mr. Hart was born at Camden on May 3rd, 1884, and was the son of the late Nelson Hart and Margaret Ann Thompson. The past 42 years of his life were spent in North Fredericksburgh.

In 1903 Mr. Hart married Dora Fairbairn and is survived by his widow and two sons, Morley of Violet, Frederick of Napanee and two daughters, Mrs. W. King Clay (Ila), Kingston, and Mrs. Harold Heggart (Mary) of Napanee. A third daughter (Doris) died in infancy. Mr. Hart had seven grandchildren. He is also survived by three brothers, Alex., of Tamworth, Edward of Roblin and Nelson of Napanee. Mrs. William Smith of Napanee, Mrs. Albert Youngs of Napanee and Mrs. John Marshall of St. Catharines.

Mr. Hart rested at the Tierney Funeral Home, Napanee, and the service was conducted at Morven, by the Rev. Rowe Seymour of Cataraqui. Interment was at the Morven cemetery.

The pall-bearers were neighbours, Mr. William Dillenbeck, Mr. Lawrence Chadwick, Mr. Albert Walsh, Mr. Albert Sampson, Mr. Wilfred McAllister and Mr. Daniel Hunt. Ten of Mr. Hart's nephews were flower bearers.

S. D. Goodridge read an address and Mr. and Mrs. Schultz were presented with a silver casserole and silver salt and pepper shakers.

WEDDING BELLS

BROOKS - DUNCAN

Picton United Church parsonage was the scene of an interesting wedding at 1 p.m. on Monday, April 15, when Rev. A. E. McCutcheon united in marriage Jessie Ruth, daughter of Mrs. J. Duncan, R.R. 1, Bloomfield, and Corpl. Walter Overton Brooks, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Brooks, Dorland. The Bridal March was played by Miss McCutcheon.

The bride wore a street-length dress of white sheer with shoulder-length veil caught to the head by a flower arrangement. Her flowers were pink roses. Mrs. Harold Roseborough, of Bloomfield, was matron-of-honour. She wore pink sheer with matching hat and corsage of pink roses.

Mr. Roseborough attended the groom.

A reception followed at the Hotel Gilpin. The bride's mother wore a navy sheer with white accessories. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Brooks, Mr. Neil Brooks, Mr. Arnold Brooks, all of Dorland; Mrs. John Rumbough, Napanee, and Mrs. Edna Allen and Miss Berniece Allen, of Picton.

Later, Corpl. and Mrs. Brooks left for a honeymoon trip to points east. They will reside at Bloomfield. The bride travelled in a light blue ensemble with brown accessories.

The groom recently received his discharge from the Armed Forces after two years' service — six months of which were spent in a German prison camp.

McGREER - McRORY

On Saturday, April 20, at twelve o'clock noon in Stewarton United Church, Ottawa, a quiet wedding was solemnized when Evelyn Pearl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. McRory, Sydenham, became the bride of A. Rae C. McGreer, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Victor McGreer, Sydenham. Rev. F. S. Milliken officiated.

The bride, who was attended by Miss Theda Benn, wore a Jamaica beige suite with lime green hat and contrasting brown accessories. Her corsage was of Talisman roses. Mr. Burton McGreer was groomsman.

After a reception at the Chateau Laurier, the couple left for Toronto and Western Ontario. On their return they will reside in Kingston.

Mr. and Mrs. Lt.-Col. and Mrs. A. C. McRory, Ottawa, Miss Doris McGreer, Sydenham, and Mr. Burton McGreer, Toronto.

THE WEDDING OF LIEUT. F. CAMERON BROWN AND MISS JUNE LIGHT

A toast to the early meeting of the two families was proposed at the reception which followed the wedding on Monday, March 25th, 1946, of Lieutenant F. Cameron Brown, of the Seaforth Highlanders, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Rae Brown, Napanee, Ont., Canada, and June, who served in the Land Army, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Light, Green Lanes, Palmers Green, London.

Over forty guests attended the reception at the Mayfair Hotel, London, Eng., to wish the young couple every happiness, after the ceremony had been performed at St. Michael-at-Bowes, Palmers Green.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a lovely white crepe gown, with a long net embroidered veil, which was held in place by a coronet of white hyacinths. She carried a bouquet of roses and Presia.

The bride's two younger sisters, Doreen and Yvonne, and two friends, Estelle and Lyn, attended her and wore white silk with coronets, and bouquets of primroses, forget-me-nots and Polyanthus.

Mr. John Fletcher, an old friend of the family, was best man. The happy couple left by plane for the "Emerald Isle" on Tuesday morning.

VICTORIA W. I.

The annual meeting of Victoria Women's Institute was held Thursday, April 18, at 2 p.m. at the home of Mrs. W. A. McLeod. This meeting marked the tenth anniversary of the branch, which was organized in April 1936. Guests included the district executive of ten years ago, who consisted of the organization meeting at that time. Mrs. D. Weese, president, was in the chair and conducted the opening exercises, after which she extended a hearty welcome to the guests and members, and called upon Mrs. H. R. Paul of Rollin to preside for the election of officers. The slate of officers for 1946-47 is as follows: President, Mrs. D. Weese; 1st vice-president, Mrs. Ivan McFarlane; 2nd vice-president, Mrs. H. Denison; secretary-treas., Mrs. W. McGraham and Mrs. F. McFarlane; dist. director, Mrs. H. Edgar.

Mrs. Paul extended congratulations and complimented the officers and members on the splendid success attained during the past ten years, from a membership of nine in 1936 to a present enrollment of thirty-five. Mrs. Frank McFarland had charge of the program. Mrs. Graham reviewed in poetic style the life story of the branch, after which Mrs. M. Denison and Mrs. Rose presented an amusing skit. Mrs. Everton Thompson, of Bath, in a short address, stressed the pressing need of economy in foodstuffs, especially bread, which is so urgently needed in Europe. Mrs. Denison presented a humorous memento sketch.

Mrs. A. P. Young and Mrs. H. B. Claringbold, of Bath, extended congratulations and Mrs. W. McCracken favored with music. A contest which was won by Mrs. Claringbold, closed the greeting.

Following the meeting the guests and members visited the dining-room, decorated with spring flowers, where the lace covered table gleamed with shining silver. A beautiful birthday cake formed a charming centrepiece, flanked by tall yellow candles in silver holders. Mrs. A. Graham, the first president of the branch, and Mrs. D. Weese, the present president, poured tea, and five young lady members assisted in the serving.

Mrs. Rose extended thanks to Mrs. McLeod for her charming hospitality.

Europe Faces Greatest Crisis

BY DeWITT MACKENZIE
A.P. Writer On World Tour

Paris — This is by way of checking out of Europe, because I'm flying home to the United States.

On this trip I have seen history in the making, for Europe is in the midst of the greatest crisis it has known. There remains one outstanding impression to be recorded:

We can learn some thing from Europe, but they're mostly things not to be done rather than those which should be adopted.

Those who look to Europe for guidance are chasing illusions. The old world is pursuing all sorts of "isms" for the precise purpose of arriving at the state of well-being which exists in North America. People of all classes are aiming at the life of the new world. Untold thousands would give their right arms to be able to emigrate to North America.

The trouble with Europe is that, broadly speaking, it never has achieved even a smattering of the democracy. This continent now is undergoing a great metamorphosis which is calculated to improve the position of the underprivileged. The ideal is perfect, but my observation is that in many instances countries are going about the transformation through the application of theories which may raise the standard of living somewhat in the long run but which at the same time are depriving the man in the street of personal privileges and the right of private initiative.

Europe offers nothing to compare with the way of life developed on the basis of freedom of the individual and the right of private initiative.

An Assured Egg Market for the Lifetime of Your 1946 Chicks!
CONFIDENCE IN THE MARKET
RIGHT now you can look ahead and see a profitable, and assured market for your eggs for at least a year and a half—the normal lifetime of your 1946 chicks. The "gamble" has been taken right out of poultry.
There is no reason to suppose Canadians will seriously cut down on their egg consumption — which is high. Then, too, the British egg contracts have been settled not only for 1946, but for 1947, providing a basic floor price for all the surplus eggs we are likely to produce. British requirements for 1948 will be announced before the end of 1947. The demand for poultry meats—both domestic and foreign — is equally strong.
CONFIDENCE IN BRAY CHICKS
Bray Chicks are bred to be vigorous, thrifty, fast growing and quick developing — the very qualities you must have in May chicks to have them mature and laying for the profitable fall and winter season. If you have been holding off ordering your Bray Chicks for 1946 — or if you need additional chicks to take care of summer losses and fall pullets — place your order now. You can have confidence in the market. You can have confidence in Bray Chicks.

"... AND NOW FOR A POUND OF EGGS MADAM?"

● Quoting eggs by the pound would be confusing, wouldn't it? You buy eggs by the dozen, milk by the quart, meat by the pound. By what measure do you buy electricity?

You buy electricity by the kilowatt-hour, and you should know what a kilowatt-hour can do for you.

An electric lamp or appliance is usually marked "60 watts"; "500 watts", "1000 watts", as the case may be. The mark simply indicates the number of watts of electricity that the lamp or appliance will use. A kilowatt is simply 1000 watts. A kilowatt-hour is 1000 watts used for one hour—or 100 watts for ten hours. So that one kilowatt-hour will operate your 1000 watt electric iron for one hour. And at what a small cost!

The average urban rate for Hydro in Ontario is about 1-1/5c per kilowatt-hour. Just over 1c to light a 100-watt lamp for 10 hours, or drive a washing machine for four hours! Isn't it great to live in Ontario, where Hydro rates are among the lowest in the world?

"Meet my neighbour... my rainy-day expert"

"Pretty swanky, eh?" said Henry's neighbour, eyeing the new sunroom. "How come? Did you win some money at the races?"

"Meet my neighbour . . . my rainy-day expert," said Henry. "As my life insurance man, he helped me finance this new sunroom fifteen years ago."

"Fifteen years ago!" exclaimed the builder, glancing from one to the other.

"Years ago he gave me a new slant on life insurance—'Provide for the rainy days . . . then you can enjoy the sunshine.' So that's the way I budget. My life insurance premiums are the first call on my income. That means I don't have to worry about Kitty and the kids. Then I figure current expenses, right down to so much a week for movies and ice cream cones. And then! . . . whatever I can bank over and above that is velvet. When it mounts up, Kitty gets a new gadget for the kitchen, or we smarten up the house. This new sunroom comes out of our velvet."

* * * *

There is nothing like life insurance to give a man peace of mind. He can enjoy spending if he is sure that the future of his loved ones is secure. Everyone wants independence and protection for his family . . . and when that is insured, a man can indulge his whims.

Next you, wherever you are, is a neighbour in the life insurance business. Ask him for advice in planning your future. It is good citizenship to own life insurance.

WORLD FOOD EMERGENCY

Starvation threatens in the Far East and hunger in Europe. We are sending food. We must send more. The need is now—until harvest!

We must help feed a hungry world

A serious shortage of food in certain areas of the world was expected, but crop failures in many areas, and lack of distribution facilities, seeds, and tools in others created a food shortage of alarming proportions. Only immediate deliveries of staple foods can sustain the hungry millions.

PRODUCE AND SAVE — MORE

Since 1939, our per capita record of food exports has exceeded that of any other country. Food production has soared; Canadians have eaten well in spite of war. Today, the seriousness of the world's food situation calls for even greater efforts. We can increase our food shipments and still have enough for our needs.

THIS IS WHAT WE CAN DO

We can ship more WHEAT, FLOUR, MEATS, CHEESE and EGGS if as great quantities as possible are made available for shipment during the next four months.

PRODUCERS! — DELIVER TO MARKET.

CONSUMERS! — BUY LESS OF THESE FOODS — BUY ONLY FOR IMMEDIATE NEEDS—WASTE NOTHING—PLANT A GARDEN—SUBSTITUTE VEGETABLES FOR AS MANY OF THESE VITAL FOODS AS YOU CAN.

This will increase supplies at storage depots, thus freeing additional needed foods for the world's hungry. There can be no permanent prosperity for us . . . or anyone . . . while hunger and despair afflict large areas of the world.

Share with the hungry!

Read WHAT OTHERS SAY ABOUT MIRACLE FEEDS

Winnipeg, Man., May 18, 1945

Ogilvie Flour Mills Co.
Montreal, Que.
Dear Sirs:

I have used Ogilvie Miracle Calf Meal for the past two months and I am more than pleased with the results obtained. I could not imagine there could be such a difference in Calf Meals. However, after using Miracle I am satisfied that it is the finest that can be fed to young calves and the surprising part is that it costs no more than other brands. My young calves are in excellent condition and a lot of this is credited to MIRACLE Calf Meal.

I have also been feeding Miracle 30% Dairy Supplement to my herd of ninety cows and have noticed a decided increase in milk production which is more than will cover the cost of this Supplement. Not only has my milk production increased, but my cows are in far better condition.

Yours truly,
J. L. L.

P.S.—I have ordered another ton of Miracle Calf Meal today.

(Original on file)

The average calf when fed grain, hay and milk, requires almost a ton of milk from birth to six months. Give your calves "Miracle" Calf Meal and you will have 800 more milk calves fed on "Miracle" Calf Meal are healthier, grow faster and are free of rickets. ODDFELLOWS LODGES ATTEND SERVICE IN TRINITY CHURCH

Rev. Noble Hatton Speaks on "Friendship"

The 127th anniversary of the founding of Oddfellowship in America was fittingly observed in Trinity United Church on Sunday morning, when the officers and members of Napanee Lodge No. 86; Argyll Lodge No. 212; Mount Ararat Encampment No. 16 and Queen of Sheba Rebekah Lodge No. 234 met for divine service. The members of the various lodges gathered in the rooms of Napanee Lodge No. 86 and with J. S. Douglas, and E. L. Deline, past noble grands, as marshals, proceeded to the church where they were preceded by the noble grand of Queen of Sheba Lodge, Mrs. Fred Tanner, and the officers and members. There was an attendance of approximately 100 Oddfellows and about 35 members of the Rebekah Lodge present.

The sermon was preached by Rev. Noble Hatton, who selected as his subject: "Conscious Cement of the Soul" and introduced his sermon with two lines from a poem by the Scottish preacher-poet, Robert Blair.

The minister's address was based on the friendship between David and Jonathan, which is well known to the members of the Order. "All friendship worthy of the name," said he, "should develop the highest and best in us and eventually speak to us of the Divine Friend," Mr. Hatton said. He stated that friendship such as that of David and Jonathan was needed to-day, as much as in the olden time.

He extended a hearty welcome to the members of the Order and stated that it was a pleasure to have them present.

The music was under the leadership of Mrs. J. E. Madden, organist and choir leader, and consisted of a well-sung anthem by the large choir.

'PENSION FUND' Subject of Address AT GRACE CHURCH

There was a large attendance at Grace United Church on Sunday morning when an impressive sermon was preached by the minister, Rev. C. D. McLellan, who selected as the subject of his address, "The Church Has An Answer." The large choir, under the leadership of Mrs. W. V. Drury sang the anthem, "My God, How Wonderful Thou Art." Mrs. B. M. Birch played at the organ and in the evening contributed a number of selections preceding the service.

The guest speaker in the evening, was Arthur J. Brown, a prominent layman, of Toronto, who spoke on the Pension Fund, and told of the reasons for requiring an increase in capital for the fund. He stated that the United Church ministers are not paid well enough to provide their own pensions, and said that the average annual income of a minister of the United Church was $1,875. The speaker also pointed out that such a low salary provided little incentive for young men to enter the ministry.

Following the service Mr. Brown met the Official Board and answered a number of questions before leaving for Belleville. The Board expressed approval of the Pension Fund Drive and pledged support with unanimity.

The special soloist was J. Gordon Lancaster, of Carleton Place. The service was in charge of the minister. Mr. D. McLellan.

'BUD" HISTED MENTIONED IN DISPATCHES

Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Histed received official congratulations from Ottawa, on the honour and distinction which has come to their elder son, P. C. (Bud) Histed, through his being mentioned in Dispatches, in recognition of gallant and distinguished services.

"Bud" donned the King's uniform on his 17th birthday, having enlisted with the 32-34th R.C.A. at Napanee on June, 1940.

After thirteen months' training in Canada, he was sent to England with the 14th Field Regiment, where he took several signal courses. As a signaller, he took part in the Dieppe raid and on D-Day he took part in the invasion of Normandy.

"Bud" was twice wounded, but not seriously, and returned home last August. In March of this year his English bride, a former member of the R.A.F., joined him here.

This is the first of Camden East boys to be honoured and congratulations are extended to "Bud" and his parents.

OUTLINES 5-POINT CAMPAIGN TO SAVE FOOD

Ottawa. — Hon. H. F. Bridges, Fisheries Minister in a national CBC broadcast, last week, appealed to Canadians to help individually in conserving food to help meet the "urgent and desperate" situation in other parts of the world.

His address, prepared for delivery, outlined a five-point campaign. It asked Canadians to:—

1. Waste no food.
2. Buy for immediate needs only. Leave on the shop shelves the goods not immediately required.
3. Use less meat, less flour and other wheat products, less cheese, fewer eggs.
4. Turn in surplus valid meat coupons to those authorized by the Price Board to receive them. This would make additional meat available to the Canadian Meat Board for increasing shipments to those in need.
5. Plant home gardens and use the vegetables produced to replace other foods.

Goods Supplied

The Minister said that from the beginning of 1939 to December 31st last, Canada supplied other countries with more than 1,375,000 tons of fish food products including 300,000 tons to the British Food Ministry. The Dominion's fish exports averaged 1,- 000,000 pounds for each day of those seven years.

The salt fish administration, set up in 1943, is supervising shipments and allocations to the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration. Allocations of salted and canned fish in Canada and the United States were established under the Combined Food Board.

Canada had the machinery in operation for ensuring which could be made available reached those who were hungry. Maximum effectiveness of this machinery depended on continuing co-operation of the industry in maintaining fish production at its high level and on public recognition of any necessary temporary dislocations which might occur in domestic supply.

ONTARIO REPORTS ACUTE SHORTAGE OF FARM LABOR

Ottawa. — The farm labor situation is tight in most parts of Canada, Labor Department officials report. The most active is reported in Ontario where there are about 1,500 unfilled orders for farm help on hand.

Despite this condition, however, reports received indicate seeding operations in Ontario are well under way and in some sections have been completed.

Most favorable reports are from the Prairie Provinces where the labor situation is described as better than last year. This is attributed to the return of members of the forces who, in that part of the country, are more tendency to stay on farms rather than turn to urban areas.

In British Columbia expectations of a fruit crop larger than last year have led to increased demands for help and a tight situation prevails. Quebec has reported a light situation in the area around Montreal and some other larger centres with the supply easier in the sections not easily accessible to industrial employment. The situation in the Maritime Provinces was described as "fair."

Latest figures on farm wages place rates at all-time highs. For January, 1946, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported the average Canadian farm wage for male help, with board, at $57.26 a month, compared with $55.61 in January, 1945, and $20.42 in January, 1940.

PLANS PROGRESS FOR DRIVE USED CLOTHING

Throughout the Dominion local communities are beginning to form the committees which will spearhead the drive for used clothing that is to take place from June 17 to June 29, under the auspices of the Canadian Allied Relief. As was the case last October, when the Canadian people contributed over 12,000,000 pounds of serviceable clothing, which was promptly despatched to the war-devestated countries of Europe, the Service Clubs are being invited to take a leading part in the coming campaign.

Philip Lovejoy, Secretary of Rotary International, has sent a letter to the Presidents of all the Rotary Clubs in Canada, asking them to appoint a representative from each of their clubs at the earliest possible moment "to act in forming a representative local committee and serving as an active member of that committee". The clubs are advised to "choose a man who is determined, aggressive, well-known and well-liked in the community — in short, a natural leader — and half the success of the drive is already assured".

In his letter, Mr. Lovejoy points out that at the request of the Canadian Government, William M. Birks, of Montreal, had been asked to act again as National Chairman for the drive, and the splendid achievement of Rotary Clubs of Canada in the first National Clothing Collection has prompted Dominion authorities to ask Rotary Clubs once more to spearhead the local organization in each community. It went on to point out that the success obtained in the first drive was due to the complete coverage obtained through more than 1,900 local committees and the aggressive leadership of well-chosen local chairmen. The letter was expressed that these local committees are still largely intact and could be used as the nucleus for this second important campaign.

PEPPER SHORTAGE MAY LAST FOR SEVERAL YEARS

Washington, (B.U.P.)—The United States Department of Commerce reported that Sumatra, the world's largest pepper producer is not expected to resume shipments soon and abundant supplies are not looked for before 1950.

Under Japanese occupation, Sumatra's pepper gardens were uncared for and the vines planted there will not reach maturity for seven or eight years, the U.S. Department said. It reported that economic conditions are being delayed in Sumatra by political unrest, shortages of labor and equipment, and financial difficulties.

Writing in the May 4 issue of the Foreign Commerce Weekly, Gregory V. Knibbe of the Department's Office of International Trade, said Sumatra's industries face these problems:

Rubber — plantations were badly neglected under Japanese occupation and plans for rehabilitation have been delayed.

Tobacco — the industry has to start over again as tobacco land was converted for food-growing by the Japanese.

Petroleum — many wells entirely out of commission as a result of the Dutch scorched earth policy.

Palm oil — about 80 per cent. of plantations are affected.

Tin — many mine installations were destroyed.

Magistrate's Court

Appearing before Magistrate Garvin, in the Napanee Court, Thursday, Michael DeBone, Napanee, charged with reckless driving, was found guilty and was sentenced to pay $50 fine and costs or to serve one month in gaol. The charge laid was the aftermath of a collision between DeBone's truck with a transport. Constable Smith, who laid the charge against DeBone said, in his evidence, that the three occupants of the DeBone truck, Michael DeBone and Mr. and Mrs. William Schryver, had been drinking.

Other Traffic Cases

J. A. Walker, Verona, was sentenced to seven days in gaol for driving a car while in an intoxicated condition and his car was impounded for three months.

For driving a car without proper lights, Gerald Thompson, Cataraqui, paid a fine of $10.00 and costs.

A fine of $10.00 and costs was paid by Hilton Frink, Odessa, for being intoxicated in a public place.

JOHN FISHER RADIO COMMENTATOR SPEAKS IN NAPANEE

Guest Speaker At Lions Club Ladies' Night

MR. JOHN FISHER

John Fisher, who holds the interest of Canadians with his regular commentaries on the Canadian Broadcasting System, appeared in person in Napanee as the guest speaker at the Lions Club Annual Ladies' Night, held on Monday evening. His address, on the subject of Co-operation, Harmony and Courage, which was delivered in the Armouries, following the dinner served in the Superior Banquet Hall, was based on the observation he had made in a tour of each town and a visit to some of the town's well known charaeters, during the afternoon, on Monday.

Preceding John Fisher's address the audience in the Armouries heard a concert of band music of outstanding quality, given by the Boy Band of Trenton, which is sponsored by the Lions Club of that town and is led by Mr. Fred Hagerman. The programme, two boys, members of the band, displayed their ability by leading the unit in two marches. Both these young men won top honors at Kiwanis Musical Festival at Toronto, recently.

At the dinner, Vice-President Percy Ashton was in charge of the meeting, and with him, Gerald Smith, acting as chairman, and Ernie Gibbard, who extended a welcome to the ladies.

The chairman of the meeting in the Armouries was Lion Russell Hunter. The speaker was introduced by Gerald Smith.

JOHN FISHER'S ADDRESS

In part, John Fisher's address was as follows:

"Some night at 6:30, if you turn on your radio you will hear from me a story something like this: "I came along the highway from Kingston and as we came to the top of the rock-cut hill they said, 'There it is.' I looked and could see nothing but spires and trees. 'But,' they said, 'you have to visit Napanee to see it and know about it.' I found that to be true. Never have I seen such hospitality and such Western part of Canada. I have been entertained in a most interesting manner. We went down by the river where landscaping was being done; we roamed through Gilbard's Furniture Factory where beautiful walnut was being dining-room suites, etc. are made— but getting an

GOING TOO FAR

'Lucio' in The Manchester Guardian, of March 8th, calls attention to a recent report from Upsala, which is rather disconcerting, to say the least. The writer says in the article, headed "Post-Mortem Researches" :—

"The latest meddling with the bones of the departed great has just been reported from Upsala, where the tomb of Gustavus I has been opened, and we are told that an X-ray examination shows that he suffered from "serious disorders" which are supposed to account for various episodes in his career. Now, presumably, historians and biographers will be all for further investigations of the kind on which new theories may be built, new books issued, and new royalties gained from book and film.

"We have done a little in that sort of thing over here—in the case of Charles I, for instance whose tomb at Windsor was, sacrilegiously as many thought, opened by Sir Henry Halford and a portion removed of the fourth cervical vertebra severed by the axe. That was in 1813. The relic was given to the Prince of Wales in 1888 and he returned it to the tomb."

We have always felt somewhat embarrassed when the X-ray man — or woman — peered into our inwards. But to be taken up a hundred years after we had passed away to be X-rayed is carrying it too far, altogether. The first thing we know these X-ray fellows will steal the show from the newshounds who, up to the present, seem to hold the palm for poking into other people's business.

ONTARIO LEADS

It will come as a surprise to many of us to learn that Ontario uses twice as much electrical energy per head as the United States We are apt to think that because our large and powerful neighbour leads in so many areas that it leads in all. Well, here is one, anyway, in which we in this Province, can take a justifiable pride.

The Toronto Daily Star', commenting on this on Monday, April 29, has this to say:—

"The fact that Ontario uses four times as much electric energy per head as Britain and twice as much per head as the United States should receive widespread attention. Dr. Thomas Hogg, chairman of the Hydro Electric Power Commission of Ontario, mentioned the matter to the Ontario division of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association at their meeting in London, on Friday. The explanation of this condition is that Ontario has a generous supply of water-power and obtains electricity at cost through the medium of a vast municipal power partnership. Low rates for power and lighting, beneficial alike to the businessman and the householder, cause the consumption of electricity to be exceptionally high.

"The benefits to the community derived from the public ownership and distribution of electricity are many. Manufacturing, mining and general business are stimulated. Employment is increased. Cleanliness and health are promoted. The housewife is helped in the work of the home. Drudgery on the farm is lessened. In short, people are made more prosperous and happier.

"One of the best things Ontario ever did was to seize upon the discovery of long-distance power transmission as the occasion for making the operation of hydro-electric power a community service managed by the people, for the people."

With all of this we are in agreement. We in Napanee and County, have shared in the success of Hydro, and perhaps too often we take for granted the benefits the Provincial System provides. It is a good thing to be reminded that so far as electrical energy is concerned, we are a very favored people.

THE ANNUAL HEADACHE

We were in the midst of making out the income tax returns and between times reflecting on the weakness of human nature, and especially our own weakness in the matter of multiplication, division, exemptions, additions and the rest. All of a sudden we noticed the word "Taxation" in big black letters across the front page of the daily papers. Thinking, maybe, there might be a bit of help here to a hard-pressed income tax form filler-upper, we inwardly blessed the Government or whoever inspired the heading for the help we hoped to receive.

But the article beneath the heading, offered nothing more than an additional headache. All that we could make out, on a hurried reading, was that Premier Drew and Prime Minister King were each trying to get their hands on our income tax. There seems to be a lot more taxes than we had any idea of. And Mr. Drew would like Mr. King to let him have some, more indeed than he now has. The report—whether there is any truth in it or not, we cannot tell yet — says that Mr. Drew wants Mr. King to give up seven of these kinds of taxations. Seven looks like quite a lot, but then maybe seven is not a very large proportion of the total number: we haven't seen the total number yet ,and perhaps for our own peace of mind, it will not do to enquire too deeply into the matter.

To come back to the income tax forms. They seem quite simple now, after reading Mr. Drew's formula. This is what Mr. Drew proposed :—

"There would be," he said, "a determined minimum per capita payment, which, for convenience, can now be described at 'X'. The total annual rental to be paid by the dominion government to each province would be 'X' dollars multiplied by the gross national production per capita for the year before the payment, divided by the gross national production per capita for the year 1941, multiplied by the population of the province for the year preceding the rental payment. The minimum annual payment shall be 'X' dollars multiplied by the population of the year preceding payment or of 1941, whichever is the greater. This may be set out in the following algebraic form, with the preceding year being referred to as 1944Y:

G.N.P. Per Capita 194Y

"'X' X G.N.P. per capita 1941, subject to a minimum payment, X 194Y population.

"'X' X 194Y populations or X 1941 population. Whichever shall be greater."

"Whichever shall be greater." Certainly! Why not ?

A WORTHY CAUSE

Among the various professional men in the community, none is more highly respected than the Clergy of all denominations. They give their lives entirely to their fellowmen. They are with the members of their flock in the great crises of life, birth, illness, marriage, and death. But that is not all: day in and day out they bring words of encouragement to the discouraged, strength to the weak, hope to the despondent, and inspiration and guidance to the distracted and disillusioned. They are ready to take their place in the community life, preach on Sunday, and be ready at a moment's notice to give an address on almost any subject.

In general the Clergy are underpaid, when other professions are considered. But they are not concerned about that. Their main interest is the service they can render to their fellow man. The one essenial that should be guaranteed is a retiring allowance. Never able to take out adequate insurance to protect themselves against declining years, they deserve a pension — an adequate pension.

Practically all the major denominations in Canada have some such pension fund. To be sure, the pensions are not very large. For example, the average pension among the 824 ministers now dependent on the pension fund of The United Church of Canada is only $577 a year.

The laymen of The United Church have been looking into this matter of pensions and have discovered that the condition of the fund is such that it cannot even guarantee the present $577 average. So they are out to increase the capital structure by three and a half million dollars. The campaign is now under way, and no doubt, the United Church people in Napanee, who will be asked to contribute to this fund, will do so with their accustomed generosity.

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON, MAY 5TH, 1946

"TWO BROTHERS LEARN TOLERANCE"
Text: Mark 3: 14-17. Luke 9: 49-56. I John 4: 7, 8.

Early in his ministry Jesus made plans for the carrying on of his mission. He trained others, who would be able to perpetuate his ministry to mankind. It is significant that Jesus did not choose men all of the same temperament. Perhaps the strength of the group of disciples lay in the fact that while each was bound to the other through ties of allegiance to a common Lord and Master, yet one submerged his own personality. He was a replica of another. Each one himself, each expressed allegiance to Christ through his own characteristics.

James was rash, impetuous. James and John were quick on the trigger, as we would say. They were a bit fiery. They flew off easily, and, probably for that reason were named sons of Boanerges by Jesus—sons of thunder. Well, these men had a lot to learn and they learned their lesson.

In the first section of the lesson after the introduction, John comes to the Master and reported that he had seen someone healing in the name of Jesus. He forbade the man doing so. To this Jesus said: "Forbid him not for he who is not against you is for you". Jesus was a bit more tolerant than John. He was not standing on any technicality. If there was someone on the side of the Master, even though he was not a disciple, it was perfectly satisfactory to Jesus.

The next passage describes a rather cold reception which Jesus received from a certain village. Again the quick tempered James and John were all for showing revenge. They wanted to call down fire from heaven to burn these people up. Once more Jesus rebuked them and passed on to another village.

Long after, John, writing his book, knows how well he had learned his lesson. How his temper had been mastered and his faith established. In fifteen verses the word "love" is used twenty-five times. "And the writer was thinking of no pale, sickly, placid love, but of an aggressive, self-sacrificing passion for God, for Jesus, and for each other that would be the dominant force in the world. Quiet affection was not enough. In a day when persecution was flaying the faithful and heretics were leading many christians astray, Only an invincible, energizing devotion would be acceptable."

John and James had to learn tolerance. They wanted to call down fire from heaven on others, but Jesus would have none of it. They learned their lesson by their contact with Christ as we must learn it. There is much intolerance abroad in the land. And much of our bitterness, aggressiveness and selfishness expressed itself in intolerance. We needs must learn to be tolerant.

Yet we have to be careful about this. We have passed through a period of intolerance it is true, but of toleration as well. For a long time it has been smart to be tolerant with some things against which we should be loudly indignant. There is such a thing for example as being tolerant with the liquor traffic. Christians have tried to be broad-minded in this and have found the traffic knows nothing about tolerance.

It is hardly the christian attitude to be tolerant with easy divorce, and the consequent break down of our home standards. To be tolerant does not mean we are to let down the bars. We can hardly think of Jesus as tolerant with the money changers. No, indeed. It may be that we have been bending over backward of late in our endeavor to be all things to all men. That way will never bring in the kingdom. Certainly the christian way of life can admit no compromise with the moral and social standards.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

To The Editor of
The Napanee Beaver
Dear Mr. Editor:

I would like to reply to Mr. Cornea's letter which appeared in your last issue.

I feel this rather uncalled for at this late date, as the tenders were dealth with well over a month ago and regardless of how he had voted, would not have changed the result.

What has the Reeve of Sheffield to gain by starting trouble after this particular question had been settled?

I think the Reeve of Sheffield is not in a position to pass public opinion on the four tenders submitted, as he had never seen these tenders or discussed in committee, and why tell the public where he stood."

I am not interested in who got the tender but I am interested in how the business of the County is run and if Mr. Ham did not sign the road report, I do not feel he should be singled out for public criticism, as there were four other members of the County Council who did not vote for it, either.

During my two years in County Council, I found Mr. Frank Ham a very honourable public servant who knows what Democracy means. A man who can think for himself and has backbone enough to stand by his convictions, regardless of whom it affects.

The ratepayers of this County owe a debt to Mr. Ham for breaking-up the ruling element in 1944 that had run this County for years, and he helped put the County Council back on a true democratic basis.

Mr. Ham had everything to gain personally, had he worked with the ruling element, but he chose the welfare of the taxpayers of this County, and through his efforts you had a true Democratic County Council in 1945.

It is up to the taxpayers to consider well the discussions made in the sessions of County Council.

I would like to congratulate the taxpayers of South Fredericksburgh for sending such an honourable representative to County Council as Mr. Frank Ham, and hope that other townships will follow the example.

I am writing these remarks as a taxpayer who pays nearly $800 taxes in four different townships and who is interested in the future of this County.

I remain,
C. A. MILLIGAN,
"Former Reeve of Sheffield, and Member of 1945 Good Roads Committee.

To The Edior of
The Napanee Beaver,
Napanee, Ontario.

Dear Sir:—

I have just returned home after hearing the Trenton Boys' Band, sponsored by the Lions Club, who so kindly rendered a concert in our Armouries.—

The boys did a splendid job and the Citizens of Trenton have something to be proud of.

Whether you or the people of Napanee know it or not, we have here the nucleus of a band and sufficient talent to produce a band as good or even better than the Trenton Band.

I bring this to your attention because we need the support of the people to make it a success.

We need money, instruments, music and the young men to use them.

This letter is not intended to be a cry for help but simply to let the people of Napanee know that something is being done to encourage the boys of Napanee and vicinity to be music-minded and in the words of Bandmaster Jobson, I quote: "Teach a boy to blow a horn and he won't grow-up to blow a safe."

Thanking you for your indulgence I am,

Yours respectfully,
R. A. BALLANTYNE,
Member of
The Legion Band Committee.

WORLD SUGAR SUPPLY DOWN FIVE PER CENT.

The Combined Food Board of the United States, Great Britain and Canada, meeting in Washington, has announced that it is estimated the 1946 supply of sugar available for allocation in Europe and North America will be 11,869,000 short tons, as compared with 12,270,000 tons allocated last year. This is approximately a reduction of five per cent. in the world's supply.

The allication will give Canada an increase of 4,600 tons, as compared with 1945 figures. This brings the total of 465,000 tons for Canada, the total for last year being 460,400 tons.

Included in this allocated figure is an estimated 90,000 tons of domestic beet sugar, as compared with 82,000 tons last year. It was stated that this figure was purely an estimate, inasmuch as the beets are not yet planted, and that it was impossible to say whether there would be this increase or not in the beet crop. In any case ,said the Sugar Controller R. R. Noble, the increase in allocation is only one per cent. of the total, and will therefore have practically no effect on the amount available for household uses.

Asked how it was that with an admitted world shortage of practically five per cent. in the tonnage available, Canada was to get an increase allotment, it was explained that last year the United States had a tremendous allotment of nearly 900,000 tons for the armed forces, but now owing to demobilization this allocation had been cut down to 200,000 tons, and the civilian redistribution accordingly gave Canada a little more.

Under the allocation, Europe and North America will receive 11,133,000 tons — 4,042,000 from production in the claimant countries and 7,091,000 from imports. The remainder of the supply — 677,000 tons — was allocated to areas in the Indian and Pacific oceans.

Ontario Farm Bodies To Ask U. S. Market

Toronto. — Four Ontario agricultural bodies, meeting, decided to form a deputation to go to Ottawa shortly to urge upon Hon. J. G. Gardiner, Agriculture Minister, that either the United States market be re-opened to Canadian cattle shipments or else the Federal Government itself purchase surplus Canadian finished cattle.

The delegates represented the Ontario Beef Cattle Producers, the Ontario Federation of Agriculture, the County Agricultural Committee of Ontario and the Agricultural Council, which represents elected county councils. They declared that cattle production was at an all-time high and that producers could not be blamed for the meat shortage. Producers cannot sell the cattle they have, it was contended.

"If the present situation is not remedied the producers fear that stocker and feeder cattle will be slaughtered this fall instead of being fed for 1947 marketing, which would greatly accentuate shortages next spring," said a statement issued after the meeting. "There must be a price incentive before farmers will carry cattle through the winter or they will just not be kept."

United Kingdom To Build Biggest Airliner

The world's biggest hangar will house the Brabazon One, the giant British airliner. The Bristol Aeroplane Company, the manufacturers, have now received Government authority to go ahead with the construction of four machines of this type. Brabazon One, which will be the biggest and most advanced land plane yet developed by the United Kingdom, is intended for transatlantic service. The first airliner will be powered by octhodox engines and the other three by powerful, threrew gas turbine engines. Cruising speeds will be two hundred and fifty miles per hour and three hundred and fifty miles per hour for the orthdox and Jet propelled versions, respectively.

The first prototype is now taking shape and the airliner is expected to be in operation by next April. It will accommodate eighty people in berths and one hundred and eighty with seas. The hangar to be built for Brabazon will cost about one and a half million pounds. It will be more than fifteen hundred feet wide four hundred and ten feet long and one hundred and ninteen feet high. The concrete flooring will cover eight acres and a further six and a half acres of concrete apron will be built in front of it.

Further Information About Clothing For Europe

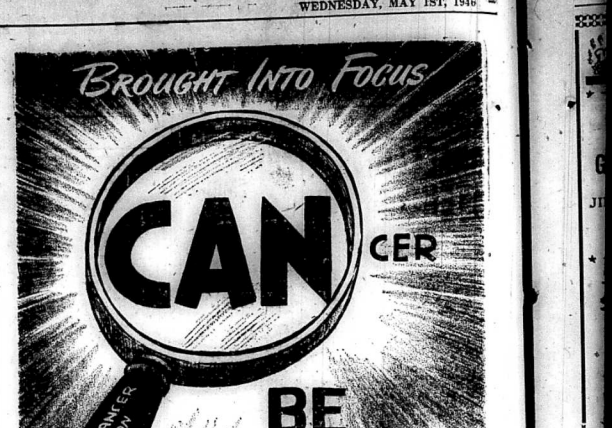
The enthusiasm with which the people of Canada have received the preliminary announcements of the forthcoming National Clothing Collection to be held across the Dominion from June 17 to 29 inclusive is giving every indication that this drive wil leven surpass the outstanding success of the last drive. This willingness to donate clothing is overwhelmingly proven by the hundreds of inquiries already received from enthusiastic citizens who, by wire, letter and telephone, are asking: "Where can we deliver our clothing to now!"

"Facilities for receiving and storing clothes have not yet been set up anywhere in Canada, and we are, therefore, not in a position to accept such clothing until the necessary organization is completed,"R. F. Pratt, Executive Directr., has pointed out. "Collection of clothing across the Dominion will take place from June 17 to 29 and we are asking Canadians now merely to keep these dates in mind and to put away their spare clothes in the meantime to have them ready when the national collection opens."

It is appreciated that people moving to new locations and summer cottages, etc.) are anxious to make their donations now, and everything humanly possible is being done by the National Committee to finalize all details, but in order to accede to requests for earlier collection it would be necessary to establish and maintain collection depots and staff for several weeks prior to the official commencement of the drive, with resulting increase in expenditure of public funds.

Initial plans for organization of the clothing campaign are well under way in all of the nine provinces and it is expected that committees will have been formed in a number of more Canadian centres within the next ten to twenty days.

"In the meantime you are urged to hold the clothing till facilities for receiving and storing garments have been completed and the national collection gets under way," continued Mr. Pratt. "Your local committee will shortly advise you as to where it can be brought or, if you are moving, surely one of your friends would gladly take care of it for you until collection time."



Misconceptions and half - truths about cancer are responsible for much of the fear and ignorance that has kept cancer high up on the list of "killer" diseases. At present, cancer is the second greatest cause of death in this Province and is on the increase. Ontario has the highest death rate per capita in the Dominion. Part of the programme of the Ontario Cancer Treatment and Research Foundation, for which a minimum of $2,000,000 is now being raised, is to replace these fears and misconceptions by accurate knowledge of cancer, on the principle that a doctor can do nothing for a patient until the patient comes to him. The fact is that persons with cancer will not go to their doctor until too late is reaped might be applied to human tumours.

sponsible for many of the deaths of the 1,000 Canadians who die each month of this disease. Yet cancer specialists know that many types of cancer are curable if tey are diagnosed and treated by surgery or radiation, in the earliest stages.

Cancer is not contagious, as is tuberculosis, scarlet fever or measles. There is no record of any nurse who caught cancer while attending a patient. Certain research projects have indicated that perhaps a virus may have some part in cancerous growths in plants and animals, but it is as yet not certain that the same principle might be applied to human tumours.

Cancer is not inherited in the usual sense of the word. No one with cancer on both sides of his family need necessarily fear that he is doomed to die of cancer. Cancer itself is not inherited, but the ability to have cancer, may be.

Teacher — Can anyone tell me the uses of cow-hide?

Pupil — It keeps the cow together!

Last year, Bell telephone workers installed 187,444 telephones and disconnected 124,861 (surrender of service, change of address, etc.) —a net gain of 62,583.

1945 was the biggest year, but one, in our history. Although we had to repair, re-use, substitute and improvise, we were able to provide telephones for all essential uses and to reduce the waiting list substantially.

But there's a still bigger job ahead. The going rate since V-E Day has been at a higher level than in any other equal period. To wipe out the waiting list and get back to our old ready-to-serve basis will be our chief concern until the job is done. We are making progress to that end.

Where only telephone instruments are involved, the next two or three months should clear our lists. But in many localities central office equipment is the problem and this takes time to make and to instal.

WE ARE LOSING NO TIME.

BIRTHS

CHRISTIE—At the Campbell Nursing Home, Napanee, Ont., Friday, April 26th, 1946, to Mr. and Mrs. James Christie, Bath, a son, James Douglas; a brother for Patricia.

PRINGLE — At Forest Mills, Sunday, April 28th, 1946, to Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Pringle, a son, a brother for Phyllis, Vera and June.

The Late J. M. Graham

The death occurred on Monday morning, April 29th, at his residence, on Bridge Street, Napanee, of James M. Graham, for many years a well-known business man of the town. Mr. Graham was taken seriously ill with a coronary thrombosis two months ago and appeared to be making a good recovery until Sunday of this week, when he suffered another slight attack and passed away suddenly on Monday.

Mr. Graham was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Graham and was born about 61 years ago, near Napanee. He had lived in Napanee over fifty years, and after leaving school was associated with his father for some years in the carriage building business. About thirty years ago he opened up a garage business which he conducted until two years ago, when he retired. He was a member of Grace United Church, in which he took an active interest and served on the official board for several years. He was also a member of Argyll Lodge, I.O.O.F.

He was predeceased by his wife in June of last year and leaves one son, Douglas, at home. He is also survived by three brothers: Mark P. Graham, C. Limbert Graham, Napanee, and Fred E. Graham, Oshawa; and four sisters: Mrs. O. J. Fraser, Syracuse, N.Y., Miss Lena Graham, Mrs. Edwin Giroux and Mrs. T. P. Cooke, Napanee.

His funeral is being conducted at his late residence to-day (Wednesday), by Rev. C. D. McLellan, minister of Grace United Church. Interment will be made at Chatarqui cemetery. The pall-bearers will be: Messrs. G. P. Smith, James Haggarty, Blake Gilbert, Pat Cook, H. M. Scott and R. S. Wales.

INSURANCE ACHIEVEMENTS

R. W. Milligan, of The Milligan Insurance Service Agency, Napanee, was cited to-day as one of the outstanding producers of Lumbermens Mutual Casualty Insurance Company by James S. Kemper, President, Chicago, as he announced the 1945 membership list of the 'Live Members Club' an honorary organization of leading company representatives throughout North America. He was given a similar citation, last year.

The fine record of the Milligan Agency in serving the protection of Napanee deserves recognition. Mr. Kemper said. The agency has achieved high standards in selection of policy-holders in production in loyalty to the company and in integrity and service.

Term of membership in the Club is one year. The record of each member is carefully received before he is re-elected the following year. "This recognition of my agency by Lumbermens is most gratifying to me," Mr. Milligan said.

Our aim always has been to maintain the high standards in the operation of our business and to give outstanding service and protection to our clients.

Mr. Milligan described Lumbermens contributions to the public welfare in providing broader forms of protection, in safety education and accident prevention, particularly Lumbermens present campaign against the alarming increase in injuries, and deaths resulting from traffic accidents, on this continent. 18a

OBITUARY

WILLIAM WESLEY FOX
(Shannonville)

William Wesley Fox died suddenly early Tuesday, April 16th, at his home in the Second Concession of Tyendinaga township, near Shannonville. He worked about his place all day and when he was about to take his evening meal he was taken with a heart seizure and died immediately.

The late Mr. Fox, who was in his 57th year, was born in Tyendinaga township and was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Fox. All his life was passed in the township where he was born and in the community he was held in high regard by many friends to whom his sudden death has brought sincere feelings of regret. He was a member of Melrose United Church and took an active part in church work, being a member of the Board of Stewards. Fraternally he was a member of Loyal Orange Lodge No. 242, Shannonville.

Surviving him are his wife, the former Hannah Coulter; two sons, Harold of Tyendinaga township, and Reginald, at home; one daughter, Mrs. Norman Boldrick, Tyendinaga township; two sisters, Mrs. William Joyce, Napanee, and Mrs. Robert Crawford, Viscount, Sask.

The funeral was held on April 19, at Melrose United Church, under Orange Lodge auspices and interment took place at Melrose cemetery.

The bearers were Messrs. Ross English, Earl Whiteman, Floyd Goodfellow, William King, Claude Clarke, and Wilbert Kimmett.

The Late W. J. Trenouth

Mr. W. J. Trenouth, for 23 years Principal of the Public Schools in Napanee, died suddenly at his home, Bridge Street, Napanee, on Monday, April 29th. He had been in ill health since his retirement from teaching, six years ago, but his death came unexpectedly, while he was about to prepare to go out in his car.

Mr. Trenouth lived his early life in Bowmanville, where he received his education. He taught school in Darlington for three years, later at Newtonville for eight years and in Norwood for eight years, before coming to Napanee in 1917.

He was a member of Union Lodge No. 9 A.F. & A.M. and of the Order of Foresters and was a member since coming to Napanee, of Trinity church.

Mr. Trenouth was an excellent teacher and because of his exemplary character, exerted a fine influence on the many school pupils who came under his supervision. He was a generous supporter of all good causes, in a quiet, unostentatious manner.

He is survived by his wife, formerly Ida L. Gilbert, and by one brother, Edward M. Trenouth, of Toronto.

His funeral was conducted at his late residence on Tuesday evening at eight o'clock and burial was made at Bowmanville on Wednesday, at 11:45 o'clock. Rev. Noble Hatton, minister of Trinity United Church, conducted the service in Napanee.

The pall-bearers were Messrs. Ross H. Paul, David Brown, Arthur Roy and John Topping.

The Late James Davern

The sudden death on Friday, April 26th, at the Western Hospital, Toronto, of James Edward Davern, at the early age of 41 years, came as a great shock to his family and many friends in Napanee and Belleville.

Mr. Davern had undergone an operation in Toronto, about two weeks before his death and was about ready to leave the hospital to return to Napanee, when he had a stroke of apoplexy, which was soon followed by a second seizure, from which he failed to rally.

"Jimmy" Davern was a son of the late John Davern and of Mrs. Davern of Napanee. Practically all his life had been spent in this town where he received his early education. Twenty-two years ago he entered the employ of the Canadian National Railways as a telegraph operator and for the past ten years had been in the dispatcher's office at Belleville. He was of a very quiet disposition, but had many friends among his associates, who regret his untimely death.

He was a member of the Order of Railroad Telegraphers, and was a devout member of St. Patrick's Roman Catholic Church, in which he was one of the choir and a member of the Holy Name Society.

He is survived by his mother, formerly Annie McNeil, and one sister, Miss Gertrude, both of Napanee. An older brother, Frank, was killed in the First Great War.

On Tuesday morning, Dean E. M. Leacy, parish priest of St. Patrick's Church, conducted a requiem mass for the repose of his soul and interment followed at St. Patrick's cemetery. The pall-bearers were Messrs. S. J. Garvin, J. C. O'Connor, N. Munro and A. Bignoske, of Belleville and C. A. Joynt and Jos. Killorin of Napanee.

Mrs. Arthur Baach spent a few days the past week in Montreal, with relatives and friends.

An Assured Egg Market for the Lifetime of Your 1946 Chicks!

CONFIDENCE IN THE MARKET

RIGHT now you can look ahead and see a profitable, and assured market for your eggs for at least a year and a half—the normal lifetime of your 1946 chicks. The "gamble" has been taken right out of poultry.

There is no reason to suppose Canadians will seriously cut down on their egg consumption — which is high. Then, too, the British egg contracts have been settled not only for 1946, but for 1947, providing a basic floor price for all the surplus eggs we are likely to produce. British requirements for 1948 will be announced before the end of 1947. The demand for poultry meats—both domestic and foreign — is equally strong.

CONFIDENCE IN BRAY CHICKS

Bray Chicks are bred to be vigorous, thrifty, fast growing and quick developing — the very qualities you must have in May chicks to have them mature and laying for the profitable fall and winter season. If you have been holding off ordering your Bray Chicks for 1946 — or if you need additional chicks to take care of summer losses and fall culling — place your order now. You can have confidence in the market. You can have confidence in Bray Chicks.

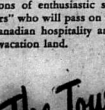
1946 is an all-important year
FOR CANADA'S TOURIST TRADE

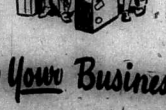
MILLIONS OF AMERICAN VISITORS are expected to come to Canada during 1946 for their post-war vacation.

It won't always be easy to accommodate them. We still have our crowding and shortages. We are still in the aftermath of war. This is the very reason we should all take special care to be courteous and considerate to our guests this summer.

This year, of all years, we must maintain the reputation we have won for true hospitality.



YOU MAY NEVER SEE A TOURIST, BUT . . . tourist dollars flow to you. The grocer, the garage man, the farmer, the office worker—everybody benefits directly or indirectly from tourist spending, and the extra work and income it creates. Last year, tourists in Canada spent more than one hundred and fifty million dollars. In the years ahead, as our ability to handle tourist traffic grows, who is to say how big this business may become? For Canada is in an enviable position—a natural vacation land next door to the most travel-minded nation in the world. This is an all-important year! It may be difficult in many ways yet it holds great promise for the future.



THEY'LL BE TALKING ABOUT US . . . We want them to come again. We want them to tell their friends: "We had a marvellous time in Canada!" By making them truly welcome, we can win millions of enthusiastic salesmen for Canada—"satisfied customers" who will pass on to many times their number the story of Canadian hospitality and of Canada's unlimited attractions as a vacation land.

1946 is an all-important year

FOR CANADA'S TOURIST BUSINESS

MILLIONS OF AMERICAN VISITORS are expected to come to Canada during 1946 for their post-war vacation.

It won't always be easy to accommodate them. We still have our crowding and shortages. We are still in the aftermath of war. This is the very reason we should all take special care to be courteous and considerate to our guests this summer.

This year, of all years, we must maintain the reputation we have won for true hospitality.

YOU MAY NEVER SEE A TOURIST, BUT . . . tourist dollars flow to you. The grocer, the garage man, the farmer, the office worker—everybody benefits directly or indirectly from tourist spending, and the extra work and income it creates. Last year, tourists in Canada spent more than one hundred and fifty million dollars. In the years ahead, as our ability to handle tourist traffic grows, who is to say how big this business may become? For Canada is in an enviable position—a natural vacation land next door to the most travel-minded nation in the world. This is an all-important year! It may be difficult in many ways yet it holds great promise for the future.

THEY'LL BE TALKING ABOUT US... We want them to come again. We want them to tell their friends: "We had a marvellous time in Canada!" By making them truly welcome, we can win millions of enthusiastic salesmen for Canada—"satisfied customers" who will pass on to many times their number the story of Canadian hospitality and of Canada's unlimited attractions as a vacation land.

DORLAND

Dorland, April 27. — The pleasant Easter weather was much enjoyed.

Rev. H. S. Sherrard delivered a special Easter message, accompanied by Easter music by the choir. Bright spring flowers added a seasonable touch. The first session of Sunday School for the season preceded the preaching service.

Davis, and family; Mrs. Allenby, of Toronto, with her sister, Mrs. Russel Cousins; Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Childs, and children, of Kingston, at her father's, Mr. A. W. AT THE C.D.S.

It's a fable It's a fact

LOOK BEFORE YOUR LEAP . . . .

Once there were two frogs who lived in a pool. The summer was hot and the pool dried up, but the frogs soon found a deep, cool-looking well. One frog promptly dived in, but the other refused to follow. He'd thought of what would happen if the well dried up.

An ancient fable with a modern meaning for today's shoppers. Here, at the C.D.S., we've simplified the job of careful shopping, made it easy to "look before you buy." As thousands of Canadian shoppers already know, the sure way is to look for the familiar EATON Brand names, because the EATON Research Bureau and the EATON Comparison Office are continually checking on quality and value . . . ensuring shopping satisfaction!

PREFER QUALITY TO QUANTITY . . . .

A fox once sneered to her neighbour, a lioness, that a litter of little foxes was an annual event with her but the lioness produced a cub only once or twice in a lifetime. "That's perfectly true," replied the lioness. "They may be few and far between, but every one of them is a LION!"

In shopping, too, it's quality that matters most. And that's what you're assured of every time you insist on EATON'S Own Brands—tried-and-true quality for every cent of your shopping dollar. Moreover, there's the additional assurance that each one of EATON'S Own Brands is backed by the fair-and-square EATON guarantee: "Goods Satisfactory or Money Refunded."

EXPERIENCE IS A SURE TEACHER . . . .

One day, a shepherd, happy and contented with his lot, led his flock close beside the sea and was seized with the desire to be a sailor. He sold his sheep, bought a ship and set sail. Ignorant of seamanship, he sank the ship on the first voyage, and barely escaped with his life. He returned to his meadow, a wiser man.

At the C.D.S., we're 'way beyond the stage of "trial voyages." Our many years of merchandising have given us a golden store of business experience which all goes into the choice and purchase of EATON'S Own Brands. We are able to "chart our course" and bring our ship into port with the symbols of Quality and Value flying at the masthead.

It's a fact . . .

PRESENTATION MADE TO MR. AND MRS. J. L. SMITH OF HAWLEY DISTRICT

On Thursday evening, April 25th a number of friends and neighbours gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Smith, to spend a social evening before their departure, following the sale of their farm to Mr. Patterson, of Sydenham. The evening was spent in social intercourse and progressive euchre. About 11 o'clock, the following addresses were read by Mrs. Harold Creighton:

Mr. and Mrs. Smith:

For obvious reasons we are assembled here to-night with a pleasant and dutiful task before us. It is with sincere regret that we learned of your departure from our neighborhood, where you Mrs. Smith, have lived your entire life, and Mr. Smith, all your married life. We are aware that you both have acquired a host of friends and we are reminded of the old quotation: "The Friend worth while is the friend with the Smile," while is truly befitting to each of you.

As neighbours you have always been ready and willing to lend a helping hand at any time, and we may truly say: what is our loss shall be another's gain. You will be missed not only as neighbours, but as active workers in the church: Mrs. Smith having devoted generously her time to the different women's organizations of the community. Before departing to a new community, which we hope will not be too far distant, we ask you to accept, these gifts: a coffee table and a mirror, as tokens of appreciation from your Hawley friends, and God willing, may you both enjoy many years of health, happiness and prosperity in your new home and surroundings.

Signed on behalf of your Hawley friends and neighbours, — Mr. and Mrs. Harold Creighton, and Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Ackerman.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith both replied and thanked their friends for the lovely gifts and invited all to visit them in their new home. Refreshments were served and a very pleasant evening spent.

Mr. Lynn Selby, who has resided with the Smiths for some time, was also presented with a billfold and the following address was read:

Lynn, — We have met with you to-night before you, too, leave our community. Since making your home with Mr. and Mrs. Smith, several years ago, we have learned to look upon you as a good and reliable friend, ready to give a helping hand to any of your neighbours in need.

We realize you have acquired many friends since coming to our community and we trust that you will carry away with you many fond memories of your Hawley friends and acquaintances. We ask you to accept this billfold as a kind remembrance and sincerely hope as you travel through life you shall have the health and good fortune to fill it to its greatest capacity.

Signed on behalf of your Hawley friends and neighbours, — Mr. and Mrs. Harold Creighton, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Ackerman.

TEXT OF ADDRESS GIVEN BY JOHN FISHER IN NAPANEE LAST WEEK

Calls Upon Canadians to Stress National Pride

I prefer to speak with my natural voice, as I see enough of "those things" — referring to the loud speaker. I was very interested in Mr. Smith's comment that he felt he had known me for a long time, when we had known me for only five minutes. One's idea of a "long time" must be somewhat revised when one meets a man like Mr. Herrington who has practised law for fifty or sixty years, or like Jim Douglas who has been in industry for that length of time. We used to think that a man of fifty or sixty had lived a long time.

"Some night at 6:30, if you turn on your radio you will hear from me a story associated with the highway along the highway from Kingston and as we came to the top of the rise Bill Jelly said, 'There it is'. I looked and could see nothing but trees and trees. But, they said, you have to visit Napanee to see it and know about it. I found that to be true. Never have I seen such beautiful scenery in the Western part of Canada. I have been entertained in most interesting manner. We went down by the canal where landscaping is being done, was named Frank Gibbard's Furniture Factory where beautiful walnut furniture, dining-room suites, etc. are made — such furniture as you delight to see in Toronto but do not care to enquire the price! Then we went into a room where there was lots of noise and we found there the artist — Jim Douglas — at work as he has been for about fifty years. He offered to make me a chair and I anticipate receiving one in Toronto, a beautiful piece of walnut, but in a few seconds he had furnished me with a full complement made with a few turns of the wrist.

"We went next to quite a large factory where there was a roar, odour and I said, 'Reminds me of my dog at home.' It was the Rose-Miller Pup Biscuit Factory and I shall refer to that place again.

"We next visited the office of the Secretary-Treasurer of the Board of Education, an office so complete and efficient that I understand that it is equipped even with a bed. We visited the Napanee Boiler Works, famous for its supplies to West Indian plants, to large apartment houses in Toronto and elsewhere. We saw the process of manufacturing in different rooms until we came to the room where they were pounding — and no doubt there which was the cause of much interest. We were told the story of how it had on one occasion stamped out a fire and saved the plant from destruction. As recognition of this service the city had been put on the pay-roll at the weekly wage of $5. However, when all the Unemployment Insurance, Pension and other deductions had been taken from the weekly wage, there remained only two cents for the dog. They felt it was justified in refusing to work for so small a sum, income.

"We met a person whom I will refer to as a walking refrigerator — W. S. Herrington. I shall refer to him again later. We visited the Armouries which had filled so large a place in the life of the community and the County during the war years; there we met a great tall man who was most hospitable.

"This evening, since coming here from the Lions' Club dinner, we have listened to a delightful band which has been directed by three different conductors. These have combined together with all the other people referred to in my summary of my visit to Napanee illustrate quite well those qualities which it seems to me are essential to the well-being of Canada and of the world. Taking them in the order named, you will follow what I have in mind.

"Jim Douglas represents those qualities of excellence, stability and character which are essential. The Ross-Miller plant, making food for dogs, is an epitome of the initiative and ardor of living. The dog which stamped-out the fire should be an example to us who see so many fires burning in the world to-day — fires which cannot be put out by dogs; they can be extinguished only by people without malice and without prejudice. Mr. Herrington, the story-teller, is preserving the best of the history of Napanee, of this County, and of Canada for posterity. Speaking generally, the Dominion of Canada has neglected its historical treasures. The three conductors of the band will represent what can be done in a spirit of harmony. All three conducted in the same people, but each used their hands, but each of the conductors had his own manner of conducting the band. So each country has its own story to tell; each country has its own individual and different system just as our conductors had to-night. There are three pillars upon which the security of the world must rest: co-operation, harmony, and courage.

"The other day I was in New York in a gymnasium, but I saw nothing of a gymnasium there. It was a comfortable chair, or on the chesterfield and listened to the proceedings; also, I was interested in the formation of Girl Guiding, in Napanee. She explained in a very thorough and comprehensive manner, just what the local Association stands for, pointing out that, besides its duties as an executive, it serves as a connecting link between the Girl Guides and the community.

"Mrs. Platt was introduced by Mrs. Percy Asselstine, honorary chairman of the Napanee L. A., and a vote of thanks was tendered her by Mrs. Ernest Gibbard.

On Saturday morning, Miss Doris Byrnes, local Commissioner, gave training to the Napanee Captain, Lieutenant, Patrol Leaders and Seconds. Seven Guides from Amherst Island, accompanied by their Captain, Mrs. Nelson, were also in attendance.

Saturday afternoon was open for Company training and a Court of Honour meeting. Valuable suggestions and information was gleaned by those attending.

Mrs. Platt and Miss Byrnes, both made reference to the gala event for Girl Guides, to be held in Kingston, on June 10th, Powell, O.B.E., World Chief Guide, will be present. Girl Guide Companies from all surrounding districts are expected to be present, for Lady Baden-Powell's inspection.

New Telephone Directory Being Distributed

Over 18,800 copies of the new telephone directory for Kingston, Gananoque, and vicinity are now being distributed, over 1,400 of them being required for subscribers in this community.

Among the names with the most listings in the Kingston section, the leaders are still Smith, Martin, Clark and Thompson.

In the Gananoque section, it's Nuttall, Gray, Wilson and McAlpin.

According to J. D. Gardner, Bell Telephone Manager in this territory, the new book contains more than 700 listings new and changed under the last-issue, including a number in the Gananoque section.

"It is important to consult the new directory carefully before placing calls, and to bring dead lists and memo pads up to date," Mr. Gardner said. "Avoiding unnecessary calls to wrong numbers helps us to serve you better."

A very interesting and profitable Training School for Girl Guides and their Local Associations, was held in the Napanee Public Sunday School room on Friday and Saturday, May 3rd and 4th.

The first Friday evening, Mrs. G. A. Platt, of Kingston, Area Commissioner, spoke to the local Association, and all those interested in the formation of Girl Guiding, in Napanee. She explained in a very thorough and comprehensive manner, just what the local Association stands for, pointing out that, besides its duties as an executive, it serves as a connecting link between the Girl Guides and the community.

NUMEROUS CHANGES IN BUSINESS PLACES IN NAPANEE

New Business Opens Others Extend Their Premises

A great deal of interest is being shown by the people of Napanee and the surrounding county in the numerous improvements which have been made or are in process of being made in business places in the town of Napanee.

About a week ago Sills Drugs moved into their new premises, formerly occupied by Pidgeon's Pool Room, on Dundas Street. The store was completely renovated and modernized. The floor and ceiling were both lowered, a new front was built and new modern fixtures were installed. The second floor of the building is being remodelled into two apartments.

The store formerly occupied by Sills Drugs, which is the property of R. B. Sinclair, proprietor of the Selrite Store, is at present being dismantled and when the dividing wall has been removed, will be occupied when completed by the Selrite Store.

Bell-Moore's Clothing Store is also being remodelled and when completed will present an entirely different appearance with new modern fixtures and equipment.

After several months' preparation, the Napanee Hardware, a new business in the town, opened on Saturday and attracted a large number of customers. The building, formerly occupied by Hunter's Cleaners, has been changed in almost every detail. The whole interior of the lower floor was torn out and new modern fixtures were installed after walls had been removed. The second floor is being used for stock rooms and display. The front of the building is now complete but is ready for the installation of vitrolite, which we understand, is to be black.

Mrs. Rosa Bova's new store on Dundas Street is about ready for occupancy. The old frame building, one of the oldest on the street, was torn down and a new brick building with basement in the second story was erected in its place. The erection of the new building made a great improvement in the appearance of the block, and will be occupied soon by Mrs. Bova, who will continue her flower and fruit business.

Recently the Napanee 5c. to $1.00 store doubled its floor space by taking over the adjacent store, formerly occupied by the National War Finance Committee and removing the dividing wall between the two stores. The added space made it possible for a larger stock to be carried and for a more attractive display, as well as more selling space.

Card's Garage have commenced preparations for building their new show room on John Street, near the station.

Several other changes in business locations, we understand, are about to be made and when the details of the changes have been completed the buildings to be occupied will be remodelled.

ROTARY CLINIC FOR CRIPPLED CHILDREN

Dr. C. Stewart Wright, orthopedic specialist, Toronto, conducted a clinic in Napanee on Monday of this week in the Napanee Rotary Club. A number of patients were present for check-up and further treatment and several new patients were given attention.

Dr. Wright has been coming to Napanee at regular intervals, for several years, and many of the patients he has treated have shown marked improvement and have consequently been fitted to take their place in the world as useful citizens, all of which would otherwise have hampered their activities.

DR. WALDO SMITH Is Featured In "Montreal Standard"

In the rotogravure section of the "Montreal Standard", May 4th edition, is an article about Dr. Waldo Smith, minister of Calvin United Church, and former minister of Selby United Church, near Napanee. The article which we reproduce below, is accompanied by several pages of pictures of Dr. Smith and his family, depicting their various activities and interests.

The article follows:

COUNTRY MINISTER
Former Padre Finds His Rural Charge a Peaceful Change From War, Never Wants To Leave
(Story by Jacqueline Sirois)

WALDO SMITH is a growing, lean man of 45, typical in a way of his class and vocation, yet made individual through the experience of war. He probably never will be rich and his ambitions would seem pitifully inadequate to worldly men. Some of his best friends have asked him why he will not move to the city where the results of his education and experience would be spread among a greater number of people but his resolution remains unchanged. He is a country minister of The United Church of Canada and he wants to stay that way. He is happiest with farmers and villagers. He talks their language and understands them. He says that among the quiet, pioneer fields of Ameliasburg, Ontario, mid-way between Kingston and Toronto, he can "take time out for living." A statement which accounts for the fact that the majority of city dwellers never work as hard as Dr. Smith and never are exhausted at the week if they followed him around.

Waldo Smith was born in Toronto in 1900. By his own admission he was a disobedient youngster and "deserved every licking I got." He went to Huron Street School and to the University of Toronto School. He got his B.A. at Victoria College, his M.A. at the University of Chicago and his Ph.D. at the University of St. Andrews, Scotland. After his thesis, he grimly delved into episcopal appointments and patronage in the reign of Edward II, which dusty tome now rests quietly among the hundreds of books in his shelf - lined study.

While he was at Victoria College he supplied student charges and after his graduation from Chicago he taught at Albert College in Belleville, Ont., a secondary school where he met his wife, Christine, while he was in Europe for his Ph.D. She was a research assistant at the London Institute of Historical Research, a graduate of Bryn Mawr. She returned to Albert College and Christine followed him to Canada in 1933 as they were married on the Montreal docks, then they set out for Selby, Ont., his first charge. The Smiths had been at Selby five years when he was called to Grafton.

Waldo Smith joined the chaplain's service in Montreal early of 1940 and went overseas in June, 1941. He was attached to the 1st Canadian Armoured Brigade. During the raid on Dieppe, Capt Smith was the padre who read from the 6th Chapter of the Ephesians as the landing barge floated towards shore. He took part in the British campaign in Italy, and the Battle of Italy. He was awarded the Military Cross for exposing wounded under gunfire but was himself a casualty. Jaundice and malaria weakened him a bit and he was finally returned to England in March, 1945, where he was given the job of setting up a school of Christian citizenship for Canadian troops in England. He was sent home in July. He returned to Grafton and his minister of a siege at the Chorley Park Hospital in Toronto. Meanwhile the church had kept the charge open for him and his wife and children had continued to live in the manse while he was overseas.

Waldo Smith returned to Grafton with his health impaired but his character vastly improved. His people were amazed and delighted at the transformation. He had been painfully shy in the pulpit but battle preaching has loosened his tongue and erased his self-consciousness. He has developed a sly sense of humor. He is more tolerant and his understanding of the weaknesses of men has deepened. His sermons are now colloquial, free and full of soldier slang. All this helped his post-war adjustment for his people were responsive to the change in him.

"The minister's a different man since he came back from the war," they say approvingly.

No one in Grafton but his wife calls him Waldo. He says, "I expect people guard their language when I'm around," he says, "but I hope it's not because I'm a social policeman. I hope it is because I represent something people feel they should have."

He says the war strengthened his faith in God. It made it more vital. "It taught me a great deal about men and even more about myself. A padre goes through all manner of stress that he wouldn't in civil life."

His people, he feels, look to him for inspiration as they worship on Sunday. "They expect me to be an example of how a Christian man should live. They hope I will teach their children the Christian way of life in classes, in clubs and in games. People like to think of their minister as a personal friend to whom they can bring any problem. This is the Protestant confession."

Waldo Smith sometimes he is shocked, but he tries to understand. He smoked occasionally overseas but doesn't any more. "Smoking was psychological with me," he explains, "I did it when I was lonely." He doesn't drink on principle but he says the army taught him why other men drink. "I have felt the reasons myself.

"My ambitions are awfully humble. I guess if the kids grow up and think they have a good Pop, it will be O.K. If they think what I say on Sunday is consistent with what I do seven days a week at home, I'll be happy.

"My worldliness takes a peculiar form. I want to live in the country for the rest of my life. I know my people prefer and I can get a better parish in the life of the community. Besides, look at the skating out here. Anyway I'll have to live in the country on my pension. My wife will keep hens and I'll keep a cow."

When he retires at 68, Dr. Smith will get $30 annually for every year of service or $780 a year. The average pension now received by retired ministers of The United Church is $577 and a campaign is now under way to improve the status of the Pension Fund. His present salary is $1,800 a year with a $200 allowance for his battered 1931 Pontiac with which he has driven 30,000 miles in the past within the 60 quare miles of his charge.

His two immediate ambitions are ecclastic. He wants a spire for the church at Wellejoy and a Hammond organ for the Grafton Church. For the rest, he is content to work hard, romp with his kids, help out with the family chores, preache decent sermons, and slowly regain his health.

Among the War Brides arriving from England on the "Queen Mary" on May 8th, are the following from the Napanee district:

On Saturday of last week The Salvation Army held a very successful rummage sale at Fry Hall on the Mill Street. Generous donations of articles were received and throughout the day sales were brisk.

The proceeds will be used by the Army Officers for their work in the town, which deserves the support and interest of all the citizens.

RATIONING NECESSARY FOR SOME TIME DIRECTOR STATES

Commodity Shortage Still Prevails in Canada

There is little hope of any "immediate corrective" for the shortages of food, clothing, fuels and textiles in Canada, Prices Board chairman Donald Gordon declared in the Wartime Prices and Trade Board's annual report which was tabled in the House of Commons last week by the Minister of Finance, Hon. J. L. Ilsley.

Mr. Gordon outlined the Board's action to acute werd shortages and said that supplies in the Dominion were by no means adequate to meet unrestricted domestic demands. Rationing of meat, butter and sugar will be necessary for some time to come.

Dealing with rent control, Mr. Gordon explained the Board's problems and difficulties in this matter. He stated that "rent control was recognized as a temporary measure intended to mitigate a difficult situation caused by the housing shortage." "Since the net effect in many cases has been simply to shift the burden of hardship from the tenant to the owner, it is admittedly a cloak of the lesser evil. The only solution to the problem is an increase in the supply of housing until it is more nearly in balance with public needs."

Premier among Prices Board problems set forth in the report were:

1 Adjustment of commodity prices to induce greater production.

2 Checking the spread of "black markets" in Canada.

3 Holding prices to reasonable levels in the face of mounting pressure in the direction of inflation.

The report emphasized the Board's policy of allowing price adjustments "only in cases where the cost increases are genuinely necessary and likely to promote additional production."

It was revealed in the report that black market operations on an organized scale had been discovered during 1945.

Tendency of owners of second hand automobiles to sell them in excess of the Prices Board's ceiling prices continued in 1945, the report said. "The parties often falsify the report," Mr. Gordon explains, the seller accepting an additional sum of money from the purchaser."

While admitting the existence of black markets in Canada, the report sets forth that they are probably fewer and smaller than those in other countries.

FIRST ANNIVERSARY END HOSTILITIES IN EUROPE

War Ended May 7, 1945

London, May 6. (C.P. Cable) — In the early morning in a schoolhouse at Reims, France, one year ago yesterday, German representatives signed the Allies' unconditional surrender terms for the Third Reich. The following day, May 8th, the armistice became formally effective and the European war ended.

After five and a half years the crash of gunfire ceased and peace, however uneasy, came to the Continent.

The signing at Reims was the climax in a lightning development which brought Germany to complete collapse. Hammered from west east and south by Allied armies which finally burst across Germany's borders, the resistance of Nazi military forces was shattered.

BROKE FIRST IN SOUTH

The break-up showed first in the south where the German Army in Austria and northern Italy surrendered to Field Marshal Alexander, then Allied Commander in the Mediterranean Theatre and now Governor-General of Canada. In the north, Field Marshal Montgomery's British forces reached the Baltic while Gen. H. D. G. Crerar's First Canadian Army penned up the German 25th Army in fortress Holland and the Emden-Wilhelmshaven peninsula.

The United States forces and the Russian armies linked up in strength along the Elbe in Czechoslovakia and along the Danube valley.

Germany was in utter chaos and on May 4th on Luenebera Heath near Hamburg, Field Marshal Montgomery received the surrender of the German forces opposite his 21st Army Group in northern Germany. At 8:00 a.m. May 5th, the cease fire sounded on the fronts of the First Canadian Army and the British Second Army.

That afternoon, in the village of Wustermarken on the fringe of the German defence line in Holland, Field Marshal Blaskowitz formally surrendered his 25th Army to Lieut.-Gen. Charles Foulkes, commander of the First Canadian Corps, and Lieut.-General Guy Simonds, in Northwest Germany, received the surrender of German forces opposite the Second Canadian Corps which he commanded.

LEADERS GO TO REIMS

The German representatives, headed by Field Marshal Alfred Jodl, chief of the German Operational Staff who now is among the Nazi leaders on trial at Nuernberg, went to Reims for the final act.

In the ordinary sequence Gen. Eisenhower, Supreme Commander, Jodl was alerted surprisingly early. For several hours there were no messages of details in a small room in Reims covered with operations maps tracing the death agonies of the German forces.

Then Germans attempted a delay to give their troops in Central Germany a chance to surrender to the United States forces rather than to the Red Armies, and Gen. Bedell Smith, Gen. Eisenhower's chief of staff, adamant. Jodl bowed and gave in finally, signed.

Thirty minutes later at 2:41 a.m. May 8th, Winston Churchill, then Britain's Prime Minister, and President Truman and Generalissimo Stalin simultaneously announced that war was over.

LIONS CLUB PLANTS TREES AT GIBBARD PARK

During the past week members of the Napanee Lions Club transformed an 80-odd acre farm, the property of the Government Experimental Station in the Shoalands, in Prince Edward County into a beauty spot for picnickers. There they were entertained.

The farm is known as the Gibbard Estate, and was left to the Province of Ontario by the late Peter Gibbard. The Lions Club is to be commended for the favorable effect its reforestation attempts will have on the district. Many thousands of trees previously planted have now reached maturity and will be cut and sold.

The trees were planted by the Lions under the supervision of Mr. W. F. Edwards, Provincial Forester, and Mr. Edwards was also in charge of the picnic arrangements in the capacity of Director of Lands and Forests.

NINETIETH BIRTHDAY OF MRS. H. HENDERSON IS OBSERVED

Mr. and Mrs. J. Wilbert Henderson, West Hill Ave., Montreal, entertained at a come-and-go tea on Sunday afternoon in honor of Mr. Henderson's mother, Mrs. Hugh Henderson, of Napanee, who celebrated her 90th birthday on May 6th. Guests who numbered almost 100, were received in the living room, which was gay with spring flowers. Tea was served in the dining room and the tea table was exquisitely pretty with tall lighted pink tapers in silver candlesticks, pink tea and white sweet peas. The birthday cake was attractive in pink and white also. Tea was poured by Mrs. T. R. Rennie and Mrs. S. H. Yeomans, and those assisting in the serving were three grand-daughters, Mrs. H. E. Forrest, Miss M. Henderson, and Miss F. Yeomans. Included in those present were five grandchildren and two great grandchildren. Mrs. Henderson received a great many cards and gifts, along with wishes for many more happy birthdays.

GARAGES AND SUNDAY

During the war, when gasoline was severely restricted, we learned the habit of providing for our travel needs on a Sunday, by filling the gasoline tank on Saturday. The public was trained to that way of doing things. When the war ended some municipalities decided to keep the filling stations closed on Sunday, thus giving their help the day of rest and recreation to which all are entitled.

Granted that travel is now more general, since the restrictions have been lifted, yet very few people want to travel more than a couple of hundred miles on a Sunday and the average tank will hold enough gas for that mileage. The public have been trained to make provision on a Saturday, for Sunday's travel, and will no doubt, continue to do so.

Of course, with the increase of automobile travel, there is an increased possibility of emergency necessities. Surely, one garage open on a Sunday, however, would be sufficient to take care of these emergency needs. It seems a strange thing that the garage operators in Napanee cannot come to some working arrangement which would provide that only one garage remain open on Sunday, and that they take turns doing so. We understand that all but one of the operators are willing to enter into some such agreement, but, because of the one lone-wolf, all the others are compelled to remain open all day Sunday.

During the war we learned a lot about co-operation. Indeed, the war was won because of co-operation. It is one of the tragedies of modern life that once the war is over the co-operation which made success possible, is scuttled for the cut-throat competitive, which is the very basis of war. It is hard to understand the non-cooperative attitude of selfish people.

THE DEMOCRATIC WAY

Democracy, it has been said, is more than a form of government — it is a way of life. As the Great Emancipator stated: "it is government of the people, by the people, for the people." Not the least important of which is the concluding phrase: "for the people." Government is a servant of the people — it exists for the people. At the present time we are in the midst of struggle between different ways of life. Even though the war is over, that struggle still continues. We, who believe in the democratic way, must continue to struggle until the things we believe in become the accepted way of life.

Two things are necessary to the working of a successful democracy: an enlightened public, and a willingness on the part of every individual to take his or her part in the machinery of the democratic process. We have, for a long time, gone on the assumption that when our formal education was completed, we were all through. From then on, the time and energies of most people have been given to earning a living and on necessary recreation. The result has been a lamentable lack of politically-minded citizens, except of course, so far as people might expect some return from their service to this or that party.

It has become apparent to publicists and educationists, that a change was needed. Education was not a formal matter to be concluded when one completed a high school course. It is a life-long process, in which one seeks to understand the world he lives in, with all its currents, cross-currents and undercurrents of ideas.

Last Fall an experiment in adult education was attempted in Napanee, not without some fears and trembling, to be sure. Now, after a season's experiment, it is the unanimous judgment of those participating in it that the experiment was a success. Once a week, from September until Easter, mixed groups of people met in different homes as the Napanee Citizens Forum. They listened to the CBC radio address on a national or international subject. Then under a chairman, not the same one every night, they discussed the position taken by the radio speaker. The discussion was always lively and brisk. There is something about the home atmosphere that breaks down reserve. Men and women representing quite different points of view, and different positions in society, debated the address. There was no axe to grind at these meetings. The aim and object was to get at truth, by discussion. And in the clash of intellect upon intellect, progress towards the attainment of truth, was made.

In Napanee, the average attendance at these meetings was seventeen; the highest was twenty, and on one occasion it dropped to eleven. But, the interest was sustained. Now, those who have had a year's experience, are quite sur the exprriment is worth while. They hope that next year a much larger number will attend. A public notice of the first meeting will be published in the Fall, to which all interested will be invited.

Those who gave leadership to their forum in Napanee are to be congratulated. They have done a good service to the community.

INVESTING IN SERVICE

Some time ago the writer was told, by a person to whom he appealed for money on behalf of the church, that it was no use giving money to the church. "Those church people," he said, "will spend every cent they get their hands on." To which we replied: "exactly!" A church is not a savings bank; it is an investment institution, investing life, talent, and money in goodwill and in the redemption of society. The Church has no shareholders pressing for financial returns. It gives her members and those who need it, returns in comfort, encouragement and consolation. She issues no bonds — save the bonds of human fellowship and love. In other words, as we said to our friend: certainly the Church will spend all the money it can lay its hands on, but it will not waste it. Nowhere will one get so much return for his investment as in the church.

We have passed through a period in which hate, bitterness and selfishness — all those qualities against which the Church continually protests, have run riot. Now, the churches are girding themselves for a new attack one the world's sin — selfishness, ignorance and greed. This requires cone crated personnel and money to carry on her vast understakings. In one way or another, all the churches in Canada are preparing for the struggle ahead. We have before us a pamphlet issued by the "Anglican Advance" Committee, which is typical. The Anglican Church is making an appeal for $4,-500,000. The introduction has these great words: "One thing is clear to all thoughtful people that the present day needs of the world constitute a challenge to the Christian Church. That challenge cannot be met without a quickening and strengthening of the spiritual life, a rekindling of devotion within the church, herself. She must fulfil the mission entrusted to her by her Lord, to preach the Word, to administer the Sacraments, to proclam the Kingdom, to tend the lambs, to visit the fatherless and those in darkness, to heal the sick and to enlighten all who walk in darkness. Upon no generation of Christians has our Lord's command to 'go out and makes disciples' pressed so insistently and urgently as it does upon ours."

The four and a half million dollars which the Anglican Church has set as an objective, will be used to build up Home Mission work, schools and hospitals, overseas mission, educational work, social service and assist in the rehabilitation of the Anglican work in the Mother Country.

This is a worthy cause, which should meet a hearty and generous response from all members and adherents of St. Mary Magdalene's Church in Napanee, and all other Anglican churches throughout the county.

REPRIEVE

The taxpayer has received a temporary reprieve — or has he? While the big hawk and the little hawklets hovered around trying to decide who was to have what, the victim of their machinations had nothing to say, and now, since neither the big hawk or the little hawklets could agree among themselves as to which was to have what—they have gone home. The innocent taxpayer has had a temporary reprieve—or has he?

They will be back one of these days. The matter is not settled yet, and when the big hawk and the little hawklets really get down to business, the bones of the innocent victim will be picked bare, for sure. Let us hope they don't agree too soon !

Urge Labor Backing For Clothing Drive

A call to all members of trade unions and their families to get behind the forthcoming National Clothing Collection organized by Canadian Allied Relief on behalf of UNRRA is made today by A. R. Mosher, President of the Canadian Congress of Labor.

In a letter to William M. Birks, National Chairman of the Campaign which will take place from June 17 to June 29 inclusive, Mr. Mosher says that he realizes there is a great deal of planning involved in the preliminary stages of the comming Campaign and the members of Canadian Congress of Labor unions and their families will gladly work on committees and do whatever else is required in the preliminary stages, to see that the National Clothing Collection this year is an even greater success than the one held last year.

"The workers of Canada assumed their full share in the National Clothing Collection drive which took place last October," writes Mr. Mosher, "and I am sure that they are ready again to go through their clothes cupboards, and make available for the National Clothing Collection, everything they can spare.

"The need of the people of Europe for clothing staggers imagination. With the experience gained last year, the response of the Canadian people in June, should be greater than ever, and I have no hesitation in assuring the Canadian Allied Relief of the wholehearted and generous co-operation of every Canadian worker in this worthy cause."

Mr. Birks said he was appreciative of the practical evidence he saw this every organization, labor, church, welfare and others, will send their members under the same banner of service, and immediately get busy making plans that are necessary in order to ensure that every family in Canada will have the opportunity to contribute some article of clothing to the drive that will take place in June.

Thou, Lord, their Captain in the well fought fight."

REV. NORLE HATTON GIVES ADDRESS

Rev. Noble Hatton, a padre of the Second World War, brought a vital message on "What the Crusade can Mean." He said: "During war time, the soldier made light of the big and vital job he was doing. It had to be done and he was doing it . . . But it was a crusade . . . God is the eternal Crusader . . . Jesus, who went alone about His crusade, set a keynote when he took a towel and basin and washed His disciples' feet. That is our ideal and our promise is 'Come now; therefore, I will send thee and certainly I will be with thee.' . . . There is an evil crusade among us. It is not safe to let our children go out into society. Pray God, He will help us to dedicate ourselves with the towel and the basin, our symbols of service."

Communion service, conducted by Rev. J. D. Martin, closed the morning session.

Afternoon Session

Bloomfield Auxiliary led in worship. Dedication to the Kingdom of God. "The good of all to be the law for each." It closed with hymn 356 "Take my Life" read together as a prayer of personal and presbyterial dedication.

"Our Work Progresses" Mrs. Broad reported 210 associate members, contributing $183.57 and urged the interested to contact the disinterested.

Mrs. Hamilton asked each reader of Missionary Monthly and World Friends to tell others about them.

Mrs. A. D. Way urged the women to prayer and informed action on the temperance cause. She said, social drinking stands in the way of the Kingdom of God."

Mrs. Carman Atton reported only 26 Baby Bands in 87 auxiliaries. She said, "the whitest field is the childhood of the world." The Baby Band is a little missionary to tell the love of Jesus, to teach the love for children of other lands, to reach the young mothers, to bring them into the W. M.S. Mrs. Atton urged mothers to include religious books in their libraries such as "God gave me Eyes," "Tell me about Jesus," "Who Can Make," "Prayers for Little Children." Mrs. McCreary presented to the best read auxiliary—Hazards W.M.S. (25 members)— a certificate which would guarantee to them the new "bookshelf" on India.

A lovely solo, "Angels of Light, lead us," by Mrs. Townsend.

From the very informative address by Mrs. H. C. Thompson, who had once taught in a school near Wellman's Corners, the following: "The efficient conducting of the business, may be a real spiritual experience. Time's door swings open to a new era, enter with faith, courage, patience and love. Read the leaflet "Post-war tasks of United Church women" and use the "Crusade Prayer Calendar." Let us make God known and loved where we are. Colored people find much lack of brotherhood in the world. Recently, the Robert Simpson Company was asked by a Negro pastor, whether they could use some of the personable young men of his congregation. The reply was, "No, we cannot employ men and Negroes as porters," etc. We have not acted as brothers and sisters to colored people, Jews, etc. A survey has been made of our Indian work in Canada, in an effort to improve our methods. Girls interested in teaching Indians are needed for special training. There is need for candidates, socially, mentally and spiritually talented young women, is greatly increase our staff at home and overseas.

Mrs. Thomas Wilson announced the following slate for the coming year:—(1) The Finance Committee: Mrs. Mabee, Mrs. H. Truscott, Treasurer; Mrs. Arthur MacLeod, Mrs. Stanley Haggerty, Mrs. E. L. Fraser. (2) Executive: Mrs. S. W. Spafford, Mrs. F. J. Nickle, Mrs. H. Hamilton and the presidents of Napanee (Trinity), Deseronto, Madoc, Bloomfield and Holloway auxiliaries.

Mrs. Sills, on behalf of the executive, expressed appreciation of the efforts of the retiring officers and said that we had been most happy in our relationship with Mrs. Spafford, who had been enthusiastic, efficient and faithful in the work.

SUPPER MEETING—GRACE CH.

Rev. and Mrs. McKee and the women of the church served a delicious supper and made their guests completely comfortable.

The National Anthem was sung. Mayor Corey in a speech of welcome, declared that the four hotels in Trenton were efficiently run and that a new liquor act would make no change in Trenton.

Rev. Mr. McKee called next upon the Chairman of Presbytery, Rev. Mr. Poulter, who said in part: There is a great need for Presbytery and Presbyterial. He paid tribute to Mrs. Spafford. He warned church people against the unreasonably and unessentially busy here and there, while vital things were neglected. He called for a same temperance education for the youth of our church.

Mrs. Macklin, in Miss Brickman's absence, brought greetings from the W.A. She said: "In many cases, we are the same women — we are growing together for the glory of God and His Kingdom."

Mrs. Haggerty, bringing the best wishes of the Bay of Quinte Conference branch, said: "We have been well spoken of, but our responsibilities are great and serious; we must go on." She quoted the prayer: "Give Thy blessing and guide us as we try

In sisterhood of service, to raise Thy banner high."

Mrs. Shorten, of Deseronto, replied to the greetings and summed up two thoughts to take home: (1) Let each life be reconsecrated, especially in the home; (2) Our work isn't always big, but not to forget the "basin and the towel," consecrated, humble service.

THURSDAY EVENING GRACE CHURCH

The C.G.I.T. led in a lovely service of worship, telling briefly the story of Dr. Albert Schweitzer, who became a "doctor for savages" and a "fool for God" because he felt it should not be true that we exploited the black people and did not give them food or medicine. Greg Sills felt that we should be foolish enough to believe that what we are matters—and foolish enough to believe that brotherly love will bring about permanent peace. Jean Sills' story was "foolish enough to give His life for us."

Two of the girls sang, "Lord I want to be a Christian in my heart." The church choir, the organist and leaders in Grace Church assist in this fine service.

Mrs. Finlay said some of her girls had made correspondence friends of Japanese-Canadian girls. She said: "These C.G.I.T. are necessary to us. This year, in Canada, they are being asked for $9000.00, a part of salaries of teachers in Angola. The thing is to send their report and money to Mrs. Presbyterial secretary, now Mrs. A. K. Leonard, Picton."

Mrs. Haggerty, speaking for Circles, Mission Bands and Baby Bands, Auxiliaries, Evening auxiliaries and only 5 Circles. "Let this be a Circle year and when you are most discouraged, remember Paul's words to Timothy: 'Stir up the gift that is in you'."

Supply Secretary, Miss Morden, said there is a committee in Europe to find out the needs there. They will report before Fall. Meanwhile

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON, MAY 12TH, 1946

"LEARNING TO LIVE TOGETHER"
Text: Matthew 5:43-17, 21, 22, Mark 10: 35-27, 41-45.

The problem of human relations is one of the most pressing problems of our time—or any time. Every person is a human personality. Each one has his own ideas, each has his own temperament. One may be dour, another excitable, one self-seeking, one self-effacing. Naturally when we are thrown together, in the home, in the shop, the office, there is a clash of personalities, especially between those whose special characteristics are strongly marked. Jesus had a way of dealing with this. He suggested that where there is trouble, it is well in the first place, to have a face-to-face talk about it. Then gets no-where then the next step is to call in the church. That puts it on a high level. There used to be a time when men were checked up by their church. That is almost a thing of the past now. A person can get away with anything and still retain his place in the church. There can be no objection to that, except that the sinner should be made aware of his sins. To be sure, the church is for sinners, but for sinners who are fully aware that the church knows and disapproves of their sin.

This matter of forgiveness is a serious business. After all there are bound to be times in life when, unmake layettes and all the children's clothing you can. If you raise money and buy the goods yourself, report it to me.

Mrs. Harrison, of whom Mrs. Nickle said "The Lord loveth a merry heart" spoke for Mission Bands. She said they are music in the Master's ears. She made, in view of the interested audience, a complete daisy with white petals on which were written the necessary conditions for the award of certificates and stars and suggested that one such be kept where the children could see it.

The eagerly anticipated address of the evening was given by Miss Vera Boyd, Reg. Nurse, of India, who had been with the group the whole time of the Presbyterial. She said - the greatest empire builders in India have been the foreign missionaries. "Now the White or European so called missionary worker must decrease, not in numbers, but in importance. Have we so built that our groups of Indian Christians are ready to take over?"

Miss Boyd spoke mainly of the medical work, in what she has now nomed her "Books, Basins and Bibs" speech. The many villages, the early type of missionary school sadly in training, overcoming prejudices. The war hit us hard, but some good Indian authorities were compelled on account of the need, to take city nurses into their military hospitals. It was a severe test and the authorities were extremely severe and suspicious, but non-Christian Indians came to bow before their quiet dignity, as though the very hand of Christ were there. This is being repeated all over India, but India with its 400 million people has only two million Christians, with one nurse to every 60,000 people—as though there were only 200 graduate nurses in all of Canada. Not more than three out of one hundred are reached by any medical help.

A member of Grace Church choir sang beautifully "Nearer to Thee."

Mrs. A. D. Way expressed the appreciation of the Rally for the graciousness, the courtesy of Trenton churches, the ministers, their wives, the people, including the Manor and Park Press, and for the inspirational music and the delicious meals, and the guest speakers, who brought so much

Rev. McKee gave the benediction.

OBITUARIES

MRS. EDWARD McDONALD

The angel of death claimed one of the most highly respected citizens of Richmond, in the person of Anastasia Manion, wife of Edward McDonald, on Tuesday, April 23rd, 1946.

Deceased had been in failing health for the past winter and on Easter Sunday, suffered a stroke, from which she never rallied. During her illness she had the loving care of her family, the ministrations of the family physician and the consolation of the last rites of her church. She was a faithful member of the Roman Catholic Church, the League of the Sacred Heart and the Catholic Women's League.

She leaves to mourn her loss, besides her husband, four daughters and two sons, Grace, Loretta and Lucille, Richmond; Vincent of Sudbury, and Frank and Rita, at home; One brother also survives, Edmund Manion, of Selby, and several nieces and nephews. She was predeceased several years ago by two sons and one daughter, John, Gregory and Mary.

The high esteem in which deceased was held was evidenced by the large number of spiritual offerings sent after her death. The funeral took place from her late residence to St. Patrick's Roman Catholic Church, where a high mass of requiem was sung by Very Rev. Dean E. M. Lacey. Burial took place in the family plot in St. Patrick's cemetery. The pall-bearers were Messrs. Dan. Kennedy, Carman Davis, William McGrath, Frank Gray, James Kennefley and Leopold Carscallen.

MRS. THOMAS HYLAND

The community was shocked by the sudden death after a short illness of Mrs. Thomas Hyland, elder daughter of the late W. L. Peters and Sarah Vanest. The late Mrs. Hyland was born at Moscow 69 years ago. A short time after her parents moved to Enterprise, where her father carried on a blacksmith shop for a number of years, later moving on a farm north of Moscow. She was married in 1879 to Thomas Hyland, Reidville, and some years later moved to Bickwell's Corners, where she passed away.

She leaves her husband and three daughters, Flossie, Mrs. Kenneth Bateman, of Edgefield; Luella, Mrs. Eldon Kilpatrick, of Clare, Michigan, and Stella, Mrs. L. E. Watts, Kingston, and one son, German on the farm, and three grandsons. She also leaves two brothers, Everton and Harold, and one sister, Nellie, Mrs. Adam Prisken, of Selby.

Mrs. Hyland was active in church and community work and was president of the Woman's Association, and was a member of the Women's Institute. She was a true friend and a good neighbour and many will mourn her passing. Her funeral was conducted from her late residence on Tuesday afternoon, by her pastor, Rev. W. G. Fletcher, and interment was at Camden East, in St. Luke's cemetery. Among were many floral gifts, which were carried by two grandsons, Leroy Amey and Burrill Bateman; and two nephews, Gerald Peters, and Clifford Prisken. The pall-bearers were Messrs. George Fingland, Fred Reid, John Wilson, George Ford, Milton Dunn and Delbert Sexsmith.

THE LATE L. P. TRUMPOUR

Following an illness of eight weeks, Luke Paul Trumpour, United Empire Loyalist, died on Saturday, April 20, 1946 at the Campbell Nursing Home, in Napanee. Mr. Trumpour was born on Adolphustown, 82 years ago, the son of Thomas Trumpour and Almira Ellis. He was a great-grandson of Paul Trumpour, who came to Adolphustown during the American Rebellion, from Duchess County, in New York State.

He farmed in Adolphustown until about thirty years ago when he moved near Napanee on the River Road and later to Napanee, where he was in business selling farm machinery. His wife, formerly Edith Gurren of Sandhurst, died in 1927. He is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Fullerton Kirby, Morven, and Mrs. James Sheedy, of Whitby, and one grandson, Paul Michael Sheedy.

The funeral service for Mr. Trumpour was largely attended in St. Alban's Church, Adolphustown, Tuesday, April 23rd, and was conducted by Archdeacon R. J. Dumbrille, and Rev. Johnston, rector of the Sandhurst cemetery. The pall-bearers were Messrs. R. M. Roblin, Percy Hawley, Herbert Trumpour, J. L. Haycock, S. J. Simmons and William Ballance.

Blind English Bride Given Instruction In Typewriting

Miss Rosabelle Munro, of Kingston, blind home teacher in this district for The Canadian National Institute for the Blind, visited Napanee early last week, to instruct Mrs. George Allenbrand in typewriting, and to assist her in other ways.

It is hoped that through the efforts of The Canadian National Institute for The Blind and the Napanee Lions Club, it will be possible to obtain a new portable typewriter to be presented to Mrs. Allenbrand.

THE QUEEN'S PARK DEPUTATIONS

The Drew Government apparently took considerable umbrage over the appearance at the Parliament Buildings of some 1,500 citizens who desired to impress on them that there existed in Ontario a large volume of public opinion adverse to the enlargements of liquor outlets proposed in Bill 136. Its supporters in the press and elsewhere have made quite a "to-do" about certain ill-considered outcries that were emitted from the waiting crowd.

The writer recalls being a member of a company of 1,000 to 1,100 who in the early days of his government visited Sir James Whitney on a similar mission.

Mr. Whitney instead of botaking himself to official seclusion, had a table placed on the landing at the last flight of stairs leading from the rotunda. At this he sat accompanied by a secretary, and listened while two or three selected speakers explained to him the purposes for which the mass delegation had come. The Premier replied in his well-known testy and emphatic style. He did not agree with the representations offered, but, at least he had — the-what-is-it-you-call-it — to meet the people and say so.

The quiet conference in the Premier's office, if it can be had, is perfectly in place if the purpose is to explore things. The Premier would have been wise to have conferred with leaders in the churches, the medical profession, the social workers, and with the police at the beginning of his consideration of the subject not included in his 22 points. But the quiet conference does not and cannot convey the volume and the tone of public opinion which those in authority in a democracy need to know.

That sort of conference may be satisfactory and effective for the liquor people. They have much they do not want to publicize. Their big argument is a silent one—their ability to subscribe handsomely to party funds.

The big argument of the temperance people, apart from social well-being, and the one that may be expected to appeal to politicians, is just the existence of this widespread though largely inarticulate public opinion which stands against greed for decency and humanity.

Apart from an election, or a referendum vote, or some such opportunity not at present available, it is difficult to see how without some such advance on Queen's Park, however inadequate this is, such public opinion can make itself felt in time to prevent the marauding liquor interests from digging themselves in on a new level.

Deputation solutions call for desperate tactics.

"A BY-STANDER"

LONDON'S IMPRESSIVE COME - BACK

BY WILLIAM L. WHITE Author of "Journey to Napanee" and
"Report on the Russians"

London. — To one who had not visited Britain since the end of the Blitz in 1941 and who has since followed developments in London only through cables, this city is strikingly happy, cheerful and certainly comfortable if not prosperous. The streets are crowded with decently dressed people; they will tell you, of course, that they have had almost no new clothes in the last five years, but what they have originally of good quality and has been carefully mended and preserved.

Of all the great world capitals, London has made the most impressive come back since the war, even though being the most badly damaged it had further to come. Bomb damage has been so neatly cleaned away that in most parts of town the casual visitor might be unaware that there ever had been a war and might easily mistake a bombed-out house for one which had been recently torn down to make way for a better building. The shop windows are only a little less glittering than those in America and prices, if anything are slightly lower. Although there are inflationary pressures here, they have been kept under control better than in America.

Sharpest contrast is in food rationing systems. There is, of course, a shortage here, principally of red meats and fats, and this is as noticeable in the luxury hotels as it is in the poorest public house. A black market exists but is nothing like American proportions, and it is limited to four or five small hole-in-the-wall restaurants where thick steaks can be had. Statistically it is unimportant in contrast to the American black market.

Only part of this lack of a black market is due to good law enforcement machinery over here. Most of it is due to the strict British conscience. It is considered unfashionable and un-English to try to bet the rationing system.

The skimpy menu of the most de Luxe hotel is hard to rationalize with the hard statistics which prove that the average Englishman now actually is getting more to eat than he was before the war started. The explanation is that before the war the lower classes were notoriously underfed. Food was bounteously available in the shops, but with several millions on relief, and still more millions working for marginal wages, comparatively few could afford to buy all they needed for a healthy diet. But, as in America ,war factories provided good wages to countless millions and much of this money went for food in rationed quantities and at controlled prices with the result that the British working classes because of the war, have been decently fed to rthe first time in many of their lives.

The only people who have actually been cut down by the present system is that numerically small group in the top income brackets who traditionally are supposed to inhabit Park Lane and Mayfair and who, under the old system, had far more than they needed to eat. Now they are getting some idea of how the other half used to live.

If, unlike Americans, they don't revolt against rationing and use their superior purchasing power to corrupt or circumvent the system, it is because war has brought to England a deeper feeling of national unity which this island probably has not known since the time of Queen Elizabeth.

The so-called ruling classes are now convinced that the British Empire has no future unless the English nation is healty and well nourished. It should be remembered that it was a Parliament with an overwhelming majority which introduced this rationing system, which the present Socialist government is merely continuing.

It is inconceivable that any future Parliament will ever permit a return to those conditions under which the strength of the British race was sapped, when 1,000,000 children came from the slums of London's East End, Glasgow and the factory towns of the Midlands, with stunted bodies, rickety bones and rotten teeth. Already the good effects can be seen in children who since the beginning of the war have had all the milk they could drink, although there has been almost none for adults. In the parks ,the children look fat and healthy, even if one no longer sees any fat men in the leather chairs of London's better clubs.

GARDEN TOOLS

With a very small garden all the tools needed are a rake, a hoe and a spade or digging fork. These are minimum requirements. With a little more equipment, however, much labor can be saved. Digging forks, cultivators, special weeders, dutch hoes, etc., will make the work easier and more interesting. For larger gardens a small garden tractor that will cultivate, plow, etc., might be considered. A sharp hoe or cultivator will also speed the work. It is a good plan to wipe off all dirt between operations, and a little oil or grease smeared on the shiny surfaces is recommended.

The April meeting of Sillsville W. A. was held at the home of Mrs. Percy Merritt on Tuesday, April 9. The meeting opened by singing the theme song, followed by a hymn from the prayer book. A prayer by R. L. Stevenson was read by Mrs. Sharpe, followed by the Lord's Prayer repeated in unison. Part of a speech by Dr. Wallace was read by the president. For the next meeting members are to bring slips from plants to be acid and a recipe for a supper dish. It was moved that $5 be spent on food for relief in Britain and that $5 be given for the relief of children suffering from tuberculosis and infantile paralysis, at Malta. It was also decided to buy chocolates to be given Mr. H. Whyte in appreciation of the kindness he has shown in having the hall clean and comfortable for the meetings held there. Grace was sung and a delicious lunch was served by the hostess and her mother.

In Loving Memory
In memory of my dear Mother and all the Mothers who are missed on this very special day.
"Last Mother's Day I wore a rosebud
I red.
I knew the wealth of Mother's love,
The light of Mother's smile.
Now, 'gainst my heart I place a rose of white,
And yet, I cannot say that she
Is dead — just gone awhile !
A vision fair of immortality,
Within my spotless rose it doth reveal a shining way.
Until to me at last her arms enfold
And once again for me 'tis Mother's day."

Question and Answer Column

Readers may direct their questions, giving their name and address and mentioning the name of this paper to Information Branch, WPTB, 490 Sussex Street, Ottawa, Ontario.

Q. I intend to visit relatives in the United States for a few days. Will I be allowed to make them gifts of butter and meat?

A. Whether or not you would be allowed to take butter and meat into the United States is a matter which comes under the jurisdiction of the United States customs officials. We suggest that you enquire at your nearest customs office.

Q. I wrote you a while ago about the price of $2 for having my coat shortened and you asked for more information. The cleaners did not shorten the coat where I had it marked and now it is so short I cannot wear it. Is there anything I can do to make these people replace my coat?

A. As we explained to you before this firm would be allowed to charge the same price for the actual work as was charged by them in 1941. As far as the poor workmanship is concerned we would advise that you consult a lawyer in the matter. If as you say the coat is ruined to the extent you cannot wear it, it would seem you have a good claim against this firm.

Q. When a house is sold should the notice be given by the present landlord or the person who buys the house?

A. If it is possible to give notice to the tenants then such notice must be given on the proper form provided by the Rentals Administration by the new owners.

Q. Only recently I read the question about butter spoiling and being sent to the soap factories. Have conditions mentioned have actually been seen and I would like to know why some of the black markets cannot be dealt with.

A. Only the public can stamp out black markets. It takes two persons to create a black market — an unscrupulous buyer and an unscrupulous seller. If you know that black market conditions exist in your community or that butter is being allowed to spoil, we would appreciate if you would write and write us again giving more details and we will investigate immediately.

Almost every night the temperature falls below freezing and ice is formed. It is very uncertain as to the prospects of the alfalfa and fruit crops. The huckleberry crop, on the mountains, which has always been a source of revenue may suffer from these late frosts.

Already the tourist business is beginning to loom up. Not in several years has there been so much early bookings. Great preparations are being made to accommodate the visitors, in the fear that accommodation may be at a premium.

Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Hopkins have purchased lots on the mountains in the vicinity of Little Bass Lake, on No. 41 Highway, and are erecting several cottages on said lake. The Finn Bros. are doing the work. The new planing mill at Kaladar is a valuable source of supply for material.

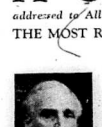
A Call to Action addressed to All Members of the Church of England in Canada by

THE MOST REVEREND DERWYN T. OWEN, D.D., D.C.L.

Primate of all Canada



NEVER has humanity been in greater need of the Christian Gospel, the inspiration and guidance of Christian teaching and the Christian spirit.

To-day we give thanks for a physical victory over forces opposed to every Christian principle. But these forces must still be fought in human minds and hearts. The only new order worth building is a Christian order. At home and abroad, the Christian Church faces a renewed challenge.

That is why the Church of England in Canada is making an appeal to her people for rededication, self-sacrifice and constructive action.

This movement seeks to make Anglicans more truly Christian; to make them conscious of the historic mission of their church; to strengthen the spiritual, educational and social work of the Church at home and abroad; and to provide funds for additional Clergy, for the pension fund, for helping the Mother Church in England and the Churches in Europe in their work of rehabilitation, for providing youth training and leadership, and for assisting all Dioceses in meeting their local needs.

The Appeal was launched in our Churches on the Feast of the Epiphany, Sunday, January 6th, and will continue till May 19th. In its spiritual aspects it has already reached the homes of our people and its programme will continue over years to come.

During the week of May 12th to 19th, every member of the Church of England in Canada, so far as possible, will be visited by a fellow member, authorized to receive contributions to the $4,700,000 fund needed to carry out the financial program.

I bespeak from every one of our members and friends the earnest, prayerful consideration of this urgent need. I am confident that if every individual does his and her part, the combined objective of spiritual enrichment and financial support will be fully achieved.

John Fisher Speaks

wink at the American. Many American stations carried every word said at the conference. I listened to the French translation; to the entire report. It was a fascinating thing to watch. For example there was an Iranian question. It was not just a matter of Iran, and it was not merely a question of oil, but it was a clash in concept of security. It was the problem of whether the United Nations Organization will stand for only big-nation control in which the little nations do not count. That is what makes one uneasy at times. We must not say that our differences with them are the fault of the Russians, because they are all saying the same thing about us; it is our different way of viewing the same matter.

I can illustrate what I mean by mentioning my experience on a diner on the train, recently. A man at the same table with me gobbled up his food, saying not a word. When he left the table I thought: "Well, he is not a friendly soul." Then it occurred to me that he might be saying the same thing about myself. Our inclination is to say how wrong the other fellow is when he may be no more wrong than we are. We may not like what he does, but we must remember that he has the right to live as he likes, so long as it does not interfere with others, whether we like it or not.

Our failure to see the other fellow's point of view is illustrated by an incident at the meeting in Paris the other day, when an American demanded that the speaker giving the address speak "English", though he was a Frenchman. Now why should a Frenchman speaking in France be obliged to speak a language other than his own? We must admit that one of the traits of the Anglo-Saxon race is an inclination to feel superior, and to make the other fellow come to him. And a little thought will convince us that we need some bigger standard for ourselves.

Harmony I mention first. It is so well illustrated by the three band conductors—each leading in his own way to attain the desired result. What, you ask, has this got to do with the name I mentioned earlier —Herrington, Douglas, Ross-Miller ? The curse of our modern world is an over-dose of Nationalism, and it is not confined to countries you might name: Germany, Japan, the United States, the European countries. We Canadians may have the jump on them all because we, of all people in the world, are not puffed up with our own importance. There is no need for the crocodile tears called for by after-dinner speakers who deplore our lack of unity; they point out the differences between the French and English-speaking sections; they streak the fact that there are no Provincial barriers in the United States such as we have in Canada, and see no hope of there ever being a spirit of unity and harmony.

It is quite impossible to compare Canada with Great Britain, as that country is so settled, so old, so compact; or with the United States of America with its history, its revolutionary spirit, its boogey-woogey pace. I believe such after-dinner speeches are wrong. They tell us we have no national unity. But it is so how does it happen that Canada during the last Great War accomplished so much as a nation. With a population no greater than that of the State of New York, Canada raised and supported an army in the field which General Montgomery said could not be beaten. They started from scratch and raised an Air Force and a Navy which were among the greatest in the world. We have a unity of our own; it may be different; it may be unique but it is very real. The world does not know what Mr. Mackenzie King smokes, nor what his predecessor smoked, as they know what Mr. Churchill and Mr. Roosevelt smoked. We are a plain, ordinary people; we are rather uninteresting, but we have a spirit which has accomplished things that the Canadian people want accomplished. We are fortunate as Canadians, inherit a stability from our British ancestors, and adopting something of the "drive" of our American neighbours. No writers can just put a hand upon this Canadian quality; it is elusive, it has no accent, no distinctive quality, but the quality is there. Even our language does not attract attention. From Vancouver to Halifax, in Toronto and in Montreal and in Napanee, English is spoken with no distinctive accent—only one exception that I know—that is the Ottawa Valley.

Canada has been heretofore a country not big enough to worry anyone. But we must remember that we are linked in partnership and in blood with the greatest Empire the world has ever known; and now we are associated with the greatest neighbour the world has ever known. And now another neighbour dwells in the north and west—a neighbour which promises to be the most dynamic empire the world has ever known. We are in a position where it is essential that we get rid of prejudice, and be prepared to meet any people on a fair and equal footing. We have been foolish in our prejudice against the French language and customs in Canada; we must learn to speak whatever language is required that we may speak on friendly terms with our neighbours.

Just think of the position of Canada. In Edmonton, Alberta, the air lines of the world cross. American airmen leave their planes; Russian girls take their places and soon those planes have soared above our mountains, are winging their way to Russia. Tomorrow, if there were a war, do not be sorry for the Belgians, or for France, or for England, or for some other country. The great battleground of tomorrow is Canada, and when the war begins, get down into your cellars in Napanee.

For plain selfish reasons Canadians must assume those responsibilities and that dignity which is theirs. I found in the United States that there is more respect for the Canadian ambassador that for the other. Why? In the world the name of Canada stands for what is clean. It has had a rather humble place partly because we have lacked a proper pride in ourselves. We do not even know our own story; we must gather our folk lore and the history of Canada to create a pride in Canada—for only by their own history can a people develop a pride in their nation. How many of the people of this district know that some settlements are about two hundred years old; know of the old wooden ploughs of Uncle Tom's Cabin, mentioned in the news this week, that Uncle Tom of Harriett Beecher Stowe's book actually died in Canada. Tell me, too, where is the great table—the greatest ever in Canada—on which were drawn up the Confederation terms of 1867? It is 2,000 miles away in Regina. Some years ago when the prairie provinces were still territories, the people of Ottawa sent it out to the West with a carload of second-hand furniture. It arrived on a Red River cart, and after some years being no longer of use was to be stored in an old warehouse. Since it was too large for the warehouse door, they sawed the table in two and then it was about to be split up into kindling wood. Then, a woman saved it and had it put in a Library at Regina. Thanks to a woman, the table has been preserved at all. Another illustration: recently I was in Renfrew where a teacher said to me, "Did you know that in his Canadian travels Champlain was once in Renfrew, and that here he lost his Compass. That was three hundred years ago, and just recently that same compass was discovered by a farmer of the district. What happened the compass? The farmer sold it to a tourist from New Jersey!

First of all we must realize that We have a clean, outdoor virile character; our country was founded by men with fortitude and courage. Then we must remember that we have almost every natural wealth of climate and resources which can be given to any nation. In Vancouver you may swim in the warm gulf and go in the afternoon, to ski on the snows of the mountains. In Alberta there is the greatest cattle ranching country and clay for china; in Edmonton there is the crossroads of the airways of the skies; at Winnipeg is the crossroads of both sky and sea travel to Britain. In Ontario there are the richest resources of the world. Parts of Ontario are so far south that twenty-three States of the U.S.A. are north of them, our southern points bring at Windsor and Pelee Island, which are in the same latitude as Northern California. Ontario goes north to the Arctic and has the richest highlands and rocks known to man. Ontario leads the world or surpasses many countries in the output of nickel, aluminium, asbestos, gold, radium, uranium, and is rich in many other minerals. It seems that never was there so much wealth with so few people to share it.

In Canada our standard of living is so much that Napanee can have an entire factory turning out dog meat—dog meat while in Europe people are hungry and sick and in distress. But can it continue that Irish eyes will be smiling while Chinese eyes are crying? That the people of Yugoslavia are starving while we live in luxury? Neither Canada nor the United States can any longer have a standard of living so high while the rest of the world is starving. The answer to any question of that kind is found at the U. N. O. There the committees which deal with social, economic, trading, medical standards have stated that standards for the rest of the world must be raised.

The Canadian story is a wonderful story, but it must be told. With the contacts we have — British, French, American — the story becomes unique. Our sympathies should be broad — and we have a wonderful record with regard to the shipment of relief supplies and of food. But we must also play the part of the Dog in the Napanee Iron Works — we must stamp out the fires. These fires are usually prejudices, or arise from a feeling of intolerance or superiority. You hear, "I do not deal with Jews"—that is a fire to stamp out. You hear, "He is a Christ"! Remember the lessons of scripture which are the only solid foundation for future conduct anywhere. "Am I my brother's keeper? And again: "Do unto others as you would that they should do unto you." There is no room for fine legalities any more; we must meet one another as brothers.

Now, think again of the harmony of the Band. In the world at present there are some people who lead, as the chief conductor did, with both hands; there are others who direct chiefly with the right hand; and there are others who conduct by only slightly waving the hand! We saw as we watched the band, that each conductor, acting in his own individual manner, produced the harmony that was essential. Reminds one of the saying of a former statesman: "I do not agree with a word you say, but I will fight to the death for your right to say it." From this time on we must recognize that each nation has a right to its own life and its own system of living even though it may be quite different from what WE think is best. We must remember that no people can claim superiority for, are not all nations the product of several races. We English were Angles, Jutes—later part Viking and Norman; now they are English-men. We remember that King George VI is not a German-Englishman; he is an Englishman. There should be no French - Canadians, no Irish - Canadians, no Norwegian - Canadians, no Japanese - Canadians — we are just Canadians. It is our foolish feeling of superiority which will not let us forget; we seem to feel that we were first here and that all others are "foreigners." You remember that President Roosevelt said: "We are all foreigners here in U.S.A." The Indian had the country first. He had the espirit which we must emulate.

America made itself the melting-pot of Europe. Canadians have not done that, but they should take the best which each of their people has to give, and allow them to preserve their own characteristics so long as they are loyal to the main cause of Canada.

We are so lucky to be close to a rich, wonderful and powerful neighbour like the United States, but how can we keep the United States from pulling our boys away from us. We must promote anything which encourages their talent rewards their efforts, and develops their trust—at home. Do you know that in the United States there are half as many Canadians as there are in Canada itself? An alarming fact. We must foster our own pride and we must tell our story.

The United States tourist is one of our great assets. The tourist industry is as great an industry as the wheat exported from three provinces of Canada. But we must stop imitating the United States and Britain and develop Canadian qualities and characteristics of our own.

I do not end on a note of despair. Progress is slow but we will never get anywhere until we start to think right. And when the world is thinking better, I would prefer to be in Canada for there will be no greater going concern than this rugged land of the Maple Leaf.

COUNCIL URGED TO TAKE ACTION ON DUMP NUISANCE

Other Important Matters Considered at Meeting

At the regular session of the Napanee Town Council held on Monday evening, considerable discussion centred around the condition of the town dump, near the sewage disposal plant about which the people of the neighborhood are voicing protests. The matter was brought to the attention of the Council by Harold Wooster, chairman of the Health and Sanitation Committee, who reported that the members of the committee had visited the dump and found it in a disgraceful condition. The committee recommended that the Tweedsmuir Packing Company make some other arrangements for disposing of refuse from the plant, and that the town gardener collect it and haul to dispose of garbage for business places in the town where the dumps the garbage from homes in Napanee and that he also be asked to dump ashes on the east side of the disposal works in such a way as to fill in the existing marsh. Interviews had been held with the manager of the Tweedsmuir Packing Company, who had expressed his willingness to co-operate with the town in the matter. As a result of the discussion, the Clerk was instructed to procure the prices of an incinerator for town use and the Health and Sanitation Committee was asked to bring in definite recommendations to overcome the nuisance.

On the recommendation of the committee complaints concerning the stagnant water lying in excavations on the property next to the School were referred to the Board of Health, for action.

The Industrial Committee reported that it is the intention of the committee to publish in booklet form, in the near future, a complete industrial survey of Napanee in co-operation with the Retail Merchants Association.

The special committee, organized some time ago to arrange for a suitable quiet and presentation for the men and women of the town who have served in the war, reported that due to delays in procuring rings for presentation and the difficulties in securing rations for the banquet, that the event had been postponed from May to October 28th.

On motion of the Council, Friday, May 24th, Victoria Day, was declared a Civic Holiday for the town of Napanee.

The Council discussed a motion passed at a recent meeting to have the parking by-law amended to prohibit parking on Bridge St. between Centre and East Streets, but the matter was left over until a later date and in the meantime the Clerk was asked to contact the Imperial Oil Company with a view to obtaining permission to use the Company's vacant lot, opposite Gibbard's, as a parking lot, which it was thought would relieve the situation with regard to parking.

The matter of issuing building permits, which up to the present had been the responsibility of the chairman of the Police Committee, was referred to the Town Planning Committee for study in a recommendation.

A request from The Granada Theatre for permission to erect two flag pole stands on the sidewalk in front of the theatre, was referred to the Police Committee to consider and report.

R. G. Henderson's request that the name of his son-in-law be added to that of Ann Street for the purpose of erecting thereon a house, was referred to the Town Property Committee, with power to act.

A letter from a Toronto agency, regarding waste factory and building sites in Napanee, was referred to the Industrial Committee.

A request permission to hold a tag day for the Navy League, under the direction of the Alice D. Harshaw Chapter, I.O.D.E., was referred to the Police Committee, with power to act.

At the request of the owners, a by-law was passed regulating the closing hours of the Hairdresser and Beauty Parlor operators in the town.

'MOTHER'S DAY' AT GRACE CHURCH

The Mother's Day service in Grace United Church on Sunday morning was an impressive one and was very largely attended. It was in charge of the minister, Rev. C. D. McLellan who extended a hearty welcome to all and particularly the visitors, one of the latter being Mrs. Arnold Perry, a British war bride.

The service opened with the organ prelude after which the processional hymn was sung. Arnold Rogers, superintendent of the Sunday school then made the prayer. At this junction the small sons of Mr. and Mrs. Bert McPherson and Mr. and Mrs. Eric Wright were baptized by Mr. McLellan. The reading from Mother's Day programme was given by F. B. Elliott, a member of the official board. The large choir, under the leadership of Mrs. W. V. Drury, sang the anthem "Blessed Day of Motherhood," with Jack Blakely, miss Shirley Jeffs and Mrs. W. V. Drury taking the solo parts. Arnold Rogers then made the plea for offerings and the offering was taken and dedicated. Mrs. James Haggerty told a graphic story on the subject "In a Chinese Home." The church service closed with the hymn, the benediction and the organ postlude. Mrs. B. M. Black presided at the organ.

At the evening service Mrs. Black played several numbers preceding the service. The music for this service was in charge of the ladies and was under the direction of the leader, Mrs. W. V. Drury. The anthem was "Father Most Merciful," by Frank, and the special number was a violin solo, "Ave Maria," by Gounod, was played by Mrs. Robert Smith. On motion the recommendation was accepted. Mr. VanLuven stated that the contracts were ready to be signed.

Under the order of general business, Dr. Roblin spoke on the Educational Convention recently held in Toronto, which he attended. Mr. P. U. Laidley stated that several members had made a visit to the new modern school at Etobicoke Township, near Toronto. The facilities that they have there, made us realize how far behind, how far we are behind, here. He also said that they viewed a school in Oshawa.

Mr. Simpson requested that a special meeting be held next Monday evening, at which time the topic will be the Public School question.

Mr. Laidley felt that the Citizens Advisory Committee should attend this meeting and on a yea and nay vote to determine whether the committee will attend or not, showed six yeas and two nays.

Effort Being Made To Organize Intermediate Baseball

During the past few days a number of local fans have been endeavoring to organize a league for the intermediate age young men of the town. Enough material is available in Napanee to form two fair teams, and these sponsoring the idea are hoping that two more outfits can be mobilized in the surrounding district.

With the use of the Lions operated Gibbard Park and baseball equipment, the possibility of a league should not be a difficult one.

FINAL MEETING OF MINISTERIAL ASSO.

The final meeting of the season, 1945-46 of the Napanee and District Ministerial Association was held on Tuesday, May 7th, 1946, at 3:00 p.m. in Enterprise United Church. Those present were: Rev. Dr. Hall, the Rev. H. A. Bunt and Capt. Murrell, Capt. Clarke, and the Revs. W. H. Baugh, W. G. Fletcher, C. D. McLellan, J. A. Haw, J. F. Dingman, Noble Hatton, A. W. Langford, W. H. Shore, C. W. Trill, K. J. Crawford. Visitors present at this meeting were Mrs. Bunt, Mrs. Baugh, Mrs. Haw, Mrs. Dingman, Mrs. Hatton, Mrs. Hoare, Mrs. Trill and Mrs. Crawford.

The meeting opened with Scripture reading and prayer, and the minutes of the April meeting were confirmed. Mr. Bunt, the retiring president, expressed his appreciation of the honour of acting as president for the past year, and the election of officers for the year 1946-47 was carried with the following elected: President, the Rev. H. C. Secker; vice-president, the Rev. W. G. Fletcher; Secretary-Treasurer, the Rev. K. J. Crawford. Press Reporter, the Rev. Noble Hatton. It was decided that the first meeting of the new term be held in October in Tamworth Church, with Mr. McLellan as speaker.

The paper was given by Captain Murrell of The Salvation Army, who based her talk on the 13th verse of Leviticus 6: "The fire shall ever be burning upon the altar; it shall never go out." The question Capt. Murrell asked was, "How burns the fire upon the altar?" As the ancient Hebrews, kept the fire continually, so should we maintain the continual worship of God within our lives. The spiritual life is quickened by God but the soul must be nourished; we must stir up the gift of God within us, through prayer and other acts of devotion. We must exercise faith until it is a fiery conviction within the soul. What would our bodies and minds be like if we treated them as we treat our souls? We must not slight the habits of prayer. Our motto should be, "Evening, morning, and at noon will I cry unto Thee." Even Jesus spent whole nights in prayer, and was found on the Sabbath in the synagogue. Through neglect we stifle faith and the sense of God fades out of our hearts; for we have not cared the altar fires.

So the question is, "How burns the holy fires within our souls?" Are we nourishing the spiritual life? We must not let prayer become a lost art. Let the holy fire on the soul's altar never go out.

Members individually expressed their appreciation to Capt. Murrell for her very excellent paper.

The business part of the meeting closed with the benediction. Then supper was served by the ladies of Enterprise Woman's Association.

The United Church Pension Fund Campaign Progressing Well

A recently issued report on the results of the campaign to raise $3,500,000 for the Pension Fund of the United Church, indicate that in many sections of the country the allocations of churches and Presbyteries is being reached or exceeded.

In some instances the amount asked for from individual charges is being voluntarily increased. In other churches the allocation has been reached and contributions are still coming in.

Montreal churches report to May 8th $670.000 of their $1,000.000 objective had been subscribed. Lindsay Presbytery increased its quota from $30,000 to $35,000. Eaton Memorial Church, Toronto, had subscribed $291,000 on May 8th. One man in Melville Church, Guelph, in a two-day canvass collected $10,000 himself.

Wherever there has been a well organized canvass results to date have far exceeded expectations.

JUVENILE DELINQUENCY SUBJECT OF ADDRESS BY ROTARY GOVERNOR

Blames Breakdown in Home Life for Most Trouble

A challenge was thrown out by Doug Silverston, Aylmer, Que., District Governor of Rotary, to the members of the Napanee Rotary Club, in an address on juvenile delinquency, delivered at the noon luncheon of the Club on Tuesday. No higher opportunity presents itself to club members and members of welfare groups, he said, than in helping the youth of to-day to become physically, mentally and morally strong.

The increase in juvenile delinquency, the speaker said, is the result of war and the breakdown of home life. Much has been done toward reducing the external causes of delinquency but the root of the major part of the problem lies in the breakdown of family life. Causes of delinquency may also rise from within the youth himself and need not always be external.

Institutions are not by any means the best solution for the delinquent. If institutions are one solution they must have the same aim as a hospital. There must be first of all diagnosis and then treatment. Delinquency may be a symptom of something wrong deep within the individual, which can be physical, psychological or the result of social environment. Delinquency is found not only among the abnormal but also among the apparently normal. In the latter case it may be the result of lack of proper home life and example of the parents.

The family is the bulwark of the State, Governor Doug. said, and in respect for marriage and the integrity of the family, lies the strength of the State. Schools and outside agencies cannot supply everything youth needs to make it strong. Homes must be the starting place. Unessential homes and poor examples in the parents lead youth to find amusement and companionship in outside recreational centres, many of which are of questionable nature.

The severe attacks on ideas expressed by Major-General Brock Chisholm which advocate the undermining of the authority of parents and teachers over young people and urges the elimination and reinterpretation of the concept of right and wrong.

On the part of some parents there is a grong attitude with regard to juvenile delinquency. Some parents lay the blame on the war, which actually was only partly the cause. Instead of saying there is nothing to be done about it, parents should realize they have a greater responsibility than ever before. They should endeavor to be models and should seek to train their children by example. Freedom should encourage all that is best in their young people and try to discover and eliminate the bad. The chief remedy of delinquency is self-discipline. The prisons, the speaker said, are full of people who learned self-expression and not self-discipline.

Experts in child training are thinking in terms of more playgrounds and recreational facilities, but the home is the main remedy for delinquency and parents, teachers, churches and all who are interested in youth, must be aroused to the need and make every effort to learn its causes and remedies.

The Governor was introduced by Ewart Booth and thanks were expressed to him by Dr. D. R. Hall.

The play, under the direction of Mrs. D'Arcy Sneath, the President of the Guild, was a mystery drama in three acts and kept the very large audience entertained from the rise of the curtain to the end. Olga, her maid — Lois Campbell.

Mary Makuire, her new cook—Irene Hall.

Madame Palinsky, an old friend;— Helen Findlater.

Theresa, her nurse — Margaret Shipp.

PREVENTION BETTER THAN CURE

"An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure," so runs the old adage. It is only in recent years that the medical science has come to act on this principle. In the comparatively short time since preventive medicine became an acknowledged branch of medical science, great advances have been made. The public is gradually being educated to take advantage of the privileges which are offered to prevent diseases. There is no longer any fear of anti-toxins. The greatest difficulty to be overcome is, not opposition, but apathy. Not living under a dictator, people cannot, under ordinary conditions, be compelled to take preventive measures, even when these are provided free.

Among the diseases which can now be cured is tuberculosis. Indeed, if taken in the early stages, it is no longer a thing to be afraid of. But before it can be cured, doctors must know that it exists. For that reason, many communities have had what is called "mass examination." Such an examination is planned for Napanee !

On Friday last, Brigadier-General Boake of Kingston, Secretary of the East Central Counties Seal Committee, of the Tuberculosis Association, addressed the Executive of The Lions Club of Napanee, on the subject. At the conclusion of the address the executive decided to recommend that the Lions Club sponsor the mass examination. This will mean a great deal of organization and planning.

The plan is to give everybody, six years of age and over, in Napanee and County, an opportunity to be X-rayed for Tuberculosis — free of charge. There will be absolutely no compulsion. It is hoped, however, that everybody will co-operate and have an X-ray taken. The actual X-ray work will not be done until the Fall. In the meantime, much preparation will have to be made.

It is hoped that churches, schools, clubs and lodges, and all other organized bodies, will present this matter to their members, so that, when the campaign opens, everybody will be ready to be X-rayed.

WHAT PRICE VOTES ?

A "Worldover Press" dispatch gives an account of the costs to each political party, in the recent Japanese election. The dispatch says :—

"Generally overlooked, figures on the relative expenditures of the leading Japanese political parties in the recent election, in relation to the votes received, are extremely significant and revealing. In such a new kind of election, with so many women balloting for the first time, financial outlays were likely to have more influence than in most campaigns. That other factors were vastly more influential is shown by these expenditure summaries. Up to election day the Liberal Party spent 741,724 yen and won 141 seats; the Communist Party spent 665,114 yen and won five seats; the Progressive Party spent 416,270 yen and won 92 seats; the Kyodo or Cooperative Party spent 244,875 yen and won 16 seats; the Socialist Party spent 65,209 yen and won 93 seats."

Disregarding the hundreds—the price per vote in this election was: Communist Party 133,000 yen, Co-operative Party 15,000 yen, Liberal Party 5,000 yen, the Progressive Party 4,000 yen, and the Socialist Party, 7000 yen. It will be thus seen that, if the cost per vote polled is to be taken as a criterion, the trend in the East as in other parts of the world, is away from extremes, both right and left, and towards a progressive socialism.

NO SUBSTITUTE

The Senate, last week, decided against permitting the sale in Canada, of butter substitutes. On the face of it, the production of butter substitutes would seem to be a natural answer to the present butter shortage. Other nations have no such restrictions against Oleomargarine, as prevail in Canada. Ordinarily, we in a butter producing area, would fear competition from the substitutes—but not now ! There is a ready market for all we produce.

There are other factors, however. Substitutes have to be made from oils which Canada does not produce. To get these oils, other nations would have to go without them. The situation as a whole, with respect to fats, would not be any better than it is now. If we got butter substitutes, somebody else would have to go without them.

So while we often wish we could get a whole pat of butter instead of a half-pat for breakfast, and would be willing to take a chance on Oleo, we will have to forego that for a time, while there is a world shortage of fats.

The Senate made a wise decision.

CANNOT AGREE

For fifty days a British Government Commission has been in India. It is presided over by Lord Pettie-Lawrence. It is generally believed they were ordered to stay in India until they settled the India problem. So far they have not succeeded. Great Britain has offered India her independence. But the Indian people cannot agree among themselves. The Moslem League want a part of India all to itself — a Moslem State. The All-India Congress, or as it is better known "The Indian National Congress" insists on a single India. They cannot agree ! We have the strange spectacle of Great Britain trying, by every means possible, to give India independence, and the people themselves cannot agree to accept it.

This dilemma will worry a certain section of the American Press. The rabble rousers and a few highbrow magazines, have never lacked a subject. Whenever things looked a bit dull, they could always attack the Imperialism of Great Britain — citing India as the great iniquity. Now they will have to do a bit of head scratching. But this type of periodical is very resourceful and will, no doubt, find in the present impasse, another evidence of the failure of "British Imperialism."

Meantime, all lovers of genuine freedom will hope that some way may yet be found to reconcile the opposing points of view of Hindu and Moslem.

SAVING FOOD

A clergyman who, a number of years ago, used to serve the Morven Circuit, Rev. R. G. Carruthers, has worked out a few statistics that are impressive. He is concerned with the food shortage and the necessity of meeting it. Of the 12,000,000 people in Canada, Mr. Carruthers, for the sake of his argument, assumes that 10,000,000 eat bread. If each of that 10,000,000 would eat one slice less than they are accustomed to eat, the result would be a saving of 10,000,000 slices or 833,000 loaves. This would be one loaf for each citizen of a city the size of Toronto, every day.

The Scotch had a name for it: "every mickle makes a muckle." It is almost unbelievable how much could be saved by such a simple method, as going without a slice of bread, until it is shown to us in figures, as Mr. Carruthers has done. We in Canada have plenty of food — our per capita consumption compared to 1939, is 100 per cent. We are eating as much per capita as we were before the war. There are literally millions of people in Asia and Europe who are starving. They need that extra slice. The situation is more serious than we realize. Reports from eye witnesses tell of people unable to work, when there is work to do, because of lack of food, and of others dying of hunger.

Canada is doing something. Indeed Canada is doing more than she is some times credited with doing. Thirty vessels are on their way to Montreal to load supplies for Europe and Asia. While others are loading on the Pacific. But we can do more. If by saving one slice of bread a day, and by cleaning up our plates and eliminating waste — we can save life — we should do it, everyone of us.

CURTAIN LIFTED ON WARTIME SUGAR SECRETS

While German submarines were plying the Atlantic the background story of Canada's sugar supply and the work of the Sugar Administration of the Prices Board ranked high on the list of official secrets. But during the last session of Parliament, with sugar movements no longer guarded, the curtain was lifted on of the various aspects of the sugar picture — importations, domestic sugar beet production and an accounting of the Sugar Stabilization Fund.

It was revealed that the Sugar Stabilization Fund had, by last December, accumulated a profit of over $2 million on its transactions. This money is being used to keep the price of sugar in Canada down to its present level despite the rising cost of raw sugar.

During the war years one blow after another battered the sugar supplies of the allied world. The sugar industry was destroyed in the Philippines and in Java. In Europe, the ravages of war laid low sugar industries both on the field of battle and in occupied territories. Other countries, such as Australia, Fiji Trinidad and Antagua suffered a decline in sugar production due to shortages of labour, shipping facilities and fertilizer. World production of sugar plummeted down eight million tons — in 1939 it was 51 million tons, last year only 23 million tons.

In the face of this sugar crisis, the United Kingdom, the United States and Canada, through the Combined Food Board, agreed to a short-and-long-term sacrifice of a profit of over $2 million on its transactions. This countries, has been one of the highlights in recent international co-operation, giving sugar to all who need it on a fair basis.

Canadian beet sugar production has climbed to a figure 20 million pounds above the pre-war average. In 1945 our beet sugar crop was 160 million pounds. During the time our sugar production was rising in Canada it was in the process of falling in the United Kingdom and United States. All the sugar we produce goes into the world pool and is divided equally. That means we cannot get more sugar than our allocation, by simply turning out more beet sugar, though naturally any increase we achieve is of benefit to all.

In 1940 we had available for us 600 million pounds of refined sugar, as against 968 million pounds in 1944, much year the demand for sugar, with increases in population, is going up. In 1940, before the period of sugar devastation got under way, we had 1217 million pounds of sugar for consumption, although the 1935-1939 average was 996 million pounds.

During 1945 the overall sugar target for consumption was kept in the three countries was set at 70.8 pounds. But each nation is free to distribute that amount as it sees fit amongst consumers, restaurants, industries and institutions. Therefore there may be, and often are, differences in the amounts granted to different types of users in different countries.

No sugar goes to breweries or distilleries in Canada, although a small amount is allocated to manufacturers of grape wine.

Stories of sugar surpluses circulate from time to time. These stories should be weighed in the light of circumstances. Very often a year's production of sugar may be turned out in a relatively short time and is naturally held on hand until normal distribution is complete. In the British West Indies, the annual production is accomplished in five months. The entire beet sugar crop in Canada is made in the last three months of the year. Furthermore, as much sugar as possible is brought into Canada before water transportation closes, because of the low handling cost, and this sugar must be stored for monthly consumption.

The claim has been made that there is plenty of sugar in Java. The quantity is uncertain and much of it has deteriorated during the years it has been stored.

It has been suggested Canada should buy sugar from Peru. Should we do so, we would not be allowed any more sugar than our present allocation permits and at present prices we would have to pay double what we are paying now.

Recommends DDT To Potato Growers

In experimental work and in actual field practice, DDT has proved so effective against insects attacking potatoes that growers are advised to use this insecticide in preference to any other in treating their potato crop during 1946, says Alan G. Rustan, Division of Entomology, Dominion Department of Agriculture.

DDT has given excellent control of the Colorado potato beetle, the potato flea beetle, and the potato leafhopper. In spray form particularly, it is also effective against potato aphids.

As a spray DDT can be combined with Bordeaux mixture, with any of the fixed coppers or with the newer organic fungicides. It is used at the rate of one pound of actual DDT to each 100 gallons of liquid.

As a dust DDT is used in three per cent strength, combined with some suitable filler and fixed copper. Mr. Dustan emphasizes that DDT cannot be used in the old copper-lime dust as the lime in this combination sharply reduces the toxicity of the poison.

DDT will be readily available on the market this spring. It will be sold in dust form, with and without fixed copper, completely mixed and ready to use. It will come also in the form of a spray, either as a spray powder or as an emulsifiable liquid. In either case the percentage of the insecticide will be indicated on the container. In spraying potatoes, the DDT should be mixed with a fungicide to control blight. Sufficient of the concentrate should be used to give one pound of DDT in each 100 gallons of the spray.

In spraying or dusting with DDT preparations, the same directions as when calcium arsenate or paris green was formerly used should be followed. The time to commence treatment is when potato beetle eggs are first noticed hatching. Repeated applications should be made at intervals of ten days until the tops die naturally. Both the upper and lower surfaces of the foliage during each application should be covered with the spray or dust.

DDT is classed as a poison, but can be used safely if applied and handled in accordance with the directions on the containers as approved by the Dominion Department of Agriculture. Do not apply DDT preparations to parts of plants that are to be used as food, especially shortly before harvesting. Do not use oil solutions of DDT on plants, as the oil will injure the foliage.

MUSKOX EXERCISE NEARS END OF LONG TREK

The Canadian Army's 3,000 - mile Muskox exercise is rapidly nearing the end of its long trek. On Saturday, 4th May, the moving forces, consisting of ten snowmobiles, rolled into Grande Prairie, Alberta to a rousing welcome. The force spent the night there and on Sunday prepared to cover the remaining 300 miles by train to Edmonton, Alta. The decision to cover the remaining distance by train was reached on Saturday when it became apparent that extensive and permanent damage would result from proceeding further over the hot, dusty Alcan Highway. It was also seen that a longer run had no further lessons to teach. Pictured above is Col. J. T. Wilson, director of Operational Research at Ottawa and deputy director of Muskox exercise (on the left) as he greeted the commander of the moving force, Lt.-Col. P. D. Baird of Montreal (pictured on the right). The exercise set out from Churchill on 14th February and the meeting took place fourteen miles north of Grande Prairie. In the centre is pictured Col. Norman B. Edwards of Smithtown, Long Island, N.Y., senior U. S. observer with the expedition.

IMPORTANT FACTORS — IN — GROWING SOYBEANS

(Experimental Farms News)

The proper choice of a variety is important in connection with the production of almost any crop in Canada. This is particularly true of soybeans, where adaption to the conditions of a particular locality is essential if a variety is to give satisfactory results. Soybean varieties now being grown in Canada vary in maturity from 100 to 160 days. It is obvious that a 140 day variety is useless in a district best suited to a 100 - day variety and vice versa. Consequently, the choice of a suitable variety is important and only the best seed available of the chosen variety should be used, says P. Dimmock, Division of Forage Crops, of Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa.

It is a wise practice to inoculate the seed with the proper culture each year no matter whether the land to be used has grown soybeans before or not. Inoculation is a form of insurance that has proved profitable.

Then there are certain cultural practices that are important. Spring preparation of the soil should be thorough. Soybeans are planted early, in late, and an opportune time to combat weeds is before seeding is done. It would be better to delay seeding a little rather than plant in poorly prepared land. Tests at Thorvald, Tilbury, Timmins, Vienna, Warren and Welland.

During the National Clothing Collection, Canadians are being asked to give all the used serviceable clothing they can spare without replacement for free distribution among millions in want in those lands overrun and left without clothing and means of life by the Nazis. Canadians are urged to put personal messages in the pockets of garments as a goodwill gesture.

Ontario Leading In Organization Of Clothing Collection

Ontario was leading today among Canada's nine provinces in organization for the forthcoming National Clothing Collection to be held from June 17 to June 29th, with local committees already formed in 89 centres within the Province, according to an announcement from national headquarters in Ottawa.

Among latest cities to form their local committees are St. Catharines, Sault Ste. Marie, and Trenton.

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON, MAY 19TH, 1946

Lesson Text: John 11: 7, 8, 16; 20: 24-29.
"A FRIEND WHO LEARNED TO BELIEVE"

There are only three incidents recorded of Thomas, in the Gospels, the Synoptic do not mention them.

The fourth Gospel includes these incidents. The first of these reflects the character of a man prepared to share difficulties and dangers with his Master. They were in Perea. Jesus announced that He was going to Bethany, where Lazarus lay dead. Opposition to Jesus was mounting, and the disciples were afraid He would be arrested if He follwed out His plan. They tried to dissuade Jesus from the journey.

Thomas spoke up. He did not side with the others; indeed, he not only agreed that Jesus should go, but suggested that the whole group accompany Jesus and die with Him should that become necessary. It is well to remember this when estimating the character of Thomas. He was willing to share with His Master whatever of suffering was necessary.

The next incident tells of the appearance of Jesus to the disciples after the resurrection. Thomas was not present—why, we are not told. When the disciples reported to him that they had seen Jesus, he refused to believe. There is nothing wrong with that, at least, not much. He wanted to be shown. He was not erring to take anybody else's word for it. He wanted the evidence.

I said that there was not much wrong with Thomas' attitude. That which was wrong, however, is important. Thomas lacked imagination; he lacked faith. He wanted facts; he was a realist. This lack of faith is a detriment to the Kingdom. There are always people like that — the finest people in the world, but they lack the faith to take a chance for God or the church. Just now the appeal nominations in Canada are appealing for funds. There are those on every board who are quite sure their allocation is too high. They want to be shown. The kingdom of God, while it has a place for the cautious, conservative, will not grow by caution. Faith in people, faith in God, faith in the future are the real elements of the kingdom. I sat in on a board meeting of a college during the depression. Practically the whole board was ready to close the institution when an aged man, a former principal, pulled them out of their depressed spirits by an appeal for faith in God. To-day that college is going stronger than ever.

Thomas finally saw Christ, and believed. Jesus said: "Because thou hast seen Me, thou hast believed: blessed are they who have not seen, and believed."

Men of Thomas character are to be found in every church. They are good men, generous, even to the point of giving themselves to the cause — but more is needed. "Blessed are those who have not seen and yet believed." The Church will lay on to do its job, if it has men who are neither timid nor afraid. More than that, is needed — faith in God's purposes and His power to overcome all obstacles, will insure the future for God.

REV. ENOCH B. COOKE DIED IN PORT PERRY

Active in the ministry of the Methodist Church and the United Church for 47 years, Rev. Enoch B. Cooke died suddenly Thursday last at his home in Port Perry following a heart attack. He had preached as usual at two services on Sunday at Scugog United Church, where he had served as minister for the last two years.

Although eligible for retirement about six years ago, Mr. Cooke continued as a preacher. He was minister of Thornhill United Church, Toronto Conference, for three years and before going to Scugog was assistant minister of St. James-Bond United Church, Toronto.

Born in Haliburton, Mr. Cooke received his education at Lindsay Collegiate, Albert College and Victoria College. He was ordained to the ministry of the Methodist Church in the Bay of Quinte Conference in 1899, and served pastorates in Cannington, Tweed Newcastle, Newburgh, Dunnaford, Little Britain and elsewhere. He was one-time chairman of Lindsay Presbytery and was a member of the Masonic Order.

Surviving are his widow, Louellen Cooke; a daughter, Eileen Cunningham, Toronto, and a sister, Mrs. Mary Hunt, Haliburton. Funeral service was held Saturday morning in Port Perry United Church, with cremation Saturday afternoon in Toronto.

MOTHER-DAUGHTER BANQUET

On Friday evening a Mother and Daughter banquet was sponsored by the C. G. I. T. girls of Newburgh United Church and their leader, Mrs. Ralph Wightman. The tables were decorated with blue and white crepe paper, lighted candles and spring flowers from the woods. Each girl had invited her own mother or another mother. The president, Miss Ruth Morgan, welcomed all present and said this was the second Mother and Daughter banquet and that this year all the girls were in uniform.

A short programme followed, consisting of a message from Miss Roxy Hawley of Napanee, who is a C.G.I.T. worker in Napanee. Mrs. Doris Wilson of Strathcona, gave a group of readings. Miss Phyllis McGill and Miss Margaret Ramsay played piano solos and the Misses Phyllis and Margaret McGill sang "My Mother's Bible." There was also a three part chorus by all the girls, "Slumber Song."

A word of thanks was given to the guests from Strathcona and Napanee and also to the mothers, for supplying the food, by Miss Phyllis McGill.

Mrs. H. Ramsay spoke on behalf of the mothers of their appreciation in being guests and of the work that is being done for their girls.

It is hoped to make this an annual affair.

MOTHER'S DAY SERVICE

On Sunday the Mother's Day service at Newburgh United Church was a combined service of Sunday school and church. The Sunday school classes with their teachers, filled the centre of the church. The C.G.I.T. girls led the service in song, contributing four special numbers. The story was told by Mrs. W. Embury, in a way which held the attention of every child. A basket of pink snapdragons was donated by Mr. and Mrs. A. Joyce, in memory of their son. Red roses and a basket of mixed flowers also a hydrangea added a touch of beauty to the service.

A short address was given by Mr. Herrington, urging parents and those who have dreams of their own homes to make the best possible use of the opportunities that are theirs for giving children the best start in the religious way of life, because the home exercises are the greatest influence over the religious life of the children.

GIFTS PRESENTED TO MR. AND MRS. HOLMES * AT ODESSA

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Holmes and daughter, Miss Alice Holmes, have come to town to reside. The former for a number of years was manager of the Royal Bank in Odessa and is retiring from the bank. A farewell party was given in their honor at the Municipal Hall, in Odessa, and they were the recipients of lovely gifts. Rev. C. W. Hollingsworth, of the Odessa United Church, was chairman, and the programme consisted of two humorous readings by Mrs. Franklin Parrott, community singing led by Joseph Vrooman with Mrs. Vrooman at the piano; crayon sketches by Fred McPherson, Wilton and Miss Amy Boyce gave a vocal solo with Miss Joyce McPherson as accompanist. Clarence Lewis of the Royal Bank staff, read the address and Mr. and Mrs. Holmes were presented with an easy chair and a floor lamp. Miss Alice Holmes received a beautiful plate glass serving tray. The gifts were presented by Mrs. Robert Cairns, Joseph Kellar, Roy Graham and Donald Jones. Each spoke of the happy memories of the 25 years spent in the village by Mr. and Mrs. Holmes, who were prominent members of the United Church, the latter having been leader of the choir for some time. Lunch was served and Mrs. Gladys Robinson and Joseph Lollar entertained with music.

Mr. and Mrs. Holmes and daughter made fitting acknowledgement for the exquisite gifts and the words of appreciation in the address.

"THAT'S A LOAD OFF MY MIND!"

Mrs. Mason's husband gets his pay in cash. Since he's working all day, his wife banks it for him, and she says she's always jittery 'til she gets it safely there. And her brother, who runs a store, says he worries too about the money from the cash register! Safeguarding your money is one of the prime services rendered by your bank.

What a relief it is when you have deposited your money in the bank! No more worry lest it should be lost or stolen! You need only keep a little ready cash in your pocket or in the house. Bills can be paid by cheque and your cancelled cheque is your receipt.

When the teller hands you your pass book, you glance at the balance and know to a cent how much money you have. You are so accustomed to your bank's accuracy that you seldom bother to check the figures.

The very fact that you—and some 5,000,000 others—take all these conveniences as a matter of course is a daily demonstration of your confidence in the dependability and efficiency of your bank.

FIRST NAPANEE WOLF CUB PACK

Playacting was the main project in the Pack's evening's program of last Saturday. Each Six, in turn, presented an impromptu, unrehearsed skit on any Cub subject. The winning Six were the Whites, with their presentation of the First Aider Badge.

For active games the Pack played Passing Beans and Poacher and Keeper.

At inspection a surprise survey was taken to determine the number of Cubs who had their registration cards on their person. Surprising results were encountered with only one-half a dozen cards on hand.

After the meeting several members remained to pass Star Tests and Badges.

Warble Flies Cause Enormous Damage

Damage to Canadian cattle directly or indirectly attributable to warble flies continues to run into several millions of dollars a year. Injury caused by warble flies is of two kinds. The chief injury is the damage done to beef carcasses, due to the presence of warble cysts. The affected parts have to be trimmed from the carcass, and, because the cysts usually occur in the more expensive cuts in the back and loin, the damage done by the trimming and the consequent disfigurement is considerable. Also the injuries to hides results in large losses. A hide with a hole caused by the grub is useless for making the best leather articles, and hides showing five or more holes are automatically discounted in price.

Other serious causes of damage are the reduction of the milk yield in dairy cattle and loss of flesh in beef cattle, with a general deterioration in the health of the animals. On the approach of the warble flies, cattle become terror stricken and rush madly about the field in their efforts to evade the flies. This is a peculiar reaction, because the flies do not sting, but there can be no doubt about the harmful effect on the cattle.

Warble flies are of two kinds, known as the northern cattle grub or heel fly, and the northern cattle grub or large warble fly. Their habits in general are the same. The heel fly appears in the season, March to June, while the large warble fly is active from early June to August. The heel fly lays its eggs in rows on the hairs of the lower and outer parts of the cattle; the large warble fly attaches, makes breathing holes. When full grown, each female lays from 400 to 800 eggs. The small grubs hatch in from three to seven days, penetrate the skin, and migrate through the system of the animal. They remain there during the late summer until early winter when they again migrate, and finally come to rest under the skin of the back. Here the grubs form cysts and make breathing holes. When full grown they squeeze their way through the holes and drop to the ground. They change into black, hard, seed-like objects from which in four or five weeks the adult flies emerge. At once they mate and the female lays her eggs.

As has been shown in many parts of Canada, the complete control of warble flies in any area is possible only when all the cattle in a community are treated at the same time by a Derris or Rotenone wash applied to their backs in the early spring when the swellings on the backs of infested animals become conspicuous. The dates of application of the wash vary in different parts of Canada. Generally speaking, in the interior of British Columbia, the first treatment should be given in February; in the Prairie Provinces and Eastern Canada about the third week of March. The second and third applications should be made at intervals of 28 days and, if practicable, a fourth after an interval of 35 days. More than one wash is necessary because all the grubs do not mature at the same time.

Opening of Immigration Gates To Europeans Urged By T. A. Crerar

Ottawa, (C.P.) — Senator T. A. Crerar (L.-Manitoba), urged in the Senate that Canada throw her broad spaces open to immigration and warned that she might be courting "disaster" if she did not do so.

He suggested that the Dominion would do well to bring in some of the more than 175,000 Polish troops in Italy and Britain, the majority of whom did not want to return to Poland. Some 50,000 of them might be put to work in harvesting crops and in similar primary tasks.

"On broad grounds of humanitarianism," the Government could well consider, too, allowing some displaced Germans to enter. The past had shown that Sudeten Germans made good citizens. Canada, if she wished, could "have her pick" from among millions of the best people of Europe.

He suggested a resolution by Senator Arthur Roebuck (L.-Ont.), for a study of this subject. The resolution was passed.

Senator Crerar said that a steady expansion of immigration could help Canada increase production and thereby help her meet mounting financial commitments. This country, with its great resources and scanty population, had a moral obligation to the crowded peoples of other lands.

Canadians were not justified in jealously holding to what they had. If they did not share, their policy could lead to "disaster." Canada had never been better off than when she had an active immigration policy in effect. Between 1850 and 1910, the United States had laid the groundwork for her greatness by admitting more than 25,000,000 immigrants.

Senator Crerar predicted "scores of thousands" of immigrants would pour into Canada if she opened her doors. Between 1839 and 1913 Canada had become "as a direct consequence of very large scale immigration." Canada could be proud of her immigrants of the past. He mentioned particularly the contributions of Ukrainians in the West.

Protection Calendar For Small Fruits

(Science Service News)

In answer to many requests for information concerning disease and insect pests of small fruits, the Dominion Laboratory of Plant Pathology, St. Catharines, in co-operation with Provincial authorities, has prepared a protection calendar for raspberries, strawberries, currants, and gooseberries. This calendar is similar in style to those designed for fruit trees and vegetables. In it are listed the more common disease and insect troubles, the type of injury caused, and the recommended control practices, which in each case are briefly outlined. This calendar is now available from the above office or through the Provincial agricultural representatives or the Ontario Department of Agriculture, Toronto. It will be found a convenient and ready reference for both commercial and non-commercial growers of small fruits.

With the advent of this calendar, Ontario growers are now provided with concise information in calendar form relative to the practical control of pests attacking orchard fruits, small fruits, and vegetables. For those interested in tree fruits or vegetables in the garden, special calendars are also available.

WEDDING BELLS

BALDREE—McBEY

A quiet wedding took place in Kingston Veterans' Hospital on April 20 of Sgt. Edward John, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Baldree, Napanee, and Roberta Carleton Stewart only daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McBey, Vancouver Island, B.C.

The bride wore a gown of white net and lace with a net veil, and carried a bouquet of red roses. She was given in marriage by Colonel Gorman, Superintendent of the Veterans' Hospital.

Miss Doreen Baldree, sister of the groom, was bridesmaid, and wore a gown of blue net and lace, with a blue halo head-dress. Her bouquet consisted of pink roses.

Capt. McQuay, of the R.C.A.M.C. acted as best man.

The ceremony was conducted by Major McQuarrie, of the Canadian Chaplains' Corps.

The groom is a veteran of World War II, having served with the Famous U.S. and Canadian Special Service Force in Italian and European battlefields.

The bride is a Scottish trained nurse, and helped to nurse D-Day casualties.

For the wedding ceremony the hospital chapel was beautifully decorated with candles and flowers, and members of the hospital staff provided a beautiful cake.

After the ceremony tea was served to the guests by Matron Murphy and the nurses. Members of the Red Cross and I.O.D.E. helped to decorate the sunroom and make arrangements for the wedding party. The Red Cross presented the bride with a beautiful leather writing case. A lovely bouquet of spring flowers was presented by the I.O.D.E.

The staff and patients of Ward Lower E. presented the bride and groom with a silver serving tray, while Colonel Gorman, Superintendent of the Hospital, gave a crystal serving set.

Question and Answer Column

Readers may direct their questions, giving their name and address and mentioning the name of this paper, to Information Branch, WPTB, 490 Sussex St., Ottawa, Ontario.

Q. I live in a house which I have rented for the past four years. The owner sold it and about the middle of April the new owner told us we had to get out by July 1st. He gave us no written notice. The new owner also wants to raise the rent until July 1st. Is he within his rights to do this?

A. No! From the information in your letter, we believe you are protected by the freezing order and the new owner would be unable to give you any notice while that order it still in effect. With regard to the increase in rent, the owner would not be permitted to raise the rent without permission from the Rentals Administration. If he has secured such permission he should have the proper forms to show you.

Q. A friend of mine has been ill for the past year and during this time had made some changes he would like to sell. Is there a ceiling price on handicraft work and is a license necessary?

A. Your friend should apply to the nearest office of the Prices Board for a business permit . . . there is no charge for this permit. When he makes his application they will advise him as to the proper procedure in having his articles priced as there is a price ceiling on handicraft work.

Q. How long must a visitor to Canada remain before he is given a ration card?

A. A visitor to Canada will be given a temporary ration card immediately following his application to the Local Ration Board, provided he intends to remain at least seven days in Canada.

Q. How can we give temporary ration cards to American visitors if we haven't enough food for ourselves?

A. If you visited the United States you would be given temporary rations for the duration of your stay in that country. Naturally when our neighbors visit in Canada they expect the same courtesy. The tourist trade brings tremendous business to Canada each year and it is readily understood that people would not want to visit a country where they could not obtain food supplies while there.

Permit Rationed Foods Cross Border

As the summer holiday season draws near, countless Canadian and American tourists are looking happily ahead to their first complete post war holiday. With gas ration gone, tire ration lifted, all travel restrictions removed and new cars gradually coming back on the market, both Canada and the United States are predicting the heaviest tourist travel in years.

Many of those tourists who cross the border are wondering whether they will be allowed to carry rationed goods on their holiday. The War Prices and Trade Board reiterates a number of important regulations concerning Canadian tourists who visit the United States to bring certain amounts of butter, meat, preserves and sugar with them.

Butter, meat, and preserves up to the value of $5.00 may be taken into the United States by Canadian tourists. Export permits are required for quantities exceeding $5.00 in value on these rationed goods and for any amount of sugar over five pounds. Canadians wishing to take dressed poultry out of Canada must first obtain an export permit regardless of the quantity. United States tourists returning to their country will not be permitted to take any dressed poultry out of Canada.

As sugar is the only rationed commodity in the United States, Canadians visiting there may apply to the nearest office of the O. P. A. where they will receive ration points for sugar depending on the length of stay.

Residents of the United States, including Canadians living there, who on their return to the United States take sugar with them will be required by United States customs officials to give up U. S. ration points for it. However, United States tourists or Canadians entering Canada with U. S. sugar rations will not be required to declare, surrender, etc., it over U. S. or Canadian.

These regulations do not cover the ordinary customs regulations regarding duties and taxes, which both countries have imposed relating to goods of all types, including rationed goods.

FOOD OUTLOOK TAKES TURN FOR WORSE

Washington. — Grave deficits in famine food shipments — expected to necessitate drastic reductions in foreign rations — were reported by American and British authorities, who gloomily announced the United States' grain shipments for the first week of this month already are short by an amount equal to one week's bread ration for 71,500,000 persons.

The total American deficit in famine shipments is now 881,000 tons, or nearly a full month's promised deliveries.

Clinton P. Anderson, Secretary of Agriculture and Combined Food Board chairman, described the situation as "extremely grave." He conceded that the United States is not fully to meet its commitments for 2,000,000 tons of famine grain between now and July 1st. The secretary had expressed optimism on Monday, telling reporters he was confident deficits would be made up and quotas met. Yesterday's statement was a complete abouface.

The mounting gravity of the world food situation was emphasized by these developments.

United States Government officials meanwhile, even reported considering increases in grain ceiling prices in order to withdraw the present bonus of 30 cents a bushel for wheat and corn. Sources said the plan would take most ceilings by 20 to 30 cents a bushel to prevent excessive grain fattening of livestock.

Dean Acheson, acting Secretary of State, disclosed that the United States shipped overseas only 100,000 of 250,000 tons of grain allocated by the Combined Food Board for the first week of May, leaving a shortage equal to 330,000,000 loaves of bread. Calculating that the average daily bread ration in famine areas is two-thirds of a loaf, Mr. Acheson said the shortage represents a loss of one week's bread for 71,500,000 persons. Since part of the 100,000 tons actually exported went to non-famine areas, the shipments marked an even greater set-back for hungry nations.

Ranking members of the Combined Food Board reported later the board will not be able to prevent heavy shortages of food — both flour and fats — in famine areas, and that India and nations under the care of the United Nations' Relief and Rehabilitation Administration would be "particularly" hard-hit.

The estimate of May production is 11,517 passenger cars, 5,432 trucks. Total motor vehicle production — cars and trucks — has been showing a steady increase since the start of the year. Figures are: January, 3,-; February, 5,307; March, 7,157 and April 10,433.

BOARD CRACKS DOWN ON ILLEGAL CAR SALES

Ottawa. — The Prices Board has launched a "determined effort to stamp out black market operations" in used cars and announced a six-point order which it said would make it impossible for either dealers or private sellers to charge illegal prices if buyers will co-operate with the board."

The new order, issued with a warning that dealers permits would be cancelled when violations are proven, established the following regulations:

1. Dealers must sell used cars to any person offering legal cash, and are prohibited from demanding an exchange or trade - in of any kind (Previously dealers were compelled to sell only to holders of essentiality certificates.)

2. Every used car offered for sale by a dealer must carry a tag showing the lawful price and model, year and other particulars.

3. A used car in a dealer's possession which he has sold or on which he has received a deposit, must display a tag stating that the car has been sold or optioned, date of the transaction and name and address of buyer. No car may be held on deposit or option longer than five days.

4. When used cars are delivered to dealers for repairs or service, dealers must keep a written record of the name and address of the owner together with particulars of the identity of the car.

5. Dealers must register with the nearest board office every car which he has for his personal use or as a servicing car.

6. Any person advertising a used car for sale must insert the proposed sale price, which must include cost of any option or accessory.

"The board said there was "no reason why a buyer need pay more than the ceiling price." If buyers report demands for illegal prices to the nearest priced board office "that office will see that he gets the car at ceiling price." The statement emphasized that no one should buy a used car that is not tagged and when purchases were made the buyer should insist the total price paid be inserted in the statement of sale which "must be signed by both at the time of sale."

A staff of investigators had been organized at each board office and they would inspect premises of every dealer to ensure the order was being obeyed in all respects and would "deal immediately with any complaint from a buyer."

"If every buyer who is asked to pay more than the ceiling price will report the facts to the nearest office of the board, the black market will be at an end. However, if the buyer assists the black market by deliberately buying above the ceiling and falsifying the statement of sale, he is as guilty as the seller and equally liable to prosecution."

CAR PRIORITIES FAR EXCEED THE OUTPUT

Ottawa. — Demands for new cars by priority users are running well ahead of deliveries, it was shown in figures made available, without comment, by the Reconstruction Department.

In April, for instance, there were 14,972 prospective purchasers who proved themselves eligible for priority certificates but during the month only 6,775 cars were shipped by manufacturers. Actual shipments fell far short of the manufacturer's estimate of 10,226.

For the period November 15, 1945, to April 30, 1946, priority certificates were issued to 22,216 persons, shipments numbered 16,979.

April's figure of 14,972 priority certificates was more than double the 6,744 issued in March. One factor in the increase was action of the control in removing a quota system which, until March 26, restricted regional offices to a specific number of priorities each month.

Truck deliveries are also lagging behind priority demand. From Sept. 1, 1945, to April 30, 1946, certificates numbered 25,630 and shipments were 15,726. Truck priorities issued jumped from 4,933 in March to 11,318 in April. Shipments of trucks for April were 3,658 which was close to the manufacturer's estimate of 3,730.

What Every GO-AHEAD FARMER Should Know . . .

QUESTIONS & ANSWERS

Today, scores of farm improvements can be undertaken by farmers even though they may not have the ready cash.

How?

By borrowing under the Farm Improvement Loans Act from the Bank of Montreal.

The Farm Improvement Loan Plan is too detailed to set out in full, but here are some typical questions about these new loans and the answers to them:—

Q. What are Farm Improvement Loans?

A. They are advances authorized under the Farm Improvement Loans Act for the assistance of farmers who want to make their farms more productive, more profitable, more comfortable and convenient. These loans are obtainable at the special loan rate of 5% simple interest.

Q. How much can I borrow?

A. Up to $5,000, depending on your requirements for farm improvement.

Q. For how long can these loans run?

A. Generally speaking, for longer periods than have hitherto been possible. In certain cases, repayment may be spread over as many as ten years.

Q. How do I repay?

A. By monthly, quarterly, semi-annual or annual instalments . . . the terms are flexible and depend on your particular requirements. Here again we can be advised to meet your convenience and individual circumstances.

Q. For what purpose can I get a loan?

A. For any of those mentioned in the check list in this folder and for numerous others. Like other farmers, you have your own individual plans and problems and we, at the Bank of Montreal, will be glad of the opportunity of working them out with you.

Q. Are there any other bank charges besides interest?

A. No . . . except for the interest, there is no fee or service charge of any kind made by the Bank.

Q. Is it true that a loan can save me money?

A. Yes. By enabling you to improve your production and by assisting you to meet labour-saving equipment problems. Further, you can actually earn money for you to take discounts by buying for cash . . . saving that is in many cases more than enough to cover the interest charges.

Q. How do I go about getting a loan?

A. Call on the manager of your nearest B of M branch. You will receive a cordial reception and will find a genuine desire to assist you. Naturally, your affairs are discussed in the strictest confidence and you need have no hesitation in "laying your cards on the table".

NEWBURGH W. I.

The annual meeting of the Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. Lloyd Pinlay with an average attendance of members and three visitors. After the customary opening exercises, Mrs. Acton Robinson, president, asked the secretary to read the minutes of the last annual meeting. The reports of the standing committees reminded the members they had accomplished a great deal during the year, and much community welfare work had been undertaken. The district president, Mrs. E. Aliore, Camden East, then addressed the ladies, her line of thought being 'Democracy'. She said that through lack of thought democracy had come to mean almost anything. But its true meaning can be classified under three headings: 1 political activity, which is control of the state directly by the people or those appointed to do so; 2, freedom of election to governing agencies; 3, popular government; plus the bill of rights. She called to mind that a citizen is one who enjoys or possesses political rights and privileges. A count is being taken to determine how many institute members exercise their franchise and thus become citizens.

Mrs. Baldwin read a letter she had received from our New Zealand correspondent. It contained an account of the spring and summer drought there and its effect on their crops and fruits. Mrs. G. Walker presented the following report of knitting sent in to Napanee, for the year:— 14 seamen's scarves, 19 pairs gloves, 4 babies' sockees, 6 babies' leggings, 13 helmets, 41 pairs men's short sox, 19 sweaters, 27 pairs children's stockings. The election of officers was left over until after the district annual, which is to be held in Newburgh on May 28th. The hostess and her assistants served dainty refreshments and the meeting closed with the National Anthem.

STRATHCONA W.C.T.U.

The Strathcona-Newburgh W.C.T.U. met at the home of Mrs Bruce Finlay on April 26th, and Mrs. Geo. Finlay presided. The worship service was in charge of Miss Cameron and Mrs. Herrington, and throughout the exercises emphasis was given to the Christian Department of the temperance work. The Easter note was sounded in the closing hymn. Mrs. Ross Miller of Napanee sang a pleasing number, by request. Law and legislature was the subject of Mrs John Wartman's address. She reviewed the laws affecting women and children, as given in the Blue Book; also she read excerpts from an address by Dr. Peter Bryce on the new liquor law passed in Ontario. Dr. Mary Cornelius of Napanee was then introduced by Mrs. Herrington. Her subject was the Effects of Temperance. She stated that it was estimated that in Canada 75 per cent. of traffic accidents were due to drinking and that 80 per cent. of divorce were attributed to the demoralizing effects of social drinking. There were ten members and ten visitors present and a number of the visitors were from Napanee. Mrs. Herrington gave a reading by request.

A closing prayer was offered by the president and a social half-hour was enjoyed.

BETHANY W. A.

The May meeting of the W.A. met at the home of Mrs. Oda Martin, with twelve present. The hymn was sung and the secretary read the lesson topic on temperance. The scripture lesson was read by Mrs. Martin. Mrs. VanBlaricom, Mrs. Davis, Mrs Goodman gave readings and minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. A business letter was read by the secretary also an acknowledgment card of thanks from Mrs. Burtch. The secretary sent a card of condolence to Mrs. Will Joyce. Mrs. Davis, Mrs. Goodman, Mrs. Vic. Martin handed in sunshine money amounting to $3.50. A special meeting is to be held at the church on the 23rd for the purpose of cleaning the church and planning for the serving of one meal to ministers at the conference. Delegates for convention, Mrs. Burtch and Mrs. Cooper.

The meeting was closed by singing a hymn, and prayer. Mrs. Martin then served a lovely lunch and a vote of thanks was tendered her for her kindness in opening her home.

NEWBURGH W. A.

Mrs. Harold King was hostess for the May meeting of the W. A. of the Newburgh United Church. The president, Mrs. Herrington, was in the chair and extended a welcome to the grandmothers who were present. Twenty members responded to the roll call by answering a verse containing the word Mother. The programme was in charge of Mrs. B. Holden and Mrs. V. Miller. Following the scripture passage by Mrs. Holden comments were made on same by Mrs. R. Hounslow. Miss Eureka Whitmarsh favoured with a guitar solo. Mrs. Ralph Whiteman sang an appropriate selection following which the grandmothers were called forward and little Miss Glendal King presented each with a handkerchief hosegay. Mrs. Shier and Mrs. Wagar contributed readings. The offering was received by Iris King and dedicated by Miss Shorey. The theme prayer closed this part of the meeting.

A fifteen-cent tea was served by the members of Mrs. Gannon's group during which time a social hour was spent.

TYENDINAGA EAST W. I.

The Tyendinaga East Women's Institute met at the home of Mrs. Bruce Kimmerly for the May meeting, with the new president, Mrs. Garry Provins, in the chair. Twenty-one members and two visitors answered the roll call, Mrs. H. Sweetman, the new secretary-treasurer, read the minutes and correspondence. Several members paid their fees. A donation of $10 was voted to the clothing drive and $5.00 to the Institute for the Blind. A discussion on the co-operative programme and the district annual meeting, followed. The topic, "The Union Jack" was well given by Mrs. R. Stafford. Mrs. C. J. Akey thanked the past president and the secretary-treasurer for their cooperation in the past, and the President presented them with small gifts, to which they suitably replied and 'For They are Jolly Good Fellows' was sung. Mrs. R. Tucker had charge of the programme.

Mrs. F. Hutchinson gave the story of the well known song "When you and I were young Maggie," and all joined in singing the number. A solo was given by Mrs. Price with Mrs. E. Weddingham at the piano. Mrs. R. Harvey gave a reading entitled Mother. A contest was conducted by Mrs. R. Tucker with Mrs. S. E. Winter winning the prize.

Singing the National Anthem brought the meeting to a close and a dainty lunch was served by the hostess and committee. A hearty vote of thanks was tendered the hostess for her kind hospitality.

BD. OF EDUCATION ACCEPTS PROPOSAL TO BUILD TWO SCHOOLS

Total Cost to be $201,000

At a special meeting of the Napanee Board of Education on Monday evening, May 20th, presided over by the chairman, J. M. Simpson and with all members of the Public School Board in attendance, a recommendation advanced by the Property Committee was unanimously accepted that two new public schools be built in the town. The two schools, it is proposed to erect, are a two-room school in East Ward and a 12-room school in West Ward.

The following is the recommendation presented by J. D. Mayhew, a member of the Property Committee:

May 20th, 1946.

We, the Property Committee of the Napanee School Board, recommend to the Board, in order to take care of the Public School situation as a whole, that plans and specifications be prepared for a two-room school in East Ward, and a twelve-room school in West Ward, and that Mr. H. E. Murton, of Hamilton, be retained as architect to draw up these plans and call for tenders.

The West Ward School, in addition to the twelve classrooms should have a household science, a manual training room, a kindergarten and an auditorium to seat 300.

We have what we believe to be reliable estimates that the West Ward School will cost about $178,000 and the East Ward School $23,000.

We further recommend that sufficient land be acquired in East Ward to eventually accommodate a six-room school, and also that the two-room school in East Ward be started at the earliest possible moment to ensure completion before the Fall term of 1946.

In attendance at the meeting were J. M. Simpson, Jos. Marshall, J. D. Mayhew, H. L. VanLuven, Wallace Roy, Garnet Leary, Geo. L. Howitt, Charles N. Lounds and P. T. Laidley and the members of the Citizens' Advisory Committee: Mrs. T. J. Hunt, Mrs. G. E. Gibbard, Mrs. K. S. Hom, E. L. Bedore, W. P. Asselstine, G. F. Hall, Wesley Poole and W. S. Wilson.

Mr. Simpson, at the beginning of the meeting, stated that he had been asked by the Department of Education that attaching the Citizens Committee to the Board was illegal, but he added that the Board was pleased to hear the expressions of opinion by the members of the Committee and valued the advice of the members.

Mr. Wallace Roy a member of the Property Committee, presented the report of the Committee and submitted tentative plans for the two schools that it when looked over by the members of the Board and the Advisory Committee, met with their approval.

Mr. Roy said in his opinion it was a mistake to refer to East and West Wards, so far as schools are concerned. The town, he said, should be in two zones; one zone to take in all the district south and east of the C.N.R. tracks, South Napanee and Clarksville, and another zone comprising all south and west of the C. N. R. By building a two room school in the zone north and east of the C.N.R. pupils in the kindergarten and first grade could be taken care of. The twelve room school recommended in the other zone is to have in addition a Town for manual training and an auditorium to accommodate 300, which could be used also for the Collegiate pupils.

Mr. Roy explained that Mr. Poole, a member of the Citizens Advisory Committee, had been able to secure actual plans of a twelve-room school which is in the process of being built at Port Wilson and had also secured actual tender prices. A sketch plan of the two room school planned for the East end of the town had been secured. The cost of the two schools, he stated, should be approximately $201,000. He recommended that the Board endeavor to proceed at once with the building of the two-room school and start the larger school, which could not likely be completed before 1947.

The chairman, J. M. Simpson, commended the Property Committee for its recommendation and said that the suggestions advanced were nearly ideal.

Several members of the School Board and members of the Citizens Committee also added their commendation of the plan.

Mrs. T. J. Hunt, a member of the Citizens' Committee, objected to the proposal to build a two-room school in the east part of the town and expressed the opinion that a much larger school should be built in the East zone to accommodate all the pupils who are attending the present East Ward school.

Mr. VanLuven explained that at the present time there are 84 pupils attending the East Ward school who live East and north of the C. N. R. The total attendance at the East Ward is now 115 pupils.

A. S. Hughson who was in the audience expressed the opinion that a four-room school should be built in East Ward and that the proposed new school in the West Ward should be delayed until such times as homes had been built for all veterans who required them.

After the recommendation of the Property Committee had been accepted, a motion moved by Messrs. Laidley and Mayhew was passed that a Special Building Committee be formed, composed of Wallace Roy, C. N. Lounds and H. L. VanLuven to have complete charge of the building programme as outlined.

Mr. Simpson expressed the thanks of the Board to the Citizens Advisory Committee for their assistance and interest.

There are 575,000 fewer children and nearly 20,000 fewer teachers in primary and secondary schools maintained by local authorities in Britain than there were in 1938, says a ministry of education report.

Mr. William I. Waller recently came across, at his home, a picture postcard, which he gave to The Beaver, bearing a snapshot of the aeroplane which made a flight from the Napanee Driving Park, on July 1st, 1912.

The plane flight, which was the first commercial flight in Canada, was made as part of the Dominion Day celebration and was arranged by the late J. L. Boyes, whose interest in the July 1st celebrations in Napanee was well known for many years.

Some doubt as to the possibility of making the flight was raised by the pilot of the plane because of the limited space available for a runway, but due to the persuasion of Mr. Boyes, the flight was attempted and was completed successfully.

The flight attracted the attention of a very large number of people, many of whom had never seen a plane before. The plane itself had very much the appearance in the picture, of an out-size orange crate and is evidence of how far aviation has gone in 34 years.

MAN KILLED IN CAR ACCIDENT AT TATE'S HILL

Percy Rose, aged 21, Montreal St., Kingston, formerly of Dimbigh, was instantly killed about 6:00 p.m. on Saturday, May 18th, when the Ford roadster in which he was a passenger rolled over the bank at Tate's Hill, near Centreville.

The car owned and driven by Stephen Verrette, Harrowsmith, was being driven north and apparently the driver failed to make the turn at the top of the hill. Other passengers were Lloyd Verrette and Edgar Timmerman, of Harrowsmith, who were in the rumble seat, and Cecil Duesharme of R.R. 2, Kingston, who was in the main seat of the car with Verrette and Rose.

The driver of the car was cut on the right hand and arm, and Lloyd Verrette, recently discharged from the Army was taken to Kingston General Hospital, suffering from severe body bruises. The other two passengers in the car escaped with slight injuries. The car was very badly damaged.

Dr. A. R. E. Mounce was called to attend the men and Dr. D. R. Hall, coroner, said that Rose's death was the result of a fractured skull and a broken neck.

Provincial Constable J. A. Morden of Napanee investigated the accident and as yet no charges have been laid.

The accident victim, Percy Rose, was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Rose, formerly of Denbigh, who recently moved to Mount Chesney. His funeral was held from his parents' home in Tuesday and interment was made at Cataraqui.

AGR. FEDERATION PASSES RESOLUTION AT DIRECTOR'S MEETING

Motions Deal with Serious Issues in Farm Life

A meeting of the Directors of the Lennox and Addington Branch of the Federation of Agriculture was held on the evening of May 9th. The secretary drew attention to the Farm and Home Beautification Contest being sponsored by the Farmer's Magazine.

On motion of P. Ham, seconded by C. Milligan, Mr. C. W. Buchanan and the secretary were appointed a committee to contact the Women's Institutes re the possibility of organizing a contest in this county.

The Secretary was instructed to get in touch with the National Film Board as to possibility of obtaining at least one film per month suitable for the junior school children, as it is felt that the ones now being shown are too deep for the junior grades.

A lengthy discussion took place regarding farm prices, farm labour problems and the serious drop in production in several farm commodities. The secretary was asked to forward the following resolutions to the Provincial Secretary, for consideration:—

1. Moved by P. Ham, seconded by M. Breault: "Whereas the food supply of the world was never before in such a precarious position and whereas Canada, one of the main sources of supply, appears headed for a serious drop in production;

"Therefore: Be it resolved that a commission of inquiry be immediately set up to study the relationship between the price of farm commodities, manufactured products and urban wages."

2. Moved by C. Milligan, seconded by P. VanVlack: "Whereas farm labour costs, and the price of farm machinery have increased to a large degree;

"Therefore: Be it resolved that the authorities at Ottawa be strongly impressed with the necessity of either continuing the winter scale of subsidies on milk during the summer months or allowing price increases in the different dairy products to maintain prices at winter levels.

3. Moved by W. Miller, seconded by M. Breault: "Whereas daylight saving time is definitely detrimental to farm economy;

"Therefore: Be it resolved that a return to standard time be made obligatory, at least until the present critical food shortage is eased."

4. Moved by M. Young, seconded by F. Henderson: "Whereas the addition of $125 a year per person is being added to every farmers income for income tax purposes, for food consumed on the farm, and whereas in the majority of cases this is absolutely out of line with the amount actually consumed, and whereas this is causing farmers to feel they are being discriminated against with the result that many of them are curtailing production;

"Therefore: Be it resolved that the Minister of National Revenue be urged to have this set amount abolished at once.

On motion, the meeting adjourned.

BRITAIN MAKES NEW CUTS TO SAVE GRAIN

Cut — Standard bread loaf cut from 2 lbs. to 1½ lbs., while same price is being retained.

Result — Saving of an estimated 148,000 tons of barley on a growing season.

Cut — Output of cookies reduced by 25 per cent. Production by any confectionery and cakes cut by 25 per cent through reducing supplies of sugar and fats to bakers.

Result — Besides the saving in flour, the saving in fats and sugar will amount to about 40,000 tons a year.

Cut — Extraction rate of flour raised from 85 per cent. to 90 per cent. (Before the war the rate was 70 per cent.)

Result — Flour supply is increased. Raising the extraction rate of flour means a reduction in milling offal, however; about 300,000 tons of animal feeding stuffs a year will be lost.

Cut — 200,000 tons of grain in stocks or en route to Britain diverted to India, South Africa, certain colonial territories, U.N.R.R.A. and the British zone of Germany. (The diversion was made at the urgent request of the United States, and it is therefore to be assumed that they have undertaken the responsibility for arranging the replacement.)

Result—Immediate release of 200,000 tons of grain to needy areas.

KING AND QUEEN AID DRIVE REBUILD COVENTRY CHURCH

Coventry, England. (C.P. — The King and Queen donated £2,223 recently to open an interdenominational drive for £1,250,000 to rebuild Coventry Cathedral, ruined by a German air attack Nov. 14th, 1940.

The fund is backed by both Church of England and Free Church leaders and a statement issued said their united action "is not a purely ecclesiastical measure for rebuilding the Anglican Cathedral. The joint work will be carried on permanently through a sister foundation of the Cathedral Christian Service Centre.

Here the churches are providing the means to make their united influence effective on modern developments in education, in social welfare in the life of the family and the individual, and in service to religion of the arts. There is nothing in the cathedral scheme which contravenes the regulations of any of the participating churches but it does, in fact create a new religious situation full of hope for the future.

The Roman Catholic Church is not participating in the drive.

Many Empire and other leaders have joined in the campaign, including Prime Minister Fraser of New Zealand; J. H. Hofmeyer, Deputy Prime Minister of the Union of South Africa; Norman Makin, Australian Minister in Washington; Field-Marshal Viscount Montgomery and John Gilbert Winant, until recently United States Ambassador to Britain.

Dr. N. V. Norton, Anglican Bishop of Coventry, heads the campaign.

The word panic is derived from Pan, the name of a mischievous pagan nature god who inspired terror in humans.

JR. BASEBALL STARTS NEXT WEEK

FIRST GAME
THURSDAY, MAY 30

On Thursday, May 30, the recently organized Junior Baseball League will officially open at the Lions operated Gibbard Recreation Park.

The Canadian Legion will oppose the Gibbard entry, and the game starts promptly at 6:30.

Games will be played Tuesday and Friday evening each week until the schedule is completed.

Managers are being made to have town and club officials participate in the opening ceremonies, and the general public is urged to support this worthy enterprise by their attendance.

The teams entered in the league are sponsored by Gibbards, Lions Club, Canadian Legion, and Merchants, and are managed by Doug Fraser, Ray Huffman, Earl Loucks, and Herb. Knuth.

The park presents an attractive appearance and with a little more work on the infield, the town will have one of the finest recreation centres in Eastern Ontario.

James Markle, a senior student at the N.C.V.I., has been engaged as supervisor and caretaker for the season.

Inspection Urged For Foreign Potatoes

Ottawa, (C.P.) — The Dominion Department of Agriculture has appealed to Canadians to send in for inspection any potatoes received from members of the armed forces in Europe.

Packages of such contraband potatoes should be handled like a 'bomb' because of the danger of introducing plant diseases and insects, not now present in this country, the Canadian potato industry — 'one of Canada's most important sources of food."

L. O. B. A. SUPPER AT McFARLAND HOME

SAFEGUARDS DEMANDED FOR SPIRITUAL FREEDOM

Geneva. (A.P.)—The World Council of Churches disclosed last week its officers had petitioned the four-power foreign ministers' conference to guarantee "real spiritual freedom" to all churches in any peace treaties drawn up.

The Council statement, said Dr. J. Hutchison Cockburn, lead found leaders of the Protestant churches in Italy "greatly exercised as to the future of spiritual freedom in their country, especially in view of the stand taken by most of the political parties in the matter of the concordat between the Church of Rome and the state."

Do You Remember It?

The above is a reproduction of a picture taken from an old copy of The Napanee Beaver found by Mr. B. H. Luffman, while going through a trunk full of old papers.

The picture must have been taken nearly 70 years ago since it shows a corner of the old Tichborne-House which stood where the Dominion Bank Building is now located at the corner of John and Dundas Streets.

STILL THE TWENTY-FOURTH

"Those who want to change the name of our national holiday from Dominion Day to Canada Day should look a bit at our next holiday, which comes on Friday of this week. Officially it may once have been the Queen's birthday, and more lately, Victoria Day, but for the great majority of people it is "The Twenty-Fourth." That section of our country which is scared to death at anything which has even the semblance of being British, may have their native alsatic fun gratified by changing the First of July from Dominion Day to Canada Day, but if we are to take our cue from what happened with Victoria Day, the national holiday will be Dominion Day long after the superpatriots and hypernationalists have been relegated to oblivion.

Anyway, Friday is the Twenty-Fourth. It really does not celegrate anything any more. All it does is to give Canadian people a holiday in May, and not early in May but towards the end, when all the trees have leafed out, the gardens begun to sprout, and the brooks and rivers and woods call with an irresistible challenge. It comes just at the right time, to give the office worker and those whose ordinary labor keep them confined, a chance to get outdoors, to beat the rugs, rake the driveway, cut the lawn, put on the screen doors, get blistered hands, sore muscles in the legs and arms, and a crick in the back.

FOOD FOR THE HUNGRY

The British people, usually long suffering and able to "take it" are beginning to show restless under the present food situation. The Soviet Union, which announces they will soon end rationing, will send no more food to starving Europe and Asia. The United States is like Canada, rich in food supplies, and is not carrying her load. Great Britain has cut her low stocks once more in order to send another 200,000 tons of wheat to Europe. The whole British Press is aroused over the inequality of sharing food as between Great Britain and the United States.

Of course, not all United States citizens are as slow to appreciate the situation as the Government. Many leading citizens are prodding the Government into action. A newsman, Revere Allen, has this to say to his gvn people: "Hundreds of miles of travel have convinced me that most Americans fail to take with seriousness the plight of hungry millions in Europe and Asia. There is an 'elite' which makes constant sacrifices, but this is a minority. Universally in eating places the usual quota of bread, sometimes four slices, is provided for every dinner; often you get four large rolls placed before you, and if you remonstrate you are shown that you are a 'queer bird.' Editors have bemoaned in interviews the sad mistake of feeding Europeans; farmers have boasted that they have taken no shortages since Pearl Harbour. Countless restaurants use the argument that if they curtail bread, customers will go elsewhere, but if we all had to do the same, it would be different.

"The only way out is a courageous return to general rationing at once, for as long as may be necessary. It is decidedly unedifying to see Clinton Anderson standing before a delegation of Pennsylvania millers and bakers and telling them that no humane considerations enter in—it is simply cheaper to feed people than have them rebel."

"Britain acted to cut rations in February when our Cabinet was only beginning to discuss a step it got around to two months later. Already on a slender diet, Britons go to restaurants increasingly. 'News Review' reports, only to find stiff and none too palatable pickings. Gifted at making fun of their troubles, the British are said to be reciting:

'An epicure dining at Crewe
Found quite a large mouse in his stew.
Said the waiter, 'Don't shout,
Or we'll all be wanting one, too'."

On the rest will be wanting one, too'."

It is to be hoped Devere Allen's suggestion will be adopted, and food in abundance be sent to those who, to-day are starving.

A SELFISH HOPE

Writing to an American Press Bureau, W. S. Edgar, of Montreal, makes a strange suggestion. He tells the people of The United States that there are some people in Canada who hope the United States will refuse the loan to Great Britain. These people, he points out, know that Great Britain needs the money. But they think that if the loan is not forthcoming from the United States, Canada will lend more and so get increased export business. And if such a loan is made in conjunction with other Dominions, then they will be able to capture the British Commonwealth market for many years to come. The report goes on so tay:

"It is recognized in Ottawa, that if a large loan were made to Britain by Canada in conjunction with the other Dominions — there is every sale of it as high as five billion dollars — the result would be an expansion of Canada's export trade to an unheard of size. Result: a rapid increase in Canadian standards of living — largely at the expense of the United States.

"Canadian ministers have already shown willingness to share in the sacrifice of privileged positions in Commonwealth markets, which Washington is making a condition of the granting of a loan to Britain, but they will undoubtedly insist on keeping the imperial preferences, if the U. S. loan is withheld or whittled down or even granted in return for the surrender of British island possessions in the North Atlantic.

"Some sections of the Press in Canada are already urging the Canadian Government to take the initiative in floating a Dominion loan to Britain as as means of preserving the imperial preferences. Rise of a similar sentiment in London circles which follow the leadership of Lord Beaverbrook, a Canadian-born peer and publisher, have added impetus to the movement on this side of the Atlantic."

We do not know where Mr. Edgar gets his information. But coming from Montreal it may reflect the views of St. James Street. Perhaps now that The United States Congress is warned they will come through with the loan and put a crimp in the selfish hopes of those Canadians Mr. Edgar writes about.

AN IMPORTANT GATHERING

Next week, Napanee will have the honor of entertaining The Bay of Quinte Conference of The United Church of Canada, in annual session. This is the largest convention that Napanee will have had for a number of years. It is expected that approximately three hundred delegates will be present. The meetings will be held continuously from Tuesday afternoon until Friday afternoon. To house and care for all these people rather frightens those charged with the responsibility, especially in view of housing shortage and food rationing. However, the hospitality of Napanee is well known and all who come to the Conference will be well taken care of.

These are great days that challenge every existing organization, and make them ask deep questions of themselves. The Church has not escaped the criticism, nor has she evaded it. All branches of the Christian Church are planning for the future, setting their finances in order, and rolling up their sleeves for the job to be done.

For this reason, The Bay of Quinte Conference, which comprises the United Church from all the area between Gananoque on the East and Pickering on the West, will have special significance. This is the first meeting since the close of the war. Much will have to be reviewed; many plans to be formulated and scrutinized. The public will find much in them of interest. At the morning devotions Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, at 9:00, to be addressed by Rev. Edwin M. Poteat, D.D., of Rochester, N.Y., and the evening services at 8.00, the public will particularly welcome.

Apart the work of the Conference will do, it will have a good effect, we hope, on ourselves. It will help us to lift our sights, and to see that the Church is more than a group of congregations, but a great enterprise world-wide in its scope.

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON, MAY 26TH, 1946

"FINDING A NEW SENSE OF VALUES"
Lesson Text: Luke 12: 19, 20; 18: 24-30; 19: 1-10.

The present writer was preparing a document for publication a while ago. In it we had the phrase: "The liquor interests are making a determined effort to capture the souls of our youth." It was submitted for confirmation to interested parties. When it came back the word "souls was changed to "interests." I immediately changed it back to "souls". If it were merely the "interests" of youth the liquor people were after, the situation would not be so serious.

Two years ago two books were written, one by a German anti Nazi, Ernest Jackh and was entitled: "The war for man's soul." The other, by an American, Stewart W. Herman Jr., who had been a clergyman in Berlin for six years. Both set out to show that it was the German soul that Hitler was out to capture.

Jesus, in the first section of today's lesson, gives a word picture of God's claim on man's soul. God demands the allegiance of the total man. That is where the final accounting has to be made. We may give our allegiance to many concerns but in the final analysis, it is our soul, God demands. How deeply that is borne in on us today when there are so many other interests bidding for our souls. Food, money, power, prestige. Those and more, bid high for total allegiance. That which we value most is that which captures our souls. In a recent novel, the mother of a no good boy who has been sent to the penitentiary, moved into a corner home, never bought anything for herself. She saved every cent she could, to get money in order to set up the son in business when he came out. Why did she do that? Because she valued her son's life more than her own. Why do parents deny themselves to give a son an education? Why do others save and almost starve themselves to get prepared to go as missionaries to China? Why does a total stranger plunge into a fire to save someone he never saw? They have a sense of values.

The second section of the lesson underlines this sense of values. Speaking to Peter, Jesus said: "There is no man that hath left house, or wife, or brethren, or parents, or children for the Kingdom of God's sake, who shall not receive more in this time and in the world to come, eternal life." Just as the one who values the Kingdom above all else, will receive rewards here of which the selfish know nothing, and in the world to come, life eternal. Of course, if he rich man loves his riches more than anything else, then riches have captured his soul his scale of values determines the everlastingly of his being. On the train last week, I got into conversation with one of the most gracious Christian gentlemen I know. He was returning from a city where he had been entertained at a private home. He was appalled to note how much of the conversation had centred around the comparative efficiency of different eating places in the city: "As though, that mattered," he said. Even his friends had slipped down in his estimation, because of the value they placed on things. They were missing something because of their sense of values.

The final section deals with the same theme from another angle. Zacharus was a tax collector. Nobody loves a tax collector, even today. They hated him in Jesus' time. But Zacharus came into contact with Jesus and was changed. Jesus saw in him more than a tax collector; he saw a man, made in God's image, treated him as such and the man reacted in kind. Jesus put a high value on human nature, and exalted, chastened and redeemed it. Zacharus had a new sense of values, too, after he came under the spell of Christ's ministry. That is what always happens. Old things pass away, all things become new.

Higher Butter Ration Now in Effect

In effect since May 16th, butter rations are boosted from four ounces to 5½ ounces per person per week, the Prices Board last week reminded Canadians.

At the same time, Board officials stated that there might be a further increase to six ounces per person per week around June 6th.

The rigid control has begun paying dividends, for, with the cows now going on the grass, butter stocks on hand are at the highest point on record in twenty years for this season.

Stocks are being built up during the Spring and Summer to maintain the ration of 8¼ ounces next Winter, when production slumps materially.

Murphy and Mrs. G. F. Mowbray. These names were omitted in the account of the event included in last week's paper.

WEDDING BELLS

PERRY—CODE

The wedding of Hazel Code, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Code, Smiths Falls, and Joseph Vernon Perry, son of the late Morley Perry and Mrs. Violet Perry, Napanee, was solemnized at St. Patrick's Roman Catholic Church here Saturday morning, May 4th, at 8:00 o'clock, by Dean E. M. Leacy. The matron-of-honor was Mrs. John Lefevre, Ottawa, and Byron Perry, Napanee, brother of the groom, was best man.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was becomingly attired in a gold-colored suit with blue accessories, and wore a corsage of sweetheart roses. Her attendant-of-honor wore a grey suit with blue accessories and a corsage similar to that of the bride.

Miss Agnes Cavanaugh, church organist, played the wedding march, and Herbert Gaulin sang a solo. Present in the sanctuary when mass was served was Bernard (Bud) Perry, younger brother of the groom. The altar was beautifully decorated with Easter lilies. The usher was Pat Murphy.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the groom's mother, at which the guests were received by the mother of the groom and the mother of the bride, with Mrs. George Fisher assisting at the tea table.

For travelling the bride wore a blue coat with matching accessories. After a honeymoon in Thousand Islands and Buffalo, the young couple will reside in Kingston, where both are employed in the offices of the Department of Veterans' Affairs.

Guests from out-of-town included Mrs. H. E. Foster, Saul R. Wood, Toronto; Mrs. H. H. Fortier, Miss Marilyn Fortier, Sudbury; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Code, Smiths Falls; Mr. and Mrs. Sperry Fraser, Morven, and Gerald Hayes, J. Reid and C. H. Hercus, of the DVA office in Kingston.

PERRY—SNARR

St. Patrick's Church was the scene of a pretty wedding on Saturday, May 11th, when Betty Olive Snarr, daughter of the late Harry Snarr and Mrs. Snarr of Belleville, became the bride of Jewell Morley Perry, son of the late Morley Perry and Mrs. Violet Perry, of Napanee.

The bride was given in marriage by her grandfather, Mr. L. Primore, and wore a powder blue dress with white accessories, and corsage of sweet peas. Her bridesmaid, Miss Edythe Perry, sister of the groom, wore a fuchsia dress with white accessories, and corsage of sweet peas. Byron Perry, eldest brother of the groom, was best man.

Rev. Dean Leacy officiated, with Bernard (Bud) Perry, brother of the groom, in the sanctuary.

The wedding music was played by Miss Agnes Cavanaugh. During the signing of the register, Mr. Gaulin and Miss Cavanaugh sang "Peace Be Still".

After the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the groom's mother on East St. The guests were received by the groom's mother and Mrs. H. Fortier, of Sudbury, aunt of the groom. Assisting in the diningroom were Mrs. George Fisher and Mrs. Sperry Fraser. Mrs. Morven, aunt of the groom. Toasts were proposed to the bride and groom, also to Mr. John O'Reilly, grandfather of the groom who was celebrating his 84th birthday.

After a short honeymoon spent in Toronto, the young couple will reside in Napanee.

Font Dedicated At Empey Hill Church

At Empey Hill United Church on Sunday morning, May 19th, a very impressive service was held and was attended by a large congregation. The significant part of the service was the presentation and dedication of a beautiful oak baptismal font, in tribute to the memory of the late Corporal Merle Paxon Kimmerly, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Kimmerly of Empey Hill, who gave his life in the Allied cause during the invasion of Normandy, in June 1944.

In carrying out this ceremony, the hymn "O God our Help in ages Past" was sung, after which the pastor read scripture selections from Psalm 46 and offered appropriate prayers. Then Mr. Kenneth Chadwick and Mr. Mac Gillivray McMath (both having served in this world war) reverently unveiled the flag draped font. Miss Irene Mowers, president, then made the presentation with the following words: "As president, it is now my privilege, on behalf of the members of the Empey Hill Young People's Society, to present this font to Empey Hill United Church; for use in its services: in memory of the late Corporal Merle Paxon Kimmerly, who was a valued member of our society. This gift to the Church is to keep the memory of his sacrifice for us, fresh in our hearts and minds, that we may live worthily of the freedom he helped to preserve for us."

The pastor then followed with the final prayer of dedication and delivered an address based upon St. John 12th chapter, verse 24: 'Except a corn of wheat fall into the ground and die it abideth alone; but if it die, it bringeth forth much fruit.' He emphasized the' example and assurance of Jesus, that sacrifices made for the sake of righteousness will never be in vain, but will, through the gracious providence of God be made the medium for the preserving and promoting in the life of mankind, all that is richest and best.

The service was concluded with the hymn, 'Come ye disconsolate. Earth has no sorrow that heaven cannot heal.'

with a new rat-killer . . . poison for poison ivy . . . sunfish for hens . . . and dynamite for ditches.

Rats are smart. They just won't eat anything that tastes as if it might be poison. Now man is going after them with a new chemical called ANTU, so potent that a millionth of a pound can kill a rat, and the rats don't seem to notice the taste.

Now we're set to give Poison Ivy and Poison Oak, for so long a scourge to the unwary, a dose of their own medicine! They'll be poisoned with AMMATE, a new and powerful chemical poison that makes them wither up and die. One or two lbs. of AMMATE will clear a patch 100 square feet in area.

Remember CEL-O-GLASS... the flexible cellulose-acetate glass substance which many farmers used before the war to get egg-producing ultra-violet rays into their henhouses? Well, it's coming back soon to civilian life, complete with a 5-year performance guarantee. CEL-O-GLASS not only brings in sun and keeps out cold. It eliminates breakage costs as well.

Someone might well coin the phrase, "which at time saves nine men's time", or words to that effect, especially since ditching with dynamite has now become a science. Farmers, as well as explosives engineers, are putting explosives to work in this way more and more. And in doing it they save labour, time and expense.

THE SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT

Mr. President,

Ladies and Gentlemen :

The time to examine the records of the past year has again rolled around. In that examination we should find our achievements and our failures, by these we should be able to set an objective or to plan our work so that our achievements will be greater and our failures lessened. To actually make a definite statement as to the good accomplished during a given period is rather difficult. Many years will have to elapse before we are certain that our influences with the individual or the group have been worthwhile.

For some reason the activity in our Prevention Department has fallen off. This is certainly in direct opposition to the policy of this or any other agency. A good prevention policy is the, or at least one of the most essential, in our Society. To a degree, the manner in which this work is carried out depends upon the activities of the other departments.

The need for prevention has certainly not decreased and, in fact, it might be said that the problems now confronting us are more numerous and varied than at any other time in our history. We are asked to lend assistance in solving problems that in the larger centres are covered by many agencies. We, therefore, must put ourselves in a position to meet this challenge. Our present set-up is not adequate. To do a worthwhile piece of social work in this county is beyond the powers of one individual. That is, when we consider Child Care, C.U.P.A., etcetera. In other words, we are only skimming the surface or considering only the absolutely urgent cases. Then are the cases accepted the most needy or deserving?

The child care department appears to be functioning normally. That is, there is no great variation in the actual number of children in care.

This branch of our work is most interesting and again requires more time and careful thought than we have found time to give. There are many problems to be faced by us and our foster parents before placing and careful guidance is required at all times. Our foster parents have rendered us a valuable service and at this time it cannot be too strongly stressed that careful placement is most essential. Simply providing food and shelter is not sufficient, the foster parent must have the interests of the child at heart if he is to make a satisfactory judgment. A home where the only consideration given is for the monthly cheque is of no use to us.

In the past year we have made a number of placements of children, especially infants, that are not wards. In most cases these placements have been on an adoption probation basis. This is a most pleasant task—to see, so to speak, an unwanted child placed in a home where care and affection is awaiting that child. This Society has not the necessary funds to carry on this work but that point will be touched later.

Adoptions have shown an increase. This is the crowning point of our work with the child and in nearly every case it reveals the time that has been spent in careful placement, supervision and, most important, the fact that the child has won a place in the heart of his foster parents.

The activity with regard to the children of unmarried parents is confined chiefly to the legal aspect of the various cases. This again presents a field for increased labour.

We have reached the time when we, as a Society, must face the fact that we cannot operate on the funds that are now available. In the past few years our per diem rate has increased until at the present time it is 87 cents per day per child. This is accounted for in many ways — increase in board, clothing, medical fees, etc. The deficit as shown by the Auditor's report is easily understandable when you consider that we are only receiving 75 cents per day from municipal sources. The income from trust funds, grants, etc. is not sufficient to meet all other expenses. We must, if the work of the Society is to continue, solicit aid from other sources by exerting ourselves and placing before the public the acute need for funds to carry on a most worthwhile cause.

On behalf of the Board, I extend to all those who have so ably and willingly assisted us during the past year, our deepest appreciation. By such assistance we are enabled in no small way to carry out the duties and obligations assigned to us.

In closing, may I express to the Officers and Members, my sincere appreciation for their confidence in me for the many kind thoughts and deeds extended to me during my illness.

SUPERINTENDENT.

Edwin Smith, London, and from many other prominent Companions.

Toasts Proposed

The Chapter being closed, the Companions repaired to the banquet hall where all sat down to a banquet prepared under the supervision of Comp. Markland Miles. Musical numbers were furnished by Messrs. Walter Blakely, J. Caldwell and H. Follis.

The toast to Grand Chapter of Canada was proposed by Most Worshipful Brother W. S. Herrington, Past Grandmaster of the Grand Lodge of Canada in the Province of Ontario, who was an invited guest of the Chapter at the banquet. This was responded to by Most Ex. Comp. R. V. Conover, Grand Z, who delivered a splendid and inspiring address.

The toast to Prince Edward District No. 11 was proposed by Rt. Ex. Comp. Alex. MacGregor and was responded to by the present Grand Superintendent of the District, Rt. Ex. Comp. James Pow, of Trenton.

The toast to Our Sister Chapters was proposed by Rt. Ex. Comp. Chas. A. Walters, and was responded to by representatives of various chapters.

At the banquet table those present were each presented with a souvenir book mark, a gift of the First Principal of the Chapter, Ex. Comp. A. V. Roy, and a coin especially struck for the occasion, having on the obverse side a Chapter design with the name of the Chapter and date of its Institution, and on the reverse a keystone surrounded with the word "In Commemoration of 75th Anniversary."

The coins were donated by Ex. Comp. A. C. Tummon, for which on behalf of those present, he was thanked by the Ex Z of the Chapter.

Thus ended a red letter day in the annals of the Chapter and much credit must be given to the First Principal of the Chapter, Ex. Comp. A. V. Roy and the officers and committees, for successfully carrying out the necessary details for its success.

pastor, Rev. H. B. Herrington, in the presence of a record congregation. Mrs. Robert Cairns presided at the organ. Special musical numbers were rendered, Mrs. Wilfred Sheffield, colored soloist, the Kingston "Youth for Christ" ladies trio and mixed quartette, and Mrs. Wightman, soprano, of Newburgh. All the neighboring circuits were represented.

The Switzerville people are very grateful to all who gave so generously and everyone will be interested to know that the last payment has been made on the organ.

CANADA TO GET SHARE OF COAL

Ottawa, (CP.) — Reconstruction Minister Howe said in the Commons believed essential coal users in Canada would get a portion of the mines in Alberta were in production amount of coal produced in United and if a fair amount of western coal States mines during the two-week soft coal mine strike truce.

Coal would have to be transported to railways in the United States before any coal at all could be moved, said Mr. Howe, replying to Lawrence Skey (P.C.-Toronto-Trinity).

J. R. MacNicol (P.C.-Toronto Davenport), asked if the Drumheller coal was reaching Canada because of the shortage of coal in the United Kingdom.

Mr. Howe said production in Alberta was very satisfactory and was increasing month by month. The coal controller was ordering coal as much coal as could be spared. Incentives were being given to increase production. No Welsh coal would be reaching Canada because of the Many an over-expanded household has endured the "bathroom problem", but lack of ADEQUATE ELECTRIC WIRING is a more subtle irritation. Having to move the chesterfield to plug in the vacuum cleaner, for instance, just because the only wall outlet is back behind ... with all the lamps and the radio hooked up to it. And then there is the new range or water heater you would like to have if the main wiring would only stand the strain. That is where the real rub comes . . . when you can't use some new electrical convenience until new wiring is installed for it.

Many homes are not wired for modern demands. As more appliances become available, the use of electricity keeps right on climbing, and makeshift wiring adjustments lead to trouble.

That is why it is so necessary for you to insist on adequate wiring for your home, be it old or new. Hydro rates have been reduced until they are now among the lowest in the world. Enjoy full benefit of low-cost electrical servants by having your home adequately wired. A good electrical contractor knows how to wire adequately, and your local Hydro will gladly give you information.

If you are improving or building a home, ask your Hydro for the booklet, "Adequate Wiring for the Postwar Electric Homes of Canada."

Question and Answer Column

Readers may direct their questions, giving their name and address, and mentioning the name of this paper, to Information Branch, WPTB, 490 Sussex St., Ottawa, Ontario.

Q. I would like to get a used car but have no car to trade in. Is there anything I can do in order to get a decent car?

A. Under present regulations a dealer is not allowed to demand a trade-in. Dealers are now required to sell used cars to any person who offers to pay cash and are prohibited from demanding an exchange or trade-in of any kind. Every used car that is for sale by a dealer must have a tag on it showing the lawful price and the model, make and other particulars. If you will send us the name of the dealer demanding a trade-in we will investigate the matter for you.

Q. Could you tell me how long a term of credit one has on a monthly charge account ?

A. Monthly charge accounts must be paid by the 10th of the second month following that in which the purchase is made.

Q. We will be hiring extra help from time to time on our farm this summer. How many persons must I serve before I am entitled to extra coupons ?

A. Extra ration coupons are only issued for a total of twelve meals or fewer. If extra help is hired for two weeks or more, the ration book must be surrendered to the employer.

Q. Is the 12½ per cent. increase in new farm machinery also on parts for machinery? A husband has asked about parts for a binder and the dealer says his price is increased. Is this correct ?

A. Your dealer is quite correct. The increase permitted on farm machinery applies to parts as well as the new machines.

Q. When I was discharged from the Army, I was give na priority mat certificate. Unfortunately, I lost it. Is there any way I may obtain another priority?

A. Sorry ! We have had many cases such as yours but unfortunately just ONE priority for a new suit may be issued.

Mr. Kennedy pulled out into the ditch and the Casey car hit a fence, after which it became wedged between a hydro pole and a pole fastened against it as a support.

About 7:35 p.m., on Saturday, five and a half miles east of Napanee, a car driven by Stewart Stevens, Napanee, collided with a car owned and driven by Arthur Vanalstine, R.R. No. 3, Napanee. Both cars were being driven east and Vanalstine made a left hand turn in front of the Casey car, which could not be stopped in time to avoid a collision because of the slippery surface of the pavement. About $300 damage was done to the cars but the occupants escaped injuries.

POSTHUMOUS AWARD TO FT.-SGT. A. W. KIMMERLY

Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Kimmerly received a cable from the Air Marshal Chief of the Canadian Air Staff, Ottawa, notifying that their son, the late Flight Sergeant A. W. Kimmerly, had been posthumously awarded the Distinguished War Medal of the RCAF, in recognition of gallant service in action against the enemy. With the certificate was also sent a pair of gold wings.

INT. BALL CLUB ENTERS LEAGUE

During the past month an effort has been made to form an Intermediate Baseball League around Napanee, but owing to the lack of interest and material from the surrounding district, the two teams available in town have pooled their players and have entered one team in the Belleville league, which is composed of Stewart-Warner, Bata Shoes, RCAF, Belleville Juniors and Napanee.

In entering the league, an attempt was made to have Napanee play all their home games at the Lions esplanade, but Bata Park, but this was ruled out and only one game by each club will be played here.

The playing dates are as follows:

Stewart-Warner vs. Napanee, on Thursday, June 6th.

Belleville Juniors vs. Napanee, on Tuesday, June 25th.

Bata Shoes vs. Napanee, on Saturday, July 6th.

RCAF vs. Napanee, on Tuesday, August 6th.

Latta vs. Napanee, on Tuesday, August 20th.

The Napanee team is composed of entirely young Veterans who have all been recently discharged from the Services.

The manager of the team is Joe Killorin, and the coaches are Gord Curry and Ken Murphy.

What possibilities this team has in the City League can not be commented on at this early date, but they should give a fair account of themselves in any event.

It is hoped that the general public will support their efforts by attending, not only the few Napanee games, but in Belleville, as well.

VACATION SCHOOL WILL BE HELD IN NAPANEE

During the past week, Miss Olive Sparling, of Toronto, who will visit a number of points in the Bay of Quinte Conference, was in Napanee and gave an interesting talk at the monthly meeting of the Home and School Association, and also spoke to representatives of several churches in the town, on the matter of a vacation school. While here she showed pictures of work which is being done at the vacation schools. Later, it was announced that a vacation school would be held here this summer, and Rev. Noble Hatton, of Trinity United Church, was selected chairman of the committee to make the necessary arrangements. Members of the committee are Mrs. K. S. Hall, Mrs. J. G. Findlater, Mrs. John Diamant, Miss Hazel Vanalstine, and Rev. C. D. McLellan.

It is anticipated that the school will be held during the early part of July and will be open to all children between the ages of three and twelve years. The activities will include Bible study, handiwork, recreation, stories and singing. Last year the first school was sponsored by Grace United Church, but this year it will be a combined effort, sponsored by the congregations of Trinity United Church, Grace United Church, St. Mary Magdalene Church, and The Salvation Army.

LESS FOOD AT PUBLIC FUNCTIONS IS URGED

In answer to the Dominion-wide chorus, "How can WE help in the 'Save Food' campaign?" the Canadian Food Information Committee has made a practical suggestion regarding the serving of food at public functions. Simpler menus, smaller portions at luncheon, dinner or reception, the Committee points out, will not only satisfy the appetite of the guests but will also help to appease the hunger of war-starved millions abroad.

Group functions may well be made a lesson in food conservation and the reduction of food wastage. They afford an ideal opportunity to cut down the serving of dishes calling for the flour, the eggs and cheese which Canada has undertaken to ship to the famine areas. In Europe 20,000,000 to 30,000,000 children need food. In Canada, about 30 lbs. flour is used in the making of sandwich bread for 30 guests at an afternoon or evening party. That 30 lbs. will keep thirty children alive—just keep them alive—for one day, or will prolong the existence of one child for 30 days.

What Canadian would not be glad to share with the hungry in other lands merely by eating less at functions in hotel or restaurant?

The average human brain is three times the size of an average gorilla's.

FIVE BOYS ARRESTED AFTER GASOLINE THEFT

On Thursday evening, May 23rd, five boys about the age of sixteen, who had recently escaped from the Shawbridge Boys Farm Training School at Quebec, were arrested near Kingston, on information laid by W. F. Hodgston of Hodgston's Service Station, about two miles east of Napanee, after they had secured eight gallons of gasoline without payment.

The five boys, Robert Hyde, John Thornton, Joseph McKeown, Calvin Peterson and Cecil Bancroft, the latter two being colored, had attempted to secure gasoline from several farm houses near Hodgston's, before going to the service station. After securing the gasoline, they informed the attendant they had no money and drove away toward Belleville. Constable Morden was informed and he contacted the Provincial Police at Belleville and Kingston, with the result that the quintette were arrested later near Kingston.

Before going to Hodgston's they also broke into the home of Walter Oke nearby and ransacked the house.

Ottawa police informed the local police that the boys were wanted for the theft of a car at Richmond, in Carelton County, and also for breaking and entering a home in Richmond.

The chairman first called upon Lion Werke Poole, of the Gibbard Furniture Shops, who gave some of the facts and figures of the operation of the plant. Out of the 630 families in Napanee, 130 persons were employed at The Gibbard Shops and a total of about $260,609 was annually earned by these employees. Approximately $50,000.00 was spent on lumber and materials in and around the County. During the war years almost $700,000.00 was derived from was contracts, six has shell boxes, fuse boxes, medicinal cases, ships' wheels, etc.

Lion Poole informed his audience that a million board feet of lumber was used annually at the plant and although a quantity of solid woods was used, a great deal of different types of veneer were also in demand by the retailers.

Original drawings were passed to the members, showing sketches from which plans and dimensions are taken. Lion Ray Huffman called upon Lion Earl Penny to briefly outline the procedure of the curing and drying of various types of wood. Lion Earl produced machines and gauges which were used in this process and pointed out the difficulties experi-

City Women Attend W.C.T.U. Convention Held Last Week

Greater Activity is Urged for Social Reform

The 37th annual W.C.T.U. County Convention of Hastings, Lennox and Addington and Prince Edward was held in the United Church, Picton, on Tuesday, May 21st, 1946. Mrs. A. T. Fleming, of Trenton, the President, presided at morning and afternoon sessions.

Delegates in enthusiastic numbers from Trenton, Belleville, Napanee, Selby, Picton, Tweed, Frankford, Milford, Cherry Valley, Newburgh and South Bay attended.

The Doxology and Pledge opened the morning session, the theme "Peace, Purity and Total Abstinence". Mrs. Fleming gave a bright and impressive welcome.

Conveners of committees were:— Resolutions, Mrs. Baker, of Belleville; Courtesy, Mrs. A. H. Foster, of Cherry Valley; Nominating, Mrs. Miller, of Napanee; Plan of Work, Mrs. Phillips, of Wellington.

Mrs. Denison, the Recording Secretary, gave interesting minutes of work undertaken and done. Trenton invited the convention to meet there next year.

Mrs. A. H. Foster conducted the devotional period. "Press and the strain of every day living, using the story of David's complaint and how he'd like to soar away like a dove. "Every day is another in the campaign of life". "Don't let us fell out to evil".

Reports of County Superintendents were given by Mrs. Foster on Evangelism, and Mrs. Parley on Citizenship. Mrs. Miller, on Exhibitions and Fairs, stressed the fact that at Napanee Fair they were asked to come back by the management after having been a year absent, as it helped the morale of the fair. Mrs. Miller, of Napanee, on finance, stressed the fact that there was no better time than now to get new members. Organize for new members and, as well, enlist the help of the men's organizations. Mrs. Pugsley, who was six years president, would want the greater honor than the drive for 60 new women members under 60 in all Ontario. Only four of our Unions have these groups, but there is increased interest. Moral Education report was read, in Miss Cameron's absence. Have more public meetings and ask ministers to help. Mrs. W. WELCOME !

The presence of approximately three sundred visitors to our town is quite an addition to a population of about three thousand. To have provided as we would have liked to do for our guests would have pleased us immeasurably. But, like most other communities we are suffering from a housing shortage, and room is at a premium. Our people have done the best they could under the circumstances, but if our guests are a bit crowded, we hope they will overlook it. Then, too, there is the difficulty of getting adequate supplies of food. Our guests are reasonable people and will, we are sure, understand our problem.

We welcome the Members of The Bay of Quinte Conference of The United Church of Canada, and express the hope that the delegates one and all, will enjoy their stay in this Old Loyalist Town.

A REFLEX INFLUENCE

One effect upon the church-going people of Napanee and surrounding community, of the meetings of The Bay of Quinte Conference of The United Church of Canada, now being held in our town, will be to impress on them that a church is something more than a number of congregations. Invariably, a congregation of worshipping people intent on maintaining its own congregational life in a healthy state, is in danger of forgetting the world-wide character of the Church's enterprises. A brief study of the published agenda of The Bay of Quinte Conference reveals that these will be adequately dealt with so far as The United Church of Canada is concerned. The work Overseas will be reviewed by one of the missionary leaders of the church, who will no doubt tell of plans for the future. Home mission work will likewise be presented by one well versed in the plans and programme of the Church. The Crusade for Christ and His Kingdom; the Pension Fund Drive; Social Service and Evangelism, and other subjects, will be brought before the Conference for study and discussion by leaders in their respective fields.

The late Wendell Willkie, more than any other man in this generation, made us aware that we are one world politically and economically. There is no doubt but that we are in one world spiritually, too. Whether we admit it or not, we are neighbor to the Fuzzy in New Guinea, to the Yellow Man in China, and the Black Man in India, and to all classes and conditions in society. The Church, more than any other institution, has tended to break down race prejudices and class barriers. Perhaps we, who live in a small town, secluded and in a somewhat sheltered position, need to be reminded of these things.

If the Conference lifts our mental and spiritual horizon even a little, we will be amply repaid for whatever labor was involved in our preparation for it.

THE STRIKERS WIN

The Meat Packers have won their strike. For some time now they have been on strike against the Governmnt Wartime Prices and Trade Board. The Packers objected to the ceiling prices on wholesale beef. They finally decided that the only way to get what they wanted was to strike for it. So they struck and won. Over the week end the announcement was made that the wholesale ceiling prices on red and blue beef would be lifted until July 20th. The retail prices remain as they were. The small shopkeeper, the retailer, will have to pay more for about fifty per cent. of his beef, while forced to sell it at an unchanged price. The retailer takes the loss.

This strike was a quiet affair. It did not receive the publicity we might have expected. There were no newspaper photographers to take pictures of the strikers, leaving their buildings. There were no feature writers on hand to glamorize the strikers. There were no vivid, pathetic accounts of how the families of strikers would suffer, because of the strike. There was no mathematical genius employed to give to the public the number of man-hours lost by the strike, and the amount of take-home pay the recalcitrants would be short.

No ! Nothing like that happened ! It was all so orderly, so unspectacular—and so effective. Nevertheless the strikers won.

Who pays the shot ? The little guy, of course. Not the very little guy, not the housekeeper who buys a bit of meat over the counter — not yet ! — but the next little guy, the small storekeeper, the butcher — so far, he is the one who lost out !

THE RAILROAD STRIKE

It will be some time before those who were inconvenienced by the railroad strike will be able to think dispassionately of the Labor leaders, particularly, and the Labor movement generally. The action of the President of The United States in denouncing the leaders of two unions was unprecedented. It was probably necessary, in the face of the crisis that existed. The speed with which Congress granted the President extraordinary powers, reflected public consternation and feeling against the unions. That the Senate is balking on granting this request indicates the sober second thought of the country is now expressing itself.

What most people fail to realize is that this strike is only one of many strikes, and that in their totality they represent a struggle of the working man for a better way of life, and for a larger share of the profits of industry. This is not confined to the North American Continent alone. It is world-wide. The world is in a state of ferment. New ideas of life have been let loose and are seeking expression in action.

In Canada and The United States we are going through, now, what Great Britain, which is always a generation ahead in social legislation, went through following the First World War. We ought to have learned our lesson— but we never learn.

The necessity for learning from Great Britain was emphasized by Ernest Bevin, in interview the present writer had with him in 1927. Mr. Bevin, it will be remembered at that time, was the Secretary of "The Union of Transportation and General Workers." He was the man responsible for organizing the general strike in Great Britain, which disrupted the life of the nation even more than the forty-eight hour strike of the railway workers tied up the American economy, last week. This same Mr. Bevin is now Rt. Hon.-Ernest Bevin, Foreign Minister in the British Cabinet. . . . Twenty-five years ago his position was quite similar to that in The United States held by Mr. Johnston and Mr. Whitney, whom the President denounced so soundly.

In the interview notes which, taken at that time, are here before us, Mr. Bevin said the industrialists in The United States had a chance to avoid ninety per cent. of the mistakes they had made in Great Britain. There has been, he said, no recognition of organized labor in Great Britain, except where Labor had fought for it. If you — ie Americans — allow the labor movement in America to fight for everything they get, and if labor has to win its cause by fighting, then after thirty years, when Labor gets control, Labor will not forget the past. What the employers should do, is to say to the employees: come and help us; before a fight develops.

We are not passing judgment on the particular issue involved in the railroad strike, as the details of it were more or less of a technical nature. Nevertheless, it is hard to escape the conviction that we on this North American Continent, who are permitting resort to the strike in order to settle labor disputes, are heaping up for ourselves a great deal of hatred that will be hard to forget in the years to come.

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON, JUNE 2ND, 1946

"FRIENDS AT BETHANY"

Lesson Texts: Mark 14: 3-9. Luke 10: 38-42. John 11: 1-3.

Friends are among life's greatest treasures. What a privilege it is to have those into whose ears we can pour our woes and our worries, confident that they are as safe as if locked in the secret of ones own heart. What a privilege to have homes to go to, where one has no necessity of being on guard; where one can relax, talk things over, or simply sit and meditate without feeling the necessity of having to keep up a forced conversation. It would have surprised us greatly if Jesus had not felt the need of friends. Every once in a while, He withdrew from the heat and pressure of the day's work, into the country, or at least into the suburbs of Jerusalem, to refresh His spirit with His Friends. That is where He was in His week's lesson — at Bethany, in the home of Simon, the leper.

While in this home, a woman who has been identified by John as the sister of Lazarus and Martha, poured a jar of expensive ointment on the head of Jesus. This caused comment. There were those who thought it a waste of good money. Well, perhaps it may have seemed like it, to them. There are always those who can see things in terms of money or what money can buy. For them an open is quite out of the question; beautiful pictures are an utter extravagance Assuredly, there are some things in life which cannot be estimated in terms of money. Beauty, goodness, and truth, cannot be valued in the coin of the realm.

Jesus rebuked the people who murmured on two counts. She had come a beautiful deed. She would have plenty of opportunity, later on, to render practical service, in the meantime she had been extravagant with her love in the way she was moved to express it. Further, Jesus said that she did not wait until He was dead to anoint His body; she had done it while he was still alive. She gave her bouquets to the living, rather than to the dead.

The next section records another incident at the same house. Here, again, Jesus had taken Himself off for a bit of a rest. The two sisters reacted differently to the presence of Jesus. Martha hurried out to get the meal, while Mary "sat at the Lord's feet" — the Oriental way of saying she listened to Him. Martha got a bit peeved because her sister was not bothering much with the meal, and complained to Jesus. Jesus told her she was busy about many things, but Mary had chosen one thing. There are two interpretations to this statement of Jesus: (1) you are thinking of routine duties, whereas the important thing while I am here is to listen to Me; (2) you are getting on too big a dinner, a simple meal with one cooked dish would have been enough. In either case, the meaning is the same, Jesus was out him. I am very proud to write to a lady with sentiment. I have read and written many English letters, but your letters are wonderful. I am that you are a very good Christian, sending so many parcels to your people. We people in Greece suffer on account of the occupation by Germany. Greece now is a big country. The American and Canadian Red Cross helped us some, but the need is so great. When the Germans retreated, they took everything we had in our homes. Your people here are very lucky to receive parcels from you. I have nobody in Canada or in the U. S. A. to send me a pair of old shoes, or an old suit. If you wish to send me a pair of second hand shoes, size 7½ or 8, or a pair of second-hand trousers, I would be very much obliged to you. I am a poor man with three children, a boy 15, and two girls 16 and 14. My wife and I have lost all we had.

In your letter you said that I will get tired of translating your letters. No! It's a pleasure for me. You may write all you wish. I am afraid you will get tired trying to read my poorly written letters.

God bless you !

Yours truly,
Frank Nicholopoulous.

Letters From Greece Describe Hardships Suffered By People

The following letters have recently been received by Mrs. Peter Ganas, from a friend and a relative of her late husband, Peter Ganaco, in which thanks are expressed for parcels of clothing which she has sent, numbering almost 100, to Greece.

Malota Megalopolis,
May 2nd, 1946

Dear Niece Dorothy :

Just received your most welcome letter and I was more than glad to hear from you. We are all well. In your letter you said that you mailed me two parcels on April 12th, which I haven't received yet. But I am sure I will receive them, as letters come before parcels.

First of all I want to thank you for all the things you sent us. I pray God to give you health and happiness. Our country is the most destroyed country in Europe. We suffer more than any other people. But we thank God we are alive.

Yesterday was a Holyday as always on May 1st. I saw your husband's two little grandchildren, Peter and Helen. They are very healthy. On April 23rd the baby was chistened and was named Peter.

Half of this village was destroyed by the Germans and the two small churches were entirely destroyed. The Germans bombarded the village for seven hours. Then they came to the village and set fire and burned half of the village. Only three were killed in the bombardment. The rest of the people ran away to the mountains.

Yours truly,
Rev. Evageloa Kalogeropoulos.

Dear Mrs. Ganas:

I am the friend of Rev. Evagelos, who writes the English letters for you for a rest; He was more interested in the Kingdom than in this life.

It was the friendship and fellowship of close and understanding friends that He needed more than anything else.

ONTARIO WILL GRADE MOVING PICTURES

ONTARIO motion picture censors, under C. J. Silverthorne, have begun the grading and classification of films as adult entertainment. Officials, grading will not start until June 1st. It will be carried on for one year as an experiment.

All exhibitors will be required to identify adult entertainment, as defined by the censors, on lobby display material but such identification is called for in newspaper advertising only where first runs are concerned. The board retains the right to judge whether identification is adequate enough in any and all cases. Features not classified for adult exhibition need no identification of any kind.

Purpose of the grading is to provide guidance for exhibitors, distributors, parents and all others interested in the character of entertainment which might be seen by juveniles. Moving pictures have become the business of more persons and organizations than at any time in their history and agitation arising from their alleged relationship to juvenile delinquency has reached new heights. These may now show their sincerity by organizing means of informing parents which films are fit only for adults, according to the censors.

At the end of the specified time the results will be examined and their effect on the question of suitable entertainment for juveniles discussed with the board's senior officer, the Hon. L. M. Frost, K.C., Provincial treasurer, and community groups interested.

In ling out that approximately 15 per cent. of all films produced today are of a type that can affect juvenile behavior under certain conditions, Silverthorne stated that it was only fair to observe that cases of juvenile delinquency in the Toronto court were the lowest recorded for 25 years. This reduction took place at the time of the greatest agitation over the motion picture as a contributor to juvenile delinquency.

The Ontario Home and School Federation Associations section of the Ontario Educational Association, during the recent Toronto convention, asked that Ontario film censorship be placed under the Provincial department of education and that one educator be added to the board of censors. Reaction being proportionate to action, this type of agitation in the United States recently led to clerical and other associations and individuals going on record against any kind of censorship and have expressed their willingness to test the question in the Ohio courts.

The Manitoba and Alberta censorship boards classify films into adult and universal entertainment as "A" and "U" being the respective symbols. Grading is also practised in Great Britain. In none of the places mentioned is there a penalty for the exhibitor who prefers to ignore classification nor will Ontario enforce one.

In a small British town an exhibitor refused admittance to children when showing an "A" film and citizens protested vigorously against his action until he had to be satisfied with mere identification.

Ontario has experimented with grading before, certain recent films having been barred to children by order of the board.

With a view of increasing food supplies for Britain, twenty Swedish fishing trawlers are to fish from Fleetwood, England.

HEALTH MINISTER APPEALS to ONTARIO FOR CLOTHING

Toronto. — Health Minister, Russell T. Kelley, Provincial Chairman of the Ontario National Clothing Collection, has appealed to everyone of Ontario's four milllion men, women and children to start saving their clothing and bedding for next month's campaign. The drive scheduled for June 17th to 29th inclusive, is being sponsored by the Canadian Allied Relief Fund to aid the destitute in Allied countries, principally Europe.

"Here, in a nutshell, is why we must have the help of everyone in this Province," Mr. Kelley said in his statement last week. "Unless Canadians and others of the world's more fortunate populations contribute at least one garment per person, more than 130 million people, including 25 million children, face death from cold and exposure next winter. Those are staggering figures and they are accurate for they are the conservative estimates of international relief agencies."

The Minister explained that all kinds of used, serviceable clothing are required. These include suits, overcoats, uniforms, work clothes for men and boys, infants' clothes of all types, coats, dresses, aprons and smocks for girls and women, shoes in pairs (tied securely with string), caps, felt hats, knitted headwear, gloves, woollen socks, underclothing, piece goods, blankets, sheets and linen and draperies and remnants.

Mr. Kelley added that all washable garments and goods should be washed but need not be ironed. Other garments need not be dry-cleaned. Clothes without buttons are acceptable, as supplies of buttons are now moving into lands where the clothing will be worn. Items which cannot be baled — such as straw hats, feather ticks, pillows and mattresses — should not be given.

"Collection of the clothing will be done according to arrangements set up by local committees", the Minister said. "Collections will be made from individual homes or depots, such as post offices, fire stations and stores where clothes may be left, as announced by the local organizers. In all communities except the larger centres, clothing may be left at the local Post Office.

"I am happy to report that more than 200 communities are organized, and within the next few days we hope to complete the organization of collection agencies in every city, town, village and township in Ontario."

Mr. Kelley urged contributors to attach notes of good cheer to their donations. This, he believes, presents Canadians with an opportunity to write to their Allies as an expression of goodwill and a desire for lasting peace in the world on a basis of international friendship among individuals.

Governor-General Lauds Canada and United States Relations

Ottawa, (C.P.) — The Governor-General, Viscount Alexander, disclosed last week that he has made a quiet flight over the United States border, for his first glimpse of that country.

In a speech prepared for delivery at a Canadian Club luncheon, the British Field Marshal discussed the need for continuing the co-operation of war time days and also cited Canadian-United States co-operation as a shining example.

"A few days ago," the Governor said, "I took an airplane and made a quiet round Ottawa which took me to Kingston and the American border, for his first glimpse of that country.

"Now if I had been in Europe I should have been very careful whose frontier I crossed for obvious reason that I don't like risking being shot at or shot down. What a difference here, when as we flew over those lovely (Thousand) Islands in the river and I asked my pilot to point out to me where the border ran, he had to consult his map—I didn't blame him. If we had been in Europe the frontier would have been clearly visible and marked by the line of its fortifications, fortresses and barbed wire and what not. Yet in that short flight what struck me most was the bridge at Ivy Lea, grand, strong and simple in its structure, but grander still because it is symbolic of the link connecting two great friendly nations."

The comparatively youthful and active Governor has already "leaped" through the nearby Gatineau Hills and has also found time to rig himself a studio for painting in the brief period he has been here.

EFFIE IS THE BATTLER OF THE FAMILY — I'LL LAY ODDS ON HER AGAINST ALL THE M'SLUGS
HOW CAN YOU SAY THAT? A FINE FATHER YOU ARE! YOU GO RASHER-ROOR AND TELL THEM RUFFIANS WHERE THEY GET OFF!

The morning service with the theme song opened the programme followed with a very fine worship service by Rev. W. G. Fletcher. Mrs. Earl Bradshaw was elected press reporter and the following committees were appointed: Nominating, Mrs. Lewis, Mrs. Aikenbrack, Mrs. Fred Henderson, Mrs. Thos. Wilson, Mrs. Morley White, Miss Emma Shorey; Courtesy Mrs. McClellan, Mrs. Andrew Willard, Mrs. George Scott, Mrs. Shelly Denyes. The minutes for 1945 were read and approved. The reports from 33 societies were given. Two societies represented gave no reports and three societies not represented sent no reports. Mrs. Lochead, Tamworth, favored the meeting with a solo. Mrs. S. W. Little gave a recitation, and Mrs. Wightman sang beautifully.

The address of welcome was given by Mrs. Earl Boyce using the letters of the word welcome, as her topic, after which a bountiful and delicious dinner was served to about two hundred ladies.

Following the dinner hour Mrs. C. D. McLellan gave a vivid review of the book "The Pleasure Wife". A reply to the welcome was given by Mrs. Hyland, Camden East. The report of the nominating committee was as follows: President, Mrs. D. R. Sharp; 1st vice-president, Mrs. D. R. Aylsworth; 2nd vice, Mrs. J. Kimmett; secretary, Mrs. M. Perry; treasurer, Miss Clark; and Mrs. Lewis, Mrs. Wilfred Smith, Mrs. Robt. Potter and Mrs. Lewis Fox constitute the executive. The installation of officers was conducted by Rev. Griffith Arden. Mrs. R. Jackson and Mrs. P. Mills sang a lovely duet, after which the offering was received and dedicated by Mrs. Hollingsworth. Mrs. Little again delighted the audience with three short recitations, and Mrs. Huffman gave a very fine talk on "Gateways to Happiness". "Happiness", she said, "depends on the spirit within rather than circumstances without. The convention was again favored with a solo by Mrs. Lochead. Mrs. Lewis recalled that Rev. S. F. Dixon was the organizer of the Ladies' Aid convention held at Wilton, twenty-four years ago. Mrs. M. Perry who has attended every convention since, was presented with two enlarged collection plates to be placed in Wilton Church as a memorial to Mr. Dixon. Mrs. P. Galbraith gave two readings.

The memorial service was conducted by four ladies, led by Mrs. Rev. Hatton. A minute's silence was observed in memory of a past president, Mrs. Richmond. A white carnation was pinned on a cross in memory of each deceased member. A solo by Mrs. Robson closed the memorial service.

In the question and answer period it was decided that the annual reports be given on work done from December to December, rather than from May till May. Collection amounted to $22.35. The invitation to go to Arden for the convention next year was accepted.

The meeting closed with "Blest Be the Tie that Binds," and "God Save the King."

RECENT BRIDE HONORED AT NEWBURGH

Snapdragons and tulips decorated the pretty rooms of the Newbugh parsonage, last Tuesday night, when Mrs. Ralph Wightman and Mrs. Herrington were joint hostesses at a shower in honor of Mrs. Kenneth Gilbert, a recent bride. After a pleasant time spent in music and contests Mrs. Gilbert was summoned to the dining room, where tall candles and streamers added to the decorative scheme. Here the bride opened her gifts and expressed appreciation to the donors. In the living room, coffee was served from a beautiful china service, which Mrs. Wightman had recently received as a gift from her husband in Holland.

At the close of the evening, felicitations were extended to Mrs. Gilbert.

Rogation Service Held at St. Alban's At Adolphustown

Rogation Sunday, May 26th, was observed in traditional method at St. Albans Church, Adolphustown. At the evening service a procession of choristers and members of the Junior W. A. walked from the vestry round the church, singing a Rogationtide hymn. Prayers for the blessing of the seed sown were said by the Rector and responses were made by the congregation assembled on the lawn in front of the church. This short service outside the church was a part of the ancient custom of Beating the Bounds when the people assembled to ask for God's blessing upon their labors in the fields. The sermon was on the theme of Rural Life Sunday and the Rector pointed out three characteristics of country life which taught three essentials of the Christian faith: (1) Life with the Neighbours; (2) Life on the Soil; (3) Life under God. These taught brotherhood of man, dependence upon God, the need of prayer.

During the service sixteen Juniors were presented with arm bands and first stripe. Before these were given the Juniors recited in unison the Promise, the Pledge, and the Member's Prayer, and sang the hymn, "Once Again Dear Lord, We Pray." The crib cover, beautifully quilted by the girls, which is to be sent away for competition, was dedicated at the altar by the Rector. Mr. Secker complimented the girls on their faithful work and also thanked Miss Gertrude Chalmers and Mrs. Milling for their loyal assistance to the superintendent. Mrs. Secker, in helping in the work of the Junior Auxiliary.

Almost all the parents of the girls were present at the service. The congregation numbered over eighty.

enced during the process of kiln drying.

Following up the veneering and the glueing of the lumber was explained by Lion Ray Huffman. The sanding and assembling was explained by Lion Arnold Rogers, and samples of materials and products worked on were also displayed.

The finishing of the furniture was explained by Lion Percy Sharpe, who outlined the various methods used to give the desired effects and tones to modern and period pieces. A great deal of the work is being done by machinery, but the final finish is done by hand.

Lion Werke Poole then spoke to the Club on the proposed plans of the company for the future, as to new machinery and changes proposed for the plant. The speaker also enlightened his listeners as to the methods of merchandising and selling the finished products from coast to coast, by eight salesmen and gave a general idea of the responsibilities of each department head in the manufacture of fine furniture.

Lion President 'Bill' Barrett, on behalf of the Club, thanked the members for their enlightening and insurctive programme.

Use Meat Tokens in Preference to Coupons

Some butchers have the impression that they are not allowed to accept more than seven tokens from a consumer at any one time. This is not so. It is perfectly legal, for instance, for a consumer to buy a six-pound roast with a whole handful of tokens. The greater the number of tokens kept flowing from the consumer back to the retailer, the better. If this flow is blocked, it causes inconvenience to the retailer, who must make more frequent trips to his bank to replenish his supply of tokens.

There is nothing in the meat rationing regulations to prevent a retailer from accepting more than seven tokens. The retailer, however, must not give a consumer more than seven tokens in coupon 'change' at any one time.

Whenever you have enough tokens on hand to cover a meat purchase, use these in preference to coupons, and thereby keep the stream of tokens moving.

ROBBERS VISIT COLLEGIATE INST.

On Saturday evening, May 25, safe crackers paid a visit to the Napanee Collegiate and made away with about $34.07 in cash, a small radio, a record player and the Principal's brief case.

The safe in the Principal's office, which weighed several hundred pounds, was moved out from the wall by a pinch bar and was broken into at the back. The outside case of the safe in the Secretary's office was cracked, but the robbers were unable to get in the inner compartment.

Chief of Police Moore investigated and secured the services of a finger-print expert from Kingston. It is believed the robbery was the work of men outside of Napanee. The police were unable to discover many clues which would aid them in apprehending the guilty parties.

MILK PRODUCERS GET SUBSIDY UNTIL SEPTEMBER

In commenting on the recent milk subsidy report, Prices Board chairman Donald Gordon states that the milk subsidy of 5¢ per hundred lbs. now being paid by the Government to producers will continue to be paid until September 30th. This 55c per hundred pound subsidy previously was paid during the months of low production, October 1st to April 30, and represents an increase of 20c over the subsidy paid from May 1 to September 30.

Subsidies also to be continued for the time being are the 10c per pound paid on butter fat and the 20c per hundred pounds for milk used in the manufacture of cheddar cheese.

"The milk subsidy which has been authorized and paid through the Wartime Prices and Trade Board has cost approximately $30,000,000 a year and in 1945, with increased consumption, that cost reached $21,000,000" Mr. Gordon said.

Dealing with the 2c per quart consumer milk subsidy introduced in December, 1942 as an emergency measure and to be discontinued June 1, Mr. Gordon said: "It was decided to stop this payment because war demands no longer restrict civilian activities and we are now embarked upon a great expansion of peacetime production which will ultimately overcome inflationary pressures."

After June 1st, Provincial Milk Boards will be authorized to control prices.

Mr. Gordon went on to say that Canadian consumers have received excellent value for the money they spend on milk. In the United States, where conditions are the most comparable, the average price for milk in January of this year on the basis of a same size quart was 19.3c against an average of 12.5c in Canada.

In Loving Memory

HARTIN — In loving memory of our dear mother, Mrs. Christie Hartin, who passed away June 1st, 1945.
Deep in our heart lies a picture
Of a loved one, laid to rest;
In memory's frame we shall keep it,
For she was one of the best.
We may return for her in silence—
No eyes can see us weep,
But many a tear is shed for mother,
While others are asleep.
Lovingly remembered by

SEDORE — In loving memory of a dear husband and father, Benjamin J. Sedore, who passed away May 31, 1945.
Beside your grave we often stand
With hearts both crushed and sore;
But in the gloom the sad words come:
Not lost, but gone before.
God knows how much we miss you.
He counts the tears we shed
And whispers he only sleeps.
Your loved one is not dead.
So it'll be brave, dear husband
And pray to God, each day,
And when he calls us home to you
Your smile will guide the way.

WEDDING BELLS

WHITE - HODGSTON
St. Mary Magdalene Anglican Church was the scene of a very pretty Spring wedding, Saturday, May 18, at 2:30 p.m., when Margaret Elizabeth, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Hodgston, became the bride of Robert Sanford, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur White, of Mcrven.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, looked charming in a floor-length gown of white satin, with sweetheart neckline and long sleeves. She wore a shoulder-length veil of white tulle and flower headdress. She carried an arm bouquet of red roses and fern. Her only ornament was a string of pearls, the gift of the groom.

The bride's sister, Miss Shirley Hodgston, as maid of honour, looked lovely in a floor-length gown of pink taffeta, with Mexican neckline and full gathered skirt. The bridesmaid, Miss Margaret Garrison, Kingston, cousin of the bride, looked charming in a floor-length gown of turquoise taffeta, with cape sleeves and gathered skirt.

Mr. Robert Hodgston, brother of the bride, acted as groomsman, and Mr. Robert Garrison and Mr. Melvin Lowry, uncles of the bride, were the ushers. During the signing of the register, Mr. Mervyn Owen sang "Because". The bride and groom presented the wedding party with suitable gifts.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the Superior Tea Room. The bride's mother received the guests, attired in a grey crepe dress with white accessories and wore a corsage of red roses. The groom's mother assisted in the receiving wearing a dress of beige with brown accessories and wore a corsage of red roses.

For travelling the bride donned a lime green suit with flower hat and black accessories.

The happy couple left amid showers of confetti for Toronto, Niagara Falls and Rochester. On their return they will reside in Napanee.

Out-of-town guests included Miss Shirley White and Mr. Bill Scanlin, both of Toronto; Mrs. Coulson of Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. William May and family, of Rochester; Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Hodgston, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Garrison and Miss Dorothy Gilbert, all of Kingston, and Mr. and Mrs. Gallagher, of Dorland.

"Lest We Forget"

Shut-in's Day comes around again on the first Sunday of June— this year, June 2nd. Let us earmark that day for some very special visits—call on some friend, or friends, whom you have not visited for some time. If you can't visit them, flowers are always in order; and a cheery letter or card helps far more than you might think. In any case, let those shut-in friends know they are not forgotten, even if they do have to watch life from a hospital cot or a wheel-chair.

If your shut-in friends can go out a bit—with your kind help—then see if they can go for a drive; that is a rare treat for many. Or, if you can, take them to the morning church service — most of the churches are having something special for the sick folk on the first Sunday of June.

Make Shut-in's Day a very happy day for your friends, and it will be one of the happiest days in your experience, too. You will not wait till next June to repeat the experience, but you will help to fulfil the real purpose of Shut-in's Day — to make it happier for the sick and the disabled, both veteran and civilian, every day of the year.

Ready Money FOR THE GO-AHEAD FARMER

Well, what d'you know!

Every Canadian farmer sees prosperity ahead. He knows the world is short of food and food is money.

The question most farmers are asking today is "How can I get my share of that prosperity to come?"

That calls for equipment—modernization—possibly new gadgets to mechanize some of the last strongholds of hand labour around the farm.

The Bank of Montreal is ready to offer the necessary financial aid to go-ahead farmers who wish to improve or modernize their farm equipment, buildings and lands.

Visit your BofM manager today. Discuss your needs freely. He is ever ready to be helpful. Remember, when you ask for a loan at the Bank of Montreal you do not ask a favour.

QUESTION AND ANSWER COLUMN

Readers may direct their questions, giving their name and address and mentioning the name of this paper to the Information Branch, WPTB, 499 Sussex Street, Ottawa, Ontario.

Q. How many cans of evaporated milk should I get for one coupon and how much should I pay ?

A. You are entitled to purchase 96 ounces of evaporated milk with each coupon — that is six 16 ounce tins. This milk sells for 10c a can in some stores and 11c in others depending on what they charged for the same grade in 1941. Some times the larger stores will sell two cans for 58c as a special sale price.

Q. I am boarding in a home where I have one room and three meals each day. The landlady wants the room for her daughter and has given me notice to vacate. How much notice must she give ? ?

A. As you are a boarder and taking your meals in this home you are only entitled to one week's notice if you pay your rent weekly and one month's notice if you pay monthly.

Q. The other day I bought three phonograph records and was surprised to find that I was charged five cents more on each record than I have paid in the past. Was this dealer correct in boosting his prices ?

A. Yes. Price ceiling regulations on phonograph records were suspended by the Prices Board on May 11, although it is hoped that, too sharply on any items suspended from ceiling the Board will consider reimposition of ceiling prices.

Q. I lost two ration books some time ago and was unable to buy sugar with coupons I have saved. The books have now been located. Is there any way I can use these coupons ?

A. Sorry, the coupons which you still have in your books became invalid some time ago and are no longer of any use. It would be illegal for you to present them for the purchase of sugar and illegal for any shopkeeper to accept them.

Q. Last week I bought a pair of overalls for which I paid nearly double the price I paid last spring for the same make and when I asked the storekeeper about the price he said that last month it was allowed to increase his prices on all work clothing. Is this correct ?

A. Although price increases were authorized by the Prices Board last month these increases should not in any case exceed 25c on any one article. As yet we have mentioned the name of the shop charging this excessive price, we have notified our investigation branch and this merchant's prices are being investigated.

INCREASED PRICE FOR MILK LIKELY

Milk prices will be increased by two cents per quart on July 1st in reaction of last week's announced plan of shifting milk out from under wartime price control to pay that date. Neither the Department of Agriculture nor the Prices and Control Board have doubts on that score, on the conclusion that when pricing is returned to the Provincial Milk Control Boards that renegotiations will be made on the price-plus-two-cents-subsidy base.

The new policy, which will inject the heaviest dose of higher costs into the cost-of-living structure since controls were started in 1942 and since the process of decontrol was started in January of this year, was announced in Parliament by Agriculture Minister Gardiner.

The meat of his statement was contained in one brief paragraph, so far as consumers were concerned, and from the producer angle he advised dairymen, that the whole milk trade that the Federal Government would up its summer subsidy from the current 33 cents per hundred date to 55 cents, the figure that is normally considered the winter-old-subsidy.

Text of Statement

Mr. Gardiner said:

"In order to allow Provincial boards an adequate period within which to make necessary price adjustments, a subsidy of 55 cents per 100 pounds will be paid to producers of fluid milk from May 1st to Sept. 30, 1946, it being understood that this subsidy will be removed completely at the latter date, provided that the subsidy be limited to 35 cents in areas where the Agricultural Food Board considers this adequate."

Fluid milk subsidies last year amounted to $12,671,81 and were paid by the Department of Agriculture in lieu of a price increase to the consumer. To hold fluid milk at the base figure of 1941, whatever it was in the different areas, the Government through the Prices Board on 2 cents per quart subsidies, paid out from December 1st, 1941, to December 31st 1145, a total of $59,305,602.

Assurance is given there is no immediate intention of cutting off the present 10 cents per pound subsidy on butterfat, which last year amounted to $25,688,807.

The Gardiner statement, which pointed clear direction to a jump in food budgets and, in a commodity where price reaction is felt immediately said:

"It has been decided that the consumer subsidy on fluid milk will be removed on June 1st, and control over prices will be returned from that date to the Provincial Milk Boards."

W.C.T.U.

the Press said we found them at all times most generous, and that the Secretaries failed to recognize the importance of this medium. Mrs. Baker, of Belleville, on Scientific Temperance, said this branch could be just as exciting and interesting as any hobby, fair, or recreation.

Mrs. Farnsworth, of Belleville, reporting for Temperance in Sunday Schools, felt it had been one of the best seasons. Mrs. Symington, of Napanee, reporting on Peace and International Relations, urged one meeting a year anyway.

Mrs. Ward Warman reported for War Services. This department will not be needed any more. Literature and Distribution Department was reported by Miss Parks, of Napanee. One can't teach without literature. Miss Duff has lots of new material as well as good material. No good often unless presented correctly. Boys or girls would enjoy doing poster work and form L.T.L.'s as much as a ball game if we'd take a personal interest in trying. We talk peace and put a gun in a child's hand to play with. Boys would enjoy a boat, a plane. Let's train constructively, not destructively. Mrs. Rutan reported that the Salvation Army was on call in Prison and Jail, having made five calls, three of them on women. Traveller's Aid was given by Mrs. McGuire, of Belleville, who reported about a war bride from England having been aided all the way and now she is a member of the Union in Trenton. Dr. Cornelius, of Napanee, closed the morning session with a few words on "Do More, Tell More, and Visit More".

AFTERNOON SESSION

An impressive Memorial Service opened the afternoon session, Mrs. Reeves presiding. Mrs. S. Palmatier, Mrs. Lehigh, and Mrs. D. Welbanks, from South Marysburgh. Mrs. Laverne Wright sang "On the Touch of His Hand on Mine".

PLAN Y CAMP

Miss Elsie Parks, of Napanee, gave the L.T.L.s and Y reports. We need our Field Secretary but this work has to go on. Mrs. Leonard and Mrs. Phillips, of Wellington, reported for the "Y" Camp, which this year is to be held July 21st to 31st with Miss Beth McKay, our new Field Secretary, as Director in Miss Duff's place, and Mrs. George Teskey, of Glenora, as business manager. Camp Executive to meet at Camp on June 6th for special check-up. Collection was taken and $15.00 received to assist the Camp Fund.

Mrs. Reeves gave the Treasurer's report. $1,629.07 was raised, with expenses of $709.56, and bank balance and cash on hand of $919.51.

Mrs. Ruttan, of Picton, the Recording Secretary, reported a splendid increase in membership, with many younger women joining. The most successful features of the year's work were the "Y" Camp, at Consecon; National Study Course; Poster Contest; Scientific Temperance taught in day schools, and successful use of slides.

ELECT OFFICERS

The Nominating Committee brought in the slate of officers and, after voting on same, the following were elected: President, Mrs. Fleming, of Trenton; 1st Vice President, Mrs. A. H. Foster, of Cherry Valley; 2nd Vice President, Mrs. D. R. Cornelius, of Napanee; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. E. M. Ruttan, of Picton; Recording Secretary, Mrs. B. F. Denison, of Napanee; Treasurer, Miss Maud Reeves, of Belleville; "Y" Secretary, Mrs. Gordon Johnston, of Napanee, and L.T.L. Secretary, Miss Elsie Parks, of Napanee. Mrs. Effie Phillips' name was added as Camp Treasurer.

The different committees brought in their recommendations. The Resolutions Committee added two clauses to last year's—one commending the action of the Federal Government in restricting the amount of grain to be used in alcoholic beverages and the other deploring the new liquor law of our Province and the manner in which it was brought into force.

A reception of Little White Ribboners was conducted, Little Peggy Jones sang very sweetly, "Ten Little Brain Cells". The infant daughter of Mrs. George Hobson, Jr., Nancy Diana, was given a White Ribbon. Mrs. Fleming read "The Heart of the Child is God's Garden".

EVENING BANQUET

At the head banquet table were Mrs. Fleming, President; Judge and Mrs. W. Lane, Rev. Mr. McCutcheon, who acted as chairman through the courtesy of Mrs. Fleming; Mrs. McLean, the guest of the day, Rev. Mr. Martin, from Trenton; Mrs. W. C. Haggerty, representing the W.M.S., and Miss McBride, of the Salvation Army. Irene Walters, of Bloomfield, led a joyful sing-song. Mrs. Cleave acted as pianist. After the King, in Rev. Mr. Cusack's absence, Rev. Mr. Lane, of Wellington, offered prayer. Rev M. McCutcheon, in his chairman's address declared that, now the war is over, the problem that has been dealt with all day was the number One problem: His mind was staggered with the problem—how it has been able to take hold of a nation such as ours with its dreadful fruitage. It brings nothing but injury to the soul of man. In the United States $75,000,000 was spent on its advertising alone. That is $94.00 per head, man, woman, and child, a year.

Mrs. Fleming, in her address of welcome, said she would like to remind this gathering that all across the country there are people who want to bring the Kingdom of Heaven to earth. "Peace, Purity, and Prohibition—as high as heaven and as broad as human need", has been our aim and the W.C.T.U. has never lacked courage to go forward in any fight. Let us enter every open door, she challenged. Joe Fleming followed his address with two beautifully rendered piano solos.

Judge Lane ventured his own opinion on prohibition, that we have thought too much in the past 20 or 30 years in telling people what they should not do and too little in educating them in what they should be at. The goal of prohibition should be a boy and not having broken it.

Mrs. Haggerty, President of the Women's W.M.S., gave the W.C.T.U. brewers' explanation of the W.C.T.U. was WOMEN CONSTANTLY TROUBLING US, but she would add ALL CO-OPERATING PERSISTENTLY. She quoted, in conclusion, "There is not an evil that raises its ugly head in this living world that will not be overthrown, if the united force of all the people who loved Christ, or professed to love Christ, was directed against it".

Mrs. Nesbitt McKibbon, speaking for the Women's Association, said we know in the ultimate that good will overcome evil. World co-operation is needed in this world-wide menace to all humanity. Adjutant McBride, speaking for the Salvation Army, said try, try, try again. Mrs. Donald Baxter sang "The Twilight of Evening". Mrs. A. Palmatier replied to the responses ably, and introduced Mrs. MacLean, saying it was indeed an honor to have our Provincial Leader with us all day, and now awaited with great expectation her address.

MRS. MacLEAN'S ADDRESS

Mrs. MacLean reviewed the passing of the recent liquor law in Ontario. She referred to the lack of opposition expressed by private members, referring to it as a strange silence. They were apparently perfect "yes" men for the government. She said, "Such inaction on the part of elected representatives not only militates against the cause of temperance but constitutes an even greater menace to democratic government", she said.

"It has always been woman's responsibility to keep the moral standards of civilization on as high a plane as possible, but these moral standards of civilization can be no higher than its womanhood".

"The Attorney General estimated in April that Ontario will consume more than 50 million gallons of beer during 1946. Of these millions more than in 1945 and 19 millions more than in 1926. Canada spent approximately 435 millions for alcoholic beer in the fifth year of war. Britain 2½ billions, U.S.A. six billion dollars. To get a liquor revenue of $29,000,000, Ontario spent 125 millions, or $6.00 to get $1.00. Is this even good business, let alone the evil effects?"

Mrs. Haggerty then asked how money spent in liquor could be used to build homes, provide education, etc.

"The Canadian Medical Research association estimates that it takes 89 cents to care for the special injury from the dollar spent on drink, outside of character and wasted lives".

"Mayo Bros., famous surgeons, have said four out of ten moderate drinkers eventually become drunkards".

Prof. L. J. Rogers, adviser to the Ontario Attorney General's Department, had stated that there is nation wide revulsion against excessive drinking. He said as Ontario magistrate, checking over court cases, estimated that over a period of many months 80 per cent. arose directly or indirectly from excessive drinking. Some 45 per cent. of all motor accidents were due to drinking. Drunk drivers and drunk pedestrians will kill and be killed in shocking numbers during the years to come.

Faith in the cause was urged by Mrs. MacLean.

HUGE SAVINGS IF CANADIANS EAT LESS

Wherever two or three are gathered together these days the conversation is apt to turn to Canada's part in solving the world's pressing food problem. The hungry thousands in war-ravaged countries — but they are not always clear as to how they can best participate in the campaign to feed the hungry.

"Is it really true that if every family used three less slices of bread a day — just THREE slices — Canada would have almost 750,000 bushels of wheat to send overseas within the next three months?" asks Mr. Joe Doe. "Yes, Mr. Doe," affirms the Dominion Government Food Information Committee. "Furthermore, you can contribute toward that vital wheat supply in other ways. If you forego that sizzling piece of pie, for instance, or don't take that extra piece of cake...."

"But one piece of pie....a single slice of cake...?" Mr. Doe is incredulous. True, nevertheless. Housewives will prepare less of the edibles which call for the staple foodstuffs so essential to stave off famine in other parts of the world. restaurateurs will order fewer of these delicacies for their patrons. If Canadians forego them.

Less wheat and less flour used in Canadian homes and restaurants, means more wheat and more flour for shipment to countries where famine threatens. Every smallest saving of these essential products is of importance. Mr. and Mrs. John Doe have an important role to play in the campaign to conserve food in Canada, so that more food can be sent to hungry Europe and the Far East.

Court International Justice May Solve Peace Problems

Edmonton, (C.P.) — Mr. Justice Frank Ford, Chancellor of the University of Alberta, in a convocation address prepared for delivery, said a free and independent judiciary was the real bulwark of democracy and suggested that the International Court of Justice now being formed could become the most potent power for preservation of peace.

Addressing the final hour 500 graduate students, the jurist of Alberta's Appeal Court said, "if, as is doubtful, the principle of freedom and independence . . . can be applied to the permanent Court of International Justice, now in the process of formation, the court may become a more potent power for the preservation of peace than the Security Council of the United Nations or the Assembly itself."

OTTAWA CURBS USE OF COAL

Ottawa. — Sharp restrictions on use of bituminous coal in various types of Ontario and Quebec public buildings came into effect last week as a measure to conserve stockpiles which are running low as a result of the United States strike.

The restrictive order, announced by Hon. C. D. Howe, Reconstruction Minister, bans the use of soft coal for heating office buildings, stores, schools, theatres, public buildings or any place of business.

Top officials of the coal control, headed by E. J. Brunning, went into conference last week on the general coal situation and application of the new order.

One thing they had to consider was the prompt reaction of W. R. Cockburn, chairman of the Toronto Board of Education, who announced that the board would "defy" the order and continue to burn coal it had in school bins. There was no immediate indication of what attitude the Ottawa officials would take.

Mr. Howe, in explaining the necessity of the order, said that while production in some American mines had been resumed on a temporary basis, stocks of bituminous coal were "continuing to decrease at an alarming rate" and only a small proportion of normal requirements could be expected within the next four weeks. The order exempted private dwellings, hospitals, infirmaries, doctors' offices, apartment buildings, hotels and other places of residence.

About MILK PRICES

A Message To All Ontario Families

During the war years when it was vitally important to keep the cost of living index down, the Wartime Prices and Trade Board subsidized the price of milk in December, 1942. Through the consumer subsidy, milk was delivered by the dairies to you at two cents a quart less than you paid previous to that date. Everyone is grateful to the Prices Board for this arrangement, which over the past three and a half years, has proved so helpful in keeping available to you a plentiful supply of this most essential food.

The Wartime Prices and Trade Board has now decided, as part of its policy to relax many of the wartime controls, that it is advisable to discontinue payment of this consumer subsidy which is costing the taxpayers of Canada over $20,000,000 a year. You are now being called upon to pay the two cents instead of the Government paying it out of your taxes. This means that on June 1st your quart of milk will revert to the old price in effect before the subsidy was established.

It is noteworthy that in the face of rising prices all along the line, milk will cost no more after June 1st than it did three and one-half years ago. In contrast, according to a recent statement made by Donald Gordon, Chairman, Wartime Prices and Trade Board, the comparable price in the United States is now equal to seven cents per Canadian quart higher than the Canadian price.

Was YOUR long distance call delayed?

MOST Long Distance calls go through all right. But from time to time there is a delay.

That is because there are so many more telephones now and so many more people are using Long Distance.

We're hard at work adding new switchboards and lines and training many more operators to get Long Distance service back to pre-war speeds and even faster.

In the meantime, when you find circuits extra busy you can help relieve the load by observing the proper sequence, and by being patient if there is a delay.

WHEN YOU PLACE a Long Distance Call . . .

FIRST, give the operator the name of the distant city . . .

THEN, the telephone number of your party . . .

THEN, when the operator asks it, your own telephone number.

If you don't know the distant telephone number, please make a note of it for future use when you hear the operator repeat it.

Great Interest Shown in Reports Bay Conference

Greater Activities Urged by Leaders in all Departments

The Bay of Quinte Conference opened on Wednesday morning, May 29th, with its new President, Rev. James Beckel, and new Secretary, Rev. H. C. Wolfrain, officiating. President Edwin McNeill Poteat, of Colgate - Rochester Divinity School, who was introduced by R. F. Downey, Past President of the Lay Association, gave the first of his morning devotional addresses, which was in indictment of the capitalist who seeks profit above everything else; the business man whose God is efficiency, and the family man, so absorbed in domestic problems, that one and all they would be excused from the claims of Christ. He charged that United States Railways had made 1400 per cent. increase in profit since 1939 which was now being converted into new railway stock or more bonds, but into dividends on water-soaked capitalization. Let the little man fall into the pitfalls of money leadership, he said, and he is just as terrible as anyone else.

Rev. Alfred Poulter, of Madoc, was elected Assistant-Secretary — a new office.

CLOTHING DRIVE

The people of the war-torn nations are suffering from the lack of almost every elemental need, good medicine and clothing, particularly. The individual Canadian who is so bountifully supplied with these, even though he would like to do so, cannot send food and medicines. These must be provided for on a national scale, and Canada is doing all she can sending grain and medical supplies generously and regularly. While the individual cannot have a personal share in alleviating hunger and disease, he can do a great deal to provide clothing. In almost every home, there is clothing that is not immediately needed. This should be prepared for those who can use it, and made ready for the Committee which will receive goods, "Canadian Allied Relief" of which William M. Birks, of Montreal, is chairman, is busy setting up a nation-wide organization which will receive clothing and forward it through the proper channels, to Europe.

Hon. Dr. J. J. McCann, Minister of National Revenue and War Service, writing to the National Chairman, Mr. Birks, says: "For this second appeal it was decided that the campaign should be carried through in the early summer months, so that citizens could look over their winter clothing that they were discarding, together with any other garments that they can share, and have them sorted, baled, and shipped before the fall. I am sure Canadians, everywhere, will not fail to answer the challenge to their generosity and that everyone will do his or her part to make the National Clothing Drive from June 17th to June 29th, even more successful than was their first effort."

Here is an act of service in which all may share. It is hoped that preparations in line with the suggestion of Dr. McCann, will be made in Napanee and that the people will respond generously.

IN SANER MOOD

Now that the Railroad Strike in The United States is settled, men are returning to second sober thought. The extraordinary powers asked by the President to deal with such strikes, have been granted, but with great modifications. The President is given certain powers, but they are carefully defined and restricted.

In the bitterness over loss of the strike, Mr. A. F. Whitney, whom the President named as one of the two men responsible for the strike, is alleged to have stated that his Union would spend $47,000,000 to defeat Mr. Truman in the next election. Mr. Whitney denied making the statement attributed to him. But even if he did make it, he would now, on sober second thought, reconsider such a statement.

Some of our Canadian publicists have taken this statement as a true expression of union intention and have used it as a text to preach a sermon to the Unions.

Dr. H. L. Stewart, of Dadhousie University is one of them. Writing in the "Montreal Gazette" he says:

"After what manner $47,000,000 will be used to organize such anger against Mr. Truman as will prevent his reelection if he seeks it in 1948, remains to be seen. That money, rather than an informed an enlightened public opinion, is what decides the choice of a President appears sinister doctrine, and it is an urgent responsibility of the American people to show the limits of its truth to those leaders who are so confidently relying upon it.

"During the two years which lie ahead, it should be tirelessly kept before the American people that Mr. Truman's offence in the eyes of these Union leaders was his thwarting of their design to extort concessions of higher pay from the railway companies by the alternative of wrecking (in case of refusal) the fabric of national administration and enormously intensifying instead of relieving the distress of the world.

"Will the American people cower before such piracy? Or will this experience make Mr. Truman's re-election sure?"

As over against this, it was interesting to hear Professor Poteat, himself an American, tell The Bay of Quinte Conference, the workers' position. He declared it was difficult to get both sides from the American Press. Dr. Poteat said that the earnings of the American Railways, last year, were over 1,000 per cent. greater than in 1939, and that none of the increase had gone into rolling stock or wages. He was quite sure the railroad men had a good case, even though the way they tried to secure their ends were not the best. It was refreshing to hear an American student of public affairs, state this other side, and all who try to keep abreast of the rapidly changing scene ought to guard against taking as absolute truth that which we read in certain press dispatches, and keep an open mind until all the facts are known. There are probably two sides to all this strike unrest that is sweeping the world.

ENTERTAINING VISITORS

When it was first known that The Bay of Quinte Conference of The United Church of Canada had been invited to Napanee, this year, there was consternation in the hearts of many people. How could three hundrd delegates be adequately housed when homes were at a premium? How could they be fed when there was a scarcity of most commodities and when others were rationed? But as the days passed and plans matured, fears departed. And now that the visitors have departed, those who had the privilege of entertaining guests in their homes are happy in retrospect. One citizen who is probably representative of the experience of many, told the writer that he rather resented the idea at first, of having two strangers in the home. Now, however, he has made two friends, whose worth, and Christian character he has come to value and appreciate. He is now more than ever, interested in the work of the Church, because of the presence in his home for a few days, of two consecrated and intelligent laymen.

Of course, the Conference meant work for a lot of people, and particularly for a lot of women, on whom the burden of providing accommodation and meals, largely fell. We believe, however, they were amply repaid, both by the friendships made or renewed, and by the genuine words of appreciation which were heard on all sides, for their kindness and generosity.

WHITE COLLAR WORKERS

A growing apprehension is evident among thoughtful Canadians, at the exodus of the professional workers, to The United States. Newspapers have, here and there across this country, called attention to the loss which Canada sustains, year after year, as men of academic training, natural gifts and abilities in the professional field, leave for a land of wider opportunities. One of these papers is "The Halifax Chronicle" which dealt with the matter in a recent issue. "The Chronicle" had this to say:

"It is little wonder this is happening. As matters stand the people in this class are, as a group, woefully underpaid. There are very many highly-qualified Canadians, who have spent as much as seven or eight years and thousands of dollars on their education, whose monthly cheque, after tax deductions, does not amount to $200. In comparison to the rewards that can be obtained from other occupations in life there is not much encouragement for them to stay put.

Canadians often feel that conditions here and in the United States should be broadly equivalent. If we were to take only our universities and research institutions the contrast is much to our disadvantage. Universities carry on for the most part on insufficient allocations or endowments. They are unable to provide the facilities for advanced research. Our young graduates for the most part have to seek their advanced training in the United States or Britain, and too often they never come back.

"It is time we woke up to the facts. It would be a sorry day if we finally settled all the disputes between capital and labor, only to find that through neglect we had lost our professional and executive types to other countries."

There is, of course, a good deal of truth in what The Halifax Chronicle says. One point, however, which neither The Chronicle nor any other paper we have seen, takes into account, is the inability of our country, at the present time, to absorb so many of these brilliant professional men. If thirty thousand or more of these men leave Canada this year, as The Chronicle suggests, the question arises as to what Canada would do with them if they should decide to stay here. It is not all a matter of salaries, though they are pitifully small in many cases. May it not be that with our present population, and our limited enterprises, there is simply not the opportunity to call forth the best that these thirty or forty thousand can give.

HOLIDAY SCHOOL

Tasmania, one of the most progressive States in the realm of education, is experimenting with a new kind of school—a holiday school for children living in isolated areas.

Two hours of school work a day are all the children get in the way of formal education, and even those classes are made as informal as possible. The rest of the time is spent in the open air where the young ones learn how to do "conservation" and other gymnastics, how to swim, paint, row boats and carry on other outdoor activities. The school is housed at Bellerive, a Hobart suburb and in an old home set in spacious grounds and near a beach.

Sponsors of the school think that it will provide not only a break from the monotony of one-teacher schools which the children attend during the year, but will help teachers counteract the influences of detrimental environment wherever they exist.

"Spud" in common perlence nowadays means a potato, but there was a time two centuries ago when G-P-D-D stood for the Society for the Prevention of Unwholesome Diet. The Society was formed against the introduction of potatoes into Great Britain. Potatoes were then looked upon as something unfit for food.

Hello Homemakers!

Do you remember way back when bananas were considered indigestible, particularly for children? That idea has been refuted by nutritionists and dietatricians who to-day recommend mashed ripe bananas as one of the baby's first solid foods.

More bananas are on the market this winter than there have been for a number of years. And while there is no great abundance, even now, you can occasionally buy enough bananas for a treat dessert, salad, cake or pie.

Bananas are sold by the pound, one pound averaging 4 bananas of medium size. If the bananas are slightly green, allow them to ripen at room temperature, not in the refrigerator. Cold temperatures prevent proper ripening.

For best eating, infant feeding and as an ingredient in baking, the fruit should be yellow, flecked with brown. At this stage it is sweet and mellow and thoroughly digestible. A banana tipped with green is only partially ripe; the pulp is firm, starchy and slightly tart. Such bananas should not be eaten raw.

1 To keep bananas from turning dark for an hour after slicing, dip the slices in the juice of grapefruit, orange or lemon. Use a stainless steel knife to cut them.

2 To force bananas for salads, etc. run the prong of a fork lengthwise down a peeled banana, then slice crosswise.

3 To mash bananas (for cakes, muffins, cookies, etc.) slice into a bowl, then beat with a tablespoon of milk, using a rotary beater or electric mixer.

For baby's use, press fully ripe bananas through a sieve with a wooden spoon.

BANANA CAKE

Two and one-quarter cups sifted cake flour, two teaspoons baking powder, one-quarter teaspoon of soda, half-teaspoon salt, half-cup shortening, two-tablespoons milk, three-quarters cup fine granulated sugar, one teaspoon vanilla, two eggs, half-cup chopped nuts (optional), one cup mashed ripe banana (about three bananas.)

Sift together the flour, baking powder, soda and salt. Beat shortening until creamy. Add sugar gradually and continue beating until light and fluffy. Add vanilla, beating thoroughly. Add eggs one at a time, beating after each addition until mixture is fluffy. Add chopped nuts. Add flour mixture alternately with bananas and milk, starting and finishing with flour mixture. When blended pour at once into a greased and floured cake pan (8x8x2 inches) and bake in an electric oven (350 degs.) for fifty to fifty-five minutes. Cool on cake rack. Serve plain or frost top of cake with thin layer of icing.

BANANA SPICE CAKE

Use the above recipe with the addition of the following spices to the dry ingredients:

One-eighth teaspoon of cloves, one and one-quarter teaspoons of cinnamon, and one-half teaspoon of nutmeg.

BANANA CREAM PIE

One eight-inch baked pie shell, two cups of milk, two tablespoons cornstarch, one and one-half tablespoons bread flour, one-third teaspoon salt, half-cup sugar, two egg yolks, three-quarters tablespoon butter, one teaspoon almond or vanilla, extract, two fully ripe bananas.

Heat one and one-half cups of milk in double boiler. Mix cornstarch, flour salt and sugar. Combine with remaining milk. Add to heated milk and stir constantly until mixture is thickened. Continue cooking for fifteen minutes stirring occasionally. Beat egg yolks slightly and add part of hot mixture. Blend and return to double boiler. Gradually add remaining hot mixture. Cook for two minutes. Remove from heat and blend in butter. Cool (cover top with wax paper to prevent a skin from forming). Add vanilla. Fill baked shell with half of the cream filling. Slice bananas thinly and spread over filling. Add remaining filling.

NOTES: (1) A meringue may be made with the two egg whites and four tablespoons sugar. Spread over filling and brown in slow oven (300 deg.) (2) Chill pie thoroughly before serving.

Question and Answer Column

Readers may direct their questions, giving their name and address and mentioning the name of this paper, to the Information Branch, WPTB, 470 Sussex Street, Ottawa, Ontario.

Q. Is it legal for a landlady to demand a week's rent from a boarder who wishes to give up a room and board instead of allowing the boarder to give a week's notice of intention to move. The amount charged for room and board was paid each week and there was no agreement to give notice of removal?

A. This is a situation which does not come under WPTB jurisdiction. In this case it would be advisable to consult your lawyer as it comes under Provincial Law.

Q. Why can grocers refuse to sell certain goods when it is known they have them in stock?

A. This question has been asked many times. The Board does not require any dealer to sell any article and sometimes grocers keep goods in short supply for their regular customers.

Q. My husband was discharged from the services some time ago and when he applied for his ration book the other day, it only contained coupons from the date on which he applied for the book. Why shouldn't he get coupons from the date of his discharge?

A. Your husband could have called for his book immediately after his discharge and it would have contained all the coupons from that date on. Naturally, it is assumed that the coupons are not needed if a person does not apply for a ration book immediately and for that reason coupons which become valid before the date of application are removed before the book is issued.

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON, JUNE 9TH, 1946

Lesson Text: Mark 6: 7-13. Luke 10: 1, 2; 14: 25-27
"TRAINING FOR SERVICE"

This question of trained leadership crops up every once in a while in every church and Sunday school. How often is it said when there is a shortage of trained teachers: "It is better to have an older person with a long Christian experience to teach youth, than some youngster who knows only what is to be had from books." But that need not be the alternative. Trained teachers, who also have the Christian experience is the ideal. Sunday schools and churches should run great emphasis on training. Plenty of training courses are available, which teachers and prospective teachers should be encouraged to take.

Jesus trained His disciples. He sent them out, two by two. That method is still the best when men and women set out on a church project. In recent months there has been a great revival in what has been called visitation evangelism, among many church groups. The method followed has been that of Christ. A group of men and women meet and dedicate themselves to visit others and seek to bring them to Christ. They are trained. For several evenings they are given instruction on how to approach people, and how to interest them in the Christian Church. Then they go out, two and two. Many churches have reported phenomenal results to this method, and why not? It is Christ's method — trained people going out, two by two, and letting men and women know the Church needs them; that they need the Church.

In the instance before us in the first section of the lesson, Jesus sent the worker out with a minimum of this world's goods. They were to take neither food nor money, nor extra clothing. It was an exacting demand: one which according to the custom of the day, might be carried out, well enough. In a society organized as our society is organized, that enforced poverty is neither possible nor essential.

The second section of the lesson is simply an extension of the principle which Jesus had adopted. He now sends out, not only the twelve disciples, but seventy. They went out on their missionary tour, in pairs, as the others had done. Jesus recognized the need, recognized that even twelve could not meet that, no matter how well trained and enthusiastic, so seventy are sent forth. "The harvest is plenteous but the laborers are few." That was the way Jesus put it. If the opportunities for service were great in Jesus' day, they are still great. There are great areas of life where the application of the religion of Jesus is essential, if life is to be redeemed from destruction.

The writer renewed friendship, the day before these lines were written, with a man he knew forty years ago. This man is a Christian workman and a church worker. He has worked all his life, and does so still. The superintendent, speaking to the writer concerning him, said that so great is his influence that no man in the great factory will ever pass the corner of the shop where he is working with profane or unseemly words on his lips. He has influenced thousands of men, and all of them into a fuller Christian experience. He is trained, of course, trained in Sunday school and church work, and in his daily tasks lives out the results of his training and experience. That is the kind of thing needed. It is the thing that is not a monopoly of any one group or class. There are enough Christians in the world to-day, to redeem society, if each and every one became the ambassador for Christ in his or her own area.

The third section presents a bit of difficulty over the phrase: "hateth his own father, and mother, etc." The word "hateth" is a poor translation; it would have been nearer the original to translate it "love less." That is to say, Jesus was demanding of His followers, a devotion that was whole-hearted and concentrated.

MARLBANK

THE LATE NELSON McCUTCHEON

Marlbank June 1 — The death of one of Marlbank's highly respected residents occurred on Monday, May 20th, when Nelson McCutcheon passed away at the advanced age of 81 years.

The deceased had been a patient sufferer for the past two years, but his death came as a shock to his many friends, both young and old. He had served faithfully as secretary-treasurer for both the United Church and Public School, and also as magistrate and justice of the peace for a long period of years. His place will be hard to fill. He, with Mrs. McCutcheon, resided here for the past 51 years.

The respect and esteem in which he was held were shown by the abundance of beautiful pillows, wreaths, and sprays which covered the casket. The funeral was held on Wednesday afternoon at his late home. The service was conducted by his pastor, Rev. W. H. Baugh, after which the remains were conveyed to Roblin where burial took place under the auspices of the Masonic Order, of which the deceased was one of the oldest members.

The pall-bearers were members of the Order.

For the evening's Red Flower programme the main item was singing. The Order of The Bone for the night went to the Grey Six. While the Honour Six Pennant was won by the Green Six for the month of May's competition.

The meeting terminated with Cub Silence, Cub Prayer and Flag Down.

GIRL GUIDES NEWS

On Monday, June 10, a rally will be held in Kingston, honouring Lady Baden-Powell, World Chief Guide, who will visit that city as part of her tour of Canada. A contingent of Guides, Brownies, Scouts and Cubs from Napanee, numbering over a hundred, will attend, accompanied by their leaders.

The rally will be held at 2.00 p.m. on the lower campus of Queen's University and should prove an interesting and impressive spectacle. The Guides and Brownies will take up a double horseshoe formation, flanked by an open rectangle of Cubs and Scouts, all in full uniform. Following the "March off of the Colours" the Chief Guide will be tendered a civic welcome, after which she will inspect all divisions.

A series of programmes will be presented by the Guides, Brownies, Cubs and Scouts, respectively and a presentation made to Lady Baden-Powell from each district, of funds collected, to be used at her discretion, to aid Guide and Scout work in England and Europe.

During the afternoon Lady Baden-Powell will address the children and her words will hold great interest and inspiration for them. The singing, which plays an important part in the Rally, will be led by the Captain of the First Napanee Company of Guides, Miss Barbara Caldwell.

The Lady Baden-Powell. World Chief Guide and widow of the founder of the Boy Scout and Girl Guide Movements, arrived in Vancouver on May 7th, to commence a tour of the Dominion, which will take her from coast to coast. Lady Baden-Powell came to Canada from Boston where she attended a rally of 20,000 Girl Scouts, and previous to that toured other centres in the United States where she was the guest of hundreds of Girl Scouts. She will travel eastward from W. C. T. U. during May and June visiting most of the larger centres in the Dominion. She will be in Toronto during the last week in May for the annual meeting of the Canadian Council of the Girl Guides Association.

Last summer the Lady Baden-Powell visited France, Switzerland, Italy, Belgium and Holland and later Norway, Sweden and Denmark, where she was received by thousands of enthusiastic Girl Guides and Boy Scouts all of whom were eager to show her that they had not forgotten their membership during the occupation. In spite of being forced underground by the Nazis and brutally persecuted, membership figures increased and in many cases doubled before the liberation.

The World Chief Guide arrived in Cuba early in February where she attended a week's training conference sponsored by the Western Hemisphere sub-committee of the World Association of Girl Guides and Boy Scouts. From there she visited Jamaica, Barbados, British Guiana, Mexico and, then the United States. After her tour of Canada and before returning to her home at Hampton Court in London, England, the Lady Baden-Powell will visit the Girl Guides of Newfoundland.

SPORTS DAY HELD AT ODESSA

The Field and Track Meet, of the Bath, Odessa and Stella Continuation Schools, was held at the Agricultural Fair Grounds, Odessa, on May 29th. The weather was ideal and the competition keen. A fine spirit of enthusiasm was shown by all the contestants. There were sixteen pupils from Stella, 29 from Bath and 45 from Odessa. The teachers assisting, in the organization and judging were Mr. Harwood and Mr. Specter, from Stella; Mr. Young and Mr. Duverne from Bath, and Mrs. Stinson and Miss Mitchell from Odessa.

The chief events were: high jump, running broad jump, standing broad jump, hop-step jump, for junior and senior boys, and the same for the girls. Relay for the boys and relay for the girls; shot-put for the boys and ball-throw for the girls, also the quarter mile race for boys.

At the close of the sports a very happy social time was enjoyed round a picnic supper. It is hoped that next year the public will attend better.

Apart from the interesting sports being out-of-doors a whole afternoon in the May or June sunshine is beneficial from a health standpoint.

Following is the record of results:

Winner of the School Trophy, the T. A. Kidd Cup — Bath Continuation School.

Winner of the Boys' Trophy, the Geo. J. Tustin Cup — Fred Newman, Odessa School.

Winner of the Girls' Trophy, the James Hepburn Cup — Norma Hawley, Bath School.

Sherbrooke, Que., (C.P.) — We are headed for a third world war more devastating and more terrible than any the world has ever seen, Rev. Norman Rawson, of Smithville, one of the Canadian Government's special envoys to various theatres of war, said, in that city, last week.

He said he considered that the Canadian and United States Governments had made a great error when they demobilized their armies in the flux of world conditions today."

History of World War II — Miller
One of the most monumental works of our time, this great narrative story of the Second World War has been in preparation for four years. All captured in one hundred amazing chapters, the story of mankind's greatest struggle ending with the advent of the atomic era, makes a dramatic, tremendous panorama.

More Stories Of Famous Operas — Newman
The world's outstanding writer on music tells simply and lucidly the story of twenty-nine famous operas. In a way will enhance the understanding and enjoyment of the ordinary radio listener and operagoer.

What To See And Do In Scandinavia — Gibson
How to get the most out of a trip to Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Finland and the North Cape, with descriptions of the scenic beauty of the country and the leading cities with their cathedrals, palaces and museums.

A Saga Of The St. Lawrence — Calvin
Many men made timber along river and lake, and not a few rafted it down the St. Lawrence; many built and owned vessels; others were tug-owners and did towing and salvage; there were many exporters of timber from Quebec — but the Calvins of Garden Island are unique in that they were engaged in all these activities at the same time. This, is their story.

The House Near Paris — Tartiere
This is a rich, human story, told against the setting of total war. But it is no retelling of the underground story, no "now it can be told" tale of the war years. Buoyant, exciting immensely readable, it gives you a new insight into the way the anonymous and bewildered people of France lived during the occupation. More, it gives you the dramatic personal adventure of a brave and charming woman.

Caribou Road — Sullivan
Humour, suffering, daring, fortitude, the chilling finish of triumph, the acid draught of failure: all these are written into the history of the Caribou. The complete tale can hardly be told, but what did take place made its impress on the shaping of Canada.

Passage To Glory — Augur
Passage to Glory is more than a book of travel and adventure. Ledyard's rediscovery by Miss Augur is of great importance, for he is one of the most engaging and lovable characters in history, and the book is alive with the charm and brilliance that Jefferson, Lafayette and Paine loved.

The Story Of Burma — Jesse
For the past few years the eyes of the world have turned toward Burma. To most of us it still remains the land of myth and fable, in spite of the fact that our sons, our husbands and brothers have fought on its soil. A book on Burma is, therefore, timely.

This House Against This House — Brean
"This House Against This House" deals with World War II, its despising causes, its evil and the efforts to make a workable peace.

To Clean A Bottle

One of the best ways to clean a bottle, especially if it is sticky or oily, is to put in a handful of sawdust or bran, moving it about so that the inside is well coated. Then quarter fill with cold water, and holding the hand over the mouth, shake it well. Afterwards empty and rinse and the glass should be clean and shining.

If sawdust is not available, newspaper pulp or tea leaves will do very well, and another good cleaner which can afterwards be kept in a small bottle for future use, is a mixture of vinegar and lead shot.

Mrs. A. Bland Died in Toronto

Word was received in Napanee on Sunday morning, announcing the death at her home, 200 Willow Ave., Toronto, of Mrs. Adelaide Bland, who had reached a ripe old age. The deceased met with a fall a few weeks ago and was taken to St. Michael's Hospital, where she remained for some time. She was apparently improving and was brought to her home. On Saturday, she had a heart attack and passed away suddenly. For many years, Mrs. Bland resided in Napanee and moved to Toronto, where she had resided ever since. She was held in very high esteem by her friends here. She was predeceased by two sons, Arthur and Merle Bland, and two daughters, Miss Maud Bland and Mrs. Alfred Wazar.

Surviving are one son, Charles Bland, with whom she resided, and three daughters, Miss Adelaide Bland, Mrs. Pearl Neddo and Mrs. James Mitchell, all of Toronto. The son, Arthur Bland, paid the supreme sacrifice in the first World War. She also leaves an only niece, Mrs. B. M. Black, of Napanee.

CARE OF YOUR ELECTRICAL APPARATUS

Never pick up tacks, pins or other hard or sharp objects with your cleaner.

Empty the bag frequently—a clean dust container gives better suction; therefore better cleaning.

Keep brushes free from hair and threads.

If your cleaner is a brush type machine, adjust brushes to correct position.

If brush still does not work check the belt. If too loose, replace with a new one.

Lighten your housework by using the attachments.

Don't run cleaner across cord. Coil cord loosely on hooks when not in use.

Make Electric Cords Last Longer

Always connect the cord at the appliance before plugging in.

To disconnect, remove the cord at the outlet by pulling the plug—not the cord itself.

Wait until the appliance is cold before winding an attached cord around it.

Keep your separate cords coiled loosely in a drawer instead of jamming them on a nail.

Repair frayed or damaged cords immediately by cutting off the end and reattaching the plug correctly.

Protection of Cords

1 Heat and strong sunlight tend to destroy the insulation, so keep cords away from radiators and never wrap the cord around a hot appliance.

2 Rubbing, pinching in doors, walking on cords, dragging furniture over them — anything that frays the outer covering will sooner or later damage the insulation.

3 Dampness is hard on insulation. Keep cords out of water or places where they will be continually splashed. Don't touch them with wet hands.

4 Kinking, twisting, knotting and yanking breaks wires. Always keep cords loose or tacked with protective staples.

SUGGESTIONS FOR USE OF BAKING SODA

1 Use one teaspoon baking soda with two teaspoons cream of tartar to one pound of four cups flour.

2 Curdling of milk in baked dishes, such as scalloped beans, can be avoided by adding one-eighth of a teaspoon of soda.

3 Before storing fresh meat in a refrigerator, wipe it with a clean cloth that has been dampened in a solution of baking soda and water. This will remove dried clots and leave meat sweet and clean.

4 Rub meat that has come out of a brine or chilling room with baking soda.

5 Wash lunch pails, cookie jars and bread boxes with soapy water and rinse well with baking soda solution.

6 Every refrigerator should be thoroughly cleaned by washing out with baking soda solution.

7 A package of baking soda should be near the stove in case of a fire in broiling pan or frying pan which can be quickly smothered by the soda.

8 When food burns or sticks to pots and pans, fill with water to cover the surface to be cleaned, add a tablespoon of soda and boil the solution.

9 Baking soda is a good detergent but is not abrasive. It can be used to clean glass surfaces, windows, mirrors, bath and basins.

10 Being mildly alkaline, baking soda makes an excellent mouth wash and gargle. It also soothes the membranes of the mouth.

11 To remove odors of onions, fish, etc., from the hands make a paste of baking soda and rub over hands. Let dry for a few minutes, then rinse.

12 Baking soda is an inexpensive medicine aid — for indigestion, laxative, baby's bath, foot bath or restful bath, teeth, insect bites, baby's rash, baby's bottle or disguising castor oil.

THE BREAD BOX

To build a world free from want, like all other achievements, will require determination and sacrifice.

Down through the centuries an abundant supply of bread has always meant a well nourished an dsatisfied people.

The home economists of the Consumer Section, Dominion Department of Agriculture have a few practical suggestions to help in saving wheat flours.

In storing bread, if the outer crust, sometimes called the "heel", is replaced it prevents the cut surface from drying out. When the loaf is used, this crust should not be wasted. It will probably be very dry but if dried in the oven until crisp and ground or rolled finely, the crumbs are ready for toppings and scalloped dishes or for coating croquettes.

Home made bread, muffins or scones, may have part of the white flour replaced by rolled oats, bran or potatoes.

But what about the lunch box where the sandwich has always been the main stay? This knotty problem may be solved by serving a salad. Bran or whole grain muffins or rolls make excellent accompaniments. Salads are more interesting in the lunch box, yet curtail bread consumption. If the salad is of the chopped variety pack it into the lunch box in the tightly covered glass container. Mould jelly salads individually and carry, in the mould, in the lunch box.

The following recipes come from Canada's Kitchen and are appreciated as good savers of white bread:

POTATO DUMPLINGS

Two tablespoons fat, half-cup of small bread cubes, two cups hot riced potatoes, two and one-half cups sifted flour, one tablespoon finely chopped parsley, one teaspoon chopped celery, half-cup pastry flour sifted, half-teaspoon baking powder.

Melt fat in frying pan, add bread cubes and toast, stirring frequently. To the riced potatoes add the beaten eggs, salt, onion, parsley and toasted bread cubes. Sift together the flour and baking powder and add to potato mixture. Blend well. Drop by spoonfuls in boiling salted water, cover tightly and steam for 25 minutes. Serve immediately. Six servings.

SPECIAL BROWN BREAD

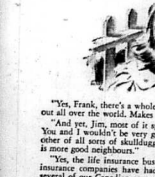
One yeast cake, one-quarter cup lukewarm water, two cups milk, one tablespoon fat, one teaspoon salt, four tablespoons molasses, one cup cornmeal, two cups cold cornmeal porridge, two cups of whole wheat flour, four and one-half cups white flour.

Dissolve yeast in lukewarm water. Heat milk to boiling, add fat, salt and molasses. Pour over cornmeal and let stand until lukewarm. Add cold porridge, whole wheat flour and dissolved yeast. Blend thoroughly. Let rise until light and double in bulk, add white flour and knead until smooth. Shape into loaves, place in greased pan and let rise until double in bulk about half an hour. Bake in a hot oven 400 degrees F. for one hour. Yields: two loaves.

BRAN MUFFINS

One and one-half cups all-purpose flour OR one and three-quarters cups less one tablespoon of pastry flour, three and one-half teaspoons baking powder, half-teaspoon salt, two tablespoons of sugar, one cup bran, one egg, one cup milk, two tablespoons molasses, two tablespoons of melted drippings.

Mix and sift flour, baking powder and salt, add sugar and bran. Beat egg, add milk, molasses and melted fat. Add to dry ingredients all at once and stir vigorously until mixed—do not smooth. Fill muffin tins two-thirds full and bake in a moderately hot oven 375 degrees F. for twenty to twenty-five minutes. Makes twelve muffins.



"What the world needs is more good neighbours."

"Yes, Frank, there's a whole tangle of troubles to be straightened out all over the world. Makes your head swim to think of it."

"And yet, Jim, most of it springs from one cause . . . suspicion. You and I wouldn't be very good neighbours if we suspected each other of all sorts of skullduggery. Actually, what the world needs is more good neighbours."

"Yes, the life insurance business is a good example. British life insurance companies have had offices in Canada since 1833 and several of our Canadian companies are well known throughout the United Kingdom."

"What about American companies?"

"We found it good business to be good neighbours with the American life insurance companies. We welcome them here. They carry almost one-third of all the life insurance in force in Canada. And our Canadian companies are well liked in the U.S.A. where they do a large and increasing business. As a matter of fact, they are well and favourably known throughout the world. Nearly half the business of the Canadian companies is outside Canada."

Life insurance is truly an international business—a neighbourly business. At home Canadians buy their life insurance as they choose from British or United States or Canadian companies. And our Canadian life insurance companies abroad! Who can assess the value to Canada of the confidence in the Dominion which they have built up over the years in their dealings with tens of thousands of foreign clients and of their services in establishing Canada's reputation for financial integrity and security throughout the world?

A message from the Life Insurance Companies in Canada and their agents.

GREAT NEED FOR CHILD CLOTHING FOR EUROPE

The problem of the children of France, as well as in other countries of Europe that were ravaged by war and left in a state of hopeless chaos, is one of the most urgent that it is to solve. Not only is there malnutrition everywhere, but the lack of clothing not only endangers their health but prevents them from attending school, or participating in any of the things that children in normal surroundings enjoy.

Letters being received from France give poignant force to the appeal which is being made by those organizations performing National Clothing Collection to the Canadian people to include as many children's garments as possible in their donations.

"The shortage of children's clothing is appalling," wrote one correspondent. "It need not matter about sizes. We are in the time of turn clothing so that it will be suitable for the children. Wool is almost non-existent. Shoes, underclothing, coats are needed most."

"Could you send flannelette or something to make night clothing and diapers for the baby?" pleads another. "We do not possess night clothing ourselves from which to make these things and the child is still wrapped in an old shawl at night."

"Could you get someone to help this family," writes one who is seeking to help those around her. "There are five children. The father was one of the hostages shot while the Germans were approaching Paris. He had worked for four years in the underground. The mother is ill with tuberculosis and the two oldest children are suspects. They literally are without clothing. The eldest boy is wearing a suit made out of an old army blanket which had worn thin; what was left of the father's clothing has been made over for the children but now they have reached the stage where the whole family is desperate for clothing and the mother is unable to buy anything with the pittance she can earn."

"The problem of the children is the worst," writes one correspondent. "The real fact is that there is not enough cloth in the country to be able to provide the simplest needs. Some people are, you might truthfully say, naked. They are unable to go out of their houses because they literally have nothing to wear — they have also become very undernourished. Children are kept in bed and many spent most of this winter in bed because their clothing could serve as clothing and heat.

"But perhaps the women are the most pathetic. They have made over and cut down and turned until practically everything suitable of every kind have disappeared; many women have not known what a nightgown or pyjamas were for — not months but years. Their own they made over for the children. The same is true of underclothing. Nothing must be kept for the sake of decency and in order to go to work. They stand in queues for food. Among the poor it is catastrophic."

"Shoes, shoes for children was mentioned in many letters received. Shoes are one of our worst problems," writes a mother. "We must have a coupon for children's shoes and practically anything

EVEN FOR MY BEST FRIEND

I wouldn't do it again!

Jim owned his house; he had a car, some insurance, a few stocks and bonds, a modest bank account and a small business. About the same possessions as my own. We wouldn't have called it an "estate".

I said "Sure!" when he asked me to be his executor. Nothing to it, I thought.

And then, bang from the start, succession duties had me baffled. Before I finished, I had to employ experts to untangle things.

Not for friend or family will I ever do it again! But from this experience I know, now, why it pays to obtain the services of a competently organized, fully experienced company.

For the security of my family I've appointed National Trust as my Executor.

TAMWORTH

WOMEN'S INSTITUTE MEETING

Tamworth, June 3. — The May meeting of the Women's Institute was held on Wednesday night at the home of Mrs. T. Scanlin. There were 15 members and four visitors present. Roll call was answered with "A Labor-Saving Device in the Home".

It was decided that we ask for the Short Course Health Education, to be held in October.

A discussion in regard to raising the fee to 50 cents followed, and was laid over until a later date, as it would not take effect until next year.

The Secretary was authorized to order two new song books and three cotton song sheets for use in the W. I.

The District Director, Mrs. T. Scanlin, gave a splendid report of the District Annual, held in Newburgh.

The Convener for Publicity, Mrs. F. O. Ware, then took charge, and presented the program. A very pleasing piano solo was rendered by Mary Scanlin, and community singing was enjoyed by all.

Mrs. Ware very ably dealt with the motto, after which little Miss Elizabeth Scanlin played "The Spinning Song".

Mrs. Ware conducted a contest; Mrs. Easterbrook winning the prize.

A Past District President, Mrs. James Milligan, was present, and was invited for a few words. Mrs. Milligan expressed appreciation of being back in the village where she could attend the W. I. meetings.

On motion of Mrs. J. W. Bradshaw and Mrs. Smith Gilmour, it was decided that we invite Reidville W. I. to join us at the June meeting.

The Executive decided to meet on Monday, June 3rd, to compile programs for the coming year.

The meeting closed with the National Anthem, after which a delicious lunch was served by the hostess and her committee.

Receipts for the evening were $6.15.

UNITED CHURCH SERVICE

At the United Church on Sunday morning Rev. H. L. Partridge, of Colborne, spoke in connection with the Temperance Association. Rev. W. H. Baugh conducted a dedication service of two Oak Pedestals, placed in the church by Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Richmond and family, in memory of their son, Flight Sgt. John Reginald Richmond, R.C.A.F., who gave his life for his country three years ago. Rev. Mr. Baugh made the whole service most appropriate and spoke with much feeling in regard to these who gave their lives for their country.

Rev. Mr. Partridge also spoke most appropriately in regard to the services rendered by the young men in the services.

The Pedestals were draped with a large flag. Rev. Mr. Baugh accepted and presented them to the church.

PERSONALS

Those who attended the District Women's Institute Annual at Newburgh from here were Mrs. Harry Easterbrook, Mrs. Thomas Scanlin, Mrs. W. G. Richmond, and Mrs. Jack Nicholson.

Rev. Captain M. R. Brown, who has recently returned home from overseas, was a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Richmond, and renewed acquaintances in the village on Friday forenoon, returning to Conference in Napanee for the afternoon session. Mr. Brown is a former pastor of this charge, and has many friends in the district who are pleased to learn that he will be taking up work on the Bay Circuit, and Mrs. Brown and daughter will be moving to the parsonage in South Napanee some time in July. Their son, Fred, will remain in Toronto where he is attending college.

Several changes in property have taken place in the village recently.

Mr. George Brown has sold his garage to Mr. A. R. Black.

The home on Addington Road, in the south part of the village, formerly owned by the late George Black, has been purchased by Geo. Brown.

Mr. Roy Gaffney is building a new garage on the property where his service station burned down last winter.

Mr. C. L. Wagar has purchased the building formerly owned by Geo. Murphy, and has remodelled it, and now has two garage men carrying on a rushing business.

There will be no lack of garage service in this village this summer, as Tamworth now boasts of having five up-to-date garages at your service.

Dr. G. G. Hunt, of Marlbank, has purchased the home formerly owned by W. S. Wagar, and we hope the doctor will soon take up residence here.

Mr. Sidney Prue has moved to what was formerly his brother's home on Station Street.

Mrs. Jack Nicholson left on Sunday night to visit at the home of her sister, Mrs. Bell, at Carthage, Illinois. Mrs. Nicholson's brother, Mr. I. E. Wallace, who is manager of the Picco Bank in Los Angeles, and Mrs. Wallace, are also visiting at his sister's home. This will be a most happy reunion, as Mrs. Nicholson has not seen her brother for 28 years.

Dear Sir -
I purchased nine pigs six weeks old a while back. They were the poorest looking pigs I have ever seen anywhere, and very small. I intended killing it, but decided to feed it a chance. After six weeks on "Miracle" Feeds these pigs now weigh 'Miracle' Feeds have that they did at six weeks old. The runt now is now nearly as big as the rest of the litter.

Conference

just concessions already made." Another section of the report called on ministers of The United Church to give increased instruction in Sunday schools and sermons, on the fundamental differences between Protestantism and Roman Catholicism, and to provide teaching material on the subject. Elmer Davis, Kingston, expressed sympathy with anything that will set itself to the better understanding of Protestantism as too few knew what they believed. W. N. Gilroy, Coe Hill, did not believe that Protestantism could be established by condemning Roman Catholics.

H. B. Fetterly, whose original motion, some years ago, initiated in Belleville Presbytery, the action which has resulted in the inter-church Brief, presented by Professor Cornish, with Dr. G. C. Pidgeon as chairman, outlined some of the sections of the Brief and cited alleged injustices done Protestant children who have to attend Roman Catholic Schools in Northern Ontario where there are separate or French schools even where there are no public schools. He repeated the charges about Ottawa University, French Normal School, which he said was paid for by our taxes to a Roman Catholic owned and operated University.

United Church members were called upon to conserve and save food; and the Governments asked to see that food or its products were not used for the manufacture of alcoholic beverages.

Evangelism and Social Service

Dr. Hugh Dobson, Vancouver, secretary of the Board of Evangelism and Social Service of The United Church, after quoting figures that showed British Columbia as showing the worst breakdown of family life, thought he said Ontario was rapidly catching up, said that better understanding of the solemnity and meaning of baptism, church membership and marriage vows, would help towards a solution. "We need a whole Gospel for the Family," said the doctor.

Dr. James Semple, Peterborough, and Inspector A. A. Martin, Brighton, were named to the Board of Evangelism and Social Service of The United Church. The former was on the Board for ten years until two years ago and was its chairman of the Evangelism section.

Bingos were in the limelight when a minister quoted Peterborough as holding one for the home town ball team. He asked advice because his own village was going to follow suit. The United Church has disclaimed any use of any gambling device by its churches, but it looked as if delegates were indulgently disposed towards home town ball teams. The National Hockey League was praised for its firm stand against players wagering on games.

"Evangelism is the primary work of the Church and every activity within the Church should further this purpose," said a report of that department; but it was admitted statistics did not bear this out because while in 1945 25,456 were received into the United Church on profession of faith, there were 81 charges which had not a single addition in a year. "The evangelistic programme needs to be intensified greatly" was the finding.

How to get men into the ministry has been an increasingly pressing question and not merely an academic one, because many charges are going to be without ministers, this year. Dr. George A. Brown, chairman of the Board of Governors of Queen's Theological College, Kingston, got impatient when a report of his committee on the subject went through without discussion. "Either do something about it or throw it out," was his dry comment. Only seven members out of 44 had turned up for the committee meeting.

On the motion of Dr. Bruce Gordon of Peterborough, two memorials were sent up to General Council, with approval. One asked that body to make a pronouncement on its educational policy with special reference to Church Secondary Schools and to appoint a full-time Secretary of the Board of Colleges and Secondary Schools. The other laid responsibility on the ministers to pick out and encourage suitable candidates for the ministry, and asked that provision be made to subsidize students of merit. It was admitted that financial considerations almost preclude the possibility of any but fairly well to do folk from that calling. Plans for local congregations or groups of such to adopt and help individuals, were offered.

Pension Fund

Rev. W. W. Burnett, M.C., Toronto, acting-secretary of the Pension Fund spoke of the progress of the Capital Account Campaign, after Rev. H. L. Morrison, Almonte, had presented a report providing for the retirement allowances of new and old participants on the fund.

Dr. W. P. Fletcher, formerly of Marmora and Oshawa, is retiring this year, and Arthur L. Phelps, Foreign Programme Director of the CBC who has severed his connection with Manitoba College, where he has been Professor of English for 25 years, will retain his status as a United Church minister in his new work. Both he and his father served as Methodist ministers in the Bay of Quinte Conference.

Dr. A. E. Armstrong said that while the World is drifting apart, the Churches were drawing closer. He is president of the Overseas Mission Council, as well as secretary of the Board for the United Church. His Board is appealing to General Council for permission to raise a rehabilitation fund next year, to restore buildings destroyed in war areas in the Orient.

Publications

The Publications Committee reported that The United Church Publishing House had put $150,000 into the Ministerial Pension Fund, this year, the largest amount ever. It nominated to the Board of Publications Mr. Elmer Davis, Kingston, and Rev. W. W. Patterson, Newcastle, and felicitated the editor of The United Church Observer, Dr. A. J. Wilson, who spent his whole ministry in Napanee, on having brought the circulation up from 12,000 to 54,000 in six years.

Dr. Wilson pointed out that the little Bay of Quinte Conference had given to the United Church, the chairman of the Board of Publications, Elmer Davis, of Kingston, the Church Press Representative, Rev. Andrew McLauchlin, of Belleville, and the Church editor, himself. We would have a different church, he told the Conference, if the inspiration of the Church and the work of its Boards were carried into the homes of the people, week by week, through the Church paper.

Elected to Office

At the closing session on Friday afternoon, The Bay of Quinte Conference elected its President, Rev. J. E. Beckel, and the President of the Lay Association, R. F. Downey, to the Executive of the General Council of The United Church of Canada, with Rev. H. B. Neal as alternate.

Rev. Allan J. Terrill, Colborne, was elected Archivist.

A committee was appointed to consider steps to be taken to get the Switzerville Church, in which the first Canadian Methodist Conference was held in 1826, marked as a historic site.

Revs. T.H.P. Anderson, of Oshawa; A. M. Irwin, Whitby, and A. J. Terrill, Colborne, were congratulated on the 50th anniversary of their ordination, and Dr. W. G. Fletcher, who is retiring this year from Oshawa, on his 51st anniversary.

Mrs. F. B. Mills and Miss Frances Mellow, office assistants, and Mrs. B. M. Black, organist, were thanked for their services.

The officers of the Lay Association elected were: R. F. Downey, Peterborough, president; Dr. C. W. Slemon of Bowmanville, vice-president, and Clifford Sine, Gananoque, secretary.

Laymen's Banquet

The annual Laymen's Banquet, held this year in two sections, at the Masonic Temple hall and in Trinity Church hall, was followed on Thursday night by a meeting held in Trinity Church, at which Mr. Downey presented the report of the Crusade for Christ and His Kingdom, and Rev. Bruce Millar, Toronto, executive secretary for the Crusade, said that the Crusade had helped the Church to recover its evangelical note, and had justified itself in the way it had engaged the laymen in its basic and primary task. Remarkable results were cited from across Canada of Visitation Evangelism in which laymen go out two by two to call on the adherents and unchurched with a challenge to link up with Christ and His Church.

Settlement Committee

Elected to the Settlement Committee of the Bay of Quinte Conference were: Belleville Presbytery, Rev. A. E. Foulds; Mudoc and Rev. A. G. McCallum, Belleville; Cobourg Presbytery, Rev. P. F. Gardiner, Canton, and Mr. H. Lander, of Colborne; Kingston Presbytery, Rev. L. S. Throop, Delta, and Mr. Clifford Sine, Gananoque; Lindsay Presbytery, Rev. F. R. Vanderburg, Oakwood, and Mr. M. H. Winter, Lindsay; Oshawa Presbytery, Rev. J. E. Griffith, Bowmanville, and Rev. H. C. Linstead, Courtice; Peterborough Presbytery, Dr. James Semple, and Mr. F. E. Kerr, Peterborough; Renfrew Presbytery, Rev. Harold B. Neal, Renfrew, and Rev. Eli C. Kellogg, Carleton Place. Rev. James Semple, D.D., was elected chairman of the Settlement Committee for the 13th year, and Rev. L. S. Throop, secretary.

Home Missions

Rev. George Telford, of Oshawa, was elected chairman and Rev. J. F. Lane, Wellington, secretary of the Standing Committee, and Mr. Telford and Mr. A. E. Prest of Peterborough were nominated to the Board of Home Missions of The United Church.

Bancroft, Arden, Mountain Grove and Chalk River have attained complete self support during the year.

Rev. J. I. Mackay commented on the extreme shortage of ministers and said that it was impossible to fill vacancies. Communities in outlying areas are being found that have had no service by an ordained minister, for twenty-five years. In Quebec there were thirty to forty communities of Protestants who have no opportunity of worship in a Protestant service. In the Bay of Quinte Conference, twenty laymen are giving full time service on pastoral charges. Following the success of the larger parish at Bancroft, a similar plan of consolidation of charges with an ordained minister and several lay helpers is being inaugurated in Kingston Presbytery. Low stipends, housing and inflation were subjects of resolutions at the closing ceremony.

Memorials Committee

Great concern was expressed over the lack of a policy on Secondary Schools in the United Church. Several Secondary Schools of the Church have passed into other hands under the present policy which permits the Boards to dispose of their property. Mt. Allison University has recently closed its girls school, to make more room at the University. Memorials were sent up to the General Council calling for the formulation of a policy and stressing the importance of residential schools.

Recruits For The Ministry

It was felt that more should be done to provide recruits for the ministry. Ministers were enjoined to seek out prospective candidates, and a policy of subsidizing students in view of the high cost and long course of study. A committee was appointed to look into the advisability of getting legislation to deprive ministers who have left the work of the ministry to engage in secular pursuits of their clerical status after a period of years.

Statistics

Rev. Andrew McLauchlin, Statistician, reported that The United Church of Canada had 560,552 families under its care and 1,771,966 persons and a membership of 740,776. The Bay of Quinte Conference has 70,212 members, 41,902 families and 140,459 persons under its care, $1,281,628 was raised for all purposes last year and the Church owns $8,564,067 worth of property.

The Only Remedy for Hunger is FOOD!

The most efficient way in which we can send increased bulk shipments of WHEAT, MEAT, CHEESE and EGGS to needy countries is through the Canadian government food Boards. These increased bulk shipments can only be made providing we reduce our own consumption. Here are five important ways by which we can make greater quantities of food available for export:

(1) BUY AND USE LESS BREAD, FLOUR AND OTHER WHEAT PRODUCTS, MEAT, CHEESE AND EGGS. SUBSTITUTE VEGETABLES, FRUIT AND FISH WHERE POSSIBLE.

(2) KEEP YOUR HOME STOCKS LOW — BUY ONLY ENOUGH FOR IMMEDIATE REQUIREMENTS.

(3) AVOID ALL WASTE.

(4) GROW A VICTORY GARDEN AGAIN THIS YEAR. PLANT MORE THIS TIME IF YOU CAN.

(5) DONATE ANY MEAT COUPONS YOU CAN SPARE. ENQUIRE AT YOUR LOCAL RATION BOARD.

Good Reports Heard By Add. Women At W.I. Annual

Mrs. Allore Re-elected President

The Annual Meeting of the South Addington District Women's Institute was held on Tuesday, May 28th, in the Community Hall at Newburgh. A large number of delegates and visitors registered and the morning session opened at 9:30 with the District President, Mrs. T. Allore of Camden East, presiding.

After the usual opening with the Institute Ritual and Creed, a roll call was appointed and the session got off to a good start. The minutes of the previous annual were read by the Secretary Treasurer, Miss May Hamilton, who also audited a report showed a balance on hand of $30.46.

The address of welcome was given by Mrs. B. Fisher, who said she regretted the fact that Newburgh W.I. was disbanding for lack of leadership. The speaker gave a short bit of history in regard to the Hall which was being enjoyed at the time, as Sir Allan Aylsworth presented the Hall to the Village of Newburgh. She welcomed the Women's Institute to the Hall and to the Village.

The reply to the address of welcome was given by Mrs. Allan Huffman of Moscow. She said: "we are here to help each other do our work more efficiently," and thanked the Newburgh ladies for their cordial welcome.

Among the correspondence read was a letter from Mr. Buchanan, Agricultural Representative in Kingston asking that a lady be appointed at this meeting to help in the work in the County, who must be a farmer's wife. Mrs. Earl Boyce was elected to the office.

Committee Reports.

Mrs. C. Hyland gave a report of the agricultural work, which was decided two years ago. She mentioned the Conference where thirty-one nations were represented, endeavoring to form an International Federation of Agriculture.

Membership was conducted by Mrs. A. McQuay.

Reports were given as follows — Home Economics, Mrs. Jackson — reports from all branches; Agriculture and Canadian Industries, Mrs. H. Easterbrook reported five branches having sent their reports; War Work, Report given by Mrs. E. Hamilton, Hereafter the War Work Committee will be linked up with the Social Welfare work; Historical Research, Mrs. A. Rozinson, who received reports from six branches; one branch reported having obtained the names of their school teachers for the past fifty years and having them entered in their history book. A paper also was rendered at this time, by Mrs. Gallinger, on "Early Settlers." This report was given by Miss M. Cameron, seven branches having been heard from. She mentioned the value of music and art in the home and the schools. Citizenship was reported by Mrs. Fred Reid. Publicity was reported by Mrs. C. King.

Mrs. C. Hoyle of the Women's Institute, Toronto, who comes from the Department, congratulated the district on the splendid report given. She also made special mention of the compiling of some of the reports and the enthusiastic leadership among members.

The President's address was the next item on the programme. This was read and Mrs Allore made appreciative remarks on the work done by the Cloyne branch.

Address Given By Provincial Representative

A very fine address was delivered by the Provincial Representative, Mrs. S. Heath, who brought greetings from the Provincial Board. She said, in part: The Provincial Board is the Parliament of the Women's Institute and it is a great privilege to be able to attend. It is like Red A. W. I. time is the important link. The organization is one to be proud of, she said, and urged that we keep our banners with colors flying high. Over $33,000 passed through the Provincial Board during the past year. This was used in various ways, such as: Save the Children Fund, New Hospital, Sick Children's Hospital, and several other war work organizations. The Women's Institute will recognize any educational project. "Home and Country" is your magazine and needs more use of it; use it to publicize your work. The Women's Institute pays more newspaper space than any other organization. If there had never been a Women's Institute, there would never have been a Department of Health. Particular attention should be given to the Junior W. I. We should encourage our War Brides to become members of the W. I. When the W. I. was founded it was based on home and community. Now it has become a nation-wide organization: next year we will celebrate the 50th anniversary,and we hope each organization will hold a National Federation Day in February. A silver tea collection should be taken and five cents per member be sent to the Federation. Now that the Red Cross and other war work orgaflations have relaxed, we should organize a W. I. wherever it can be done. We should exhibit our talent, whatever it may be. A good follower is just as important as a good officer. Not one of our European countries broke its affiliation with the Women's Institute during the years of war. Six years of war have taught us to work together for the good of our home and country. Our influence should always be for the best and we should be up and doing. Mrs. Heath ended with a suitable poem.

The Session adjourned and a basket lunch was enjoyed by all.

AFTERNOON SESSION

The afternoon session opened with an address by Miss C. Hayes, who brought greetings from the Department of Agriculture, Women's Institute Branch. Miss Hayes' address was based on Leadership. A great wave of relaxation existed when the war ended, the year ago. The first year of peace has not measured up to what we expected. There is more crime, more industrial inefficiency, more discontent, according to the great number of strikes. There is so much unrest, all of which makes us afraid of the future. We need leadership to carry us through these times. Development of leadership is one of the W. I. essentials. To discover, develop and utilize leadership is a very important work. We should take this to heart in our local branches. Leadership is essential to our every day life.

In the Australian countries they have one thing to do, that is to obey. We cannot all be leaders but we can be leaders in rotation. We have not any one leader too long. It may develop into dictatorship. Where we think of leaders we should think of how we can use our gifts to help the organization. You as an individual, have some talent, and you should use your talent to further a worthwhile work. In our home there isn't a doubt in our minds as to the worth of our opinion, but outside we sometimes develop an inferiority complex. These walking lines are with all of us, so we urge them: never lose an opportunity to get up and say something. You are training yourself.

Never be a member who always answers present; answer the roll call with whatever subject is asked for. Every occasion creates a necessity for free speech. It is a necessity to have a cut and dried speech, but get up and say it — extemporize and don't expect perfection in yourself. If you attempt anything you are sure to be criticized, but we must criticize and be benefited by it. If Winston Churchill had stopped because of criticism, where would we be today without his leadership. A great many women hold back from leader like because they are afraid. When we have the rank and file co-operate with the leaders we will have no difficulty in getting leaders. Perhaps there are a number of people who could do it better but they use the excuse you. Each one has a part to play. Perhaps we think we are too busy, but too often that is only a pretext. What worth while things we do now for the Institute will create a great deal in the future. Some members may stay away from the annual meeting because they do not want an office. This is not fair to the organization or to your organization.

As Canadian women we are not likely to be called upon to give up our lives for Democracy, but we can live to help Democracy by being willing to give leadership. The only hope of our Democracy of to-day is the willingness to help. Let us concentrate ourselves to them in doing better for our home and country."

Programme Discussed

The co-operative programme was then discussed. It was moved by Mrs. King and Mrs. Easterbrook, that we have Institute on the second day in the home is to be our district project, some time in the fall.

The assembly was informed that a new hand book is being compiled, and that each branch is to discuss the advisability of raising the fee from twenty-five to fifty cents per year.

Mrs. Earl Boyce, chairman of the Kingston area convention, asked for support for the Kingston Area Rally, this fall.

Offices Elected

Mrs. Heath then declared all offices vacant and proceeded with the election of officers for the coming year. Results were as follows — Hon. President, Mrs. Earl Boyce, of Harrowsmith; President, Mrs. A. Allore, Camden East; 1st Vice-Pres., Mrs. Harry Easterbrook, Erinsville; 2nd Vice-Pres., Mrs. Don. Hawley, Enterprise; 3rd Vice-Pres., Mrs. B. Hyland; Sec.-Treas., Mrs. W. G. Richmond. Delegate, Mrs. Wilkins; Representative, Mrs. Arthur Baker, Moscow, (Alternate) Mrs. W. Babcock; Directors, Mrs. Wilkins, Mrs. Allan Huffman; (Alternate) Mrs. J. Nicholson, Tamworth; Auditors, Mrs. F. W. Frolte and Miss Eva York, of Tamworth. Chairmen of Standing Committees: Home Economics, Mrs. Jackson; Agriculture and Canadian Industries, Mrs. H. Easterbrook; Historical Research, Mrs. Smith Gilmour; Citizenship, Mrs. O. Peswell; Social Welfare, Mrs. Allan Huffman; Publicity, Mrs. C. King. Members of the District Board, Mrs. T. Scanlin and Mrs. Harry Robinson.

Girls' Cocah Speaks

Miss Elsie Irvine, County Coach for girls' work, spoke on girls' work and pointed out different work that had been achieved at the Tamworth girls' club. She also mentioned that the girls were taking up the garden brigade work and she hoped that there would be more girls' classes organized.

Community singing led by Mrs. McQuay was much enjoyed at this time.

Mrs. H. Easterbrook then took charge of the Memorial Service and there had been three members pass away in the district during the past year.

Resolution Passed

One resolution was handed in by the Moscow Branch, as follows: — Whereas there appears to have developed an uncertainty among the Institutes as to the use of the word "Branch" as applied to local units of the Organization, and whereas the term branch is written into the original constitution and whereas the term branch as applied to local units of the organization, has the sanction of nearly fifty years of continuous usage, we do hereby resolved that the newly appointed committee for the revision of the Hand Book be respectfully urged to make use of the word "Branch" in the Hand Book, whenever reference to the unit of organization is made.

Mrs. A. Baker reported for the Courtesy Committee and closed the Newburgh people for entertaining the Convention, all District Officers, Mrs. Nicholson and Mrs. Richmond for the display of girls' work, Mrs. Easterbrook for the memorial service and all who did anything towards making the rally such a success.

Erinsville invited the rally for next year. The National Anthem closed the Convention.

N.C.V.I. STUDENTS GUESTS AT LIONS CLUB MEETING

On Monday evening of this week the Lions Club held its regular bi-weekly dinner meeting with a fair attendance in spite of the holiday.

Several items of business pertaining to the Jamboree were discussed and final arrangements were made. Among the guests present was Miss Ruth Hall of the Napanee Collegiate and Vocational Institute, who received the Oratorical Contest held here, and also was one of the winners at the finals held at Newmarket.

Miss Hall's topic, "Canada and Her Future," was very ably given and in a manner that would have been a credit to an accomplished speaker.

Miss Hall's ability as a soloist was also recognized by the applause of the audience at the conclusion of a beautifully rendered number.

Jack Blakely, also a student, sang a popular number, as well as joining Miss Hall in a duet, and was roundly applauded for his impromptu part in the programme.

Norman Henricks ably accompanied the soloists at the piano.

A comedy team, Bill Roblin and Jack Boyle, provided the "slap-stick" comedy part of the program. Their costumes and dialogues provoked a great deal of laughter.

Miss Eurenia Hagerman, who portrayed the part of "Private August Childs,' a veteran of the recent war, gave her version of the trials of an enlisted man on joining the service and during his training. This was greatly enjoyed by all as it gave the humorous side of soldiering.

Miss Marion English, also a student, dressed as a "straight-laced spinster,' gave a recitation entitled, "Courting Jemima." The tongue-twisting sentences caused much merriment and the dialogue was ably given and well applauded.

Lion Bob Smith introduced the members of the group and Lion Harold Webster thanked the visitors for the splendid programme.

The next meeting will be held on Monday, June 17th, at 6.30 p.m. and every member is asked to be present.

Red Cross Garden Party Cancelled

The regular monthly business meeting of the Red Cross Society was held in the rooms, on Thursday afternoon, June 6th. The president, Miss Evelyn Herrington was in the chair, and there was a fair attendance.

It was decided, after some discussion, that the Garden Party, which has been the annual event to be cancelled on account of the shortage of food, and the plea that less bread be used.

Mrs. Burns, convener of wood, requests all knitters who have finished garments in their possession, to please turn these in this month.

Ont. Beekeepers Hold Successful Meeting At Marlbank

The Spring Meeting of the Ontario Beekeepers Association in Hastings, Prince Edward and Lennox and Addington Counties, was held on June 4 at the home of Mr. Clare and Miss Bessie Allen, Marlbank. Besides being host for the day, Mr. Allen is president of the Ontario Beekeepers Association.

The large gathering of about seventy, was welcomed by Mr. Allen. Mr. T. H. Shields, manager of the Ontario Honey Producers' Association of Toronto, acted as chairman of the meeting.

The many causes of and remedies for swarming were outlined by Mr. H. B. Goodfellow, Dominion Apiarist Ottawa. Mr. William Agar, representing the Canadian Beekeepers Council, spoke briefly on the policies and work of the Council.

The Belle Island Queen Breeding Station according to P. W. Burke, Apiculture Department, O.A.C. at Guelph, is advancing rapidly and results-to-date show that improvements in breeding stock are quite possible if careful selections are made.

H. W. Bryant, of F. W. Jones & Son, Bedford, Que., outlined the supply situation.

In closing the meeting the chairman called on a few prominent beekeepers present for comments on local conditions.

"How did your wife like the diamond ring you gave her for her birthday?

"Delighted. She was awfully nice for a couple of days. But she's herself again now."

Everyone Urged To Remember Clothing Collection

Clothing Collection Campaign Starts Next Monday

How the 12,220,000 pounds of serviceable used clothing contributed by the Canadian people in the first National Clothing Collection, sponsored by the Canadian Allied Relief, was collected and how it was disposed of, may be of interest in view of the opening of the second campaign on June 17th.

In the first drive there were 1,969 local committees, and the clothing delivered to the warehouses was separated into sixteen classifications. Bales containing woollen goods were each sprayed with naphthalene flakes. Each bale contained 100 pounds of clothing, and this was protected by waterproof wrapping paper, the whole encased in burlap hessian and contained by four strips of 5/8 inch steel strapping. Large Maple Leaves were stencilled on the outside cover.

Uniforms that were sent in had their insignia and buttons removed and were dyed in accordance with National Defence regulations. Of the total shoes that were sent in, the vast majority of them were well tied together in pairs with string, the remainder being mostly odd pairs, could not be matched and forwarded. Shoes were packed in grass coffee bags. Furs were placed in wooden boxes and waterproof liners were provided and they were steel strapped.

The general standard and quality of clothing received was high, being clean and having been well packaged by contributors.

Twelve overseas shipments were made during the month of November last year of the bales of clothing that had been collected in twenty-five more followed in December, and the remainder in the early part of January. Shipping space became more available. They went to Belgium, China, Czechoslovakia, France, Luxemburg, Netherlands, Norway, Poland, Yugoslavia, Russia, Greece, Italy and other countries, an actual total of 12,288,617 pounds of good, serviceable used clothing, out of a total of 12,500,000 pounds that were collected.

This worked out, according to the report prepared by the Canadian Mutual Aid Board, at 1.13 pounds per capita for British Columbia, and the Yukon had the highest per capita figures of 1.51 pounds. But Ontario had the highest weight, at 4,135,000 pounds, 1.23 per capita. Quebec 3,181,919 pounds, or 1.27 pounds per capital of its population. In the Province of Quebec the total collected was 1,614,000 pounds, or .52 pounds per person. British Columbia and the Yukon's total was 1,242,671 pounds or 1.51 per capita, while Alberta contributed 1,016,357 pounds or 1.28 per capita and Manitoba 1,000,126 pounds, 1.23 per capita. Nova Scotia, with its 674,019 pounds had a per capita figure of .96, and Saskatchewan, with 1,048,868 pounds, averaged 1.07 per person. New Brunswick contributed 470,886, which was exactly one pound per capita, while Prince Edward Island with 85,853 pounds contributed .90 per person.

For the second drive during the month of June, Provincial Chairmen throughout the Dominion are setting their objectives as high as the achievement of 100% collection in some provinces there is a determination to complete the collection of the total, through more complete organization than was possible last Fall because of weather and other conditions which made collections difficult. But everywhere the same enthusiasm and desire to help the suffering people of Europe promptly, by giving now used clothing, which they will be so much of a blessing, and comfort to them before the winter again sets in. Complete lists of committees in every community. Cooperation by all the members of each family in donating what they can spare in the way of garments of all kinds, is all that is required to ensure the success of the second drive.

Guides and Scouts Attend Reception Lady Baden-Powell

Citizens of Napanee who attended the reception for Lady Baden-Powell, Chief Guide of the World, at Kingston, on Monday, had every reason to be proud of the Brownie Guides, Cubs and Scouts who attended the rally, from Napanee. About one hundred Napanee youngsters were selected in the parade and took their part very creditably in the programme. The girls' branch was represented by very capably led by Barbara Caldwell, Guider of the First Napanee Company.

The weather was perfect and the scene on the Lower Campus of Queen's University, where all the Guides, Brownies, Scouts and Cubs assembled in formation, with their colour parties, was most picturesque and impressive.

Lady Baden-Powell addressed the assembly briefly and was presented with a bouquet of roses by a group of children of Europe, stricken by the war.

Almost 25,000 additional men will be required on Ontario farms to harvest the bumper crop expected this year, Ontario Agricultural Minister T. L. Kennedy, said recently.

WOLF CUBS HOLD FATHER AND SON BANQUET

The second annual Wolf Cub Father and Sons banquet, was held in The Superior Tea Room on Friday evening and was attended by about one hundred. A most delicious chicken dinner was served by the Cub Mothers Auxiliary.

Ven. Archdeacon R. J. Dumbrille offered the table blessing and immediately following the dinner, in a few remarks, stated that Cubbing laid a good foundation for citizenship. Speaking to the Cubs, Mr. Dumbrille said that in future years they will be thankful for the many pleasant hours spent as Cubs.

W. R. Douglas, Vice-President of the Group Committee, spoke words of appreciation of the work done by the Cubmaster, P. O. Barnett. Three points which he brought out which Cubbing provides, were "foundation of character," "good friends," and "adventure and romance." In closing he said that it was up to the fathers to co-operate with the Cubmaster.

W. L. Bell, Principal of the Napanee Public Schools, in a short address, stated that the four years boy spend in the Cubs, constitute a sound training for them to become men fit to take care of themselves.

F. O. Barnett, Cubmaster, in his remarks, expressed his gratitude to the ladies for the most enjoyable dinner. He spoke of the activities of the Cub Pack, since its organization over a year ago. During the past ten months, there were 35 meetings with an attendance of over 75 per cent. at each meeting. He also referred to the various stages in the Cub activities and the various tasks for advancement.

At the conclusion of a very profitable evening the gathering dispersed with the the singing of the National Anthem.

By Council Reporter
JOHN BOYLE

The regular monthly meeting of the Napanee Youth Council was held on Thursday evening last. After the reading of the minutes and the treasurer's reports, the reports of the various committees were heard and adopted.

Councillor Plumley suggested starting a glee club and craftshop. Councillor Hall moved that a Glee Club be started. Carried.

Councillor Plumley reported he had held a meeting of his committee (boys sports) the previous week and had planned to start various sports in the near future. Among these sports were rugby, baseball, lacrosse, basketball, soccer, ping-pong, boxing, wrestling, track-meets, softball etc. Mr. Harold Webster said these sports plans may sound fantastic, but with the right enthusiasm, they will be carried out to the last degree."

Councillor Laidley reported that the Girls Sports Committee had been chosen and included Grace Richmond, Gale Roffey, Janie Caldwell. Miss Laidley also reported that four girls' softball teams had been organized and would play in the near future.

Councillor Martin gave the names of the members chosen for the publicity committee. They are Audrey Vine and Vivian Pringle. There was some discussion about the advertising of the dances. Councillor Plumley suggested the making of permanent bulletin boards to be placed on main street. These, he said, would serve not only for dances but for any other affairs the Youth Council sponsored. Councillor Plumley offered to make these himself, providing he was given a little help by someone else. It was moved by Councillors Roblin and Laidley that materials for these bulletin boards be bought at once. Carried.

Gerald Creighton reported that the Space Committee had received permission to use the Town Hall every other week, if necessary.

Councillor Laidley reported that the membership tickets had been printed and would be passed out in the near future. This gave the names of the committee in charge of the dances.

The meeting was then opened for general discussion.

It was moved by Councillors Hall and Dale, that the dances be of three hours duration in the future, namely from 9 to 12 p.m. Carried.

Some discussion on smaller matters was carried out, but no other business was brought forward.

After the meeting, Mr. Harold Webster spoke to the various committee chairmen on the programme for the coming year, and undertook to forward at the next meeting, for discussion.

All Councillors were present, except Frederick Curran and Neil McLean. The latter has a leave of absence for a few weeks.

STATE MEDICINE PLANS OPPOSED

Ottawa, (C.P.) — Nationalization of medicine is against "democratic principles" and ethe "entire North American people," Dr. Morris Fishbein of Chicago, editor of the American Medical Association Journal, told the annual meeting of the Canadian Pharmaceutical Association meeting in Ottawa last week.

National Health Acts now being proposed in Britain and the United States, reflect a world-wide trend towards nationalization and socialization which could lead only to complete domination by government of all phases of medicine, Dr. Fishbein said.

Dr. Fishbein said socialized medicine meant the death of private initiative. Doctors would not be free agents and young men would be discouraged from entering the profession.

Nationalization of Land Forecast in Britain

London, (Reuters) — Eventual nationalization of land was forecast in the House of Commons, last week, by Tom Fraser, joint Parliamentary Under-Secretary for Scotland, who moved second reading of a bill to improve hill farming.

"I see nothing in this development of agricultural policy to prejudice the eventual ownership of agricultural land by the state," Mr. Fraser said.

CHURCH UNION PROPOSAL TO NEED THREE-YEAR STUDY

Toronto, (C.P.) — Archbishop Derwyn T. Owen, Anglican Primate of All Canada, announced last week that in his charge to the 94th Synod of Toronto Diocese that conversations have been held between leaders of the Church of England in Canada, the United Church, the Presbyterian Church, and groups of the Baptist Church.

He stressed that these conversations, which may lead the way to unity of action between several Protestant denominations in Canada, were extremely tentative and that separate action in of the several churches was the present situation.

"At the last session of the General Synod a resolution was passed unanimously inviting representatives of other communions to meet our representatives to have conversations with us," he said.

"I think that in view of the newspaper report that our Diocesan was against discussion if I say that to this invitation we have had several courteous replies with one exception, the United Church. There have been numerous conversations conducted in a perfect and friendly spirit.

"Certain suggestions for study will be made to the General Synod. You will note that these suggestions are tentative and that we are not, as a whole church, committed in any way. Progress, if there is any, will be reported at the General Synod that is three years hence.

"I will say this for the present, to let you know that conversations have been held, and that a carefully prepared statement will be made to the next synod.

After certain resolutions proposing by passed by the General Synod, expressing a will to church unity, the Archbishop said that he was much distressed that nothing in the nature of concrete suggestions have yet come before the synod.

At last week's session it was announced that the next meeting of the General Synod will be held in Winnipeg, September 4th, and Archbishop Owen will be chosen as representative to attend the conversations already held with the United Church, would be discussed at that time.

"The Church of England in Canada must not stand aloof or act the part of a spectator in this grand unmasse of what is going on around her," the Archbishop said. "I have done what I could to see that in Canada she takes her full part in the difficult matter of working toward re-union and in the still more difficult matter of preparing the people for union and in attempting to solve humanity's greatest problem, that of living and working together."

Low-Cost Atlantic Flying Forecast

Toronto, (C.P.) — Lowest fares at speeds which will make it possible for passengers to cross the Atlantic "with the sun" in pressurized planes by by Sir Donald Banks, head of the United Kingdom delegation to the Provisional International Civil Aviation Organization meeting in Montreal.

Sir Donald said a speed of 1,000 miles an hour was within the realm of possibility and an "a reasonable time" the Toronto-London flight would be made in five hours.

Progress in aviation would not be restricted to speed. Already, gain in progress in flying just starting, the cost was only slightly more than one cents a mile per person and there was no indication that flying would be a means of transportation restricted to a privileged few.

V.C. Winner Urges Care of Forests

Returned soldiers would like to see Canada conquer her forest fires as completely as Europe has done, according to a statement of Lt.-Col. Paul Triquet, V.C., in a message to the Canadian Forestry Association.

"Many soldiers in his years overseas," said Colonel Triquet, "was impressed by the luxuriance of woodland, in many of the lands visited. Great expanses of forests in France and Germany looked as if they had been managed as carefully as fruit orchards. Except for accidents of war time, some of the forests had never been visited by any kind of fire for half a century or more. Workmen, industry and labor, all benefited by the fact was alert to save every living tree for a useful purpose."

"Naturally, the overseas veteran returns to Canada with a fresh knowledge of what careful forest management means. He wants the same thing applied to Canada, because he knows that this timberland is destined for a continuous forest. Industry and labor will get scarce if the timberlands get scarce."

HELPING IT ALONG

If anything were needed to help along further armed conflict, it is the continued reference to World War Three. The mind of the public cannot help but be conditioned by such references. It is unfortunate that these references are so numerous. We could well imagine that one or two, or even half a dozen men in prominent positions might feel the necessity of warning the public of a certain drift in affairs which, if not checked, would be bound to end in conflict. But when we find scores of people echoing those sentiments, the inevitable result will be that men and women will come to take for granted, future warfare.

The development of munitions has developed to such a stage that now, for the first time, man has it within his power to destroy civilization, completely. Research in the use of the atomic bomb, has been going on regularly and systematically since the war ceased. These and newer forms of mechanical and bacteriological war have been so improved since the cessation of hostilities, that even the scientists engaged in the research are terrified as to what would happen should they ever be used to capacity.

There is no doubt but that man can now destroy himself, and all that he has created, in the twinkling of an eye. If this is to be avoided, men and women must think in terms of world brotherhood and peace. We now have a world parliament, or at least the beginning of one. There will be struggles, differences of opinion expressed there, to be sure. We who live in Canada, know well enough how those differences crop up so often, as between the French and the English. Indeed, even within a provincial parliament, where all speak the one tongue, there is bitterness and rancor and open hostility as between one group and another. That does not prevent us from living together and working together!

In the United Nations Organization these differences are much more marked. Suspicions have to be allayed, and distrust overcome. But that can be done! — it must be done if we are to survive! It will be much better for all concerned if we recognize these difficulties and face them, and instead of magnifying every difference of opinion into a cause for war, recognize for what it is, a frank difference, and then go on to solve it.

There must be less talk of World War Three and more talk of the hope of the world in the U.N.O., if we are to get out of the muddle we are in, and proceed to the orderly reconstruction of our "One World."

GOLD AT HOME

A popular lecturer in The United States who passed away last year, had practically only one lecture. Yet he gave that lecture thousands upon thousands of times, in every State of the Union, and always to crowded houses. The lecture was based on the story of a man who heard of the diamonds to be found in South Africa; he sold his home and went in search of them. He landed in Africa, after the rush was over and all the diamond land preempted. Coming back to his home town, he learned that the man to whom he had sold his land, while digging in the garden, had discovered gold, which made him immensely wealthy.

We have been thinking a bit about this story as we have walked around our town, and driven over our county roads these last few days. If Napanee were to chose a flower which would best represent the whole community, it would be the Spirea. What a wealth of beauty and loveliness is reflected in the Spirea bushes around the town these days. There are hedges of spirea, and small clumps of them, here, there and everywhere. Almost every householder can boast at least, one bush. These, now in full blossom, are a joy to behold. The white blossoms making a delicate contrast with the slender green leaves of the shrubs on which they grow.

The trees are all at their best; now all in full leaf! The steady rains have kept down the dust which soon will rob them of somewhat of their greenness. The lawns are all in perfect trim; the tulips are in full bloom, and the gardens are ripe with promise of further joys as the season advances and changes.

In the surrounding country the cattle are knee deep in the lush, luxuriant meadows; the Fall wheat is well up and the Spring sowing, with a more delicate shade of green, holds promise of food for man and beast in abundance.

We may go a long way hunting for "acres of diamonds" and miss them right in our own backyard.

DELAY COSTLY

It is to be hoped that by the time this reaches our readers, the Seamen's strike will have been settled. In a reasonable business such as the Great Lakes shipping, every day's delay is costly to all concerned. It is costly to the owners, who have large invested interests in the carriers. There must be sufficient return on the six or seven months' operation of these boats to cover the whole year. In the Winter months, a great deal of the cost continues, though no money is earned by the company. Insurance, depreciation, repairs and much of the other overhead goes on, whether the ships sail or not. Every day's delay in Summer, is a loss to owners and management.

Every day's delay is costly to the seamen, as well. They, too, have only a few months in which to earn enough to keep themselves and their families for a whole year. Food, clothing, fuel and education must necessarily be provided for the twelve months, even though the seamen work only six months. A sailor's wage is none too large as best It is all he can do to earn enough to carry them over the winter.

Then, of course, the general public suffers. There have been strikes in both the soft coal and the anthracite mines. The result of these stoppages has been a shortage of coal, which, in this country has to be stocked up in a few summer months against the winter conditions. Now that coal is available, transportation on the Lakes is essential, if a calamity is to be averted. Mayor Saunders of Toronto has pointed out that even if the deliveries are made regularly from now on, there be a serious shortage of fuel next winter. Continued delay in moving coal is costly.

There are other commodities besides coal that will be affected by the strike. Grain must be moved down the lakes to seaboard ports, in summer. A strike of the freighters will prevent wheat shipments to Britain and the starving people of Europe. Every day is costly in human lives.

On the merits of the strike itself, it is no doubt true that the seamen have a grievance. They work twelve hours a day, seven days a week. They work this in shifts of four hours on and four hours off. They demand four hours on and eight hours off. Even at that, they would be on duty fifty-six hours a week.

On the other hand, when a ship is sailing, the duties of the seamen are not onerous. Indeed, there are many hours when there is nothing for them to do. Nevertheless, human nature being as it is, the fact that they are on duty, is tantamount to labor.

There is no sympathy at all with the rough house methods that have been resorted to in trying to make the strike effective. Both strikers and management must be held responsible for the near riots that have marked the stoppage of work on the ships. That sort of procedure is reprehensible and should never have happened. However, with the whole Labor-Capital situation in a state of transition and change, it is not to be expected, that the seamen would remain unaffected by these changes. Whatever modifications in existing labor conditions are necessary to get the boats sailing, should be made, and made at once.

NOT QUITE TRUE

It is a common saying in certain areas of society that "these are bad days for kings." Recent history seems to give some support to this view. The statement is too sweeping, however. It would be nearer the truth to say that these are bad days for certain types of monarchs. His Majesty King Umberto of Italy was rejected at the polls in a national plebiscite, and forced to abdicate. He really had little chance to show what he could do, as he was King for less than a month. The vote, no doubt, was a vote against the former King, who collaborated with Mussolini in establishing a Fascist Regime in Italy — and in suppressing the will of the people. When the war ended, and Mussolini came to an inglorious end, Victor Emmanuel was in a sorry plight. He had backed the wrong man, and lost. Seeing the inevitable, and hoping that by his abdication he might yet save the monarchy for his family, he left, bag and baggage, for Egypt, and Umberto, his son, succeeded him on the throne. Umberto made a direct appeal to the people, to retain him, promising a referendum later in his career to test public opinion as to his record. But the Italians were taking no chances. They had enough of the House of Savoy, and voted him out.

On the other hand, it is perhaps not too much to say that His Majesty King George VI of Great Britain was never more deeply loved than at the present time. The British Monarchy has had its ups and downs. But it has changed to suit changed conditions. The arbitrariness of other monarchs is quite foreign to the British monarchs. The way in which the Royal Family shared with the British People their privations and sorrows during the war, endeared them to all. The presence of the King amid the ruins of blasted cities, encouraging the people and showing deep interest in all that took place; the presence among the forces, cheering them; the journeys to and fro amid danger, went a long way to keep up British morale and to sustain both civilians and forces, in their hour of trial and strain. The Victory Parade in London, on Saturday, and the celebration of the King's Birthday on Monday, were further evidences, if evidence were needed, of the love and affection with which the Royal Family in Great Britain is held throughout the Commonwealth.

"These are bad days for kings" — not all kings — only certain types of kings!

Hello Homemakers!

If an engine does not spark you cannot coax it to go. Engines have to be fueled and repaired. If the human engine does not function, we cannot carry on. People have to eat. Yet there are millions of people in the world today who are without necessary fuel for their bodies. There are people throughout the world who resemble dilapidated machines—they look so gaunt, so sober, even weird. There are children whose expressions are pitiful, they do not smile or chuckle. It's a horrible thought to realize that 20 million children in Europe are developing anaemia, tuberculosis and other diseases.

True, more food is likely to become available at harvest time, but that's a long, long time to go hungry.

Meanwhile, the emergency must be met. Action is required — voluntary action in our own homes and shops. The individual response will pile up an impressive result. Foodstuffs will become automatically available if Canadians will share their daily food requirements necessary for existence. Bulk shipments will go forward with efficiency and speed — compared to individual bundles and shop parcels.

To the question, "What can you and I do to help?", the answer is: share and play fair.

1. Eat less of certain foods such as wheat, meat, edible fats and oils, eggs and cheese. We have an adequate supply of perishables to substitute for these foods wanted so badly in Europe today.
2. Prevent waste. Plan shopping carefully so that there will be no mouldy crusts or bone-hard cheese. Provide proper storage facilities.
3. Plant a vegetable garden. We should all be proud to see what Canadian soil can produce.

SAVINGS

Small savings add up. For instance, one slice of bread saved each day by each Canadian household would total 117,000 loaves of bread.

1. Serve milk and fruit desserts in place of those made of flour.
2. Make single crust pies. Use fewer cakes.
3. Put vegetable toppings on meat pies. Forget about dumplings and yorkshire puddings. Saute foods instead of dredging them with flour.
4. Freshen stale rolls and muffins by heating in top of double boiler or in a moistened paper bag in oven. Use what you have on hand before buying more.
5. Keep bread wrapped and in a ventilated box or covered crock. The refrigerator keeps bread fresh longer.
6. Use tested recipes, accurate measurements and careful cooking to avoid wasting precious ingredients. Dont cook for six when there are only four to feed. If you have left-overs make them interesting and be sure they are used up.
7. Send unused meat ration coupons to Ration Liaison Officers. Use moderate cooking temperature to prevent shrinkage of meat. Cover cooked meats to keep juices from drying out. A sharp carving knife means more servings.
8. Keep cheese wrapped tightly in a cloth moistened with vinegar and then rolled up in wax paper. Cover table pieces or wedges with wax paper pressed with a warm pan. Cheese crumbs keep fresh in an airtight jar; transfer to smaller jar when quantity is reduced.
9. Keep eggs fresh by storing in cool dark place away from aromatic products. Store egg yolks (in a glass of water and pouch them for sandwich filling.

LET'S KEEP THINGS IN ORDER

from the beginning of a wash and sort the clothes. The main idea being to deal with the cleanest things first, slightly soiled articles next, after that aprons, dresses, play suits, then men's work clothes. Unreliable dyed materials should be done separately — soak for 3 to 5 minutes in strong salty water, then wash in a high suds (two basins, if dirty) and rinse quickly. Dry thoroughly. Place the garment in an old towel, press out excess moisture. Hang in a breeze to dry quickly or pad with a towel to dry indoors.

Stains also complicate laundering. Many are no trouble to remove when fresh, but become permanent if the article is left until laundry day or put immediately into hot soap water. Make a practice of removing stains as soon as possible.

Be sure to shake dusty garments out doors to get rid of loose dirt. Empty and whisk out pockets and cuffs.

Hard water is another complication because it is harsh, hard to use, hard on everything and must be specially treated before it can begin to clean clothes. Treat the water with washing soda, borax or ammonia. Dissolve the softener first; make up a strong solution and keep it in a well-corked bottle out of reach of children — use one-third bottle of crystals and fill up with water. Then measure from the bottle exactly—too much will harm fabrics, too little will fail to do a good job. Moderately soft water requires three or four tablespoons. Hard water needs five to seven tablespoons in ten gallons of water.

Now, add the soap and swish the water to create about a 3-inch suds. From time to time during the washing you will need to add more soap because suds lie down. Unless a good lather is maintained, there is danger of scummy curds forming on clothes. Fresh water is important for a good cleaning of soiled goods.

Soften rinse water to prevent particles of soap remaining in goods which will turn yellow when ironed. Use the same proportion of chemicals as for the machine. Much depends too, on the wringer. When properly done the rollers press out most of the soapy wash-water, but if the clothes are carelessly fed in or pressure of wringer is loose, the rinse water soon becomes soapy. All these points have a direct influence upon the whiteness of the wash.

TAKE A TIP

1. Fruit stains on white or fast-colour material usually disappear completely if the material is stretched over a bowl and boiling water poured from a height of two or three feet.
2. Small oil spots as a rule respond to cornstarch or talcum powder patted on immediately. The powder absorbs the oil before it seeps into the threads. If this is not successful, carbon tetrachloride will do the trick. (It is safe to use and quite effective).
3. Try rubbing ordinary lard thoroughly into the spots made by black grease or tar. This softens the grease, then it may be removed with carbon tetrachloride or a good cleaning solvent. If the cloth is washable the remaining part of the stain may be bleached out with javelle water; if garment can't be laundered use two or three applications of solvent.
4. Strong ammonia water is a good solution in which to soak a rust-stained garment.

THE QUESTION BOX

Miss T. M. asks: What are the ingredients of the simulated cream we were given in the laundry class of household science course?

Answer: Make a solution of 1 large bar or 9 oz. of mild soap in three quarts water. When partially cool, add two tablespoons borax and half-cup alcohol. Soak garments in solution for a few minutes before being laundered in sudsy water.

Mrs. R. M. asks: Can I clean feathered flowers?

Answer: Shake up and down in cleaning solvent and put in the air to dry.

Mr. T. J. asks: Can I clean a trench coat without destroying the waterproofing quality?

Answer: Yes, brush with soapy water. Dip brush in suds and scrub coat. Clear water cloth over to rinse. Allow it to drip dry. (The bathtub is an ideal place to do the job.

They will be able to bring their automobiles. Rationing will be eased and more merchandise will be in the stores.

They were discussing a mutual friend; "Brown is a good fellow, really," said one, "but he treats his poor wife miserably." "What do you mean?" the other asked, "Does he beat her?" "No, no! He just refuses to argue with her."

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON, JUNE 16TH, 1942

Lesson Text: Luke 9: 23, 24, 46-48, 57-62; 11: 1-4; 17: 20, 21.
"LEARNING ABOUT THE KINGDOM"

Probably more has been written about Jesus' view of The Kingdom of God than of any other aspect of His teaching. All through the centuries Christian people have differed as to what Jesus meant by The Kingdom of God. Quite likely they will continue to differ, for Jesus gave no definition. All He did was to illustrate the idea: "The Kingdom of God is like . . ." In this weeks lesson Jesus gives some of the marks of those who would make up the Kingdom.

In the first place, the citizen of the Kingdom must give allegiance to one master only. There must be no divided loyalties. Because a man cannot serve two masters, he must give allegiance to only one. His own personal desires must always take second place. "To take up the cross" is open to different interpretations. Some have translated the word cross to mean a "test period." So what Jesus was saying was that His followers should not settle down, but keep on moving, from one ideal to another. Whatever the precise meaning, the general idea is clear. Jesus demands allegiance, no matter at what cost or inconvenience.

Not once, but many times, Jesus likened His followers to children. His followers must trust as children trust, must be pure and lovely as they are; pure and loving. They must be as free from class consciousness and race consciousness, as children.

Then Jesus meets up with some men who would like to become members of His Kingdom. The first is very anxious to join. When Jesus told him that there was no material reward, the man remained speechless. He no doubt was hoping that there would be something in it, for him.

When Jesus approached the next man, he agreed but suggested he had something to do first. He was one of the "yes, but" men. Jesus was not harsh or inconsiderate, but His time was short. He demanded priority of service.

The same factor emerged in connection with the next man. He, too was busy—or at least he wanted to go and say farewell to the family—not an unreasonable request, surely. Jesus merely takes this to illustrate His demand for priority of service.

The next section contains what is known as "The Lord's Prayer." The petition in that prayer which has bearing on the lesson is that in which Jesus explains His disciples to pray: "Thy Kingdom Come." To be sure, the Hebrew people had prayed for the coming of the kingdom, long before Jesus taught them this prayer. Their idea of the kingdom, however, was a restored national state. Jesus was not interested in a restored national state. He was interested in a way of life — in a condition of society where all people would be possessed of the childlike qualities considered above. When people earnestly pray for those qualities, they will receive them. In a day like ours of turmoil, disillusionment and despair, there is hope, the thought that God's plan for mankind can be attained when all are motivated and dominated by His spirit. The Kingdom of God knows no ecclesiastical, racial or national boundaries. God's Kingdom includes the Russians, the Persians, the Japanese, the Germans and all the rest. The Kingdom is all inclusive: one world. For that Christian people must work and pray and struggle.

Another heavy rain, accompanied by a good deal of electricity, occurred this morning, and it is still cloudy, with occasional rumblings, at noon. We understand that some farmers have alfalfa cut but consider it too damp and cool to cure hay yet. Weather conditions are also hampering corn planting.

The United Church preaching service had to be cancelled last Sunday morning, owing to the illness of Rev. H. G. Steen.

TAMWORTH

Tamworth, June 10. — Mr. R. C. Mass is just finishing the largest lumber cut he has ever had at his mill here in the village. Although he has been running his mill for the past 35 years, and has had some fine cuts during that time, Mr. Mass states this year has surpassed any heretofore. Starting to saw lumber in March, and employing six men, the jobs have been constantly going each day, with Mr. Wilfred Carney at the helm as sawyer. When they thought on several occasions, they were about to finish, a new lot would arrive, thus keeping the saw humming for three months. Due to the serious shortage of building materials, each farmer who could get out logs, did so to assist in his own work and to create some extra revenue for himself.

By far the worst electric storm of the season, or for several seasons, passed over this part of the country early Saturday morning. About 5:30 a.m. the storm broke and continued for some time, with lightning flashes constantly lighting the skies. Due to the fact that it was just break-of-day the whole horizon took on a beautiful pink hue. Although it was serious, it was a beautiful picture. No damage was done in this section of the country.

FIRST NAPANEE WOLF CUB PACK

In preparation for the visit to Kingston, the Pack engaged in perfecting their Grand Howl.

Several rousing games were played by the Pack, followed by a Cub Jungle Dance.

A severe inspection was held during the meeting to ensure correct uniforms for the Kingston parade.

The meeting closed with the Cub Silence, Cub Prayer and Flag Down.

Lady Baden-Powell's Visit To Kingston

The entire Pack participated in the march past and inspection by Lady Baden- Powell held on Queen's Campus, in Kingston.

As part of the Cub program, the Pack formed a position of the Giant Grand Howl given the Chief Guide.

During the inspection, Lady Baden-Powell spoke to one of the members of the Pack, namely Sixer Donald Maunder. Her Ladyship also spoke to Akela Barnett and congratulated him on the appearance of the Pack.

CUB NOTES:

For those Cubs who have not received their new 1946 catalogues, the book will be available at the next meeting.

Question and Answer Column

Readers may direct their questions, giving their name and address and mentioning the name of this paper, to the Information Branch, WPTB, 490 Sussex Street, Ottawa, Ontario.

Q. "I have always paid 6c per quart for buttermilk and just recently the local creamery has been charging 8c per quart. Is this right?

A. Yes. This is correct. On June 1st the Prices Board suspended the consumer subsidy of two cents per quart on fluid milk which was being paid by the Government. As a result of this dairies were allowed to increase their prices for all milk by two cents per quart.

Q. We will be hiring extra help from time to time on our farm this summer. How many meals must I serve before I am entitled to extra coupons?

A. Extra ration coupons are only issued for a total of twelve meals or over. If extra help is required for two weeks or more the ration book of the person employed must be given to you.

Q. I rent a house by the month and the garage is included in the rent. The landlord has decided to live in the garage for the summer and I would like to know if this would make a difference in the rent?

A. In the first place the landlord cannot occupy this garage without your permission. If you have agreed to this arrangement then you should be able to come to some agreement about a reduction in rent. If you have any difficulty we would suggest that you contact your nearest rentals office.

Q. I am going away for three months this summer and do not think there are sufficient coupons in my ration book to last that long. Would I be able to get some extra coupons?

A. No! Ration book No. 6 will be distributed in the week beginning September 9th, and you could apply for a new ration book wherever you may be during that time. In the meantime there are sufficient coupons in your present book for your needs until September 9th.

MORVEN CHURCH NEWS

Residents of Morven and friends of neighbouring districts enjoyed a real old-fashioned community picnic — the first in many, many years — last Saturday, at Brandon's Field. In spite of heavy rain earlier in the day the picnic was a complete success.

In the realm of baseball the Morven team triumphed over both Hawley and Empey Hill. The prize for the winning team was a purse of five dollars donated by Farl French's Service Station. The log-sawing contest was won by Lynne Perry and Wilfred Lake who defeated Bob Reid and Claude Craig by a half a second. One of the main features of the picnic was the drawing match which was won by Lynne Perry's team. Second place was taken by Bob Reid's team and third place was taken by Claude Craig's. The bicycle race for boys was won by Don Pixley. The children's races and games which came first on the programme were run short by a severe rainstorm just after dinner.

The Morven Friendship Club is to be commended for its work in carrying out such a fine programme of the interests of the community.

Sunday Services

Family worship was the theme of the service held last Sunday evening at Morven United Church. The purpose of the service was to encourage every family in the congregation to institute daily worship in the home. Special music was rendered by Mr. Wilfred Brimfield, coloured singer, of Kingston. Miss Muriel Craig, also of Kingston, gave an illustrated lecture on "God's Telephone System." The sermon was delivered by Mr. C. W. Trill, the student in charge of the Morven Circuit.

In his sermon Mr. Trill emphasized the need for a change in our way of life if social distress and evils are to be avoided. The only way to achieve this end is to start with the Christian education of our children and young people in the home. It was pointed out that a child spends fifteen per cent. of its time at school, eighty-four per cent. of its time in the home and at play, and only one per cent. of its time in the Church and Sabbath School. The family is the most important means of Christian education. Every family should set aside some part of the day for family worship and prayer.

At the close of the service the elders handed out daily devotion leaflets for use in the home. Mrs. George Fralick assisted at the organ.

Attendance was estimated to be about one hundred and fifty.

The British Aeroplane Company announced recently plans for manufacture of a streamlined touring automobile with a top speed of more than 90 miles an hour and capable of making 24 miles to the gallon of gasoline.

DON'T WASTE FEED!

FEED is scarce, this season. Don't waste it! Make the most of what you have.

Here are two ways to do that. First, make sure you buy chicks with a real reputation for living, thriving, growing, making economical use of their feed. Second, raise them on short tender green pasture. That cuts your feed costs, and raises you better, stronger chicks.

We have the chicks with the reputation for living. Hundreds—yes, thousands—of farm poultry raisers will tell you that Bray Chicks have "what it takes". If you have the feed to raise them, that's the kind of chicks to start!

Bray Hatcheries will be hatching right through June. We expect to have plenty of vigorous, husky, thrifty chicks for prompt shipment. Your order will receive prompt, courteous attention. If interested, do it now!

WEDDING BELLS

DAVIDSON - BICKLE

In St. Clair Avenue United Church, Toronto, on Saturday, June 8th, at four o'clock, the marriage was solemnized of Betty, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred R. Bickle, and Douglas Davidson, nephew of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Wiggins, Napanee. The Rev. Dr. J. E. Todd, uncle of the bride, assisted by Rev. A. E. Kowley, officiated.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an imported bridal gown of gardenia white crepe, fashioned with portrait neckline, basque bodice with full skirt. Her heirloom rose point lace mantilla was caught with orange blossoms and she carried a cascade bouquet.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Georgie Bickle, as maid-of-honour and the bridesmaids were Miss Helen Smith and Miss Doris Wright, dressed alike in long amber crepe. Their headdresses were fashioned of carnations and they carried cascades of maroon carnations and stephanotis.

The groomsman was Mr. John Boyer and the ushers were Messrs. George LaPage, Jess Cook, George Boyer and Jack Cooke.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bickle entertained at the reception in their beautiful garden. The bride's mother received wearing a long gown of chartreuse crepe with matching hat trimmed with white roses and cascade of white stephanotis.

Mrs. Wiggins, aunt of the groom, also received, wearing a gown of delphinium blue crepe, matching flowered hat, with corsage of roses and sweet peas.

Later the happy couple left by plane for a honeymoon in New York, the bride wearing an imported wool suit of maroon shade, with navy accessories.

Both the bride and groom were former members of the R.C.A.F. and following their return, will reside in Toronto.

McCLELLAND - GILBERT

The marriage of Leona Alice, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Gilbert, Napanee, and Kenneth Maxwell McClelland, Bath, took place on Wednesday afternoon, May 22nd, at 2:30 in Trinity United Church, Napanee. Rev. Noble Hatton performed the ceremony and the wedding music was played by Mrs. J. E. Madden, organist. Miss Jean Wemp, of Kingston, sang "In the Garden of To-morrow," and "I Love You Truly," during the signing of the register.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride looked lovely in a floor-length gown of white pressalaine crepe with a sweetheart neckline, long full sleeves gathered at wristband, and full skirt. She wore a fingertip veil caught to a coronet of orange blossoms. Her only ornament, a strand of pearls, a gift from the groom. She carried an arm bouquet of Talisman roses, tied with a white satin bow.

The maid-of-honour was Miss Dorothy Gilbert, her sister, who wore a floor-length gown of heavenly blue crepe, with gathered skirt and bodice of net, made with a sweetheart neckline. She wore a half-hat of blue flowers, with veil and long blue gloves and carried a nosegay of pink and white carnations. Miss Joyce Stafford, Napanee, wore a matching floor-length gown of pink crepe with matching accessories and carried a nosegay of roses.

The groomsman was Mr. Harold McClelland, brother of the groom. The ushers were Mr. Gilbert Mc-Ilveen of Kingston and R nald Young of North Gilmour.

The groom's gift to the best man was a gold cigarette case, to the bridesmaid a gold clip and bracelet and a cigarette case. The bride's gift to the maid-of-honour was a gold choker, to the bridesmaid, soloist and organist, china brooches. Her gift to the groom was a travelling bag.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents where approximately fifty guests were served a delicious luncheon. The guests were received by the bride's mother, who was gowned in navy blue corded silk with black accessories. She wore a corsage of Talisman roses. The groom's mother assisted, attired in black crepe with matching accessories and wearing a corsage of Talisman roses.

The house was prettily decorated with pink and white snapdragons. The bride's table, covered with a lace cloth, was centred by a three-tiered wedding cake, adorned with a miniature bride and groom and flanked by tall pink tapers in silver candlesticks. These were surrounded by pink and white snapdragons and pink and white streamers. Tea was poured by Mrs. Gilbert, mother of the bride, assisted by the groom's mother. A toast was proposed by Rev. Noble Hatton, to which the groom responded. Many lovely and useful gifts were received by the bride and groom.

The happy couple left on a motor trip for Peterboro, Toronto and points West. The bride chose for travelling a rust suit, beige shorty coat and rust accessories. On their return they will reside in Napanee.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Robert King, Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Miles, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard McClelland, Miss Jean Wemp, Miss Dorothy Gilbert, and Mr. Gilbert McIlveen, of Kingston, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Andrews of Peterboro, and Mrs. Amey, of Bath.

The British press, according to Mr. Churchill, "is free within the law" he cent. press. There are conventions which our press observes, which protect from abuse, the lives, both great and small, of humble and well-known people."

WEAKNESS OF JAP CONSTITUTION

BY WAVERLEY ROOT

The weakest element in the proposed new Japanese constitution is precisely that passage about which American comment has been most enthusiastic — the renunciation of their use of war and the abolition of armed forces.

The naive belief that the insertion of this paragraph in the constitution ends forever all danger of Japanese aggression is based on the common error that a form of words is equivalent to a factual guarantee. Modern man has not yet completely freed himself from the savage's belief in homoeopathic magic, which causes him to feel that the word is the counterpart of the thing, and to keep his own real name secret for fear than an enemy who learns it may be able to use it to do him harm.

A similar belief in the magic of the word causes us today to think that we have permanently disarmed the Japanese because we have forced upon them a constitution which states that they will remain disarmed. In the same way, we congratulated ourselves after the Kellogg-Briand Pact that wars had been outlawed, and there would be no others.

The inclusion of the no - armed forces clause in the Japanese constitution is not only dangerous because like the Kellogg-Briand Pact, it will delude us into believing that we have achieved a security which we do not actually possess, but also because it plants in the new constitution the seeds for its own complete destruction.

No person of common sense can fail to understand that in a world of national armies, Japan alone is not going to renounce armed forces any longer than she is obliged to do so by the superior might of the powers which defeated her. The instant she becomes capable of independent action again, she will annul that clause of the constitution. It offers, therefore, no extra guarantee which the occupation does not already provide. Japan can be kept disarmed by force as long as the Allies are prepared to apply that force. She cannot be kept disarmed by a paragraph in a constitution imposed by the conquerors once the conquerors have moved out and left her the master of the constitution.

To have placed this inoperable and unenforceable clause in the constitution, in fact, practically insures the cancellation of the whole document. In trying to gain all the Allies have lost all. If they had confined themselves to setting up a constitution embodying the bill of rights which the Japanese document also contains and establishing democracy procedures of government, its obvious merits might well have kept it in force even after their departure.

But since any independent government even the most democratic and peace-loving, provides first of all for its own security against other nations, the disarmament clause is certain to be attacked by the first independent Japanese cabinet; and if any part of the constitution is rescinded, the way will be opened for rescinding all of it. The inclusion of this paragraph stigmatizes the whole document as a law imposed by force upon the Japanese, and will stultiate the desire to throw it out lock stock and barrel. The life of this constitution will be precisely the life of the conquest of Japan. In other words, it was not worth drafting.

The Allies may be saved from their self - created danger, however, if the Japanese prove to be no cleverer than the Japanese are reported to be wily, but the special techniques which will play the game of those among them who intend like to make another try at world conquest may be forgiven to their particular species of guiles.

UNRRA ALLOTS 225 MILLION FOR FOOD TO ITALY

BY ROBERT MYER
U.P. Staff Correspondent

Rome—One-half of UNRRA's 1946 funds for Italy must be spent on food alone to keep hungry Italians alive until this wartorn nation revives its industries and farmlands.

A poor year has forced UNRRA to keep the problem of food supply at the top of its relief program for 1946.

Although U.N.R.R.A. will provide many raw materials for industry and fertilizer for agriculture, it expects to earmark half of its $450,000,000 for food — mostly for wheat.

Italy needs 2,000,000 tons of wheat before the next harvest. Even by diverting all its funds for food, UNRRA cannot hope to do more than maintain the present basic ration, which is 200 grams (7 ounces) of bread daily, for 36,000,000 Italians who do not produce their own grain.

Even this program may be severely curtailed because a shortage of shipping may hamper the movement of wheat from the world's ports.

However, in addition to the food program, UNRRA intends to supply between 400,000 and 600,000 tons of coal monthly to help rehabilitate Italian industry. It also will bring in agricultural equipment and fertilizer to help make Italy's food economy self-selling. Imports of cotton, wool, gasoline, kerosene, fuel oil, chemicals and steel products also is on the 1946 program.

The $450,000,000 fund covers only a small amount of Italy's import requirements for 1946, which exceeded the $1,000,000,003 mark. The remainder will be financed through other credits, such as the "troop account" (dollar credit equivalent to lire expenditures by U.S. troops in Italy) loans from the U.S. Export-Import Bank, from Italian exports and extraordinary remittances.

S. M. Keeny, chief of UNRRA's Italian mission, said he is greatly concerned that imported raw materials, after being processed in Italy, do not find their way to the black market to be resold to the Italian people at exorbitant prices.

Harland Cleveland, deputy chief for requirements and distribution, said the plans are being made with the Italian government to block black marketing of relief supplies.

"We hope distribution of the 1946 supplies can be made in such a way as to bring down the general price structure in Italy," Cleveland said.

Keeny said the number of UNRRA employes in Italy probably will rise during 1946 from the present level of 200 to slightly more than 1,500, in addition to locally-hired Italian help.

BUTTONS COVERED — BUTTONS Buckles, Belts, covered with your material. Prompt service. Bring material only to SINGER MACHINE CO., Kingston. 12tf

Additions to Rural Hydro Service

Your Commission desires to bring to the attention of Ontario farmers who have applied for Hydro service, a condition which is now seriously slowing up the building of rural extensions.

Essential materials and equipment are in extremely short supply, and the prospects of obtaining additional quantities in the immediate future are very meagre. Strikes in various basic industries and the extraordinary national demand are holding back the supply of all equipment needed.

While the Commission will exert every effort to obtain material and equipment for rural line construction, it can complete this year only a small part of the full program which it had planned. Consequently, many applications already approved will not, of necessity, be completed this year.

Your Commission will endeavour to serve all applicants in order of receipt of applications, giving preference to all farm and similarly essential applications over those for other types of service.

These facts are presented for your information, and with the expectation that they will enable you to bear more patiently with a situation beyond the control of your Commission.

Named President Of Royal Bank

Sydney G. Dobson Succeeds Late Morris W. Wilson

Born in the little town of Sydney, N.S., when it had a population of 1,460, Sydney G. Dobson was elected on Tuesday, June 4th, President of The Royal Bank of Canada. He is the second member of the bank staff to work his way up from the lowliest desk, that of junior clerk, to the highest executive position, and he did it in 46 years.

Mr. Dobson succeeds to the chair left vacant by the unexpected death, last month, of Morris W. Wilson, who had followed the same course through successively important positions, and had been President since 1934.

A measure of the progress of the bank in these years, and of Canadian business generally, is provided by the bank's asset figures. In 1900, when Mr. Dobson joined the Merchants Bank of Halifax (later to become The Royal Bank of Canada) assets amounted to less than $18,000,000. In the momentous years between 1934 and 1945 when he was General Manager, expansion in all phases of the bank's business was notable. Deposits rose from $537,000,000 to $1,888,000,000, while Assets moved up from $758,000,000 to over $2,000,000,000 which place The Royal Bank of Canada among the first 13 banks in the world.

Mr. Dobson and the late Morris W Wilson began their banking careers in the Maritime Provinces within a three years of each other. At various times in their early banking days their paths came together, first at Truro in 1904, where Mr. Wilson was accountant and young Dobson a ledger keeper under him. Even in that early day Mr. Wilson foresaw that the hard-working and conscientious young-ster was marked for future distinction. In 1916 their paths again converged, when Mr. Dobson succeeded Mr. Wilson as Manager of Vancouver branch. Mr. Dobson's appointment three years later as Superintendent of Inspection at Head Office, Montreal, again brought these two men together, and together they worked as a team until Mr. Wilson's untimely death, last month.

ENTERPRISE

Enterprise, — June 8. — Miss Sara Wilson, Kingston, was a recent guest of her mother, Mrs. James Wilson.

Born at the Stork Nursing Home on Friday, May 31st, 1946, to Mr. and Mrs. Irvine Lewis (nee Irene Bush), of Godfrey, a daughter, Linda May.

Rev. F. O. Ware, baptized Malcolm Charles, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. N. L. B. Coburn in the Anglican Church, on Sunday last.

WEDDING BELLS

BOWMAN - ARNOLD

Grace Church Chapel, Toronto, was the scene of a wedding on June 1st, when Meeda Lyna Aldora, daughter and Mr. and Mrs. George Arnold, became the bride of Ira Vargus Bowman, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. Bowman. Rev. H. Good officiated. The wedding music was played by Mr. R. Howe, and Miss Phyllis Lehman was soloist.

The bride wore a white slipper satin gown with a matching headdress, holding her fingertip veil and carried a bouquet of Better Time Roses and Baby's Breath. Mrs. Clarence Grobler of Watertown, N.Y., was her sister's matron-of-honour, wearing pale pink net with a flowered headdress, and carrying pink roses.

Mr. George Tragelet was best man and the ushers were Mr. Jonathan Allen and Mr. George Lehman.

After a reception at the Cawtra Mansions Tea Rooms, the couple left by plane for Buffalo, the bride wearing a turquoise blue suit, with black accessories and a corsage of red roses. They will spend a few weeks at Lake Huron before returning to Toronto, where they will live.

SMITH - LAWASKI

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Jackson was the scene of a pretty wedding on Thursday, May 30th, at 3:00 p.m., when Eileen Elsie Smith was united in marriage to Henry M. Lawaski, of Kingston.

The bride, who was given in marriage by Mr. Alfred Jackson, was becomingly gowned in a floor-length dress of white net over satin. Her finger-tipped veil was held in place with gardenias, and she carried an arm bouquet of Sweetheart roses. Her only ornament was a string of pearls with matching earrings, the gift of the groom.

The bridesmaid, Miss Orma Jackson, sister of the bride, wore a floor-length gown of pink net over taffeta with small floral headdress and corsage of pink carnations.

Mr. Vernon Lewis of Elgin acted as groomsman.

The officiating clergyman was Rev. Mr. Teakey of St. Paul's Anglican Church, Kingston. After the ceremony the bridal couple and their guests motored to Napanee where dinner was served at the Supervu Tea Room. At the conclusion of the dinner the bride presented her bouquet to Mr. Byron Jackson, who will shortly celebrate his 84th birthday.

The bride and groom left on Friday morning for Ilion, N.Y. where they will be guests of the groom's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Quaife. For travelling the bride wore a blue dress with matching blue wool coat.

THE BOUNDARY CENTENNIAL CELEBRATION

New Westminster, B.C. — One hundred years of peace between Canada and the United States, unmarred by a single untoward incident, will be celebrated June 14th, at Blaine, Washington, 32 miles south of here, on the international boundary. Governor - General Viscount Alexander and President Truman will attend.

The ceremonies, the first held since the outbreak of the Second Great War, will be known officially as the Boundary Centennial Celebration.

In the shadow of the International Peace Arch, erected and dedicated September 6th, 1921, a granite boundary marker will be set up commemorating a century of friendly relations.

On June 15th, 1846, the so-called Oregon Treaty (Washington - British Columbia Boundary Settlement) was signed in Washington, D.C., by Richard Pakenham for Great Britain and James Buchanan for the United States. This treaty set the dividing line on the 49th parallel and ended a dispute over the vast Oregon-Washington territory which at times threatened hostilities between the two countries.

A movement started on both sides of the boundary early in 1914 to recognize amicable relations by arranging for suitable celebrations. The International Peace Memorial Association was formed and legislation was passed in both countries authorizing erection of the Peace Arch.

The project was postponed, however, at the request of President Woodrow Wilson since Great Britain was then engaged in the First Great War and the United States was a neutral.

Meanwhile the Pacific Highway Association undertook to raise the necessary funds under the direction of its president, the late Samuel Hill, a Seattle lawyer.

The International Peace Arch is situated on a 10-acre park on the western terminus of the boundary. Into the portal was sealed a piece of the pilgrim ship Mayflower, obtained by Hill from Quakers in England, and a number of historical documents outlining various treaties leading up to the final settlement.

These steps were summarized in a memorandum prepared by Judge F. W. Howay of the Supreme Court, New Westminster, an official of the Peace Arch, as follows:

1783—Treaty of Paris: Boundaries between Canada and the United States were not exactly defined because of the difficulty of drawing a line through unexplored territory.

1818 Convention— The border was fixed from the most northwestern point of the Lake of the Woods (Ontario-Manitoba) to and along the 49th parallel of north latitude to the Stoney Mountains.

1819—Florida Treaty—Spain ceded rights, claims and pretentions to lands north of 42 degrees to the United States.

1846, June 15 — Treaty of Oregon. It was agreed to continue the line on the 49th parallel from the Rocky Mountains to the middle of the channel which separated the continent from Vancouver Island, thence southerly through the middle of that channel and Juan de Fuca Straits to the Pacific Ocean.

Noah Webster, who assembled the first American dictionary, was the master of twenty languages.

The waters of the river Jordan were believed by the ancients, to cure leprosy.

250,000 Veterans Still Need Jobs

Toronto, (C.P.) — Canada has been more successful than the United States in placing veterans in civilian jobs but there are still 250,000 members of the Canadian forces to be placed before the rehabilitation job is finished, Maj-Gen. E.L.M. Burns, director-general of rehabilitation, Ottawa, said last week.

General Burns, in an address to the employer-employee relations conferences of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association annual meeting, discussed some of the problems in rehabilitating veterans.

He said Government records show that 40 per cent returned to their former jobs. While the exact status of a large number was unknown, it had been determined that 60,000 were receiving training, 160,000 had received re-establishment credits and 50,000 were registered as unemployed.

Federation of Women Teachers' Association Held Annual Meeting

The annual meeting of the Federation of Women Teachers' Association of Lennox was held in West Ward school on June 5th, at 8:00 p.m. There was a good attendance and all showed a great interest in Federation work. The men teachers of Lennox were guests at the meeting.

Report of the newly organized units were given. Miss Lois Campbell, president, spoke in reply to the report from the Adolphustown and South Fredericksburgh unit explaining our share in Federation House, and salaries of provincial secretaries and reason for increase in fees.

Miss Fay Sexsmith, Desoronto, led in a sing song. Miss Gladys Corn, Winston, member of the Board of Directors from our region, spoke on "Policy of Federation." Her address was both informative and interesting. Miss Marion Casselman, president of the Women Teachers' Association, Kingston, and Mr. Raymond Bowen, president of the Men Teachers' Association, of Lennox, addressed the group.

Mrs. R. Fretts presented the report of the nominating committee. The following officers were elected for the year 1946-47: President, Mrs. Minnie Withers; first Vice-President, Miss Lulu Flake; second Vice-President, Miss Fay Sexsmith; Secretary, Miss Ruth Allen; Treasurer, Miss Carmelita Frisken.

Mrs. Minnie Withers was chosen delegate to the annual meeting to be held in Toronto, August 26th and 27th.

Light refreshments were served at the close of the meeting.

SHIPS BUILT ON THE CLYDE WILL BE LAUNCHED MILES AWAY

Six ships to be built on the Clyde will be launched in India and China. The sections will be bolted into position on the Clyde and then, after each has been numbered, the ships will be dismantled, and packed in boxes to be sent abroad. There they will be re-built, the numbers serving as a guide in reconstruction.

The first three will be launched in the Yangste-Kiang, and they will glide into the water to the noise of firecrackers and Chinese crackers.

The Indian ships will be launched in the Irrawaddy and christened with coconuts.

Another prefabricated vessel — a steamship for service on Lake Titicaca in Peru, was built at Dumbarton. Before it took the water it had to be carried, in sections, by mule and train across mountains 13,500 feet high.

McLean, B.A., B.D., who gave an interesting sermon on the subject "The Finer Points of God." There was a large attendance and the music by the choir under the leadership of Mrs. W. V. Drury, choir leader was exceptionally good. Mrs. Grant Sessenwein sang most delightfully the sacred solo, "The Lord is My Shepherd," with Mrs. B. B. Black at the organ, and duet "The Camp Hymn" was sung by Sylvia Follis and Marilyn Calver.

The scripture lessons were read by pupils of the Sunday school and readings were given by four England girls. There were also readings about the Summer and a Garden.

Lovely flowers were in the chancel and a basket of flowers was placed in the church by Mr. and Mrs. William Buchanan, in loving memory of their son, Corporal William James Buchanan, who died of wounds overseas on June 8th, 1944. Mrs. B. M. Black presided at the organ and in the evening, prior to the service contributed a number of selections. At this service C. F. Smith sang a baritone solo, "My God, My Father While I Stray." Mr. McLellan spoke on the subject "Deliverance." K. L. Huffman Died Suddenly Sat. Morning

The sudden death of Kenneth L. Huffman, early Saturday morning, June 15th, came as a great shock to his family and many friends in Napanee.

Mr. Huffman, who had operated a gasoline service station on Dundas Street for several years, left his home Saturday morning for his work apparently in the best of health. Shortly after arriving at the station, while serving a customer he was stricken with a heart attack and passed away before medical aid could be secured.

The late Mr. Huffman, who was in his 48th year, was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Huffman and was born at Moscow, where he spent his early life. For the past several years he had resided in Napanee, where he operated a gasoline service station and was well known by the citizens of the town during that time.

He is survived by his wife, formerly Evelyn Isabella Reid and by one son, Wilfred. He was predeceased by his two brothers, Hurrell Huffman, of Moscow, and Lawrne Huffman, of Moscow.

His funeral was conducted at his late residence, Wood Street, Monday afternoon, by Rev. C. D. McLellan, of Grace Church, and interment was made at Moscow.

United Empire Loyalist Memorial Service Adolphustown

On Sunday, June 23, at 3.00 p.m. D.S.T., in St. Alban the Martyr, U. E. L. Memorial Church, Adolphustown, the 162nd anniversary of the landing of the Loyalists will be celebrated. The special preacher will be the Rev. F. Payne of Sydenham. Music will be under the direction of Mr. Epps, organist and choirmaster of St. Mary Magdalene's Church in Napanee. Boy choristers will sing. The service will be conducted by the Rector, the Rev. R. J. S. Scott.

The history of this church is most interesting. The first church was built in 1823 and still stands, now used as a Parish Hall. The first rector the Rev. Job Deacon, who lies buried in the old cemetery, organized the first temperance society in Upper Canada. The present church was built in 1884 during the incumbency of Canon Forneri. A private communion set used by the Loyalists is kept in the church. The font, built by subscriptions from the children of the church, was first used for the baptism of Russell Cooper, son of the late Harry Cooper. The Communion table is still with a prayer book at the baptism. Mr. H. Cooper gave this table in memory of his wife, who died. An interesting memorial of olden days is the Bristol Bell made at Bristol, England, in 1690, used first in the Episcopal Kingston, and was given to St. Alban's by the late and old-time bell ehurch to be used in Upper Canada.

We will welcome all friends, old and new to the service.

Mr. Humphrey will be succeeded in Napanee by Mr. Charles Hanna, formerly manager at Uxbridge and Woodstock and for the past three years a member of the R.C.A.F.

Mr. Humphrey is a former manager of The Dominion Bank in Napanee for the past thirteen years. During that time he and his wife and son, Grant, have made many friends, who will very sincerely regret their departure from the town.

Mr. and Mrs. Humphrey were members of St. Andrew's Church until it disbanded and since have been active members of Grace United Church. Mr. Humphrey has been a valued member of the Lions Club since it was inaugurated in Napanee and has been one of its most energetic workers. He was on the executive of the Golf Club for several years and has been interested in every public enterprise in the town.

In his capacity of manager of the bank, he has made many friends, who will very sincerely regret his removal.

A Correction

A recent item in this paper, about Frank Armitage, which was sent in to us to be printed, was apparently a little of ancient history.

Mr. Armitage left the Transport Command in which he was a senior Captain, in August, 1945. He had delivered 45 bombers overseas during the period in which he was connected with the Command. He is now in civilian life and is at present recuperating from a broken ankle.

He and his wife and three children are living at Deseronto and expect to spend the summer at camp, at Inverary.

Ontario Official Issues Final Appeal For Public Support

Napanee Headquarters at Armouries

"THEY CAN STILL WEAR WHAT WE CAN SPARE"

That's Ontario's new slogan for the National Clothing Collection from June 17th to 29th, inclusive, Health Minister Russell T. Kelley, Provincial Chairman for the Campaign, said in Toronto, in issuing a final appeal for apparel and bedding on behalf of Europe's destitute.

"Nearly every Municipality in Ontario—and there are more than seven hundred of them—is completely organized for this great, humanitarian drive," the Minister announced. Now it's up to us, and by that I mean every man, woman and child, to dig into every nook and cranny in our homes and give every old and serviceable garment and article we can spare. If we do that I know we will achieve our objective of six million pounds, which means a pound and a half or one piece of clothing or bedding from every resident of Ontario.

But if Ontario, the rest of Canada and other of the world's more fortunate peoples fail to answer this appeal Mr. Kelley painted this stark picture: "There are one hundred and thirty million people, including twenty-five million children, who are death from sickness and exposure in Europe and Asia next winter, unless we clothe them."

Mr. Kelley listed the following as the most important items needed: suits, overcoats, work clothes for men and boys, infants' and children's clothes of all types, coats, dresses, aprons and smocks for girls and women, shoes in pairs, tied securely with string or laces, caps for Baby, knitted headwear, gloves, underclothing, woollen socks, piece goods, blankets, sheets and linens, draperies and remnants.

He explained that all the washable garments and goods should be washed, but need not be ironed, and other garments need not be dry-cleaned. Clothes without buttons are acceptable as supplies of buttons are available, but where the clothes have buttons they will be worn.

Of particular interest to service-men," Mr. Kelley continued, "is the fact that Navy, Army and Air Force uniforms may be donated if all battle-dress are removed. And we believe that those servicemen and the general public will be glad to know that the clothing will be distributed in every country where Canadians fought.

Items which cannot be baled—such as straw hats, feather beds, pillows and mattresses—should not be given, it was stated.

In a note of warning to prevent the possibility of damage in sorting and shipping, Mr. Kelley asked all donors to remove any matches from the pockets of trousers and other articles.

THE COLLECTION FOR NAPANEE AND THE IMMEDIATE RURAL DISTRICT IS UNDER THE DIRECTION OF THE U. E. L. CHAPTER OF THE I.O.D.E. HEADQUARTERS ARE AT THE ARMOURIES. THEY WILL BE OPEN EVERY DAY, AND THE CLOTHING MAY BE LEFT THERE AT ANY TIME.

IT CAN BE DONE!

Toronto is quite a large city, as Canadian cities go. When the metropolitan area is added, it is much larger. And yet, The Ontario Gazette has announced that under the provisions of The Industrial Standards Act of the Province of Ontario, consent has been given for regulating the hours of sale of gasoline and oil on Sunday. No service station or garage can be open in that area on Sunday without a permit, and one permit a month is all that is allowed any such garage or service station. The Sunday hours are from 10:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. Every worker will have three Sundays out of four, free from work. Instead of the 764 garages and service stations being all open on Sunday, about 160 will be open in turn, each Sunday.

The County of Essex has taken similar action, except that the rotation plan applies to Wednesday afternoon as well as Sunday.

In the Province of Nova Scotia, the matter of Sunday garages and service stations is dealt with in the Province as a whole. On week days the hours of sale are from 8:00 a.m. to 7:00 p.m. On Sundays and holidays, only a limited number will be open on a rotation plan. During the months of May to September a limited number of service stations can remain open on Sundays and holidays, from 8:00 a.m. until 7:00 p.m. The rest of the year the hours are 8:00 a.m. until 12:00 noon. The plan in Nova Scotia is under the Board of Public Utilities, which indicates that when the regulations come into force, plenty of outlets will be available for tourists and necessary travel, while at the same time the workers will be given, as frequently as possible, their day of rest.

What can be done in Toronto, Essex, and Nova Scotia, can be done in other places, too!

HARDLY SEEMS POSSIBLE

Those — we suspect they will be called old-timers, now — who remember the harvest excursions to the West, must have read with a measure of astonishment the news item in Monday's papers, which reported that twenty-five hundred men were being recruited in the West, to help harvest the Ontario early crops. The report said that these workers are being recruited in Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba, between June 12th and July 10th, and given free transportation to Toronto, where they will be distributed to farmers who have applied for help. The crop conditions in the East indicate a need for plenty of farm help, if the crops are to be taken off in time. With the unprecedented demand for food throughout the world it is imperative that every possible bit of food be harvested.

One interesting feature of the present arrangement is, that the workers, after having done their duty here in the East will be returned West in time to get the Western harvest cut and threshed. The exchange of labor is being handled through a Dominion - Provincial Farm Labor Programme. The transportation of the workers will be paid and the prevailing wage rates promise a rather good return to the worker. Whoever thought this up is to be congratulated. The plan will not only provide work to men who are trying to get adjusted to peacetime conditions, but it will give relief to the farmers, struggling with a labor problem, and insure the harvesting of available crops.

THE NEW YARKER CHURCH

On Tuesday, June 25th, at three o'clock in the afternoon, the cornerstone of the new United Church at Yarker will be laid, with appropriate ceremonies. The church has a record of almost eighty years' continuous service to the people of Yarker and vicinity. When the new edifice is completed, it will be well equipped to continue its ministry to the spiritual needs of the community. In times of disillusionment and bewilderment, the Church is needed as as never before. The Minister, Rev. W. G. Fletcher, and the Officials of the Yarker Congregation are to be congratulated on the initiative and vigor with which they set out to rebuild the church, as soon as materials were available, following the close of the Second World War.

It will be interesting to our many readers to know that the original building of Yarker Wesleyan Methodist Church on Wilton Circuit, was erected in 1868 by the Saul Brothers of Camden East, who built twenty-five or more churches in Addington and adjacent counties. Before the erection of the Church, services were held in the local stone schoolhouse which still stands and, at present, is the residence of Mr. Card.

Thirty-one years later in 1899, during the ministry of Rev. Charles Adams, an addition was made to the Church and a Memorial Window installed by Mr. E. W. Benjamin, in memory of his deceased wife. At that time Yarker was a booming community with two wheel factories, a grist mill, a saw mill, a tannery, woollen mill, a foundry, a carriage shop, a livery stable, etc.

Eighteen years later in 1917 during the First World War, at a time when Rev. G. M. Sharpe was conducting revival meetings, and Rev. J. F. Everson was minister, a frame building was erected alongside the Church for the purposes of Young People's work and Prayer meetings and entertainments, and it was called the League Hall. Subsequently two additions were made to this building.

Twenty-one years later, on July 14th, 1938, shortly after the Church had been redecorated and electricity installed, lightning struck the church steeple and soon the whole building was on fire, and in a few hours only the stone walls were standing. But the Church Hall was saved and during the past eight years all services have been held there. During the war, it was next to impossible to build, so the trustees decided to wait till the struggle was over.

During the early years when Yarker was a part of Wilton Circuit, two ministers served the field contemporaneously. Rev. M. J. Bates was the first minister of Yarker Circuit formed at the time of the Methodist Union in 1884. Rev. G. T. McKenzie was on the circuit at the time of Church Union in 1924. His ministry was the longest on record, serving, in all, for eleven years.

The following ministers have served the Yarker Chadge:

MR. MRS. JAMES A. McCORMICK CELEBRATE THEIR FIFTIETH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

'Orchard Grove', the spacious home of Mr. and Mrs. James A. McCormick, Switzerville, was the scene of a happy event, Sunday, June 2nd, when they celebrated their golden wedding anniversary, surrounded by their seven children: James N. and Charles E. H. on the homestead; Clarence of Oshawa, Orville of Yarker, Helen (Mrs. Rae Brown) of Napanee, Margaret (Mrs. Jas. Robinson) of Switzerville, Ruth (Mrs. Earl Present) of Wilton; grandchildren, relatives and friends of friends, who autographed the beautiful guest book during the afternoon and evening.

About 1:30 p.m., a family group picture was taken on the lawn against a lovely background of shrubbery and massed lilacs, also a group of the family and house guests on the large verandah, both taken by the Skitch Studio, Napanee.

The large livingroom was beautifully decorated with yellow streamers, yellow tulips, roses, ferns, large baskets of snapdragon. The bride's table, with tall yellow tapers, and a centre of the daintily decorated wedding cake, was very attractive.

During the afternoon, Mrs. Acton Robinson, of Newburgh, and Mrs. E. A. Wright, Violet, presided at the tea table and in the evening, Mrs. Arthur Baker, Moscow, and Mrs. John Wilson, Switzerville, presided in like capacity. The teacom assistants were Mrs. Clarence McCormick, Mrs. Orville McCormick, Mrs. Rae Brown, Mrs. Jas. Robinson, Geneva Robinson, Mrs. George Robinson, Mrs. Joseph Vrocman, Mary Elizabeth Robinson, Miss Lampman, Miss Nina Wilson, Mrs. Arthur Wright, Mrs. Harold Robson and Mrs. Ross Blakely.

During the afternoon and evening about two hundred and seventy guests called to offer their best wishes to this very popular bride and groom of fifty years ago, and were warmly welcomed by the sons and daughters of the house: Jim, Rae, Charles and Isabel. Many lovely gifts, cheques, gold, jewellery, china, money and a profusion of cards, telegrams and cut flowers were received to commemorate this auspicious event.

Among the guests from a distance were Mr. and Mrs. C. McCormick of Oshawa, Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Sexsmith and Miss Margaret, of Toronto, Mrs. James Paul, Dawson Creek, B.C., Mr. James Bell and Miss Grace Bell of Watertown, and Mr. R. Herrington, Adams Centre, N.Y.

During the evening Mr. Arthur Wright rendered two appropriate solos, which were much appreciated.

STELLA

Stella, June 13. — We are having lots of showers lately, but hope it will not be too much for the grain and potatoes.

Some Toronto people have purchased the Sanders farm at the foot of the island and are building a summer home on it. They have a large gang of men working on it. The Hydro men are here, running the line down to it.

A very pretty June wedding took place on June 8th, when Miss Hilda McCaugherty, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold McCaugherty and Herbert Kilpatrick, son of Mrs. James Kilpatrick, were married in St. Paul's Church. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. R. K. Earle. Miss Myrtle McCaugherty, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid and Mr. Stewart Kilpatrick, brother of the groom, was groomsman. A reception was held at the bride's home, after which the happy couple left on the evening boat for Chatham and Buffalo. On their return they will reside in Kingston.

A truck from the Kingston Creameries is taking the cheese from the Island, this year.

Quite a number of milking machines have been purchased on the Island, this spring.

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON, JUNE 23, 1946

"STRENGTHENING BONDS OF FELLOWSHIP"
Lesson Text: Luke 22: 14-20. John 17: 6-8, 20, 21.

The Christian Church is a fellowship of believers. Jesus had in mind that the fellowship he established between his followers was to expend until it embraced the whole race of man. It was an ambitious vision, measured by earthly standards. It would dbe absolutely impossible. Jesus however, was not measuring by earthly standards. Only a recognition that He is Divine can account for the hopes He had for the world and in His confidence in their accomplishment.

It was a few hours before The Passover feast was to begin. Jesus was fasting in preparation for the event, then taking the cup of wine and the bread He told His disciples that there were His body and blood. And He commanded them to participate in remembrance of Him. In a short time He was to die. His death was to crown His ministry, And in His comments to those about Him,as He initiated the Holy Communion, He indicated that with His death, the Kingdom would be ushered in immediately. Early Christians took that to mean an early return of the Lord, in the flesh. What is probably nearer the truth is that Jesus meant that with His death, there would be introduced into the world a new spirit; the spirit which burst forth at Pentecost, and from then on through the ages, transforming life.

It is perhaps not out of place to discuss this matter of fellowship. In no realm of human experience do people hold so tenaciously to a belief as in religion. The result has been that the history of religion, indeed of Christianity, is marked with a bitterness and vigor which often belies its spirit. And yet, in spite of that, the deep underlying principle of our faith is recognized, as it alone, in the observance of which, life as we know it can be maintained. Jesus concieved it as His life's work to bring in a Kingdom of God based on fellowship and love. The world has tried everything else. It has tried self-interest, it has tried race superiority; it has tried nationalism. The results are all too patent. They have succeeded in producing bitterness, fears, suspicion and hatred and world-wide antagonisms. It may seem a nebulous and utopian ideal to assume that love can, some day, govern society. Well apart from any ethical or religious considerations, self-preservation will yet force us to it. For the first time in man's history, he has learned the secret of the universe. He has learned the secret of the atom, discovering how to extract from it, the stuff of which the universe is made, a power so mighty that even yet, few have been able to comprehend the vastness of its significance.

In the hands of self-seeking or power-loving people, the prospect of what might happen, appalls. The safety of life and of civilization is in the hands now of man. Only men of good will can be trusted with it. Only men who are motivated by love and the community spirit can be trusted with the secrets of atomic power. This is as Jesus would have it. It is as He saw it. Men are to be judged not so much by their actions as by the motives which give rise to them.

This is not such a far away and abstract idea as it might appear. Jesus put His trust in His ability to reach in His lifetime, only a few people. It is a lot of individuals, a lot of "Jews" which can alone change the face of the world. In this, it becomes necessary to look to our own lives. We really cannot afford to be selfish; we cannot afford to be envious. Moreover, personal attitudes to people of different races and backgrounds, are vital. Had there been enough people dominated by love towards our fellowmen, the Japanese Canadians would not be deported. There would have arisen from every congregation and every Christian committee or group such sentiment, that the government would not have dared send them away.

Then, too, we must watch our relighous prejudices. Here we are facing a world catastrophe: a breakdown of moral standards, and yet there is denominational bickering.

Let love prevail, and Christ's Kingdom will come!

U. S. PLANS ARCTIC AIR EXPEDITION

Washington. — The United States Army Air Force is considering an air expedition over the north polar regions, the A.A.F. official service journal "Air Force" said last week end.

The expedition will be an air version of the Musk Ox expedition of the Canadian Government, conducted last winter. The A.A.F. did not say whether its expedition will be connected with the proposed test of equipment in the Arctic next winter by 4,500 troops of the Army ground forces.

The ground forces has revealed that Air Force, Navy and Marine observers would be involved in the experiments which will test the efficiency of tanks, self-propelled guns, radar and snow vehicles at Fairbanks and Adak, Alaska and Camp McCoy, Wis.

PROSPECTS FOR FULL ACCORD DIM

BY LOUIS F. KEEMLE
(B.U.P. Correspondent.)

The Foreign Ministers of the big powers resumed their hitherto fruitless talks, in Paris, Saturday, with two strikes against them.

The prospect of general agreement on any important European problem was dimmed by pronouncements in London, Moscow and Washington. From the tone of the advance talks, the meeting is expected to be more a clinic on how far the powers have decided to disagree, rather than whether they can co-operate in the one world idea.

Secretary of State James F. Byrnes said in Washington as he prepared to leave for Paris, that the situation calls for "more prayer," which recalled his remark before the previous futile meeting. Byrnes dirfed being pessimistic, but said "if we fail, it is a defeat for mankind."

Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin of Great Britain was not particularly compromising in his speech to the British Labor Party conference in Bournemouth. Bevin threatened to join with the United States in writing separate peace treaties with the Axis satellites of Europe if Russia continues to "hold up an early settlement.

Bevin more significantly accused Russia of forming an Eastern European bloc, with the implied threat that the western powers will be forced to form an alliance of their own if no middle ground is found.

Foreign Minister Viacheslav Molotov of Russia so far has not joined his colleagues in the pre-conference verbal exchange, but the inspired Soviet press and radio has been far from silent. The tone of the comment has been that the Soviet Union suspects an Anglo-American-French combination against it and has no intention of yielding to pressure.

The Paris conference thus is doomed to open on a note of mutual suspicion. That augurs ill for its success. Compromises on smaller issues or vague general agreements on principles will not help anybody. The fact that it will be possible to say about such a meeting will be that the door has not been closed conclusively on future prospects of big power collaboration. That will be small comfort to the tortured nations of Europe and to other countries which want to know when and how the war will be ended and the promised era of peace begun.

The twin obstacles which the powers are most likely to be unable to overcome at Paris are the European peace treaties and the disposition of Germany.

Bevin made Britain's firm position on both unmistakeable. He denied a pre-conference agreement with the United States, but it is evident that the two powers see almost eye to eye.

In this threat to make separate treaties with the former Axis satellites, Bevin said harshly that "no one nation (meaning Russia) is going to keep me in a state of war forever with other countries."

With regard to Germany, Bevin was equally stern. He warned Russia against drawing an "awful line" between the east and west in Europe.

"Let our frontiers," he said, "sit down and try to work out a settlement for Middle Europe which will give France, Russia us security not dependent upon the poverty of the people but dependent upon the confidence of the great Allies who won the war."
